Plans for the Colorfest Celebration in October seem to be developing very well. This is the first year in which Emmitsburg will take a large part and have several events available for the tourists. We will have another Fire Company parade. These are always great events and we should all be looking forward to it. There will be local judging with trophies awarded to the winners. The people who will take part in the re-enactment on Sunday will march in the parade on Saturday and compete for trophies also. I am looking forward to the block party and dance which will take place on Saturday also. It is kind of hard to get these old bones moving very fast in a dance but it should be great for the children and not so young, too. Who knows, I may be able to win something at the block party. I have also seen chances about for a side and quarters of beef which should give us all the opportunity to stock the freezer for winter. I wonder who the lucky ones will be?

I hear some of our sisters are going to take part in the re-enactment dressed in the habits of the times. There is supposed to be some real Civil War history attached to St. Joseph's College. I understand a tower was used by troops to overlook the area only after they demanded entrance and climbed to the top of a tower. I can almost hear them pounding on the door, can't you. The sisters should add wonderful realism to the re-enactment and I'm very glad they can participate.

Everyone in town should be thinking of a way to get into the act. Remember back to the bi-centennial when many townspeople displayed historical items in their windows. Why don't we do it again. I'm sure the many tourists in town would enjoy seeing many old items and it would serve as an added attraction to keep them in town for the block party and dance. Experience elsewhere has shown that the tourists come back for two or three weeks after Colorfest so historical displays could be viewed more than the one day and create some lively interest in our town.

The Colorfest program will show activities going on in Catoctin Furnace, Foxville, Wolfsville, Lantz, Graceham, Rocky Ridge and Creagers town as well as Emmitsburg and Thurmont. I wish I saw more activity up in Fairfield. Seems to me there is some activity they could get started so they would take part in the show. How about it Fairfield residents, let's not miss Colorfest.

I hear the lights have been burning mighty late in the town office on several nights lately. Rumors at the square have it that the Commissioners have been working hard on the town park, and then they came up with a planning and zoning project for the town this week. This is a big step forward for Emmitsburg and we should all give the Commissioners a pat on the back for being so foresighted and hard working. It is hard for most of us to appreciate how much work is actually needed to get some of these things done. On the other hand, it sure will be nice to sit in a nice cool park next summer or maybe even take a swim in a town swimming pool. These are big things for the town and I'm glad we have got Commissioners who are willing to burn a little midnight oil to get them going. They will need more help before long and I hope that many townspeople will try to figure out some way that they can lend a hand.

There have been 584 persons killed on Maryland highways through September 19, 1971. This compares with 541 killed in the same period last year. Looks like we had better try to drive a little safer.

Community Show Has Large Turnout

The Thurmont and Emmitsburg Community Show was the center of activity last weekend as over 2,000 persons filled the halls and rooms of Catoctin High School.

Highlight of the first of two days of gala atmosphere was the selection, crowning, and packaging of the Catoctin Future Farmers of America "Chapter Sweetheart," who reigns over the two-day show and throughout the coming year. Miss Patty Keilholtz, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Keilholtz of Thurmont, was chosen by a panel of judges as the sweetheart from among nine contestants. Miss Keilholtz received her crown from Dr. Frank Bentz, vice president, agriculture, University of Maryland, and the white corduroy jacket with gold and blue FFA Chapter Sweetheart emblem from last year's queen, Miss Nancy Fink.

Miss Fink, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Fink of Thurmont, in presenting the jacket, praised the candidates this year, and thanked the FFA for the honor bestowed upon her and for the "wonderful year" she has enjoyed representing the two farm communities, the Thurmont Grange, Emmitsburg Grange and the FFA, which sponsor the big community show.

Dr. Bentz told the overflow audience that "this fine show focused attention on the industry of agriculture which is the most important industry in the nation."

He said that agriculture constitutes 15 per cent of the gross output of Maryland industry and that this is a major portion of the nation's agriculture which is the greatest in the world.

He said that "half the land in Maryland" is involved in agriculture and the "improvement of the environment."

He said Miss Keilholtz "will be a representative of agriculture from one of the greatest agricultural counties in the United States."

Miss Susan Weimer served as mistress of ceremonies for part of the program and FFA Advisor William Baker, for the rest.

The Sweetheart Dance was attended by 475 persons with music by "Paradox".

Annual Campaign Will Aid Mount

Mount Saint Mary's College, which has gone coed after more than 160 years as an all-male school, this week announced a new annual campaign for financial support.

Known as "The Mount Fund", the campaign has been organized to annually solicit support from alumni, parents, friends, area business, Baltimore business and national business including foundations. The college's Board of Trustees has established the goal for the current academic year at $150,000.

General Chairman for "The Mount Fund" is Thomas S. Hogan, an alumnus in Providence, Rhode Island, who is also first chairman of the Mount's National Development Council. Established last April, the council is composed of 50 members in various parts of the country to provide leadership for a broad new advancement program for the liberal arts college and its seminary. The campaign director is A. Vernon Davis, the Mount's Director of Development & Public Relations, who also serves as Executive Director of the National Development Council.

The $150,000 goal this year is to supplement a $3,000,000 college and seminary operating budget, helping maintain forward thrusts in academics, facilities, and conversion to a coed student body.

Edward F. Egan, '52, President of Hess, Egan & Hagerty Inc., in Chevy Chase, Md., an alumni leader in Washington, is General Chairman of the Alumni Division of "The Mount Fund".

Under his leadership, more than 20 area alumni teams in various parts of the East are being formed to personally call alumni during October and November.

Rocco M. Laginestra, President of RCA Records in New York City, heads the Parents Division.

Another division, to seek support from Friends of the Mount, is headed by Sebastian J. DiMeglio, '53, a Vice President with Colonial Williamsburg.

W. Lee Harrison, father of previous Mount students and a prominent attorney and businessman at Towson, Md., is head of the Baltimore Business Division of "The Mount Fund".

A National Business Division has also been formed, to formulate a plan and to take steps to seek increasing support for the Mount and its programs from national businesses and foundations. Heading this group is H. James Maurer, '59, President of Pet'm Laboratories Inc., at Philadelphia, Pa.

Band To Practice On Wednesdays

All members of the Emmitsburg Municipal Band please take notice! Band practice will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 29, instead of Monday, September 27, as originally scheduled. Many are saying that Wednesday evenings are more convenient for them, so we will give it a try to see if any significance change in attendance is noted.

All members who do not plan to be with the band at parades or practices any more are asked to turn in their uniforms immediately. These uniforms may be needed.

You are asked to take special note of the fact that if there is no cooperation from the band between now and October 16, there will then begin the organization of a drum and majorette corps. In effect, if the band sees no cooperation among its members by October 16, the Emmitsburg Municipal Band will no longer exist.

Mr. and Mrs. George Methee, Alexandria, Va., visited with Mrs. Methee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sherwin, DePaul St., over the weekend.

Council Approves Planning, Zoning, Program; Endorses Recreation Activities

A special meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners was held Monday evening, September 20 in the town office. The meeting was opened at 7:30 p.m. by Chairman Ernest Rosensteel with all members present.

Mr. Lawrence Johnson, representing the Frederick County Planning Commission, explained the necessary steps to be taken by the community in seeking to obtain a planning and zoning ordinance. Other subjects discussed by Mr. Johnson were mobile homes, and parks and recreation planning.

The board voted unanimously to enter into a planning program including zoning and sub-division regulations with the planning commission of Frederick County at an approximate cost of $1,200.

Mr. Johnson advised that the board form a local planning committee consisting of one commissioner and four interested citizens to work along with the Frederick County Commission. Commissioner Topper agreed to act as chairman of this committee.

A motion was also proposed and passed by the board requesting an interim open space plan through the Frederick County Board, at a cost not to exceed $100.

The board unanimously agreed to proceed with its proposed recreation program.

In the absence of any opposition to the resolution concerning the annexation of a portion of land on the Emmitsburg-Waynesboro Road, known as "Frailley's Addition", the Mayor and Commissioners approved annexation of this property and the same shall henceforth be a part of the corporation of Emmitsburg, and shall be subject to the provisions of the Charter of the Town of Emmitsburg.

Commissioner Topper proposed that the Board, together with the town lawyer, meet with Mr. Garde and his lawyer regarding request for annexation of proposed mobile homes site in an effort to resolve this request for annexation by Paxton Builders, as soon as possible.

Commissioner Myers suggested that Mayor Hays contact the State Roads Commission to see if some of the surface of State Route 97 which runs through Main Street could be skimmed off in an effort to lower the surface of this road.

Mayor Hays read a letter and registration form for applicants to attend a short course on water and waste treatment to be held in Baltimore on October 18 to 22. No action was taken. The meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Boom In Home Sewing

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., September 23, 1971 — Over the past ten years there has been the greatest interest in home sewing since the old days when the rural American housewife made most of the clothes for the family, buying her dress patterns and piece goods at the local general store. In fact, it is estimated by the industry that total sales of patterns, fabrics, sewing machines, and other related items will reach $3 billion for 1971, a sizable advance from the $2.2 billion chalked up last year.

Also on the optimistic side are a number of developments indicating that the current big expansion in home sewing is more than just a passing fancy. For example: Six out of seven teen-age girls now make some of their own clothes; two out of five women's and children's garments are made at home; and home economics classes, on the decline in popularity following World War II, have now reached an all-time record in terms of demand in high schools. Adding momentum to the movement have been the skyrocketing prices of ready-to-wear dresses, plus the inferior quality and poor fitting of cheaper dresses bought off the rack. Today's consumer is proud to say, "I made it myself."

Plenty Of Incentives There is no doubt that the great skirt controversy of 1970 provided further impetus for home sewing. With unprecedented firmness the American female decided that she would no longer be told what she would and would not wear by the houses of high fashion in Paris or the trade magazines of New York's garment district on Seventh Avenue. The "do it yourself" method gave her complete freedom of choice in style and fabric, and she did not hesitate to take advantage of this.

In addition to its appeal in permitting the individualization of fashions, home sewing can mean substantial dollar savings for the consumer during an inflationary market. For example, ten years ago a dress purchased off the rack in a department store might have cost $18. Today that same dress, or one of comparable quality and fashion, could easily cost $35 or even more. In a home sewing or fabric center, a dress pattern costs only 75c, two and a half yards of material about $10, accessories perhaps $1.25. The result can be a dress costing some $12—one-third the price of a ready-to-wear garment—and probably with a better fit than she would be likely to find in the product of a Seventh Avenue mass producer.

Home-Sewing Market Expanding An increasing number of home-sewing and fabric centers are offering classes not only in sewing techniques but also in fashion co-ordination. Singer, one of the leaders worldwide, has six-class programs for a fee of $30 through which they are training 120,000 women each year. Some centers have even brought the men into the act, reserving certain evenings of the week just for them.

Fabric manufacturers no longer consider the over-the-counter market as a dumping ground for remnants of material and manufacturers' rejects. Home-sewing consumers are now regarded as an extremely viable market and are extended the full line in all price ranges. Manufacturers of notions have recognized what a gold mine there is in this field, and have come up with innovative do-it-yourself ideas.

Investment Opportunities A variety of industries are benefiting directly or indirectly. Such companies as House of Fabrics, Minnesota Fabrics, Fabri-Centers of America, and Simplicity Pattern are committed to serving this market; for others it is a preoccupation of one or more subsidiaries. For the investor seeking to participate in this growing industry, the Research Department of Babson's Reports recommends purchase of Norton Simon (McCall patterns) and King's Department Stores, and retention of American Can (Butternut patterns), Scovill Manufacturing (Dritz division), Singer, Textron (Talon zippers), and Zayre.

WASHINGTON REPORT

FROM SENATOR J. GLENN

BEALL JR.

Office of Economic Opportunity

The pending order of business before the Senate as we returned from the annual summer recess was a bill to extend the life of the Office of Economic Opportunity for another two years.

The bill, unfortunately, came to the floor with only a few vestiges of the measure originally requested by the President. The original bill sought a two-year extension of the Economic Opportunity Act under which the programs of the Office of Economic Opportunity are conducted.

The Senate bill addresses a host of ungermane issues. I believe the interests of the poor and the intent of the Economic Opportunity Act are ill-served by encumbering this legislation with the hardware of many sincere but irrelevant crusades.

The original mission of OEO was that the agency was to function as the R&D arm of the federal government for developing new programs and approaches to combat persistent poverty. In carrying out this mission, OEO was to retain immediate control of the programs it created during their period of development. When this process had reached a sufficiently advanced stage, the programs were then properly "spun off" to other agencies in the Executive Branch.

Among those programs given life at OEO, nurtured, tested, and then "spun off" have been such well-publicized activities as the Head Start program, the Job Corps, and VISTA.

To my great dismay I must report that that natural ability to "spin off" that was written into the OEO Act originally in 1964 has now been stopped by action of the Senate. I was among those in the Labor and Welfare Committee—where the OEO bill was written—who opposed this constricting of the OEO Directors' ability to spin off.

Congress created the Office of Economic Opportunity to be, as the President recently termed it, the "cutting edge" of the war on poverty. It was to be a focal point for research, evaluation, and demonstration of bold new programs to fight poverty. It was not to be a welfare program.

Section 10, the anti-spin-off section of the Senate bill, in my view seriously impedes the role of OEO as the great innovator by stripping the poverty agency of its authority to delegate programs that have been developed for the express purpose of being administered and expanded by agencies that are better equipped and which have greater resources for doing so. Nothing could be more destructive of OEO's mission than to encumber it with operational duties that choke off the time and attention that innovation requires.

The OEO bill now goes to the House. I, along with many of you, will be watching to see what happens to this most important provision as the body works on this measure.

Press Freedom And Responsibility

The publication by the New York TIMES and Washington POST of Department of Defense top-secret classified documents, stolen and "leaked" to the newspapers, and the inability of the Justice Department to restrain the action which it considered harmful to the future security of the nation, added considerable fire to the already boiling controversy over the "rights" of newspapers and other news media (such as television "news" programs). I cannot think of anything more vital to the future of the citizens of America than a clarification of "freedom of the press," not necessarily because of the publication of classified government documents but because of the acknowledged bias and the seemingly unsalable power of some segments of the media.

If any dominant part of the nation's press is in the hands of a monopoly group, or combine, or "oligarchy," without restrictions of some nature, the nation is of course at the mercy of that group. There can be no question about this fact. Fascism, Nazism, and Communism all have gained control of people and nations, in our time, through a small group exercising monopoly control and unrestricted use of the communications media.

For Brainwashing A monopoly press, or a wholly unrestricted press, can be used as an instrument of brainwashing. There is sufficient scientific evidence available to justify the conclusion that people's behavior, their thoughts and actions, can be controlled by those who control the communication of thoughts, words and pictures.

We are devoting a series of columns to an examination of some of the charges of biased and crooked news handling, and the power that permits such practices. This is not a blanket indictment of the press or of television, or a call for censorship of honest and responsible journalism.

LOOKING AHEAD

ism. A free, honest, unbiased, and responsible press is indispensable to the freedom of our people. But the constitution gives no special freedom to newspapers, television and publishing enterprises without responsibilities attached. "Freedom of the press" must not be permitted to be used as a blanket to cover dishonesty, crookedness, bias. It most certainly should not be a special kind of freedom granting unassailable power to any individual or group of businessmen or propagandists.

News As A Product The fact that newspapers and television stations and publishing companies are, first of all and primarily, profit-seeking, profit-making business enterprises, must not be over-looked in assessing "freedom of the press." The press is a part of free enterprise. Its product is news. In the processing and distribution of its product it must be honest and responsible. "Doctoring" news, manipulating facts, biased editing all contaminate the product and are harmful to the consumers who buy "news."

People within the television news organizations admit that some "left-wing" reporters, cameramen, film editors and commentators practice bias in news dissemination and that the bias supports, crookedly, the left-wing viewpoint in politics. This is an extremely dangerous situation, one that cannot be tolerated under the slogan of "freedom of the press." Even people who produce the TV "drama" series use the medium, some of them admit, to propagandize for the left-wing viewpoint on important national issues and problems (see July columns). In network television, perhaps to a greater degree than in other media, "news" is processed and handled as a glamorized packaged product, and it commands for its processor-distributor one of the hand-somest profits of any product on the American market. The annual profit in broadcasting runs about 100% a year according to the FCC.

Too Much Power Federal Communications Commission records show that the three major TV networks (NBC, ABC, CBS) and their 15 owned and operated stations and 604 stations who help distribute their product, reported revenues in a recent year totalling $2.3 billion, and "news" programs were a substantial part. During the year profits were $414,600,000 before federal taxes. And the networks had no outside restraint on how they processed or handled their "news" product.

"... Three men—the heads of the three networks—three men who have virtually complete control of the public's airwaves—more power than the Constitution gives to the Congress or the President of the United States." This would seem to be from a speech of Vice President Spiro Agnew. It is not. It is the statement of Maurice Unger, Executive Vice President, Ziv-United Artists, Inc., one of the top movie studios producing films for television—a member of the communications fraternity. He is quoted in the just-published book, The Left-Leaning Antenna, by Joseph Keeley (Arlington House, New Rochelle, N. Y.).

Mount Has Success With Military Men

The Military Degree Completion Program at Mount Saint Mary's College began its third semester this month and Academic Dean Bernard S. Kaliss finds its success and popularity most encouraging.

Dean Kaliss, who along with Registrar Guy A. Baker, Jr., founded the program in the spring of 1970, reports that when the program began it had only one participant. There are currently 35 men enrolled in it.

The program, also known as "Bootstrap", is designed to provide an opportunity for military personnel who have completed the major part of their undergraduate work to fulfill the requirements for a Bachelor's degree in one year's time. In cooperation with the military services, those enrolled in the program are granted a year in which to earn their degree. Those participating are expected to pay their own tuition but as members of the service on active duty, remain entitled to their regular pay and allowances.

According to Dean Kaliss, Mount Saint Mary's College is one of only two schools east of the Mississippi River involved in the program—the other being Hampton Institute, in Hampton, Va.

The men participating in the program at the Mount, most of them career-oriented officers and enlisted men, are, according to Dean Kaliss, a welcome addition to the regular student body.

"All faculty members and department chairmen who have had them in class have commented that they bring a sense of seriousness, responsibility, and maturity to the class discussions which is a benefit to all, especially the younger students," Kaliss said.

He stated that most of the students are studying business courses, though there are some in Political Science and History.

The first man enrolled in the program, army Lt. Col. Clyde J. Tate, received his B.S. degree in Business in May, and is now serving in Vietnam.

Projects investigating recycling, solid and liquid waste management, public corporation law, and the waters of Baltimore Harbor are being conducted by DNR's Maryland Environmental Service.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
"These Are Their Graves..."
"Oh, I have come to know
by journeying far,
That happiness is found in simple things.
I often wonder who has set my task
Of learning where true joy is found at last;
Perhaps it's God."
—Stalnaker

The lot of the pioneer was a hard one—but it was not all "toil and trouble." They worked hard—true—and there was little leisure. They found their joy in simple things and, in the main, they were content. Of course many of them were "followers of the far horizon"—always extending the frontier north, south, east, and west. Their customs they carried with them—along with the church and the school and—in due time—they became a part of the American tradition.

Scott, if you like, at the word tradition. In this day and age it is not considered "good form" to adhere to the past—to borrow from the old world in order that the new might be farther enriched. Life is a matter of give and take and the traditions of the forefathers—colors every word and act. There is no escape—face the facts—thank God that the old customs took root in this great country.

Today the mood of many appears to be that of destruction. Ignore the toil and sacrifice of those who laid the foundation of this nation. They, the pioneers, were dreamers—we can build a better and greater America by ignoring the past—let the "dead past bury its dead." This theory is unutterably childish and foolish—each generation must be refined in the furnace of time. Do not destroy until you can provide a better world—one that can face the uncertainty of the times with a serene faith. Go forth in the footsteps of the pioneers and add your contribution to that which they wrought. That is progress.

The America of the twentieth century cannot break with the past for it is ever present. History is a true barometer. Live and learn.

Now to return to the family data—as copied from the Ohler family Bible.

The births were given in last week's column—the deaths are next in order.

1. John T. (Thomas) Ohler—died January 26, 1917—aged 85 years, 1 month and 18 days.

2. Anna C. Ohler, wife of John Thomas Ohler—Died December 7, 1919—aged 82 years, 7 months, and 18 days. Both John Thomas Ohler and his wife are interred in the Old Tom's Creek Lutheran churchyard. The inscriptions follow:

94. In memory of Alice J. Ohler, wife of John H. Munshower, died May 3, 1905, aged 43 years, 3 months, and 18 days.

Environment Study Praised By Byron

Rep. Goodloe Byron today praised the Maryland State Board of Education for initiating a comprehensive plan to introduce environmental education programs within the school system.

Earlier this month Byron had written the Board of Education citing "the real need" for developing such an approach. He cited the youth of the State noting that "the subject of environment is one of their primary interests and any assistance we can give them in expanding their knowledge in this field and enhancing their roles as future adult citizens should be undertaken."

"I am pleased by the actions taken by the Board of Education. Environmental conditions are created by citizens and it is only natural they become the concern of citizens," Byron concluded.

No Grazing On Support Program Land

Maryland farmers cooperating in the 1971 feed grain and wheat programs were reminded that they may not graze livestock on setaside acreage until October 16. Haying or other uses are not permitted on acreage which farmers agreed to set aside from production in return for farm program benefits.

Raymond F. Jaeger, Chairman of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, pointed out that the farm program agreements entered into by producers cover the entire calendar year.

He explained that as part of the effort to balance production with demand, feed grain and wheat producers agreed to set aside a portion of their cropland from production and maintain it in a conserving use. In return for participating in the programs they earned price support payments or wheat marketing certificates, and their program crops are eligible for price support loans.

"Nearly all farm program payments in Maryland have now been made," the ASC committee chairman said. "I want to remind farmers that their set-aside acreage must continue to be maintained, however, and that no grazing is permitted until October 16. Haying is not permitted." He explained that in event of intentional violation, a farmer may lose all program benefits.

John Henry Munshower married again after the death of his first wife but when he died, some twenty-four years later, he also elected to be buried in the old churchyard, in which rested his first wife and her people. The Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of the Elias congregation in 1929, read the burial office. The introduction environmental education his grave follows:

In memory of John H. Munshower, died July 27, 1829, aged 70 years, 3 months, and 7 days.

The notes on the Ohler family, a people who were unusually loyal to the church of their fathers, will be continued in this series next week. He also reminded farmers

Taste Sweet Summer In Fresh Vegetables

Nutrition can be a sometime thing in the good old summertime. Lazy appetites. Heat-wilted people. Catch-as-catch-can meals. Even with the best of intentions, everyone runs the risk of nutrition letdown in hot weather. Balanced meals can be so simple. Make them with foods folks like best. Good example is a meal of savory, grilled frankfurters wrapped in bacon, golden corn on the cob, and bright red, fresh beets served with zesty scallion butter. Fresh vegetables with fruit comprise one group of the Basic Four food groups. Serve fresh vegetables daily at summer meals to keep vitamins and minerals high in the diet.

Fresh Beets With Scallion Butter
8 medium-size fresh beets 1/2 cup chopped scallions
3 tablespoons melted butter 1/2 teaspoon salt or margarine 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Remove greens from beets, leaving about 1-inch of the stem end intact. Cover and cook in a small amount of boiling salted water until just tender. Melt butter or margarine in a small skillet; add scallions and cook until tender. Slip skins off beets. Slice beets and toss with scallion butter. Season with salt and pepper.
Makes: 4 servings.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

I would like to prepare for a career in wildlife conservation. Can you suggest what courses I should take in school?

The Department of Interior publishes a pamphlet on this subject which you may order from my office. It suggests in broad terms the kinds of knowledge you will need to acquire for a career in wildlife research, management, administration, teaching, extension, photography or popular writing. The position a student may eventually fill in wildlife management depends on many factors, tangible and intangible. Certainly your interests, enthusiasm, capabilities, and the amount and type of training received will be important elements. With steadily increasing demands on wildlife resources by people, new fields of employment can be expected, and new approaches will be needed. The ability to work with people and to express oneself clearly, in speaking and writing, is important to a wildlife biologist in all phases of his work.

What is the status of H.R. 234 which would repeal the Emergency Detention Act of 1950?

It is presently awaiting action by the Senate. Last week the House voted overwhelmingly to repeal the 1950 act that could be used to put suspected citizens in detention camps without trial. The 1950 Act has never been used but has served as a reminder that the government did imprison, under executive order, more than 100,000 Japanese-Americans in 1942 at the start of World War Two.

How many rural people were aided by the Farmers Home Administration this year?

The FHA reports that nearly half a million rural people were able to move into new or improved homes financed through its agency's programs in the year that ended June 30, 1971. A record loan total of approximately $1.4 billion for the year was also reported. FHA loans are made to families with low or moderate incomes who will occupy homes in rural areas. The money is used to buy, build, improve or relocate homes. Loans for construction of rental units for senior citizens and other qualified families and for farm labor housing benefited another 2,600 families.

In early June I applied for education benefits under the GI Bill to attend junior college, and have heard nothing. Can you help me as the summer school costs are quite hard on my budget?

Because of your letter my office contacted the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Baltimore, and it was learned that your request had unfortunately been misplaced. As you are now aware the VA has issued you a hardship payment of $440 retroactive to June, as well as continuing payments each month on your educational benefits. Citizens having similar problems with VA benefits should feel free to contact my office for assistance.

DOD Reduces Men At Fort Ritchie

The Department of Defense announced this week a reduction in activities at Fort Ritchie as a part of the overall reduction through the Department. This reduction will be completed by June 30, 1972. Approximately 500 military positions will be effected. It is anticipated that the level of civilian employment will not change as a result of this reduction.

The reduction in activities at Fort Ritchie is expected to result in an annual savings in the Defense budget of approximately $10 million.

This reduction is in keeping with similar ones made necessary to bring stateside headquarters and bases more in line with overall personnel reductions within the Armed Forces. Also, modernization and automation of technical equipment at Fort Ritchie make it possible to accomplish the same job with fewer personnel.

Military personnel whose positions have been abolished will be reassigned in accordance with normal service policies.

Starting next year, about 655,000 of 2,300,000 pensioners who have been on the rolls during two consecutive years will not have to submit annual income questionnaires to the Veterans Administration. They must continue to report changes in income, however.

Town Postmaster's Zip Column

The San Juan Commemorative 8-cent stamp was first placed on sale at San Juan, Puerto Rico, on Sept. 12, 1871.

This stamp marks the 450th anniversary of San Juan, Puerto Rico, the oldest complete, still lived-in city, under the American flag.

The city, founded in 1521, as a colony of less than 400 persons, was to become a vital link in protecting Spain's Caribbean empire.

Expanding industry and tourism are present-day assets of the Commonwealth.

Reproduced on the stamp is a detail of San Juan's famed El Morro castle. The artist engraved this on wood, a technique that is almost unique in stamp designing, to capture 16th century atmosphere.

At this writing, our supply of the San Juan Commemorative has not yet been received. We have been experiencing delays in commemorative distribution from the Bureau of Engraving for the past several issues. It is hoped that their problem will soon be solved, and that we will again be able to offer these stamps on the second day, following release.

MVA Issues Rules For Studded Tires

Studded tires may be used again this winter in a limited basis. Under rules and regulations developed by the Motor Vehicle Administration, studded tires may be used on Maryland highways from October 15, 1971 to April 30, 1972, provided they have no more than 150 studs per tire with a maximum protrusion of 3/32nds of an inch.

To those motorists who will be using studded tires, it is suggested that all four wheels be equipped with the studded tires for maximum benefit.

Equipping the rear wheels only does not significantly improve cornering or stopping, but does aid when starting on icy roadways. Using four studded tires aids stopping, starting and cornering, but only when roads are icy and the temperature is at or slightly below freezing.

Federal Aid Report Available To Town

The Maryland Department of State Planning has recently compiled a report which shows that the State and its political subdivisions received more than $380 million in Federal grants-in-aid during the year ending June 30, 1971. The Department has been designated by Governor Mandel to act as a clearinghouse to channel grant information to appropriate State and local officials.

Vladimir Wahbe, Secretary of State Planning, said that the report has been submitted to Governor Mandel and is now being distributed to State and local agencies, towns and county commissions throughout Maryland. He said that one of the major purposes of the report will be to enable State and local units of government, especially smaller political subdivisions, to become more fully aware of the wide range and variety of Federal grant programs funded in Maryland.

The source of data in the report is that provided by the Federal agency awarding each grant. Since the requirement for Federal agencies to notify the Clearinghouse is new, the report reflects errors and omissions in the Federal source data. Hence, the total of $380 million listed is believed to be considerably less than the total of Federal grants actually awarded in Maryland. The Department of State Planning is working closely with the Federal agencies to improve the accuracy of the data they provide, so that future State reports, which will be issued monthly, quarterly and annually, will be more nearly exact.

Hunt Permit Needed For Antlerless Deer

Antlerless deer may be taken by permit only during the 1971 Firearm Deer Season, from November 27 to December 4 inclusive, Joseph H. Manning, Director, Fish and Wildlife Administration, announced today. To take an antlerless deer during this period a hunter must have a valid antlerless deer permit for the county in which he is hunting. There will be no antlerless deer hunting in Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick and Carroll Counties, during the 1971 Firearm Season.

Applicants may apply for one permit in one county only. Any person submitting more than one application per county, or submitting applications for more than one county, will be eliminated from the selection. Hunters receiving a permit may use it only in the county indicated on the permit.

Hunters who wish to be eligible for a random drawing for antlerless deer permits must complete and submit an application to the Fish and Wildlife Administration, State Office Building, Annapolis, Md. 21401, postmarked no later than 12 midnight, October 31, 1971. The application must contain name, mailing address, hunting license number and county in which the hunter desires to hunt antlerless deer. Permit holders will be selected randomly by electronic data processing equipment and permits will be mailed to the successful applicants.

Flight-recorder tape, which stores all pertinent data concerning the operation of commercial aircraft, is made of an alloy containing 76 per cent nickel. The recording tape is nine ten-thousandths of an inch thick.

Croch Catch Good

The 1971 hard crab catch in Maryland waters looks like it will be substantial, according to preliminary figures received by the Department of Natural Resources.

A spokesman for the department said the preliminary figures compiled by the U. S. Marine Fisheries Service indicate the season will be a good one, not a record breaker, but good.

In addition, he said, dealers report this year's crabs are good-sized and healthy.

As of June 30, 1971, crab landings totaled 5,385,900 pounds.

While that is 1.7 million below the 1970 total as of June, it is far above a comparable period in 1969 when the catch totaled 1,555,768 pounds.

Wildlife protection paid for by licensed hunters is not restricted to game birds and animals, but benefits song birds and other wildlife.

Postmaster G. Thomas Steinberger and Mrs. Marjorie Hoyt were united in marriage recently in St. John's Lutheran Church. Our best wishes to the bride and groom. May they have many happy years together.

The Fairfield Homemakers will hold their first meeting of the season at 7:30 on Sept. 28 at St. John Lutheran Church. Maymie Fox from Plasterer's Floral Shop, of Chambersburg, will demonstrate arrangements of dried artificial and real flowers for Fall decorations. A business meeting will follow. All members and any interested persons are invited to attend.

As quite a few of you know, my Better Half is renovating a house at Jack's Mtn. This house is known as the Creager House, we are told, and is a part of the Elevation Orchards. The reason for my telling you this is a hope that one of you readers can tell us something about the history of this house. We are very interested and some of you residents that have lived here longer than we have probably can tell us some interesting details.

We send "GetWell" wishes to Mrs. George (Alma) Myers and Mrs. Sherman (Grace) Sites.

William "Bill" Fresh, Fairfield, recently received his license to sell real estate in Pennsylvania and Maryland. Bill was born in Pennsylvania, graduated from Richard Montgomery High School in Rockville, Md., and attended Georgetown University. He owned and operated Rockville Trading Post from 1954 until 1970 when he sold out. Bill, his wife Betty, daughters Nancy, Jeanne and Joanne, sons William, Jr. and Paul, live on a farm just outside of Fairfield where he raises beef cattle as a part-time business and hobby. Other hobbies include flying, photography, hunting and fishing. Bill is now associated with Hartman, Briddell Associates, Rockville, Md.

Virginia Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz, Gettysburg R6, and granddaughter of Mrs. Ida Slonaker, Fairfield, was honored at a bridal shower at the home of Miss Margaret Stener, Cashtown. Mrs. Shelby whose husband passed away. Schultz and Gary Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Hill, Gettysburg, will be wed on Oct. 23 at St. James Lutheran Church, Gettysburg.

We wish to express our sympathy to Mrs. Harold Day whose husband passed away. Mr. Day was very active in the local Lions Club. Our sympathy also to the Archie Chronister family. Mr. Chronister had a fatal heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sites and family, Main St., have returned home after a week's vacation with his sister, and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Elliott and family, Virginia Beach, Va. They enjoyed the beach and went crabbing. On their way home, they stopped in Glen Burnie, Md., and visited another sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Jakub.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Sanders, Littlestown, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sites, R2.

Our best wishes to Vicki Trembow, Orrtanna, and James Colin, Bethesda and Charnita, who announced their engagement last week. Vicki, who is the daughter of Mrs. Victor Kiwaj and the late Apollon Trembow, graduated from Fairfield High School in 1970 and is now employed at the Gettysburg News Center. Jim graduated from Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School in 1971 and is employed at AMF in York. They plan a December wedding.

'Bye for this week.
