Most Anything, At A Glance

- By Abigail -

This is the big fall weekend in Emmitsburg and it is made even bigger this year by having two events on the same weekend. The annual Valley Home Weekend is steeped in tradition at Saint Joseph College. This year's program offers parents a chance to become better acquainted with the school and various student activities. Events start Friday evening and carry on through Sunday.

St. Joseph parents as well as all residents and visitors will enjoy the annual Colorfest celebration. This year Emmitsburg has many events taking place. The Saturday Parade scheduled by the Fire Company, the Block Party, the Dance that night, and the Sunday Civil War Re-enactment all should provide excellent entertainment for local folks and out-of-towners alike. In addition to these events local points of interest will be available for tours.

Don't forget there will be many things going on in Thurmont and the Catoctin Mountain Park. It has been said there is enough activity in the area for three or four weekends and I believe it. All of us should take this opportunity to entertain our visitors while they are here and then get away ourselves to see the area sights that we take for granted most of the year.

The breezy weather we have had the last couple of days is a solid reminder that winter is just around the corner so let's make the best of Colorfest while it is here.

I sure hope that everyone takes a minute to do some last minute clean up work on his property before the weekend. All townspeople should want to be proud of Emmitsburg and show it off to best advantage when the visitors are with us. Let's pay particular attention to the square. That's the place where most people will be and it should look best of all.

Congratulations to Martin Golibart on his election to the Presidency of the Mount St. Mary's Alumni. I am sure the Mount is happy to have a local resident working with them and I am sure Mr. Golibart will do all in his power to lead the Alumni into greater service to the Mount so that the College can improve and grow in future years.

I see where the town is organizing a Planning and Zoning Board. This should do a great deal to move Emmitsburg forward and help provide better services for townspeople. Many towns waste a lot of effort growing like Topsy. If we have some good solid thinking and planning of future growth, our town is going to be able to do a better job for the residents and save the taxpayers a lot of money at the same time.

The Orioles have had some tough luck, combined with good Pirate pitching, in the first two games in Pittsburgh. Looks like it's time for local fans to turn on the powerful rooting that has pulled the Birds through in the past. The series will be back in Baltimore on Saturday, let's hope that our team has it won by then.

NOTICE

Colorfest visitors desiring information on weekend activities in the Catoctin Mountain area can obtain brochures at an information booth located at the junction of Routes 15 and 97. The booth will be manned over the weekend by the Emmitsburg Boy Scouts. In addition, several local businesses will have brochures available.

GAP Begins Third Year Of Services

The Group Action Program at Mount Saint Mary's College is preparing to begin its third year of operation, and Rev. Daniel C. Nusbaum, College Chaplain and the program's faculty moderator, reports that about 15% of the Mount's student body is now active in the group.

GAP, as the program is known on campus, was begun by a group of students, along with Fr. Nusbaum, during the 1968-69 school year as a volunteer service organization, mainly because of what they considered a conspicuous lack of social life on campus. They found that many agreed with the idea that a service activity could provide both social life for the students as well as help to the needy of the community. Today there are between 150 and 200 students active in GAP under the leadership of Student Director, Bob Miller, a senior from Williamsport, Md., who has been an enthusiastic participant since the program began in his freshman year.

Reaching mainly the Emmitsburg area, but in some cases as far from campus as Gettysburg and Frederick, the organization is made up of 7 sub-programs out of an original 12.

"What we wanted to do," says Fr. Nusbaum, "was weed out those activities that seemed least productive and hold onto the ones that had the most going for them."

The 7 still in operation are:

The Frederick Hot-Line, which provides telephone counseling and/or free referral service for those seeking immediate advice. Began in September of 1970 by a combination of Hood College and Mount students, the program has become one of the 2 most popular of the 7.

The Seton Center, which is both a day-care center for working mothers, and a thrift shop for the needy of the Emmitsburg area.

The Tutoring Program, which offers free adult education for those who missed the opportunity as well as help for students having difficulty in Emmitsburg schools.

The Paradise Guild was formed to provide recreation and companionship for the wards of the nearby Paradise Protectors.

Similarly, the Old-Folks Program seeks to provide comfort and companionship to those confined to nursing homes in the Emmitsburg area.

The Mountain Project was formed to help in any way possible the poverty areas in the mountains around the college. It is by far the most physically taxing of the 7 programs, involving help in whatever manual labor may be needed and requested.

GAP's seventh and final program is the Emmitsburg Teen Center with which the students began their association only this year. Fr. Nusbaum reports that attempts made last year to establish such a center in town were not successful. Fr. Nusbaum says that one of GAP's main goals this year will be to contribute every needed effort so that the Center will develop into the valuable facility it can be.

The students currently involved in one or more of the GAP projects, devote an average of about 3 hours a week for each individual to each activity, but Fr. Nusbaum says the drop-out rate is surprisingly low.

"Those that quit are almost exclusively those who haven't yet participated in one of the activities. It's funny but once they get started, you can't seem to drag them away—they love it."

Although it has been open to girls from St. Joseph College since it began, and now welcomes women enrolled at the Mount, Fr. Nusbaum reports the activity continues to boast of more men than women in each of the seven projects.

Mrs. Richard Campbell recently returned from a week's visit in Honolulu, Hawaii, where she met her husband on leave from Vietnam.

Airman First Class Michael F. Krietz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Krietz, R2, Emmitsburg, has recently graduated from technical training course for United States Air Force communications analysis specialists at Goodfellow AFB, Texas.

Airman Krietz was trained to operate communications systems and analysis procedures necessary to determine the effectiveness of communications security measures. He is being assigned to Kadena AFB, Okinawa, with a unit of the U. S. Air Force Security Service.

The Airman is a 1970 graduate of Catoctin High School.

Area Deaths

JOHN E. COOL

John Elmer Cool, 85, Emmitsburg R1, died Sunday morning at 8:26 at the United States Soldiers Home in Washington, D. C., where he had been a guest for five years.

A native of Adams County, he was the son of the late Samuel D. and Ida (Sanders) Cool. He served 30 years in the U. S. Army, retiring as a master sergeant, and served during both World War I and II. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Emmitsburg, and of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6658, Emmitsburg.

Surviving are two brothers and two sisters: George J. Cool and Mrs. Rose Muench, both of Emmitsburg R1; Bernard Cool, Sykesville, Md.; and Mrs. Grace Rider of Emmitsburg, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning with a Mass at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. Fr. John King, officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. Military rites were rendered by the U. S. Army Detachment from Fort Ritchie. Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, was in charge of arrangements.

For the fifth successive season the public is permitted to take up to one bushel of oysters per day from designated waters of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries without a license, Fred Sieling, Assistant Director, Fish and Wildlife Administration, announced this week.

Spook Parade Set For October 30

The annual spook and goblin parade will be held Saturday evening, October 30, it has been announced by officials of Francis X. Elder Post 121, American Legion. Providing music for the event will be the Emmitsburg Municipal Band, Chairman William L. Topper reports.

Topper announced that the parade will form in West End at the Doughboy at 6:00 p.m. and will move off at 6:30 o'clock sharp. Prizes to be awarded are: Funniest costume, $10, $5, $3; best looking costume, $10, $5, $3; best-decorated bicycle, wagon or tricycle, $10, $5, $3. Two mystery prizes of $5 will be given.

It was also announced by town officials that Trick or Treat Night will be from 7 to 10 o'clock only on Saturday, October 30.

Great Homecoming At Mt. St. Mary's

Two prominent alumni of Mount Saint Mary's College were honored at the annual Homecoming dinner of the college Saturday evening. More than 500 attended the event.

Rev. Fr. Carl J. Fives, member of the college faculty and administration for many years received the Simon G. Brute Medal for distinguished service to the college. Since Fr. Fives' graduation from the Mount and Seminary in the late 1930s, he has served in almost every administration post and on the college faculty.

Atty. Albert F. Wheltie, of Baltimore, a former Mount graduate, was presented the John Dubois Medal for outstanding service for the "Advancement of mankind in community, state and nation." Atty. Wheltie is a prominent Baltimore attorney who has fashioned a career in many areas of youth work, including accomplishments with the AAU and the Olympic committee.

In a new award, the late Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, former president of Mt. St. Mary's College, was named as the first graduate to the Mount's Athletic Hall of Fame. The late Monsignor's nephew, William Sheridan, accepted a plaque presented by Dr. Frank Kennedy, president of the Lower Annapolis chapter of the National Alumni Association which sponsored the award. The award will be presented annually to a student who exhibited outstanding performance in athletics.

A citation honoring the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Hugh J. Phillips, who retired as college president last year, was presented to his fellow classmate, Rev. Louis A. Phillips, Belplaine O., in his absence. The citation honored Msgr. Phillips for his outstanding service as college president. Although no relative, Rev. Louis Phillips accepted the award since they graduated from the Mount and the Seminary together. Msgr. Hugh Phillips is currently conducting a retreat in Alaska.

During a brief address, President John J. Dillon said, "this is a critical period for the college as we turn our efforts toward becoming a coed institution. Plans to house girls students at the college's next year are still in the preliminary stages. Several avenues for solution of the housing problem are being probed." He expects the long term effects of the coed program "to be very beneficial to the college." Dr. Dillon said the enrollment will be kept around the 1,200 level.

Five of the seven 50-year alumni, members of the class of 1921, attended the banquet. The annual homecoming dance followed the banquet.

A SALUTE

National Newspaperboy Day, October 16, 1971, affords an opportunity to pay tribute to the one million American newspaperboys — who every day travel more than a million miles and distribute more than 62 million newspapers, by their diligence earning some $600 million each year for themselves and, in many cases, as a help to their families.

Commissioners OK Community Center

At a meeting on October 7, 1971, the Frederick County Commissioners endorsed the report of the Emmitsburg Citizens Committee which advocated use of the Community Center concept to include the new elementary school with other community services such as a health center, library, park facilities, teen center and public meeting place.

The Commissioners instructed the Board of Education to proceed with preliminary planning of the project and obtain preliminary cost estimates. The architectural firm of Bushey and Burry have been instructed to proceed with this work.

When the plans are complete and costs are known, the next step will be to apply to the appropriate agencies of the state for funding. At the present time, an active search is being made for a supplemental fund to assist with the project. Commissioner John Derr said that he is hopeful the state will endorse the project and provide adequate funding.

A meeting of interested parties including the Frederick County Planning and Zoning Department, has been scheduled at the school site on October 22 to study various aspects of the project relative to the coordination of all the activities to be included in the Community Center.

It is anticipated that the initial preliminary plans for the project will be reviewed by the Citizens Committee in the near future.

Lions Approve Sale Of Local Ground

The regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club was held Monday evening, October 11. The minutes were read and approved. The resignation of Floyd Lewis, treasurer, was announced by President J. Norman Flax. Clarence Peiper was appointed acting treasurer. Charter night will be held in combination with the Thurmont Lions at Cozy Restaurant on Friday, October 22.

The Club voted to approve sale of its land east of town by the Lions Civic Association to a new corporation to be organized locally. The principals involved at this time are Ernest Shriver, William Carr, William Walter and John Walter.

Philip D. Topper, Town Commissioner appointed to head up the new Emmitsburg Planning and Zoning Board, announced this week that in addition to himself, the following citizens have been appointed to the Board: Ernest R. Shriver, John S. Hollinger, Sr., Emile A. Nakhleh, and Mrs. Shelia Chetlos.

The first meeting of the new board is planned for next week. After organization, the initial project will be to discuss a planning and zoning program for Emmitsburg with Lawrence Johnson, Director of Planning and Zoning of Frederick County.

M. T. Golibart Heads Mt. Alumni

Martin T. Golibart

Martin T. Golibart, President and Chief Executive Officer of M. T. Golibart and Associates, has been elected President of the National Alumni Association of Mount Saint Mary's College. The announcement came officially during the Saturday night dinner-dance of the Alumni Association's Homecoming, '71, celebration.

Elected Vice President was Albert E. Branson of Washington, D. C. Together the officers will lead the 5300-man organization for a two-year term.

Golibart, who graduated from the Mount in 1957 with a degree in Economics, is no stranger to the school's alumni situation, having served from 1963 to 1969 as its Director of Development and Alumni Relations. He resigned from that position to form M. T. Golibart and Associates, which today operates throughout the country in business mergers and acquisitions, buying and selling corporations and large real estate holdings. He lives near the campus in Emmitsburg with his wife and three children.

Branson graduated in 1965 with a B.S. in Education. Since then he has served for two years as President of the Alumni Association's Washington, D. C. chapter, during which time he made that chapter the Mount's most active alumni team.

In a brief acceptance speech, Golibart said, "I feel privileged to have been elected to serve Mount Saint Mary's in this capacity, because of the thousands of loyal alumni throughout the country who share a deep-seated devotion and enthusiasm for the Mount." He went on to pledge assistance in further developing chapters in conjunction with the overall plans of the college. The Alumni Association has met almost every year since 1875 when Mount St. Mary's, the nation's second oldest Catholic college, was only 67 years old.

Colorfest Weekend Schedules Parade, Block Party, GAR Re-enactment Here

Over eighty units, some with multiple sections, will march in the Vigilant Hose Co. parade to be held Saturday, October 16 in Emmitsburg. The line of march will include 3 floats, 35 fire companies, 26 majorette groups, 2 drum and bugle corps, 2 bands, several units from the Grand Army of the Reunion, official cars, ambulances, an antique car and representatives of local businesses. In excess of thirty units will have over 100 marchers. The parade is due to begin at 1 p.m. sharp. The reviewing stand is in front of the Fire Hall.

Over twenty trophies will be awarded in addition to several cash prizes, provided by the Vigilant Hose Co., The Catoctin Mountain Tourist Council and local businesses. Feature attraction of the parade will be the Stardeets from Baltimore, winners in the last two years who will be trying for a third win so that they can retire the trophy.

The Block Party, to be held at St. Joseph's Grove on DePaul Street, lists a chicken barbecue served from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., five refreshment stands and over a dozen amusements. A street dance is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Company E from the Maryland First Cavalry Battalion, Confederate States of America, is the host to the visiting units of the Grand Armies of the Reunion which will participate in a re-enactment of Civil War skirmishes which occurred during Lee's retreat from Gettysburg.

The re-enactment is scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, October 17. Company E is commanded by Capt. Fred Warnken and staffed by men from Frederick County and the surrounding area.

The Civil War troops will camp in Stouter's meadow over the weekend.

The re-enactment will include several Sisters from St. Joseph College who will participate in costumes similar to those worn during the Civil War.

Thomas Likes Work Before Welfare Pay

State Senator Edward P. Thomas (R-Fred.-Car.) said he favors and will support legislation that would require all able-bodied welfare recipients to accept public works jobs without compensation to be eligible for their benefits.

A prefiled bill to be considered during the 1972 Maryland General Assembly is patterned after the recent New York State law which bars welfare recipients from receiving checks by mail. The recipient would have to claim his check in person at the State Employment Office, and at the same time register to work.

The individuals could then be assigned to jobs with the parks or roads departments, in school maintenance, or in other local spots which otherwise would go unfilled because of a lack of funds by the hard pressed, financially-strained local governments.

"Failure to register or report for assigned work would result in automatic dismissal from the welfare rolls," Senator Thomas said.

In New York state, during the first month of the new law, 18 per cent of the employables on welfare rolls failed to claim their checks. They chose to lose their benefits rather than work, Thomas explained.

Thomas said he does not agree with Mrs. Rita C. Davidson, secretary of the State Social Services Administration, who last spring reportedly favored welfare payments to workers on strike. Thomas said he does agree with those who think it's time to clear the welfare lists of the fraudulent and the freeloaders and to have recipients contribute something to the community.

MSESA TO MEET

The Maryland State Educational Secretaries Assn. will hold its 18th annual convention at Gov. Thomas Johnson High School in Frederick on Friday, October 15.

College, Grotto of Lourdes, St. Joseph's Provincial House, and St. Joseph College, will be available during the day both Saturday and Sunday.

Colorfest Weekend activity in Emmitsburg is only a small part of the activity taking place in the entire Catoctin Mountain area. Catoctin Mountain Park, Thurmont, Catoctin Furnace, Foxville, and Graceham all have a full schedule of events starting Friday night and continuing through Saturday and Sunday. Official opening of the weekend will be on Friday, October 15, at 8 p.m. in Camp Peniel Auditorium in the park. Scheduled activities will end at 5 p.m. Sunday, however, it is anticipated that many visitors will return on the remaining weekends in October to view the color in the area.

Parents Weekend Begins On Friday

Valley Home Weekend, the traditional parents' weekend at St. Joseph College, is scheduled for October 15 through 17 on campus. The three-day program is primarily one of social events, but parents will have an opportunity on Saturday to consult with faculty concerning their daughter's progress.

The program opens Friday evening for early arrivals with a film scheduled by the Cultural Program Committee, "The Chalk Garden," starring Deborah Kerr and John and Hayley Mills, will be shown in the Dodd Lecture Hall at 8 p.m. The film offering is also open to the public without charge.

Parent and guest registration will take place on Saturday from 9 to 3 p.m. in the Student Center. A coffee hour is planned simultaneously until 11 a.m.

From 10 a.m. to noon, the Education Department will present at half-hour intervals, video-tapes on "The Widening College Campus" which were shown at last year's parents' weekend, and repeated this year by popular demand.

Between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., faculty will be available for personal conferences in the Dodd Science Center and the Home Ec Building.

Immediately following, Sister Margaret Dougherty, president of the college, will speak on "The Changing Campus Scene." The college announced in April that it will close in 1973, and Sister Margaret will discuss the several aspects of the plans for the next two years. Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr., president of Mt. St. Mary's College, will also be present to answer questions concerning opportunities at the Mount for students wishing to enroll there.

Weather permitting, the President's Reception will be held in the Student Center lawn at 3 o'clock.

Mass will be offered by Fr. John E. Hurley, C.M., college chaplain, at 4 p.m. at St. Joseph's Provincial House. Fr. Hurley will also celebrate the Mass at 8 a.m. Sunday morning in the college chapel.

Saturday's events close with the traditional Parents Dance in the Student Center. Prior to the dance, senior students will host a cocktail party for their parents.

Parents will be guests of the college at breakfast Sunday morning.

At 11 a.m., the annual "Powderpuff" football game is scheduled at Kelley Field.

Other plans for the weekend include guided tours of Mother Seton's shrines on campus, and should the World Series continue through Saturday, TV will be available for interested fans in the Dubois canteen. Since the Catoctin Colorfest coincides with Valley Home Weekend this year, parents have been invited to visit the attractions featured in the area, and to delay their departure from Emmitsburg until after the re-enactment of General Lee's Civil War skirmish at 1 p.m. on Sunday.

On Sunday afternoon, Mr. Edgar Ashbaugh, N. Seton Ave., was given a surprise birthday party by his wife, at the American Legion Home in Emmitsburg.

Attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bender and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Romsburg of Frederick; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cooley, Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grimes, Legore; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Folkenroth, Blue Ridge Summit; Mrs. Anna refreshments served. Come and spend a pleasant evening with friends and neighbors. Another event to be remembered is the Senior Citizens' Bus Trip on Tuesday, October 26. The bus leaves the Center at 8 a.m. for Washington, D. C. and environs, returning to the Center at 7 p.m. Twenty-five have already signed up. This looks like a highly successful and interesting tour. The cost is $1.50 for members and $3.00 for non-members.

Steel Band To Give Concert

The 22-member Trinidad Tripoli Steel Band will give a concert of classical, rock 'n roll, and calypso music Sunday, Oct. 17, at 8 p.m. in the Student Union at Gettysburg College.

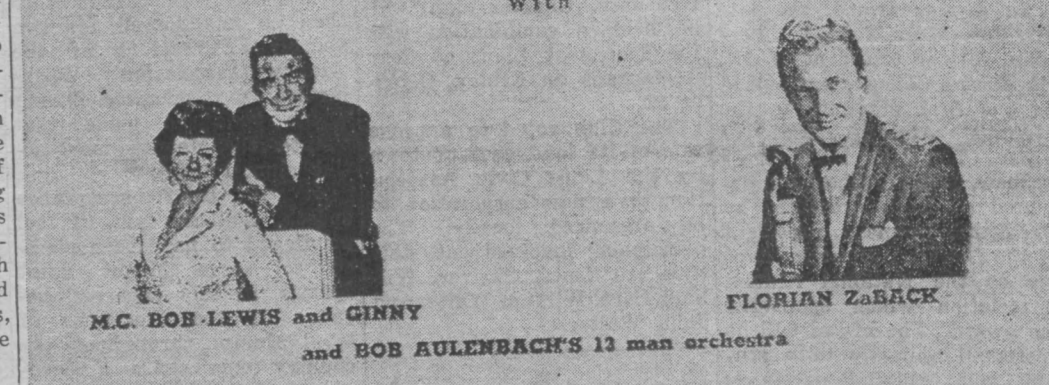

The band was born from calypso music. They discovered that abandoned oil drums could be used for musical tones. Tickets may be purchased at the Student Union office at Gettysburg College.

Knights Of Columbus District Mass Well Attended

The first meeting of October for Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus of Emmitsburg, was called to order on Monday, Oct. 4 at 8 p.m. Grand Knight Stanley McIntyre presided.

It was reported that the Maryland State Deputy Chas. Zeunges and wife will attend the Knight of Year Banquet to be held Saturday, October 9, beginning at 6 p.m., with cocktails at Chestnut Logs, on Rt. 16, Rouserville, Pa.

Thomas Topper, chairman of the Youth Activities reported on the Ford Punt, Pass and Kick contest held last Sunday. Topper reported that Thomas Leonard, chairman of this affair, said that 52 boys participated in the event from the community. The first place winners will go to zone competition this Saturday.

Council Activities chairman, George Danner, reported that Francis Brewer will be chairman of the Halloween social to be held at the Council Home on October 30, and that William Sanders, Jr., will head the Oyster Feed to be held on Saturday, Nov. 20.

Grand Knight McIntyre reported that the District 4 Mass held October 2, was attended by 80 persons. The Mass, originally scheduled for the Grotto, was celebrated at Pangborn Chapel on Mount Saint Mary's College campus due to inclement weather.

The Council voted to take an advertisement in the Catholic Deaf of Baltimore program brochure.

Council Lecturer Harry Otterson urged the members and their wives to drop by the Emmitsburg Youth Center at the Middle School to observe its activities.

The Grand Knight announced that there will be an officers meeting in the Council Chambers on Thursday, Oct. 14 at 8 p.m.

The meeting adjourned with refreshments in the social room, served by William Eiker.

Mass will precede the next meeting at the Council Home at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 18.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
The "Union Church of Concordia"
"Take all away,
The only thing worth leaving
—Emily Dickinson

With the pioneer, in every age and every clime, came the faith—of whatever type it happened to be—because "a house built upon sand cannot stand." It must have a firm foundation and this includes not only the structures reared by man for his own shelter and comfort, but the nations of the world as well. Faith is a belief in things both seen and unseen—it is the guiding hand of a Supreme Power—man's dependence upon One with whom all things are possible.

Without faith—with its hope of immortality—life is a matter of the present moment—there is no future. As the poet wrote "Take all away— but leave faith. So man brought the church and sacrificed to erect structures in which to worship the God of his fathers. Whether cathedral or country church—this was his offering of faith. America was built upon a firm foundation of the goodness of God "In God we trust" is not an obsolete saying—it is the very ramparts of this great nation. Go out into the countryside—see for yourself the many temples "reared to the greater glory of God"—some old and others of the present day. This is your country—but only thru the deep and abiding faith of the founding fathers.

One such country church, which has long since disappeared, in this area, was the one known as the "Union Church of Concordia." To Mr. Lester Sentz must be given the credit for noting its one-time existence and other pertinent data pertaining to the congregation. It stood on what was known as Chapel Road, on the location now occupied by the home and antique shop of Mr. Harold Yingling, in Mount Joy Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania. However, due to the fact that it was located too far from the Mason and Dixon Line, it included some Frederick County, Maryland, families among its membership.

Concordia was a "union church" and served both the Lutheran and German Reformed congregations of the locality. It was a frame structure—not large. In fact it was a comparatively small edifice and was erected on an embankment with large sandstone steps leading from the road to the main door. These sandstone slabs were in place as late as the middle nineteenth-thirties and then they were removed when the road was repaired.

It is apparent that the organization of the Mount Joy church, in 1851, was responsible, in part, for putting the finishing touches to the death of "Concordia." Some years before the Mount Joy congregation came into being Concordia as a parish had practically ceased to exist. What little is known of it is contained in the first record book of the Mount Joy Lutheran church—for this congregation "inherited" a bit of tangible evidence from the senior parish in the shape of their "church book."

In 1851 the Rev. Solomon Sentman wrote: "The congregation for which this book was originally provided, having long since ceased to exist, it has been transferred by one of the surviving members to the Mount Joy Evangelical congregation, of Adams County, Pa., for its use and in order that the records therein contained might be preserved."

"This book is therefore now the property of the Mount Joy Evangelical congregation of Adams County, Pa., Organized A.D., 1851."

The records mentioned by Pastor Sentman are rather sparse. There are, besides a few facts pertaining to the building and consecration of the church, a list of just twenty-eight baptisms. No records of marriages or burials although it is known that "a dozen or more" burials took place in the ground to the east and rear of the church and some marriages must have been performed by the minister (or ministers) who served the people of Concordia—but no mention is made of either.

The data pertaining to Concordia parish follows—as given in the record:

"On November 10, 1824 the cornerstone of the present church was laid. For this occasion in the forenoon Pastor Leidy gave the sermon based on the text: Isaiah, Chapter 28, verse 16. In the afternoon Pastor Grabar preached, using as his text: I Corinthians, Chapter 15, verse 58. Thereupon a copy was made and it, with other useful articles, were then placed in the cornerstone.

"After this church building was erected, the dedication ceremony was held on November 5 and 6, 1825. On the fifth in the forenoon Pastor Uhlhorn preached and in the afternoon Pastor Leidy preached.

"On November the sixth, in the forenoon, Pastor Uhlman gave his dedicatory sermon. Many people were present at this ceremony. The Church received the name: The Union Church of Concordia.

"In the afternoon Pastor Crabar preached and with that the celebration came to an end."

In the list of baptisms the following family names are to be found: Bauer, Linn, Sadler, Eichelberger, Senss (Sentz), Wolf, Kober, Stier, Jungling, Orendorf, Zaha (Hoover), Mehring, Zaha, Merckle, Feeser, Bowers, Bentzel, Snider (Snyder), and Koenig.

Not a very long list and this, more than anything else, points to the "brief day" enjoyed by Concordia parish. Everything, with the exception of a few records, pertaining to it has receded into the mists of the past. It is remembered by a few "senior citizens"—all else, including the gravestones in the little churchyard, have long since disappeared. But—and this must be taken into consideration—Concordia church did exist and played its part—if only for a short time. It is now a part of history—part of the people who sacrificed to bring it into existence—who served it with faith and loyalty during its all too short life.

Therefore it might well be said that Concordia "is gone but not forgotten."

Now to return to the historical and genealogical study of the pioneers who laid the foundations of old Tom's Creek Lutheran and Reformed church. As stated before it would appear that all the old families involved were related in one way or another—as one person remarked: "They did not go far for their courting in those days." Very true—but most confusing genealogically speaking. The Hockensmiths and Maxwells—and the Ohlers—were all intermarried—and—all were members of the Lutheran church.

The Hockensmith and Maxwell (Maxwell) families are next on the list for study.

It will be remembered that it was at the old Hockensmith Tavern that Emmitsburg received the name by which it is known "even to this very day."

These notes, both historical and genealogical, will be continued in this series next week.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

The Most Powerful Media
"You can take a compass with a one-mile radius and put it down at the corner of Fifth Avenue and 51st Street in New York City, and you have control of 95 per cent of the entire opinion- and influence-making in the U.S.A." This is one man's opinion of the power exercised by the "Eastern Establishment" of journalism—the TV networks, the news wire services (AP and UPI), the magazine and publishing houses, the "key" liberal newspaper organizations such as the New York TIMES. It is the opinion expressed by Theodore H. White, respected author of "The Making of the President" series of Books.

Mr. White is worried about the unassailable power of this journalistic monolith domiciled in New York. He is one of many respected journalists warning of the danger of warped and crooked journalism. His warnings are carried in Joseph Keeley's shocking new book, "The Left-Leaning Antenna" (Arlington House, New Rochelle, N. Y.). "Describing the way in which television networks, news magazines and other influential media are based in New York," Keeley records, "White then talked about the men and women who worked for them and their manner of operation."
Capable Of Brain-Washing
Here is what White said about the one-sided, concentrated power in the hands of the people who write and report the news from the New York citadel: "These people drink together, talk together, read the same esoteric and mad reviews . . . they control the cultural heights . . . and one who does not agree with them has enormous difficulty in breaking through." Mr. White recommended that the monolith be broken up, starting with moving one of the three major TV networks to Chicago, and another to Los Angeles.

Mr. White said: "No matter how you slice it (data which he cited) offer the most positive testimony that the East is out of step with the remainder of the nation to an extraordinary and indeed to an unexampled degree." But that doesn't deter an "Eastern based television monolith," he said, from brain-washing the nation with the suggestion "that whatever is Eastern is necessarily superior to what is not." "Moreover," he says, "all this rubbish has both fed and fed upon a violently far-left political movement which in effect argues that, even though it is greatly and demonstrably in the minority, it nevertheless must be conceded the right to national leadership."
Some Politicians Help
The monolithic power and the acceptance by many politicians in Washington of the fraud of "Eastern" (New York City) elitism and superiority is a factor in the New York Times and the TV networks defiance of charges of biased journalism, Keeley's book suggests.
The New York-based networks finance one of the most powerful lobbies in the nation's capital, he says: "To insure fullest Congressional sympathy, the networks and the National Association of Broadcasters maintain one of the most elaborate lobbying operations in the capital."
Nicholas Johnson, of the Federal Communications Commission, assesses the power of the networks: "The mass media, the networks in particular, broadcasting in particular, are probably now beyond the check of any institution in our society. The President, the Congress of the United States, the FCC, the foundations and universities are reluctant even to get involved. I think they may now be so powerful that they're beyond the check of anyone."

Objective: Destroy Presidents
Crosby S. Noyes, one of the owner-family of the Washington Star, said in a column shortly after Richard M. Nixon's election to the Presidency: Richard Nixon's "greatest problem and hazard" would be the press. Noyes wrote: "When it comes to its treatment of Presidents, the American press is a monster . . . An important segment of the press apparently has come to feel that it has a God-given mission to frustrate, hamstring and finally destroy the men . . . chosen to lead the nation." According to Howard K. Smith, ABC-TV News Washington anchor-man, the left-wing destruction crews have concentrated on Presidents Johnson and Nixon.

The American press on the whole, and consistently, has performed an indispensable service to the people of America. So has industry. So has government. So have the churches. So have other businesses and professions. . . . through the years, as many top journalists now warn, there has been concentrated in New York City and Washington a monolith of power over an important segment of American communications, and it is now being used, at times, in a manner defying the ethics of journalism that entitle it to its freedom. The situation has become frightening. People who are worried can write their Congressmen and Senators, the Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, the President, and the heads of the networks. Sufgets over 5,000 calls a day.

And nobody lives there.
Because it's not a home, really, but a whole houseful of complex switching equipment. All the telephone calls that come in and go out of this tree-shaded, storybook town called New Windsor, Maryland, are channeled through this house. Automatically.

Time was when Marguerite Anders and her sister Adella used to run things from a small wooden switchboard beside their parlor window. Sometimes they would shout to people in the street that their phone was ringing.

When Marguerite and Adella retired, it took a lot of automatic equipment to replace them, and a new building to keep it in. That's when we decided that the building didn't have to look as "automatic" as what was in it. After all, in a town like New Windsor, seeing the phone company isn't important. What is important is that it's there somewhere; it works; and the town of New Windsor is just as picturesque as it's always been.

At C&P Telephone we're hoping that this little white house of ours tells you something about the way we are. And since we built it way back in 1949... something about the way we've always been.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Which Way For Textbook Publishers?

A few short years ago when the textbook industry was represented on just about everyone's "growth" list, stocks of textbook producers sported some rather fancy price-earnings ratios. It was, in fact, not uncommon for a leading publishing issue to show a multiple of forty or fifty times earnings. Last year, however, some of the leaders in the educational publishing field were selling under fifteen times earnings. Quite a comedown for a so-called "growth" group!

What happened was that, in addition to the unfavorable impact of the severe 1969-1970 general market shake-out, the textbook industry suffered from a drastic re-evaluation of its "growth" label. In fact, in retrospect we can see that 1966 marked the end of an era.

High Water Level
At that time a number of beneficial factors came together to produce peak earnings for textbook firms. Government aid to education provided a sizable boost to sales, school enrollments were expanding vigorously, and the national economy was booming. But 1966 was followed by less favorable years when a reshuffling of national priorities resulted in greatly increased spending for the Vietnam war and less for education. School enrollment growth began to slow down, and inflation bit more deeply into school budgets everywhere.

Elements Of Growth
Despite the problems which afflict the producers, textbook stocks have rebounded sharply from their lows. Reasons for optimism are based on factors vital to the industry's growth:

(1) Although enrollments in elementary schools are projected to decline moderately through the mid-1970s, high school enrollments are projected to rise from an estimated 14.6 million in 1969 to 16.3 million in 1975. College enrollments are slated to increase from 7.4 million to 9.5 million for the same period.

(2) Especially important to textbook publishers' revenues is the long-term rising trend in textbook expenditures per student. Despite some leveling off in 1969, average dollar sale of textbooks per student historically have shown a strong upward tendency. Federal funding programs contributed to large increases in 1966, and it is believed that federal aid to education will be sharply expanded when the Vietnam war is finally concluded.

(3) The national economy, recovering from the recession of 1970, is gradually expanding. This factor along with the reduction in interest rates should aid schools in financing their capital budgets.

(4) Also expected to contribute to future sales of the educational publishers is the increasing use of textbooks and educational materials at every level of business and government. As technologies change and society becomes more complex, demand for educational materials grows. Furthermore, publishers are carving out markets for themselves in promising non-book educational areas such as closed-circuit television, audio-visual systems, and computer-assisted techniques.

Investment Advice
Among the important publishers of textbooks whose stocks are continuously supervised by the Research Department of Babson's Reports are Crowell Collier & MacMillan (also producing encyclopedias, miscellaneous educational materials, and musical instruments), McGraw-Hill, Addison-Wesley, and Western Publishing Company. We maintain a "hold" position on the first three of these concerns. The speculative-grade common stock of Western Publishing Company may be purchased (up to a buying limit of 26) by aggressive investors who are seeking capital appreciation. The company is a significant factor in the rapidly expanding pre-school market; publishes and distributes children's books, games, and activity materials; turns out textbooks for secondary schools and colleges; and handles commercial and educational printing. Future gains in sales should be substantial.

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

What effect will the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971 have on the individual boat owner?

The Act provides authority for the Coast Guard to establish minimum safety construction standards for boats and associated equipment; provides uniformity for individual state boating safety programs; authorizes financial assistance to the states; directs that a Boating Safety Advisory Council be established and provides for the numbering of all undocumented vessels equipped with propulsion machinery. In short, this new law will mean better built boats, more state education and enforcement programs, and expanded services by the Coast Guard for protecting life and property.

How many miles of Interstate Highway have been built in the U.S.? How is such road-building financed?

According to the Department of Transportation, about 32,000 miles of the 42,500-mile National System of Interstate and Defense Highways are now open to traffic. The Interstate System will be the nation's key highway network, serving both civilian and defense needs, and carrying over 20% of all traffic. Congress has required that projects be planned to accommodate adequately the traffic anticipated 20 years beyond their design period. All federal funds for the Interstate program come from federal excise taxes levied on highway users and are channeled through the Highway Trust Fund.

Under the Clean Air Act, the government said it would ensure that motor vehicles remain in compliance with Federal emission standards "throughout the vehicle's useful life." The definition of this latter phrase please?

New regulations define "useful life" as five years or 50,000 miles for light-duty vehicles and heavy-duty gasoline engines. For heavy-duty diesel engines, five years or 100,000 miles.

Would you please remind parents, through your column, to vaccinate their children against measles?

I would be happy to. Recent statistics indicate that measles is once again on the rise in the U. S. In the first eight months of this year almost 76,000 cases of the disease were reported. This figure compares unfavorably to 40,000 in the same period last year and to 20,000 in 1968 and 1969. According to a U. S. Immunization Survey, 12 million children are still unprotected against measles in our nation. School children bring measles home to pre-schoolers. So please, immunize your children and help wipe out measles.

Hele there! When it rains, it rains, but —when the sun shines, how heavenly!

Need we say more — but doesn't the whole world turn better with a bit of sunshine? No frost yet, so leaves are just dozens of lovely greens on our mountain but with cooler nights we'll be getting that frost soon enough.

I'm sure we can't improve on Helen Hunt Jackson's thoughts in her poem, "October's Bright Blue Weather," when she says:

"O suns and skies and flowers of June
And flowers of June together
Ye cannot rival for one hour
October's bright blue weather."

May we keep enjoying these beautiful balmy Autumn days! Mrs. Bart. W. Hogan, Chevy Chase, Md., the former Grace

Gloninger of St. Anthony's, is still a patient at Bethesda Naval Hospital. Mrs. Hogan underwent surgery last week.

Again this year the Field Education Program of Mount St. Mary's Seminary will offer its Adult Education Program. The topics this year will be the Sacraments. There will be six sessions each semester. This discussions will take place on Wednesday evenings from October 13 to November 17. Your attendance at these free discussions is welcomed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlon A. Henderson and family and Mrs. Rachael S. Rickards, were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scott, Sr., Villa Rest, near town.

RESOLUTION BY THE COMMISSIONERS OF THURMONT

Thurmont, Maryland

The Commissioners of Thurmont, at their regular monthly meeting held on Wednesday, October 6, 1971, discussed the proposed improvements for the down-town Frederick City area.

BE IT RESOLVED that a motion was made and seconded that the Commissioners of Thurmont, Maryland adopt a resolution to inform the Frederick County Commissioners that they do not approve of County funds used to purchase additional high priced land in the down-town area, for the construction of a larger County Court House. The Commissioners of Thurmont feel that the County owns enough land on the Montevue Farm to construct a County Court House.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Commissioners of Thurmont do not object to the improvements proposed by Frederick City and the down-town merchants, as long as County funds are not used for these projects.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution will be sent to each Mayor in Frederick County, the Frederick County Commissioners, the Chairman of the County Council of Governments and the local newspaper.

Attest:
Glenn L. Nikirk Clerk-Treasurer
James F. Black, Pres. Board of Commissioners
