Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Were those actual snow flakes falling Tuesday night? I heard quite a bit of discussion on both sides of the question with the folks saying it was snow talking the longest. In any event it didn't last as snow all the way to the ground in most cases. I guess the weatherman is trying to make up for the mild days we have enjoyed up until the last week or so. A little moisture was left on the ground Tuesday night but nothing like the heavy rains we have had recently. If I had my choice I would take a little at a time rather than all at once in a downpour.

I'm sure that the Charnita ski people are hoping for snow as soon as possible. I hear the school is planning for another big year with many improved facilities. The skiing business is getting bigger every year so you would think that many of the people in the area in addition to Charnita would benefit. Snow on the mountain will bring a lot of cars through town on the way to short winter vacations. We should try our best to make all these visitors feel welcome.

Snow gets you to thinking about Christmas and I see a few decorations beginning to creep into stores even though this is quite a while before Thanksgiving. Some stores even have a few Christmas gift suggestions this early. One girl said she is going to start shopping Saturday because she has a big family and it takes a long time to figure out something for everyone. I suppose the town should begin to think about its Christmas decorations also. We shouldn't ask the firemen to work on them after the weather gets really cold.

The threat of winter seems to have stopped the sidewalk project in its tracks, because it doesn't make sense to do this work in the cold. I sure hope that we can get an early start in the spring so that the first part of the project gets done next year!

The weather has stopped the farmers also. A few fields still have corn standing, and a good deal of planting is far behind schedule. Let's hope that things can get caught up in the next few weeks before the cold really sets in so that folks won't be too far behind when the season is finally over.

I see that the Red Chinese have a few people in New York getting ready for the main delegation to the U.N., which is on its way. Many folks think it is a good idea for the mainland to be represented but think it was a mistake to throw out the Nationalists. With all the small states from Africa and other continents there should be room for the group from Taiwan. We don't know how the Reds will conduct themselves but there should be some good come from talking to the nation with the largest number of people in the world. Maybe the U. S. will develop enlightened new discussions with China as a result of the President's trip and the chance to meet with them in New York every day. We sure need something new to help us get our money's worth out of the world organization.

He had been a farmer all of his life, and was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Emmitsburg, and of the Knights of Columbus, and of the Frederick County Farm Bureau.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mary McNair, and five children, Bernard M. Welty, Joseph N. Welty, James T. Welty and Mrs. David Martin, all of Emmitsburg, and Mrs. John Baker, Littlestown, R1, Pa.

Also surviving are 10 grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Rudolph Warthen of Emmitsburg, and a brother, Robert H. Welty of Gettysburg R5.

Funeral services were held this morning (Thursday) with a requiem Mass at 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Catholic Church with the Rev. Fr. John King officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. The family has suggested that in lieu of flowers contributions be made to the cancer fund, or arrangements be made for Masses to be said. Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Daniel Peregory of Biglerville, Pennsylvania, has recently joined the C. F. Stouter Oil Company as its leading service man in the heating division.

SJC Girls Prepare For Switch To MSM

Young women who will not be able to receive degrees from Saint Joseph College before it closes in June 1973, have been given the option of enrolling at neighboring Mt. St. Mary's, a men's college now going coed.

In a joint statement, the presidents of Mount Saint Mary's and Saint Joseph College announced procedure agreed upon for Saint Joseph's freshmen and sophomores planning to transfer to the Mount in 1972-73 or earlier.

This is one of a series of cooperative steps to be taken by the two colleges as the Mount expands its admission program to include young women, and prepares to go coed on a resident basis next September.

Soon after the women's college announced its plans to close in 1973, Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr., the Mount's president, stated that Saint Joseph College students would be permitted to fulfill their degree requirements at the Mount. The Mount faculty agreed to facilitate the transaction by modifying the usual transfer requirements.

Some 40 Saint Joseph's students are expected to take advantage of the offer. Lower classmen majoring in nursing, home economics, and elementary education will not be transferring to the Mount since the Mount does not plan at this time to initiate these programs.

Sister Margaret Dougherty, president of Saint Joseph College, stated that Saint Joseph College transfer students will be permitted to continue as residents of Saint Joseph College while the Mount completes arrangements for housing women students.

VFW Auxiliary Names Delegates

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Emmitsburg Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held at the Post Home on Thursday, November 4, with President Gloria Martin presiding. Nineteen members were present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, as well as several thank-you notes.

It was decided to send a donation to the VFW National Home for seals recently received and the individual members were urged to send a contribution also. A donation would also be sent to the Ambulance Fund and to the local Teen Center. The treasurer gave a report on the auction held last month and stated that it was not only enjoyable but was a financial success. Evelyn Ott, the Membership Chairman, reported on dues collected to date for 1972 and advised that all members had paid up except 16 which she hoped to have in by the deadline of December 31.

The following were appointed as delegates to the District meetings: Jane Orndorff, Anna Bushman and Evelyn Ott, and as alternates: Catherine Hodge, Lois Hartdagen and Gloria Martin. A letter was read from the District President in which she advised that she would visit the Auxiliary at the December meeting.

Plans for the annual Christmas party were made. A social hour will be held from 6:00 to 7:00, with a buffet catered by the Savoy Restaurant at 7:00. Gifts would be exchanged after the buffet. The cost will be $1.50 for the member with the Auxiliary paying the remainder.

Mary Topper's name was drawn for the door prize but was not present. Refreshments were then served by Bernadette Hemler and Ruth Etheridge.

Couple Feted on Silver Anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. John C. Chatlos of Emmitsburg, recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a surprise party given for them by their children, assisted by Mrs. George Martin of Emmitsburg. The affair was held in the Social Hall of Trinity Methodist Church because the Incarnation United Church of Christ was undergoing floor refinishing at the time.

The children, Mrs. Robert D. Houck, Fairfield, Pa., William Rudolph of Bladensburg, Md., and Sheila, still at home, had decorated the room in appropriate motif, with a refreshment table, gift table and a silver money tree—the fruit of which was to go toward the purchase of a freezer for the couple. The other son of the family, John Calvin, Jr., telephoned his wishes later that evening from Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri, where he is enrolled as a sophomore.

Rev. and Mrs. Chatlos were married on October 12, 1946 in the First Methodist Church of Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa., by the bride's father, Rev.

W. R. Jones, presently of Littlestown, Pa., assisted by the groom's father, Rev. R. O. Chatlos of North Miami Beach, Florida, and the late Dr. J. S. Ladd Thomas. The only member of the bridal party who could attend the celebration was a sister of the bride, Miss Esther Jones of Littlestown, Pa.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher from Salisbury, North Carolina, members of a former parish; local friends, and members of Incarnation United Church of Christ, Emmitsburg, and St. James United Church of Christ, Littlestown, Pa., both of which Rev. Chatlos is presently serving as pastor. Mr. Chatlos has served churches in Wapwallopen, Pa., Whitesett R.D., North Carolina, and Rockwell R.D., North Carolina before coming to Emmitsburg in 1959.

Many cards and gifts were received by the honored couple including enough cash for the purchase of a freezer, and their sincere thanks go to all who remembered them on this occasion.

Guests included Dr. John Carnochan, County Superintendent of Schools and T. Meade Felton, his assistant. George Busbey and Jack Barry represented the architects.

In prior meetings, the local committee has expressed a preference for the community center concept development of the school site. This development would locate town library, health, recreation, a teen center, and community use facilities in the vicinity of the school so that citizens could make maximum use of all facilities with the overall

We thank this lady for her concern in the girls in this country, and started at the age of 52.

operating cost remaining minimal for the services provided. Mr. Barry presented for the consideration of the committee, three preliminary plans developed by the architects, for the use of the site.

The first plan suggested the use of the present gymnasium with the construction of a new school facility of about 30,000 sq. ft. attached to the old structure. Public library and health facilities of about 8,000 sq. ft. would be constructed in the vicinity of but separated from the school. Recreational facilities consisting of a swimming pool, bath houses and tennis courts, would be constructed in an area separated from the school facilities.

The second plan suggested the use of the old gymnasium with a new school building constructed as in Plan 1. Library and health facilities identical to Plan 1 would be constructed in an area close to the recreational facilities rather than the school. Proposed Plan 2 recreational facilities would be the same as those in Plan 1.

The third plan suggested the use of the old school building, renovated as necessary, for the Public Library and health facilities. A completely new school building of about 40,000 sq. ft. would be constructed in an area on the site separated from the old school building. Recreational facilities similar to those in Plan 1 but possibly using the old gymnasium locker rooms for bath houses, would be constructed in the vicinity of the old school. Since the old school includes about 21,000 sq. ft. and the library and health facilities would require only about 8,000 sq. ft., the remaining area of about 13,000 sq. ft. would be available to the town for additional services.

Advantages and disadvantages of the three plans were discussed at length. The total cost of Plans 1 and 2, including the school, library, health and recreational facilities was estimated to be identical.

The cost of Plan 3 would be slightly greater than 1 and 2, however, it would provide the largest amount of space for the use of the town. Plan 3 would provide an entirely new school building which would permit the architects to eliminate the disadvantages now experienced in the operation of the old gymnasium which was designed for high school rather than elementary school use. The old gym would be incorporated into town recreational activity.

The Committee voted informally to endorse Plan 3 as providing the best overall value and service for the town and expressed hope that adequate funding could be provided. It was pointed out that federal funds may be available to assist the town in that funding not provided by state and county groups.

The Board of Education representatives plan to report the Plan 3 endorsement to the Emmitsburg and Frederick County Commissioners as well as the State Board so that all groups with legal responsibility for the development and execution of the project can consider the various proposals and thinking which went into them before they make a final decision.

New Report System At St. Joseph's High

St. Joseph High School is adopting an experimental marking system this year. It is based upon the students' progress and improvement. Traditional marks, figures and letters, are being discarded. Teachers are favoring such terms as honors, satisfactory, unsatisfactory, etc. They are also inaugurating a point system.

The monthly PTA meeting was held Tuesday, November 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. This new program was presented to all parents so that they would be aware of the changes before report cards are distributed in late November.

Youths in more than 3,150 counties across the United States can participate in organized 4-H programs.

IN EMMITSBURG

Hello there! Never in my life have I seen so many enticing and exciting toys. Toys that do everything. Yes, they are walking, talking and about every other thing you can imagine, sometimes right up to the time the little ones try them, only to find they just don't do! Particularly at this time of the year the TV helps the children want everything. Be sure they will bring joy!

There couldn't be a better time or reason for parents to examine toys carefully. There is nothing so disappointing as getting a present that won't do for you what it does on the Magic Screen. We must check to see if all the parts are there. Are they really safe? Have they any features that have been banned from the market? Do they have sharp edges that will injure your child needlessly? Let's make this a happy season by carefully checking before we buy. Remember the old adage: "It's better to be safe than sorry."

John Beecher Reads Poems At SJ College

There is something almost inexorable, in a classic Greek sense, about the accidents of birth, circumstances of history, and civil liberties. When a flinty edge of anger harshens his baritone voice as he reads, he is not acting. Beecher has been there; he has seen it all.

That is why today's "new breed" of students find his work to be supremely relevant to their lives. He has made over 200 appearances on campuses, at conferences, in churches, theaters and coffee-houses.

Sponsored by the Cultural Program Committee, the evening readings are open to the public without charge.

When John Beecher read some of his poetry to a club in Greenwich Village last year, with rock music pounding an accompaniment, he read poems written years ago. "Man," said one lost soul, "you talk just like us."

"Man," said Beecher, "I talked like you before you were talking."

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Improved Outlook For Bank Stocks

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., November 11, 1971—Bank stocks have been trending upward since mid-August when the Nixon Administration announced Phase I of the new economic game plan. However, these issues are still well below the peak reached early last spring. The decline from that high was brought about by generally lower second-quarter earnings. Third-quarter results have been mixed, but have been better on the whole than those of the preceding period.

Banks have been caught in a profits squeeze, since costly sources of funds have not been offset by interest earned on loans. Besides the over-all market decline, there have been other factors causing bank stock prices to falter, including prospective large write-offs of loan losses and sluggish loan demand due to the slow economic recovery. Although 1971 fourth-quarter results may be flat, the new program should bring better operating earnings over the next year.

The Floating Prime

The wage-price freeze of Phase I did not include interest rates. Thus far, Phase II has made no mention of restricting these rates either. However, a ceiling has been very much implied, which is one reason the banking industry was so reluctant to reduce interest rates in October. Fear is that the new rate will turn out to be the new ceiling. In an attempt to prevent this, First National City and Irving Trust have chosen to tie their prime rate to that of commercial paper. This, at least in theory, should eliminate some of the political pressures of movements in the prime.

The break from the old method, which began in the early 1930s, has been under study by many bankers for some time. The floating prime, still in experimental stage at both First National City and Irving Trust, will probably become industry-wide in the near future. A floating prime rate will allow banks to adjust more quickly to money costs and demand conditions. This should permit a fair return on investments and do away with some of the wide operating earnings fluctuations of the past few years.

Economic Rebound For 1972
The new economic program should bring a substantial economic expansion in 1972. Strong loan demand could come from several sources, including the stimulus of the investment tax credit as industry borrows for increased capital expenditures. From the consumer standpoint, elimination of the auto excise tax and acceleration of the increase in the personal exemption and standard deduction should spur retail buying. With a strengthening economy likely to stimulate loan demand still further, bank earnings should make

Veterans Get Help On New Discharges

Help for veterans who want a review of their "other than honorable" discharge from military service is available at all Veterans Administration offices, George A. Davis, Director of the Baltimore VA Regional Office, said this week.

A VA directive to this effect was sent to field stations, following an announcement by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird that military departments would "review for recharacterization administrative discharges issued under other than honorable conditions solely on the basis of personal use of drugs or possession of drugs for such use."

Primary purpose of the new policy is to provide an opportunity for this group to become eligible for VA medical treatment. Drug abuse treatment in VA is being increased six-fold, Davis said, but the agency is barred by law from treating veterans with discharges other than honorable.

Less than one of every 500 men released from service during 1969 and 1970 received other than honorable discharges because of drug abuse, according to Department of Defense figures. Out of some 2,000,000 separations during that period, 4,152 undesirable discharges directly attributable to drug abuse were issued.

some solid gains next year. Hence, the Research Department of Babson's Reports is currently recommending the following bank stocks:

American Fletcher, an Indianapolis bank-holding company, has had a good growth record in recent years. Diversification into related fields under sound management enhances future prospects. Net operating earnings for the first nine months were below those of a year ago, and full results will probably lag behind those for 1970. However, 1972 should see considerably better earnings.

Citizens and Southern National Bank is a leading regional bank centered in the rapidly growing southeastern sector of the country. The company is well managed and aggressive, as is indicated by its excellent record in recent years. Earnings will show a slight improvement this year over 1970, with an even better gain next year.

Western Bancorporation is a leading West Coast multi-bank holding company. Earnings during the first nine months of 1971 were below those for the year-earlier period (before deducting an extraordinary item in 1970 representing the losses incurred by the United California Bank, a subsidiary in Basel). But Western Bancorporation should experience more prosperous operations from an expected economic rebound in 1972.

WET SEPTEMBER FOR ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE CONSUMPTION IN STATE

Serving as a barometer for the consumption of alcoholic beverages in Maryland, revenue collected in September 1971 from taxes on distilled spirits showed an increase of nearly $52,000 over the same period last year.

In releasing the figures, State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said that receipts from the wine tax increased by $11,109.37 and beer tax receipts increased by $20,314.73.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

What effect has the Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement had on Western Maryland recently?

Commission grants for Western Maryland this summer saw Frederick and Carroll Counties receiving funds for State's Attorney's in-service training. Washington County received a grant for improved law enforcement organization and management, and Allegany County will improve police radio communications under a Commission grant. The towns of Kitzmiller, Grantsville and Friendsville will contract with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office to purchase the full-time services of resident deputy sheriffs. The town of Hagerstown will improve its police communications through Commission funding, and the City of Frederick will purchase a terminal to become part of a State-wide communications network.

What opportunities are offered to U. S. citizens to study and teach abroad and how can I apply for such a position?

The U. S. State Department has published an informative booklet on our international program for educational and cultural exchange for interested persons like yourself. The booklet is entitled "Educational and Cultural Exchange Opportunities" and describes the various opportunities to study, teach, lecture and conduct advanced research in other countries. Copies are available through my Washington office.

I am a new resident in the area and would like to know if there are any nearby ski facilities?

Western Maryland ski enthusiasts should contact the Wisp Ski area located at Deep Creek Lake in Garrett County, or the Braddock Heights Ski-Way located at Braddock Heights in Frederick County.

My husband was quite sick earlier this year and we are now having a hard time paying all the medical bills that we owe. Four months ago we filed a claim for Medicare reimbursement and have not yet received any payments. Can you help?

As you are now aware the Medicare reimbursement has been paid to you. Social Security regrets the inconvenience caused by the private carrier and will contact you should you have any further questions about the claims. Citizens having similar problems with overdue or delayed payments may feel free to contact my office for assistance.

What is the new status of the Black Lung Benefits bill?

The once-defeated bill (H. R. 9212) will be brought before the House again within the next few days and information on this legislation can be obtained by writing my Washington office.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program Searcy, Arkansas

Watch-dogging The Media
Many Congressmen and some Senators who did not participate in the massive warning on our national defense deterioration which the House of Representatives tried to beam to the American people on August 4 spoke out critically about the news media's virtual "blackout" of the entire event. Members of Congress who participated in sounding the warning felt it was one of the most noteworthy events of recent years; many of them said the American public had a greater stake in what was said in the warning than in any discussion of a national problem being reported by the news media.

The news "blackout" brought into prominence for the first time a new organization—Accuracy in Media (AIM) which now maintains offices in the Warner Building, Washington, D. C. It is a citizens' organization, non-profit, which seeks to re-establish accuracy in news reporting and expose bias and crookedness in news handling and dissemination. If it follows the pattern of its first actions it can become an agency of great value to the Post of America.

Post Reacts To Charge
AIM's charges of reportorial neglect (or censorship) against the Washington Post, the New York Times, the AP and UPI, and the three major TV network news departments

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, John Frederick Hovis, Sr.

The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of Washington County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address was 211 West Fifth Street, Waynesboro, Pennsylvania 17268; that the parties to this cause were married on the 3rd day of July, 1947, at Hagerstown, Maryland, by a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the marriage the parties to this cause two children were born, namely, John Frederick Hovis, Jr., 23 years of age and emancipated, and Cynthia Elizabeth Hovis, 16 years of age, who is presently in the care and custody of the Defendant; that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart without any cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint; and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant may be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, John Frederick Hovis, Sr.; and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

COURT ORDER
It is thereupon this 13th day of October, 1971, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks before the 20th day of November, 1971, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 21st day of December, 1971, and show cause, if any he has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

—for "blacking out" the Congressional warning on "disasterous" national defense policies—provoked a personal response from Richard Harwood, Assistant Managing Editor of the Washington Post. In a statement published in his newspaper, Mr. Harwood declared the Post "blackout" the big Congressional warning to the nation because its editors considered the event "not newsworthy." The facts presented by the Congressmen, in their speeches and in insertions of documentary analyses in the Congressional Record, contained, he said, "old stuff."

Abraham Kalish, Executive Secretary of AIM, responded with a news release charging that Mr. Harwood, in the full context of his published statement "has misled his readers." Mr. Kalish said: "It is true that many of the Congressmen appended to their statements articles by others which they felt were important. Of the 2822 column inches in the Record devoted to the national defense colloquy, some 1288 column inches were devoted to these appended articles. That left 1534 column inches, or about 90,000 words, for the remarks of the Congressmen themselves. Post Later Used

"We think he (Post Editor Harwood) misleads when he implies that there was really nothing there because the Congressmen were merely inserting; literally and oratorical antiques' in the Record. Mr. Harwood also errs in telling his readers that the articles inserted by the Congressmen were old and stale. . . . The contention by Mr. Harwood that there was nothing newsworthy that came out of the defense colloquy stands in stark conflict with the fact that one month later, on September 3, 1971, the Washington Post carried a long story with this headline: GAP NARROWING IN U. S. SOVIET MISSILES, SUBS. The lead paragraph explained that the Soviet Union now has almost half again as many ICBMs as the United States and is building nuclear missile submarines at a rate that will wipe out the present American lead in submarine launched weapons by 1974. This story carried a London dateline, and it was reporting on the publication of the annual report of the International Institute for Strategic Studies, 'The Military Balance 1970-71.' 'The irony is that the information that commanded this headline and story lead had been fully discussed in the August 4 colloquy (in Congress), along with much more of a similar nature. If this was news on September 3, when it was reported by the London Institute, one wonders why it was not news on August 4, when it was voiced in Congress and published in the Congressional Record.' AIM On Target

The significance of the Washington Post carrying the London item a month after its news content had been dramatically presented on the floor of the U. S. Congress (and ignored by the Post) is, I think, that it indicates AIM has scored in its central goal of getting the news media to serve the American public rather than the prejudices and viewpoints of the comparatively small group which writes, publishes, broadcasts and censors the news. In other words, AIM's complaint and similar criticisms, by Congressmen and others, of the media's handling of the national defense warning in Congress, may have caused the Post to publish (and not blackout) the London Institute's findings on Soviet gain and U. S. loss in military strength. I join with AIM in urging the American public to protest to all newspapers, press associations, radio and TV news departments when there appears to be clear evidence of bias or crookedness in news handling. This is not only a freedom; it has become a responsibility urgently demanding citizen action today.

Feed Grain Program Sets Sign Up Time

Sign-up period for the 1972 Feed Grain Program will be January 17 through February 25, and there will be no extension, Raymond F. Jaeger, Chairman of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee announced today. The 1972 Feed Grain Program is designed to achieve a feed grain set-aside of at least 38 million acres, compared with 18.2 million acres this year.

With new options presented to farmers for 1972 the Secretary of Agriculture must have set-aside commitments by February 25 to enable him to determine whether to accept farmer offers of optional set-aside if sign-up is short of the desired 38 million acres.

If you drive past the exit you wanted, don't try backing up. Proceed to the next exit and circle around. You may not save any time but you may save your life.

Fort Detrick Converted For Cancer Research

As I stood beside President Nixon at Fort Detrick when he announced the establishment of a new cancer research program there, my mind ranged back to that day in November 1969, almost two years ago, when I was in the Pentagon visiting with Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird at the time the decision was made to renounce biological warfare as an instrument of national policy.

As I talked with Secretary Laird, the question naturally came to mind, "What would happen to those facilities at Fort Detrick which had been so painstakingly and expensively constructed? What would happen to the vast knowledge that was accumulated by doctors and researchers from all of the major medical schools in this country? What would happen to the people who were trained in this very sophisticated science of bacteriology and virology?"

These questions have not been easy to answer. In fact, it has taken nearly two years to get the answer, but what the President has now done is exactly the right answer and, in fact, the only answer. We are now utilizing the national investment at Fort Detrick for the good of all Americans and all mankind. There is at Fort Detrick a national investment of nearly a half billion dollars. There is available $100 million worth of scientific equipment which can be put to work at once in the fight to conquer cancer. At the briefing at Fort Detrick in which the President was advised of various details of the program, he was told that, if Fort Detrick did not exist, the officials of the National Cancer Institute would have to build facilities just like it. He asked if there were any other buildings of this sort in the United States which could be devoted to this purpose; he was told that the equipment at Detrick is unique and that this was the place to begin the fight to conquer cancer.

Fort Detrick was a symbol of war, a place where fearsome biological weapons were being invented. It was surrounded by high fences and military security. At the President's direction, it will now be an open installation. Scientists from all over the world will be invited to come there to exchange information on the common enemy of cancer. In the conversion of Fort Detrick we will have beat a sword into a plowshare. We have shown that we are willing to share the fruits of our research with everyone.

Fort Detrick was an institution. It was almost like a college or medical school facility, and it would be a great crime to see that sort of institution disappear. The President's decision will keep it in being as a human institution. It will not just preserve jobs; it will preserve the spirit of research and progress that has activated Detrick for many years and, whether it takes five years or ten years or even longer, it will work for mankind.

In the assignment of this new mission for Fort Detrick, we have new hope for bringing relief to the millions of Americans who are fighting individually against the scourge of cancer—a thousand of whom die every day. This new step on the part of the government will bring them hope and will, I think before too long, bring them help.

MVA GIVES WINTER DRIVING TIPS

The Maryland Department of Transportation's Motor Vehicle Administration warns motorists not to be "knothole" drivers during cool fall and winter mornings.

What's a "knothole" driver? He's one who only takes the time to scrape a small portion of his moisture or ice covered windshield and drives away with obstructed vision. It only takes a few extra seconds and it's a good safety practice to clean all windows before starting out on the road.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK

Alice M. Seabrooks, M.D. In every age there must be pioneers—in all walks of life and in every profession. Pioneering, in any form, takes courage of a particular type. In the latter half of the nineteenth and first part of the twentieth centuries, when women began to invade the professions hitherto held sacred to the masculine sex—great was the outcry. After centuries of oppression the "weaker sex" was beginning to demand the "open door policy" of equality. These valiant but determined women had literally to force their way. They endured ridicule and derision—but they proved their point.

Today all doors are opened—abiet reluctantly—and the women of today tread the paths so painfully made for them by their pioneer grandmothers. Stop and think of this—then exercise your hard-won rights. No dream is ever dreamed in vain—make the vision of a host of valiant women come true.

In old Elias churchyard, in company with her parents and four young brothers, rests the ashes of Dr. Alice M. Seabrooks, pioneer woman physician and surgeon. She was a pioneer in her profession and she lived in the day when the term "hen medic" was all too common. But—she fought her way and won the respect of her masculine counterparts.

Dr. Seabrooks made a definite contribution to her work in that it is to her interest and dedication that the world owes the incubator for premature babies. In her work at Womans' Hospital, in Philadelphia, Dr. Seabrooks must have watched many children, born prematurely, die—because nothing could be done to save their lives. She determined to do something and with the help of the electrician at the hospital, the incubator was designed and built—a crude affair at first—but adequate to fill a great need. Her invention was given to the world—freely—for the betterment of mankind. This remains her monument—not in marble or bronze—but in the countless lives to which her genius gave not only being but also new hope.

Dr. Alice Mary Seabrooks was born April 20th, 1856, the fifth child and only daughter of William Chamberlain and Fanny Catharine (Zimmerman) Seabrooks. She and a younger brother, Elisha A. Seabrooks, were the only children to survive in this somewhat tragic family. Four others, sons, died, before attaining their sixth birthday, of diphtheria and are interred with their parents in Elias Churchyard.

The Seabrooks family lived on a farm in Carroll's Tract—the mother was related to the Zimmerman family, pioneer settlers in the locality, and many of her ancestors are interred in the old Cochran's Annan, Carrollsborg, or Zimmerman burial ground—located in the Tract.

In that day one of the only professions open to women was that of schoolmistress. If a girl could pass an examination by the County Superintendent of Schools she was eligible to teach in the one-roomed public schools. Alice Seabrooks was ambitious—she qualified—at an early age—for her teaching license and taught in the "Tract" school for some years. She is remembered as a "strict but just teacher." Later she went to teach at the Indian School, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, and in the course of her duties at that institution, helped in the hospital, to nurse the home-sick scholars. It was Captain Pratt, the superintendent of the Indian School, who persuaded the young teacher that her true vocation was medicine and that she should continue her studies with that end in view.

Captain Pratt opened a new channel of thought for the young teacher and she determined to act upon his advice. Of course there was the question of money—a medical course would be an expensive proposition. Alice Seabrooks went to a neighboring farmer—named Hunter—and made arrangements to borrow the necessary funds to study medicine. At first the man and his wife were reluctant to accede to her request—not because she was not a good credit risk but because they feared that she would "never catch a husband if she knew too much." In some way or other they were convinced that the young woman was not interested in "catching a husband" but in furthering her education and the necessary arrangements were made. The loan was repaid with interest.

Alice Seabrooks entered the Woman's Medical College, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and graduated some four years later. After she graduated she was appointed to the staff of Woman's Hospital, at that time a part of the Medical School, and there spent her entire professional career. She was Medical Superintendent of the Hospital.

One of the founders of this hospital was a Quaker woman, Dr. Hayhurst, and she gave her entire life to the betterment of the institution. Under Dr. Seabrooks' supervision the hospital grew and additions were made from time to time. Later Dr. Seabrooks was appointed to the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Examiners—the first time a woman had held such a position.

The notes on Dr. Alice Seabrooks and the Hockensmith-Maxell families will be continued in this series next week.

OCTOBER STATE INCOME TAX RECEIPTS LISTED

State and Local income tax net receipts for the month of October 1971 totaled $68,964,750.90 according to figures released this week by State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein. For October 1970, net receipts were $66,432,206.40.

With four months of the current fiscal year which ends June 30, 1972, now in hand, State and Local income tax net receipts total $250,764,535.25. This compares with $221,877,843.42 for the corresponding four months of last fiscal year. These receipts, as of this date, appear to be in accord with the revenue estimates.

Over 1,600 delegates are expected to attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28 - Dec. 2.

WASHINGTON REPORT FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR.

Foreign Aid

Previously I reported to you my distress at having but one vote to cast on highly complex bills composed of several unrelated parts—some of which I supported and some of which I did not. October 29th it happened again.

The world and even the Senate I think are still in a state of shock over the Senate's 41-27 vote last week killing the foreign assistance program.

I have long contended our foreign aid program was in serious need of remodeling. But last week it was dismantled. Even today I don't think the full consequences of that vote are completely fathomed. For instance, with that vote went the aid upon which our Vietnamization program is based. With that vote went aid to Greece, Cambodia, and Israel.

Contrary to the popularly held notion that foreign aid is simply money given away to irresponsible, corrupt, and overwhelmingly ungrateful recipients, I think it important to note that funds from this program flow to approximately 4000 American companies and 1000 private institutions in all 50 states.

In fiscal year 1970 AID funds bought $976 million worth of goods from all regions of the United States; thus accounting for 98% of the AID-financed commodity procurements for that year.

This vote has presented us with a tremendous problem. But I'm optimistic—for every problem presents us with an accompanying opportunity. We now have the opportunity to bring some semblance of sense to our entire policy of foreign assistance. Presently hearings are underway in the Senate to do this.

Also we must correct the almost national attitude that foreign aid in 1971 is the Marshall Plan of the late 1940s warmed over—that we are pumping good money behind bad to ungrateful and now successful former allies and enemies. This attitude has no place in the real world of 1971. By last week's vote—U.S. efforts to assist underdeveloped nations to curb their population explosion will come to an end.

—International programs aimed at cutting off the flow of narcotics and dangerous drugs will end.

—U.S. participation in programs such as UNICEF will end; to the detriment of millions of children throughout the world.

—Disaster relief programs that have enabled the United States to quickly and effectively respond to earthquakes, floods, famines, etc. will end.

—There are today 10 million refugees from the civil war in Pakistan (more than twice the population of the state of Maryland), and almost the entire U.S. program of refugee relief in this troubled region was contained in this defeated measure.

—U.S. suppliers can expect to lose approximately $3 billion worth of orders for supplies and services in the coming year (with a corresponding loss of jobs).

Oyster Regulations Set

This oyster sports fishery season, in which increasing public interest is being shown, is now on and will continue until March 31, 1972. Non-commercial oystering is made possible by the success the State is continuing to have in its intensive oyster propagation program. Maryland leads the Nation in oyster production.

Don't hesitate to let the other driver go even though you have the right of way. A wrong move could make you dead right.

Fishing Regulations To Change In 1972

Several regulations relative to fish and fishing are scheduled for changes in 1972 by the Maryland Fish and Wildlife Administration. Acting Director Fred Sieling has announced.

"Two major changes specifically involve trout fishing," Mr. Sieling said. "Since a year-round fishing season for trout was established a few years ago, one major problem was soon apparent. A certain group of individuals were able either to follow the stocking trucks to their destination or to regularly arrive at a trout stream immediately after fish are stocked. These fishermen harvested a great many of the stocked trout as soon as they were in the water, thus reducing the number available to the rest of the trout fishermen," Mr. Sieling emphasized.

"The intent of new Regulation F-8 is to close each trout stream to all fishing from 8:00 p.m. Sunday to 5:30 a.m. Friday during the week which they are scheduled for stocking. Such a closure will allow stocked trout to be better distributed throughout the stream and provide more trout fishermen with an opportunity to harvest the hatchery product. With a closed fishing period, sportsmen will be able to assist in the stocking of trout and the problems associated with truck following will hopefully be eliminated," the Acting Director stated.

Thought Sessions Series Listed In November At St. Joseph College

What is life? Is it worth preserving? What is freedom? What is happiness? What responsibilities do we have toward others?

In a series of "thought" sessions during the first two weeks in November, these and similar questions will be discussed by the members of SOUL—Save Our Unwanted Life, a student-sponsored organization at St. Joseph College.

Highlighting the fortnight's discussions will be a lecture by Dr. William Hogan on Monday, November 15, at 8 p.m. in the Dodd Lecture Hall. The lecture is open to the public without charge.

A noted Washington gynecologist and obstetrician, Dr. Hogan will speak on "Life—A Gift to be Preserved and Developed." His talk will cover the whole spectrum of life "from womb to tomb." The abortion issue is just one facet of concern.

County-State Groups Plan Sewage Plant

A county-state agreement which will reduce water pollution, increase efficiency of sewage treatment and save money has been reached between the Maryland Environmental Service and Carroll County, the first of many pacts the waste management agency expects to conclude with subdivisions throughout the state.

The agreement provides for construction of a sewage treatment plant and installation of a sewage collection system to service the major portion of the 30-square-mile Freedom District in southeastern Carroll County and two state hospitals in the area, Springfield and Henryton.

Under the agreement, Carroll County will install the collection system; pipes, interceptors and pumping stations. The Maryland Environmental Service will build, operate and maintain the treatment plant.

"This agreement," said Thomas D. McKewen, Director of the Maryland Environmental Service, an agency of the Department of Natural Resources, "demonstrates clearly that the concept of State-County cooperation in waste management can work. It reserves for the local subdivisions the tasks they can do best and for the state the tasks it can do best."

Carroll County had proposed to build a sewerage system in the Freedom District, the principal community of which is Sykesville. The county-planned system would have been capable of handling 900,000 gallons a day.

At the same time, the State was aware that treatment facilities at Springfield and Henryton were discharging effluent below standards into streams in the area. The State had planned to upgrade the Springfield plant which empties into Piney Run and replace the one at Henryton which emptied into the Patapsco River.

"Without the agreement," said Mr. McKewen, "three separate facilities would have had to be in operation. With the agreement, there will be only one facility, meaning reduced construction and operating cost."

"In addition, the agreement calls for a plant twice the size as the one Carroll County had planned at only eight per cent more cost."

The plant envisioned in the agreement, is expected to advertise for bids early next year, and will be capable of handling 1.8 million gallons per day instead of the 900,000 capacity the county had planned.

The system planned by the county carried an estimated $6 million price tag while the State-proposed system will cost an estimated $6.5 million.

"Further," Mr. McKewen said, "elimination of the Springfield plant will bring about substantial improvement in the water quality of Piney Run."

The same can be said of the Patapsco into which Henryton effluent flows.

Another benefit cited by the director is that the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene will have only one plant to monitor instead of three.

"In no way," Mr. McKewen said, "does this agreement infringe upon the county's prerogative to decide which properties receive sewage service and which do not."

"The county will continue to exercise its control over land use."

"One of the vital features of the Maryland Environmental Service law is that local jurisdiction will continue to deal directly with their customers in matters relating to rates and service."

CIGARETTE TAX DISTRIBUTION

Twenty-three counties and Baltimore City have received a share of the cigarette tax revenues for the months of July, August, and September, 1971.

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein pointed out that the counties and Baltimore City received one-half of the net receipts collected for this period. The total amount distributed was $3,180,551.74. Frederick County received $63,263.26.

CHS Hockey Team Is County Co-Champ

The Catoctin High School girls' varsity hockey team officially ended their season on Wednesday, November 3, when they met and defeated Frederick High School with a score of 2-0. The varsity team had a record of 5 wins and 1 loss, and the JV's had a record of 3 wins, 1 loss, and two ties.

Because of their excellent record, the CHS varsity hockey team are co-champions of Frederick County, along with Walkersville High School. A playoff between the two schools is not possible due to county regulations.

On Tuesday, Oct. 5, the teams met Middle High on home territory with the Catoctin Varsity winning 1-0. The JV's lost 1-0. Carol Gearhart, varsity captain, made the only goal of the varsity game.

On Oct. 8, the CHS hockey team traveled to Lingoore High for a game. The varsity won by a score of 2-1, and the two goals were made by Carol Gearhart and Becky Seiss. The JV, with goals by Karen Stottlemeyer, Susie Long and Kathy Sixx, won by 3-0.

On Oct. 11, a home game with Brunswick was held, and again the CHS varsity triumphed by a score of 4-1. Carol Gearhart scored two goals, and Ann Umbel and Mary Ann Rice each scored a goal. The Catoctin JV's also won, by a score of 5-1. Anne Williard and Susie Long each scored two goals, and Vicki Bollinger made one.

A game against Walkersville provided the Catoctin varsity team a chance to chalk up its 4th straight victory. Carol Gearhart scored the only goal in this home game, giving the varsity a 1-0 victory. The JV's took its third victory by a score of 5-0. The scoring for CHS was well distributed, with Karen Stottlemeyer, Susie Long, Kathy Sixx, Mary Brennan, and Anne Williard all making goals.

The CHS hockey team traveled to Gov. Thomas Johnson High on Oct. 27. The varsity suffered its only defeat of the season, 1-0, and the JV's Maryland's Hunter Safety Program Is Selected As One Of Ten Best In N. A.

The Hunter Safety Committee of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners has again selected Maryland's Firearms and Hunter Safety Program as one of the ten best in North America, James B. Coulter, Secretary of Natural Resources, said today.

Fifty-one states and provinces, members of the International Association, each year compete for a plaque which is presented to the one entity judged best in the top ten. The other top nine finalists receive Honorable Mention awards.

Individual programs are judged by the Hunter Safety Committee and scored on many subjects ranging from the number of safety demonstrations presented to the amount of safety training material furnished to trainees. Since Maryland began its Firearms and Hunter Safety Program in 1966, the training course has been presented to more than 36,000 Marylanders. The comprehensive program has three times been rated in the top ten and in 1970, earned the International first place award.

"The present state of the art of spill cleanup technology is totally insufficient to cope with a disaster which could result if these plans proceed. In a letter to Interior Secretary Morton, Byron and members from other coastal states, expressed concern at oil drilling sites being considered off the coast of Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey."

"Thousands of miles of priceless East Coast areas could be dealt a stunning economic and environmental blow if an oil slick were loosed anywhere off the Atlantic Coast," Byron said. "The lessons of previous spills and blowouts in relatively unpopulated areas would be magnified many times were a spill to occur in the Atlantic, bordered by the most populous areas in America with so many citizens depending so heavily on coastal areas for recreational activities and the resulting commerce."

Name David Clarke Acting Md. Chemist

David Clarke has been named Acting State Chemist by the Maryland State Board of Agriculture (SBA) to replace Albert B. Heagy who retired as State Chemist in October. Mr. Clarke, Chief Chemist in the SBA State Inspection Service for the past seven years, has served in the Department for fourteen years.

Pesticides, liming materials, fertilizers, feeds and soil conditioners are subject to registration, sampling and chemical examination by the SBA State Inspection Service for the protection and benefit of Maryland consumers.

The products must meet guarantees and label requirements and contain ingredients specified in the label. Pesticides, in addition to analysis, are subject to surveillance for required use and storage label directions.

More than 20,000 tests and examinations of various products are conducted annually by the State Chemist's Office.

Prior to coming to the SBA State Inspection Service in 1957, Mr. Clarke was a member of the Fertilizer Division, USDA Agricultural Research Service at Beltsville.

A native of Howard County and graduate with a B.S. degree in Chemistry from Washington College, Chestertown, Md., Mr. Clarke still makes his home on a 15-acre farm near Cooksville with his wife, son and daughter.

He served more than four years under both oceans as a Lieutenant in the submarine service during World War II. After the war he operated the family farm for several years, raising angus cattle, sheep, broilers and turkeys.

Frederick Community College Offers Many New Courses

A Parliamentary Procedure course will be offered by Frederick Community College, at the new campus, on four Saturday mornings. These dates are November 13-20; December 4-11, from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

The first one-session workshop, sewing clothing for children, will be conducted on November 15, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

It is open to anyone interested in sewing clothes for children in this age group. The program will include: the psychological aspects of children's clothing, the selection of suitable fabrics and patterns, features concerning construction that will improve the quality of children's clothes, and ways in which a home-maker can recycle garments into stylish children's clothing.

A two-hour Persian Night is offered at no cost on Tuesday evening, November 16, from 7 to 9 p.m. This program will be conducted in the College Lecture Hall. It will depict the various cultural aspects of this exotic and mysterious country. A main program feature will be a presentation on Modern Iran by Mr. Homaune of the Iranian Embassy.

Because of the public interest expressed for Tang Soo Do Karate, a fifth unit of the short-term, non-credit course will meet on five consecutive Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning November 16, 1971, at the College Field House.

Astrology is seen as being divided into two separate fields. The first—evaluation of the birth characteristics—was recently discussed in a beginning course. Advanced Astrology, the current offering, pertaining to the twelve zodiacal periods, will discuss the twelve houses in depth; the faster moving planets... the Moon, Mercury, Mars and Venus; and the influences of Uranus, Neptune, Saturn and Jupiter.

This stimulating course will be held four consecutive Wednesday evenings, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., at the College campus. It will begin on November 17, 1971.

In view of the great number of children injured each year by toys, a one-session seminar on dangerous toys is offered to aid consumers in understanding how many toys are dangerous, to recognize specific hazards of certain toys, and to be able to choose between safe and unsafe toys. The seminar will be conducted at the College campus on Thursday evening, November 18, 1971, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Be aware of the many aspects of credit card buying for the Holiday season by enrolling in a four-session Credit Card Analysis seminar, beginning Monday, November 22, 1971. These lecture/seminar sessions will meet at the College on consecutive Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m., and are designed for any/all interested consumers.

For additional information call the Office for Community Services, Frederick Community College, 662-0101, between 2 and 10 p.m.
