Weekly Thought

Freedom of the American way of life is one of the great miracles of all time. In this country it is possible for an individual to direct himself to whatever end he may desire.

A local businessman said "I certainly hope that he is not a Marylander". It was last Monday night when many of us were speculating on the condition of Governor Wallace. The reference was to the fellow who pulled the trigger. At the time nobody had any idea who he might be.

As it has worked out, the wish came true. The fellow who looks like he is guilty is from Milwaukee and apparently has been following the Wallace campaign with murder on his mind. I have yet to hear anything but condemnation from folks in Emmitsburg. That includes those both for and against Wallace politically. Most people were shocked that it could happen in the free state. Texas, Tennessee, California, yes; but not in Maryland. It is a shame that an individual can not speak his mind without fear of attack by someone mentally deranged who is wandering the streets.

In any event, Marylanders certainly let the nation know where they stand on Wallace as a candidate. Evidently he has made sense to a lot of people because he took the election going away from the other two major candidates who were not even close. You may not agree with everything Wallace has to say but he makes a lot more sense on many issues than the remaining two liberals who are up in the clouds most of the time. If they had their way they would give the nation away either at home or abroad.

I hear the new town board got broken in right last week. They worked until past midnight on the budget with a senior councilman cracking the whip. He vowed they would not leave the room until the job was done. That's the way to do it fellows. Now let's show the same determination on some of the other problems facing the town. There are many areas needing attention. If you could get one or two done each month, we would be caught up before long.

The cry in the square yesterday was "dirty water". You could see the town workers opening fire hydrants all along Main Street to flush out the lines. It must be just another sign of spring and one of the little inconveniences we have to look forward to. I just closed my eyes when I drank and made believe the liquid was fresh out of a mountain stream and never had been touched by the contrivances of man.

This is the last week of school for the colleges. The students will be going home and we will miss them, at least most of them. The minority who have spent a few spring days in the square sitting on cars and bothering motorists will never be missed here. The great majority of students make a welcome addition to our community. We look forward to their return in the fall.

Who was it that said, "If you don't like the weather, just wait a minute"? Mornings this week have been sunshiny, but rain has appeared by mid-afternoon on several days. I hope we don't get rained out this spring and find the summer dry as a bone. And by the way, take a look at the traffic statistics for some of these wet afternoons and evenings. From the number of accidents occurring in the county, we should all slow down when the pavement gets wet. Of course there is always a choice. We can be careless and end up being the one for whom the sirens blow.

Fuel Taxes Increase

Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax receipts totaled $11,460,476.32 during April 1972.

The growth in revenues is further evident in the total collections for the first ten months of Fiscal Year 1972, $107,777,134.50, a 6.9% increase over the $100,907,127.68 collected during the same period last year.

Dr. Bricklin Will Speak To Graduates

Dr. Patricia Bricklin

Patricia McIntosh Bricklin, Ph.D., clinical psychologist at Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia, and associate director of Parkway Day School, a division of Hahnemann's Institute for Learning, will deliver the commencement address at St. Joseph College on Sunday, May 28. In recognition of her work with children with learning and adjustment problems, the college will confer on Dr. Bricklin an honorary doctor of laws degree.

St. Joseph's expects to graduate 104 students; 66 are candidates for the bachelor of arts degree, and 38 are candidates for the bachelor of science degree in nursing and home economics.

Miss Roseann Maher of Baltimore will give the graduates' address at the commencement exercises which will be held on Verdier Lawn at 11:30 a.m., weather permitting. In the event of rain, the ceremony will be held in DePaul Auditorium with admission by ticket only.

At the annual Honors Convocation on Saturday, May 27, Sister Margaret Dougherty, president of the college, will bestow the Founder's Medal on Mrs. Marie Sturm Tontz of Baltimore. The ninth recipient of the award which was inaugurated in 1967, Mrs. Tontz will be cited as a person in contemporary society whose life manifests the ideals and exemplifies the works and spirit of Mother Seton.

The convocation will be held in DePaul Auditorium at 1:30 p.m. Special honors will also be awarded to 14 seniors. Miss Josephine A. Ketter of Pottsville, Pa., a member of the graduating class, will deliver the convocation address. A formal reception and tea in Brute Hall will follow the convocation.

The Baccalaureate Mass will be celebrated at 4:30 p.m. at St. Joseph's Provincial House Chapel.

Baccalaureate day will close with the traditional Soiree Mariale, an outdoor candle-light ceremony before the rose-bedecked statue of the Virgin Mary at the main entrance of the college, and will be followed by an informal dance for the graduates and their parents.

The dominant theme of the two-day commencement program ties in with the college's year long celebration commemorating the 75th anniversary of the founding of St. Joseph's National Alumnae Association. The anniversary year highlights the unique contribution made by women, particularly alumnae of the college, to the community, the state and the nation. Dr. Bricklin received the B.A. degree in 1948 from St. Joseph College. Mrs. Tontz is a member of the class of 1931.

Scout Mothers To Have June Auction

The Mothers in Scouting will sponsor a public auction on June 17 at 1 p.m. at the Scout House on Chesapeake Ave. In case of rain, the auction will be held at the Fire Hall, West Main Street. Anyone wishing to donate articles may drop them off at the Scout House on Thursdays between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Pick-up service will be made available by calling 447-6204. Other features at the auction will include a cake table, sandwich and soft drink table and a raffle table. A display of Tupperware will also be shown that day when orders may be placed for items desired.

The Mothers in Scouting will use the proceeds to purchase tents for Scout Troop 284, Emmitsburg.

New Journalism Is Davis Paper Subject

A member of the Mount St. Mary's College administrative faculty has written a research paper about the "activist journalist" that has been accepted for publication by a national professional magazine.

A Vernon Davis, Director of Development and Public Relations at the Mount and a 25-year journalism veteran, prepared the paper initially for a talk before the Hagers-town, Md. Torch Club. It now will be published in "Torch", official publication of the International Association of Torch Clubs.

"A breed of what is known as New Journalists is knocking on the doors of American news media and influencing editors to take a fresh look at themselves, their practices and their objectives," Davis wrote. "What much of the newspaper world of the 20th century treasures and calls objectivity is under fire. The question at issue is whether a journalist is supposed to be a reporter of fact or a catalyst of change. Is a journalist supposed to be a reporter, or an opinion maker posed to be an objective re-draws his own conclusion for his audience?"

After quoting nationally recognized authorities on both sides of the question, Davis concludes:

"After a quarter of a century in the trade, I feel as strongly as ever that a free press is necessary if our free nation is to survive. There must be a free press to dig into the dark corners and, if you will, keep us all honest. On the other hand, there must be constant force to keep the press free and honest. We need the Spiro Agnew to challenge our performance. We need constant examination of conscience and performance within the trade."

Senior Citizens Plan Sale And Picnic

The regular monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club was held at the Center on Tuesday evening.

The president, LaRue Harman, called the meeting to order and announced singing by the group of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," followed by a moment of silent prayer in memory of the deceased treasurer, Lewis Stoner, ending with the Lord's Prayer. A report of the results of the Spring Festival was made by the president, showing a total of $534.00.

A reminder was made of the picnic to be held at Lake Heritage on Sunday, June 11, (rain date June 18) and that transportation from the Center provided at 12:30 p.m. A bus trip is in the offing for July and the regular July meeting will be held at St. Joseph's.

Plans are being made for a clothing Rummage Sale June 2 and 3 at the Center.

Mrs. Kraus announced that both "shut-ins" and club members were enjoying the daily telephone calls.

Cards were signed to be sent by the club to hospitalized members: Mrs. Susan Morrison, Mrs. Carrie Fuss Long, and Mrs. Violet Wastler.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing "The game all like to play." Many prizes were won and all had a jolly time.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Wivell and Mrs. Clara Harner.

Timothy Valentine Weds Deborah Joy In Ceremony At United Church Of Christ

Mrs. Timothy Gene Valentine

Miss Deborah Renee Joy and Timothy Gene Valentine, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at Incarnation United Church of Christ on May 6, with Rev. John C. Chatlos officiating.

Miss Joy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Joy, West Main Street, Emmitsburg, and Mr. Valentine is the son of Mrs. Ann Valentine, Emmitsburg and the late Gene Valentine.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Donald Long, wore a gown of lace with a circular skirt ending in a scalloped lace trim. The gown featured long sleeves, a Victorian neckline with scalloped lace and an Empire waistline. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a cluster of flowers. Her bridal bouquet was of multi-colored daisies and white streamers.

Mrs. Carla Sanders, Cash-town, Pa., was matron of honor. Bridal attendants were Mrs. Mecki Knox, Emmitsburg, cousin of the bride and Miss Mary Ann Valentine, Emmitsburg, sister of the groom. Little Miss Tara Long, Emmitsburg, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl.

Mr. William Sanders, Cash-town, Pa., was best man. Thomas Knox, Emmitsburg and Donald Martin, Fayetteville, Pa., were ushers. Master Michael Valentine, brother of the groom, was ring bearer.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the VFW Annex.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Catoctin High School and is employed at the Liberty Manufacturing Company, Emmitsburg.

The groom is a 1970 graduate of Fairfield High School and is employed by Conewago Contractors, Hanover, Pa.

Following a wedding trip to Lancaster, Pa., the couple is presently residing on the Waynesboro Road, Emmitsburg.

The oldest Catholic Shrine in the United States, the Grotto of Lourdes, near Emmitsburg, is to be the venue this Sunday for an ecumenical service of Christian unity involving people from five different Christian denominations: Catholic, Lutheran United Church of Christ, United Methodist, and United Presbyterian Churches — all of the Emmitsburg area. The service is sponsored by the Emmitsburg Council of Churches and seeks to promote unity and fellowship amongst Christians.

As a further means of achieving the aims of the service a picnic supper is to follow the service thus providing a further opportunity to express a sense of "togetherness."

The service features the Rev. H. Gerard Knoche, Jr., Assistant Chaplain of Gettysburg College, as guest speaker with music provided by the Emmitsburg Community Chorus and the Sunrise Singers.

A professional from the parking lot at the foot of the Grotto will begin the service at 4:45 p.m. In the event of inclement weather the service will be in the Chapel of Mount Saint Mary's College.

Parking will be available at the College and Seminary as well as at the Grotto itself.

The Grotto can be reached by taking the Grotto exit off U. S. Route 15 just south of Mount Saint Mary's College. The picnic supper will be informal and to help keep it that way, those attending are asked only to bring sandwiches (for yourselves and someone who might be visiting) and a hand-held dessert.

A large attendance is expected at this service and any other visitors are more than welcome to join in this display of Christian unity and witness.

Wallace Supported In Light Turnout

Frederick County, in a disappointing turnout of only 37 per cent of the 32,924 registered voters, gave President Nixon an overwhelming nod for the Republican nomination, and gave the critically wounded Governor Wallace of Alabama a sound vote of over 40 per cent for the Democratic race.

Congressman Goodloe E. Byron, Democratic incumbent handily won the Sixth District vote in his home county with a solid almost 86 per cent vote—6,312 to a total of 980 for his three opponents.

For the Republican Sixth District primary nod, Frederick Countians favored State Senator Edward J. Mason of Cumberland with 1,274 votes, compared to 980 for Harry T. Beall of Finksburg and 897 for Everett Royal Johnson of Myersville.

With the polls opening at 7 a.m. in beautiful warm spring sunshine, the vote turnout started slowly and failed to pick up momentum.

Heavy to moderate rains hit the county in the late afternoon, but slacked off after dinner time and the voters began streaming to the polls.

Election officials reported no incidents out of the ordinary at any polling places.

In the closely watched District Delegate races, the county gave its biggest support to home candidates.

For the Democrats, Frederick J. Bower was far ahead at the final mark with 3,437 votes, followed by Austin C. Powell with 2,807, Billy W. Rodgers with 2,515, and Ronald N. Young with 2,292. Six seats are open.

For the Republicans, the only Frederick district delegate candidate, Gregory C. Bannon, led the county vote with 1,247, followed by Robert A. McKee of Hagerstown with 1,171. Two seats are to be filled.

The big question in the primary was not how well Nixon or Byron would do, but what the vote would be in regard to Governor George Wallace who was taken off the critical list at Holy Cross Hospital at Silver Spring early Tuesday.

Wallace, critically wounded by a would-be assassin in the campaigned Monday in Laurel, polled nearly 48 per cent of the Democratic votes cast in the presidential preference primary.

Miss Fink Engaged To P. Baumgardner

Miss Nancy Fink

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Fink, Sr., Thurmont, announce the engagement of the daughter, Nancy Marie, to Paul David Baumgardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Baumgardner, Emmitsburg R2.

Miss Fink is a 1971 graduate of Catoctin High School and is employed at Worthington Engineered Pumps, Taneytown. Mr. Baumgardner is a 1970 graduate of Catoctin and is presently associated with his father in dairy farming.

No date has been set for the wedding.

ENTERTAIN CULLEN UNIT

Three Mount Saint Mary's students in Juvenile Practicum who have been working with Unit 2 Victor Cullen students during the past six months, took them on an outing last Saturday. Jeff Kerwin, Louie Sacamonday, and Pat Ott spent the day fishing and playing games with the 15 young boys at Kump's Dam Park. Refreshments were donated by the students and the Ott House.

The key to happiness lies in unselfishness.

EDITORIAL

In recent weeks, President Nixon has been forced to make some of the most difficult decisions of his administration in determining an appropriate response to this spring's new offensive by the North Vietnamese.

These decisions require full knowledge of the total situation, both in Southeast Asia and elsewhere in the world. They can be made only by the President using all the information available only to him and his advisors.

Yet many people in the United States, including some in several colleges and elected offices, are second guessers who think they know more than the President and they can make wiser decisions. This is just not so.

Once a decision is reached, it represents the official policy of the United States. The President deserves the support of the entire country in its implementation. Subsequent polls indicate that a majority of people have given him this support. However many of those who have been silly enough to think they know better also have been senseless enough to publically criticize the President and offer their own solutions to problems on which they can not have all the facts.

The Chronicle salutes the Emmitsburg community including the students and faculties of our two local colleges for their mature behavior following the recent presidential decisions. We can be proud that our residents can not be counted among the minority which has made the administration's peace efforts more difficult by continued over emphasis policies not supported by the majority.

VHC Approves New Council Indicates Antenna Purchase Annexation Okay

The regular monthly meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. was held in the Fire Hall on May 9 with Leo M. Boyle, president, presiding. Chief Guy R. McGlaughlin reported that since the April meeting the company had responded to eight fire calls, four assists with the Squad truck along with the VFW ambulance, and one service call.

Truck foreman, Terry Myers, reported that all trucks were running and in service. The treasurer's report was given by James Fitzgerald. Discussion followed regarding the repairs to the roof. A motion was made and seconded to accept the bid from Coldsmit's Roofing.

A motion was made and seconded to purchase a new antenna and arm from Myers Radio and TV. Mike Trout and Henry Filler will install the unit for the Fire Co. Repairs to the lavatory will be held for further discussion.

Police Chief Henry Filler spoke to those assembled about responding to fire calls. All members are urged to obey laws when responding to such calls.

Block Party chairman, Eugene Myers, reported that a list of the different committees for the party is being posted on the bulletin board and those unable to be on the committee are to let him know soon.

Fund Drive chairman James Kittinger reported that the routes for the drive are being posted on the bulletin board.

Harry Green announced that the Training Course being taken by members of the VHC would end on Wednesday, May 17 and that a banquet would be held at Camp Cozy for the members completing the course. Also attending the banquet would be the Mayors from each town, (Thurmont and Emmitsburg) the Presidents of each company and the Chiefs of these two companies.

With no further business the meeting adjourned with refreshments following. James Pryor and Dennis Stahley will head the refreshment committee for the June meeting.

James R. Shorb, R2, Fairfield, was injured in an accidental fall at the American Legion Home, N. Seton Ave. He had climbed the pole in an attempt to untangle the flag at approximately 6:30 p.m., when he fell cutting the inner part of his leg on the rope hook.

His condition was reported to be serious, and following emergency treatment was taken to surgery after which he was placed in the Intensive Care Unit.

The VFW ambulance responded to the call and took him to the Annie Warner Hospital. Emmitsburg Police were also on the scene.

Mason Thanks 6th Dist. Primary Voters

Western Maryland State Senator Edward J. Mason has issued the following statement on his primary election victory for the Sixth District Republican nomination for Congress:

"I would like to thank the Republican voters of the Sixth District who cast their ballots for me in the primary election. By doing so, they have voiced their desire for a return to the same strong and aggressive leadership in Congress that was previously provided by J. Glenn Beall, Sr., Charles McC. Mathias and J. Glenn Beall, Jr.

"The broad range of problems in the sprawling Sixth District demands aggressive representation in Washington. The district needs a dynamic leader to assist in solving the problems of underdevelopment and unemployment in Western Maryland, and overdevelopment and resulting problems of crime, pollution and drug abuse in the eastern part of the district.

Phone Company Prosecutes Cheaters

The C&P Telephone Company of Maryland has begun an aggressive program to stop a certain kind of shoplifting. In this case, the offender does not steal goods. Instead, he makes long distance calls without intending to pay for them.

With both types of theft, the person who ultimately foots the bill is the honest customer who pays his bill—the average consumer.

Recently, the Telephone Company started cracking down on toll fraud offenders—for example, persons who fraudulently use a credit card or who charge long distance calls to numbers which they have not been authorized to use.

"No longer does it suffice to make restitution and to promise that you won't do it again," said C. V. Weakley, manager for the C&P. "We are actively pressing for arrests and convictions."

In Maryland, an offender who is caught and convicted faces a fine up to $500, a jail sentence up to six months, or both.

The human race, for all its boasting and puffing, is merely standing on the threshold of knowledge.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
The Pioneer Motters
"The shouting and the tumult dies—
The captains and the kings depart.
Still stands Thy ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart.
Lord God of Hosts be with us yet—
Lest we forget—lest we forget."

—Kipling
Samuel Motter, the ninth and last child of Lewis and Mary Magdalena (Martin) Motter, is interred in Emmitsburg's Mountain View Cemetery. The inscriptions follow:
28. In memory of Samuel Motter, born January 11, 1821, died March 21, 1889.
29. In memory of Catharine Mary (Chadwick) Motter, wife of Samuel Motter, died February 14, 1901. (No age or date of birth given).

There is some reason to believe that the Motters, in company with many others from York County, Pennsylvania, came into Maryland, "in the wake" of the so-called Monocacy settlers.

Lewis Motter, the pioneer member of his family in Maryland, was born in York County, Pennsylvania, in 1775 and died in Emmitsburg, Md., in 1837. He is interred with other members of his family in Elias churchyard. He (Lewis) was a son of Valentine Motter, who also was born in York County, in 1752. The father died when his son, Lewis, was "yet an infant" and the boy was reared by an uncle.

Lewis Motter removed to Frederick County, Maryland, in 1797. He served in the War of 1812-1814—probably in the defense of Baltimore.

Apparently Lewis Motter learned the trade of "Tanner" while still in oYrk County. The uncle, who reared the boy probably apprenticed him to a tanner for that purpose—as was the custom in that day. At any rate he was a "Master Tanner" and his son, Lewis Martin Motter, followed in his father's footsteps. This concludes, for a time at least, the notes on the Motter family of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The next family to be considered in this study of the founding fathers of Tom's Creek (now Elias) Lutheran congregation — is one about which very little is known—particularly the Maryland Branch. The Forneys were an early and prominent family in York and Philadelphia Counties, Pennsylvania, and several genealogies have been compiled pertaining to that segment of the clan. Johann

Adam Forney, the pioneer ancestor, came to Penn's Province from Germany, the vicinity of Mannheim, although the family were said to be French Huguenots — who fled to Germany to escape religious persecution and possible death in their homeland.

In the Forney family Bible Johann Adam (1) Forney wrote: "In the year 1721 on October 16th, I, Johann Adam Forney and Louisa Fornis, with four children, arrived at Philadelphia, in Pennsylvania."

By 1731 Johann Adam (1) Forney and his family were living on a plantation in Diggs Choice, in the vicinity of the present Hanover, York County, Pennsylvania. At that time this was known as the Conewago Settlement.

Johann Adam (1) Forney lead a somewhat troubled life—what with Indian troubles and land disputes. But—the family managed to weather the storms — although, according to a family tradition Johann Adam (1) Forney died in 1752 as the result of a wound suffered in a foray with the Indians. Six children were born to the old pioneer and his wife—four in the "old country", the two youngest in Pennsylvania.

Now the question is—what branch of the Forney family came into Maryland? After careful study it is apparent that it must have been a son or grandson of the pioneer—for they were early members of the "Lutheran congregation at Tom's Creek." Without a doubt, some of the very old unmarked graves in Tom's Creek churchyard belong to the Forneys. One thing is certain—some of the last burials in this "God's Acre", were members of that family. The inscriptions follow:

1. In memory of John Forney, died April 17, 1848, aged 76 years, 1 month and 2 days.
2. In memory of Christina Forney, wife of John Forney, died January 4, 1855, aged 83 years and 4 days.
3. In memory of John A. Forney, born January 28, 1847, died December 26, 1874. The above are the marked Forney graves at old Tom's Creek churchyard.
4. In Elias churchyard there is but one grave — at least only one with a marker—pertaining to this family:

Perspectives In Learning By Hazel Brown

No Room For A Library?
At one time it was enough to just know how to read. But, today reading is essential for survival.

The amount of knowledge available has multiplied rapidly and the type of knowledge has changed. The individual who rarely reads finds himself lost in the technical world of today.

Young people have to become readers. The place to learn to read has been the school and the usual place for getting books has been the library. What are the schools doing about the lack of library facilities?

There are many elementary schools today with no libraries at all, and no space for one even if the school system wanted it. This bleak situation is too prevalent in our public school system.

In the St. Louis, Missouri, area alone only 4 out of 150 elementary schools had operating libraries in 1967. Unfortunately these statistics are similar for most cities, and many rural areas have no libraries either, although some do have a county bookmobile unit which visits the school once or twice a month. And we wonder why children aren't becoming avid readers!

It was therefore exciting to read about some library innovations which are taking place in a few inner-city schools. The principals decided that a school library was essential and should have priority. But how?—no space!

The "corridor concept" became the answer to their dilemma. Drab halls and passageways were converted to eye-catching, well-lighted "book avenues". Yards of book shelves were placed in the corridors. Exhibits of special books were set-up so that the students could stop and look. The bright colors of the books transformed the dull hallways into a bright alluring library.

Chairs and tables were placed in appropriate areas so that students were encouraged to become familiar with the materials.

The attitude of the students seemed to change when the corridor libraries were established. The books were easily accessible to all students who might otherwise have felt a little strange going into a library. The students could browse freely without feeling committed to selecting a book. It had the same effect as window shopping.

What could be more stimulating than to open the school door and find a library surrounding the school? Books everywhere. This idea really puts the books where the students are! It makes the old excuse of not having a library in the school because of no room, just an excuse.

Achievement Night, planned by the school, will be the program for the evening. All parents and friends are invited to attend.

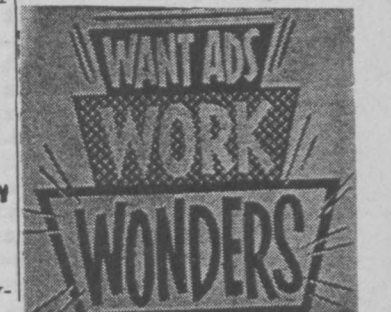

PTA To Meet Here

Chairs and tables were placed in appropriate areas so that students were encouraged to become familiar with the materials.

"Man Bites Dog"

An old journalism maxim says: "When a dog bites a man, it isn't news; but when a man bites a dog, that's news." Mid-20th century journalism has overthrown some of the tenets of the profession, but generally speaking it still considers the unusual, the unexpected, to be newsworthy. We are going to report here on an unusual, unexpected news development that most of the profession chose not to publicize — a "man-bites-dog" type of development. Howard K. Smith, ABC-TV's Washington anchor man for the network's prime-time evening news report, has bitten his own profession, with a charge of biased reporting by the networks. Here is the essence of his charges as published in Edith Efron's explosive new book, The News Twisters:

"Race: During the Johnson Administration, six million people were raised above the poverty level... And there is a substantial and successful Negro middle class. But the newsmen are not interested in the Negro who succeeds — they're interested in the one who fails and makes a loud noise. They have ignored the developments in the South. The South has an increasing number of integrated schools. A large part of the South has accepted integration. We've had a President's Cabinet with a Negro in it, a Supreme Court with a Negro on it — But more important, we have 500 Negroes elected to local offices in the deep South! This is tremendous achievement. But that achievement isn't what we see on the (TV) screen.

Extreme Prejudice

"Conservatives: If Agnew says something, it's bad, regardless of what he says. If Ronald Reagan says something, it's bad, regardless of what he says. Well, I'm unwilling to condemn an idea because a particular man said it. Most of my colleagues do just that.

"The Vietnam War: The networks have never given a complete picture of the war. For example: That terrible siege of Khe Sanh went on for five weeks before newsmen revealed that the South Vietnamese were fighting at our sides, and that they had higher casualties. And the Viet Cong's casualties were 100 times ours. But we never told that. We just showed pictures day after day of Americans getting the hell kicked out of them. That was enough to break America apart. That's also what it did.

"The Presidency: The negative attitude which destroyed Lyndon Johnson is now waiting to be applied to Richard Nixon. Johnson was actually politically assassinated. And some are trying to assassinate Nixon politically. They hate Richard Nixon irrationally.

"Russia: Some have gone overboard in a wish to believe that our opponent has exclusively peaceful aims, and that there is no need for armaments and national security. The danger of Russian aggression is unreal to many of them, although some have begun to rethink since the invasion of Czechoslovakia. But there is a kind of basic bias in the left-wing soul that gives the Russians the benefit of the doubt.

"Ho Chi Minh: Many have described Ho Chi Minh as a nationalist leader comparable to George Washington. But his advent to power in Hanoi, in 1954, was marked by the murder of 50,000 of his people. His consistent method was terror... I heard an eminent TV commentator say: It's an awful thing when you can trust Ho Chi Minh more than you can trust your President! At the time he (the TV commentator) said that, Ho Chi Minh was lying. He was presiding over atrocities! And yet an American TV commentator could (advocate trusting Ho and distrusting the American President).

"Build Up For Radicals

"Black Militants: A few Negroes — scavengers on the edge of society — have discovered they're riding a good thing with violence and talk of violence. They can get on TV and become nationally famous.

"The New Left: The New Left challenges America. They're rewriting the history of the Cold War. Some carry around the Viet Cong flag. Some shout for Mao — people who'd be assassinated in China! They've become irrational! But they're not portrayed as irrational. Reporters describe them as 'our children'... If right-wing students had done what left-wing students have done, everyone, including the reporters, would have called in the police and beaten their heads in. But we have a left-wing bias now, that has 30 years of momentum behind it."

Mr. Smith is not a "right-winger." He describes himself as a "liberal." And he is one of the top TV network commentators in America. Thus what he has said is news, and although his colleagues didn't treat it so, we feel it is newsworthy for the American public.

Potomac Edison Rates Increased

The Price Commission has cleared retail rate increases for The Potomac Edison Company and the new rates are now in effect, according to PE officials.

The Maryland Public Service Commission had previously authorized the increases. The new rates cover all retail sales of electricity to PE's residential, commercial, industrial and street lighting customers in Maryland and are expected to produce about $3.2 million additional revenues on an annual basis.

Company officials said the increase for a residential customer whose annual bill is now $126.00 would amount to about $8.50 per year. For a typical "total electric" residential customer using 24,000 kilowatt-hours annually, the increase will be about $32.00 per year. Increases for residential customers using more or less electricity than these amounts will vary with the details of usage, a spokesman said, as will increases for commercial, industrial and street lighting customers.

Gordon Parks Tells Of Life Battle

"A Choice of Weapons," by Gordon Parks. Gordon Parks is a Negro and was born in 1912. He was left homeless after his mother died in the autumn he became 16. He was raised in a poor home but a home full of love and staunch Methodist religion. He went to St. Paul to live with his sister. His brother-in-law resented him all along and one night when Gordon wanted to go to a Christmas party, his brother-in-law said he had been out the night before and could not go. A fight ensued and all of Gordon's belongings were pitched out the window.

Gordon worked at various places as kitchen help, bus-boy, piano player, luncheonette, dining car waiter. It was a mere existence from his 16th birthday because he slept on trolley cars and in 26c rooms. When he worked in kitchens the one meal a day is all he got. The depression years were filled with every sordid aspect of city life. His mother had instilled in him never to let his color be a cause of failure and this kept him going.

He married a girl that she met in St. Paul, and she bore him a son and eventually two more children.

In 1937 he decided to make photography a career. He took pictures of models and fashions in large department stores and made many pictures of Joe Louis' wife. He and his family moved to Chicago where he started to make pictures of the Ghetto and from these pictures he won a Julius Rosenwald Fellowship. Then he worked as a correspondent in the Office of War Information in 1943. After the war he took documentary pictures for Standard Oil and in 1949 he joined the staff of Life magazine. He composes music and has written a novel published in 1962 called, "The Learning Tree." Several others combining poetry and pictures are available in your library.

At various times his photography is to be seen on display in the Time-Life building in New York. He does a lot of photography for Life magazine.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Advice For Young Investors

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., May 18, 1972—The following comments and suggestions are directed primarily toward the young executive or professional man who is making a good current income and wishes to build up a sizable estate for retirement many years hence. What type of investment program should he adopt at this time, and how much risk should he assume to achieve his objectives?

Look To The Future

In establishing a program for the young executive, the Research Department of Babson's Reports considers it extremely important that a long-range viewpoint be taken and that the inevitable interim price fluctuations be de-emphasized. It has become obvious over the years that the investor who bides his time and operates in a rational manner invariably fares better in the long run than the overanxious, impulsive investor. There is certainly no quick and easy road to investment success. As a rule, the younger person who feels that he has got to achieve investment prosperity in a hurry never achieves it at all.

Supervision Essential

Although we surely do not recommend frequent shifting from one stock to another, neither do we approve of the young investor's buying a list of so-called growth stocks and then forgetting them. All stocks require at least a degree of supervision and watchfulness. One should be constantly on the lookout for fundamental changes in any particular company or industry that might affect adversely a stock in your portfolio. If such a change should be noted, then a switch into another issue might be called for. What the investor should try to avoid in this connection, however, is a mere shifting from one good issue into another when the action is based simply on minor, short-term movements in the stock market as a whole.

Tailored To The Individual

With the foregoing kept in mind, it should be mentioned at this point that there is no one investment program or setup that would be suitable for all of those just beginning. Each individual's circumstance differs and his individual investment program must be tailored accordingly. In general, however, we believe that at this level of the market and with economic conditions as they are now, the young investor should maintain a portion of his assets in reserves that can be used as promising buying opportunities develop. The amount that should be kept for this purpose would depend upon the new money coming into the account each year, the amount of risk the investor wishes to take, and other relevant factors.

At this stage of the investment cycle, we feel that the young executive can well afford to be patient rather than take the risk of assuming a top-heavy position in common stocks. The proper timing of purchases is still, of course, one of the most important factors in any successful investment program. Furthermore, generous interest can still be had from funds in bank accounts, so any reserve money should certainly not be regarded as being idle.

What To Buy

As far as the common stock portion of a young investor's portfolio is concerned, the Research Department of Babson's Reports feels that emphasis should naturally be placed on the issues of companies with an especially good potential for appreciation and growth. Pay particular attention to well-managed concerns that are of outstanding importance in their respective industries. Quality grade and diversification are two other significant considerations to be stressed. We currently favor a number of selections that would seem to fill the bill for young investors attempting to establish a workable program: Pfizer, Nabisco, Unishops, Becton Dickinson, Florida Gas, Culligan International, Texaco, Lomas & Nettleton Financial, Narco Scientific, and American Electric Power.

BARLEY LOAN RATE SET

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has recently announced that the county price support loan rate for 1972 crop barley, grading No. 2 or better, except for mixed barley, will be 88 cents per bushel in all Maryland counties, according to Raymond F. Jaeger, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. This rate will apply to farm stored barley loans.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias
U.S. Senator

Of Man and SALT

It was something like a scene from a James Bond movie.

A group of distinguished diplomats sat around a table in a soundproof room while, outside, a spring snowstorm painted Helsinki, and the rest of Finland, white. Sitting around the negotiation table, the diplomats in formal, but almost friendly tones, conducted a session of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) which affect everyone on the planet Earth.

To this observer who attended a number of such sessions as a representative of the United States Senate, the SALT negotiations were frightening and encouraging. SALT frightens because of the ominous future for mankind if the major powers cannot agree in limiting strategic arms—the intercontinental ballistic missiles whose nuclear warheads can kill millions at the flick of a switch.

SALT encourages because it represents a break in a cold war which has enveloped the participants—Russia and the United States—since the end of World War II. SALT is hope that a nuclear holocaust will never occur—that man will survive his instruments of destruction.

The American negotiators at SALT give further cause to feel confident that a limitation agreement can be reached. Ambassador Gerard Smith, the Director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, heads the delegation. He is ably assisted by former Secretary of the Navy Paul Nitze who also served as Undersecretary of Defense and is widely respected by those who are familiar with his ability in the field of national security.

The U.S. SALT team is rounded out by General Royal B. Allison, Dr. Carl Brown, Dr. Ray Garthoff, and Ambassador J. Graham Parsons.

General Allison, of the U.S. Army, represents the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Ambassador Parsons is a respected career diplomat who is representing the Secretary of State. Dr. Brown is a former Secretary of the Air Force and Dr. Garthoff is one of America's most respected scientists.

These knowledgeable men behind the headlines understand the life and death nature of the SALT negotiations. Daily they live with the fact that failure at SALT can only bring the world another step closer to possible nuclear annihilation.

Our SALT team carries with it, I believe, greater responsibility than any other team of negotiators in mankind's history. It is not too much to reemphasize that the survival of our planet and its people depends upon turning the corner at some point and ending the arms race.

For survival is what SALT is all about. Success in the SALT negotiations means a safer world. The SALT team has my prayers that it can bring back an agreement which the President can accept and the Senate will ratify. I look forward to continuing my role in trying to achieve this most important agreement.

Local Students Win School Craft Awards

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

What are the criteria for hiring school bus drivers?

A safety blueprint for the hiring and training of school bus operators has been developed by the Department of Transportation. The federal government, like yourself, feels that uniform standards are needed to insure that qualified applicants are selected for the job and that they receive sufficient advanced and continuing training to assure the safe operation of their vehicles under a variety of driving conditions. Your school district may order the study, entitled "Selection and Training of School Bus Drivers," by writing the Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C. The booklet costs $2.00 and the order stock number is 50093-0043.

Considering the value of the statistics that are obtained, why doesn't the U. S. conduct a mid-decade census?

A House Subcommittee recently released a report evaluating the merits of conducting a census of the population every five years. The Government Accounting Office's major conclusion is that the principal needs of Federal and state governments could best be met by a mid-decade census covering population, income, housing, employment and occupation information. However, this census should contain less detail than the 10-year census. The proposal is currently under consideration and new status reports will be published in my future columns.

Are mustangs and other wild horses now being protected from harassment and killings?

Legislation protecting wild horses and burros on public land became law about six months ago. The Act places these animals under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture for the purpose of management and protection. Fines and imprisonment serve as the deterrent for those who might sell, harass or cause the death of any wild free-roaming horse.

My wife and I are planning a trip to Europe this summer and we plan to purchase a car while we are there. I read somewhere that the car will have to comply with certain new car regulations. Is this correct?

Under the 1970 Clean Air Amendments, regulations require that any motor vehicle imported to the U. S. must be covered by a certificate of conformity with whatever Federal air pollution emission standards applied in the year the vehicle was built. The new requirements apply whether the vehicle is new or used and whether imported for personal use or sale.

WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN
BEALL JR.

The Voice of America

On May 1, while the Soviet Union was parading military hardware in Moscow as part of its May Day celebration, the United States Senate was acting on a piece of legislation of great importance to the people living in communist nations.

The budget of the U.S. Information Agency was being debated on the floor of the Senate in the wake of a committee vote that slashed 25 per cent from the request for the Voice of America.

My colleagues and I rejected this drastic cutback and by a vote of 57-15 restored the Voice of America budget to $194 million.

The Voice of America has been speaking out to the world for 30 years, telling millions of people more than their own government want them to hear. Until this recent controversy over funding, however, many people in the United States knew very little about it.

There is a very important reason for this; one that is fundamental in our way of life. Because our nation enjoys freedom of speech and freedom of the press, the government stays out of the news business. We depend instead on private enterprise to disseminate the news of the day in our country.

Being accustomed as we are to our heritage of free speech and a free press, it might be assumed that this is the normal state of things in the rest of the world. Actually, it could hardly be farther from the truth, and that is why the U.S. Information Agency and Voice of America are so important.

The vast majority of the world's population receives the news through government agencies which control the broadcast industry and supervise the publication of newspapers.

control may be nothing more than an impartial government monopoly, such as the postal service is here. But for communist-bloc countries and nations ruled by dictatorships, the news media is tightly controlled by government censors.

The Voice of America is beamed to these people who otherwise would be a captive audience to propaganda coming from government news-casts and newspapers.

Our broadcasts are dedicated to presenting a fair picture of life in the United States and the Western world. They provide the listeners with a better basis for judging and interpreting the national and international events going on around them.

Thus, the Voice of America might be described as being an expression of our belief that the United States has the right and the duty to speak out to the world, and to speak the truth as we see it so that all may hear.

It should be pointed out that the Voice of America broadcasts 780 hours per week in 35 languages. By way of contrast, the Soviet Union broadcasts more than 1,900 hours per week in 84 languages. Communist China and the United Arab Republic both broadcast more than 1,300 hours in 38 languages.

Unlike the Voice of America, these broadcasts are loaded with distortions and propaganda. It would be a crime of omission to let them go unanswered.

One of the oldest lessons of history is that a government which rules by repression or terror may rule the land, but it does not rule the minds of the people.

The Voice of America is a symbol of freedom that can give people hope, and we who enjoy freedom must not let them down.

CHS Student In State Brick Contest
The annual bricklaying contest, sponsored by the Maryland State Department of Education for students in trowel trades vocational program, was held in Baltimore recently. Both of Frederick County's programs, Catoctin High School and Gov. Thomas Johnson High School, were represented by entries although neither finished in the top three places this year. Last year's first place winner was a Gov. Thomas Johnson student.
Local trowel trades instructors, Tom Shoemaker of T.J. and Dick Kreh of Catoctin, were present with their entries and Kreh, as President of the Masonry Instructors of Maryland, assisted in awarding the prizes.
According to Kreh and Shoemaker, the contest was marked by keen competition and strict judging. First and second place winners were from Snow Hill and the Washington County Vo-Tech Center respectively. Local students who took part were Calvin Harp of T.J., and Larry Carthy of Catoctin.

New Regulation For Veteran Homes
A veteran who buys a home with Veterans Administration financial assistance must certify he won't discriminate in its future sale or rental because of race, color, religion or national origin.
Mr. George A. Davis, Director of the Baltimore VA Regional Office, said this is one of the policies inaugurated in the VA home loan program after enactment of the U. S. Fair Housing Law (Title VIII, Civil Rights Act of 1968). The policy applies to guaranteed, insured and direct loans, as well as VA grants to disabled veterans for specially adapted housing.

Hill Herd Has Top Producing Cows
A report of milk production levels attained by dairy cows in the area has been received from Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The actual food production output, recorded in the DHIR program, by these local Registered Holsteins is:
Hills-Hope FD Rachael 596-0219, a seven-year-old, produced 20,570 lbs. of milk and 922 lbs. of butterfat in 361 days. Hills-Hope Jenny Rose 6780178, a four-year-old, had 21,640 lbs. of milk and 796 lbs. of butterfat in 353 days. Both are included in the herd tested for Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hill, R2, Emmitsburg.
These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 9,388 lbs. (4,366 quarts) of milk and 345 lbs. of butterfat by the average U. S. dairy cow, notes the National Holstein Association.
Production testing is made available through the cooperative efforts of the state and local testing associations and Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Dairymen enrolled in the program pay for the service.
In the quest for success, just remember that there is no substitute for character or service.

New Lifelong Learning Committees Appointed, Course Progress Reported

The Governing Board of the Lifelong Learning Council met at Seton Center on April 27 at 7:30 p.m. Eleven members attended, with President Bernard Welty presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Welty announced the appointment of the following committees: Publicity, Mrs. Ann Marshall, Chairman, Sister Mary John Conway, Mrs. Dolores Henke, Mrs. Jane Orndorff and Sister Celestine; Curriculum, Sister Mary Magdalen, Chairman, Mrs. Adrian Brown, Mrs. Alice Gregg, Eugene R. Rosensteel and Mrs. Mary S. Scott.

Welty told of the courses presently being given. Sister Mary Magdalen noted that a teacher for the proposed class in Horticulture is available.

Mrs. Marshall commented on the excellent progress of the various courses, and stated that a representative of the State Board of Education who recently visited the Center was very pleased with his observation of the classes. Consideration was given to the Thursday night meeting time, with the decision not to make any change in the date at this time.

The secretary will contact Frederick Community College for a list of courses in adult education being offered there to obtain ideas for possible future courses in Emmitsburg. The Council of Churches will also be asked to suggest desirable Fall courses.

Mrs. Marshall briefly explained the Laubach Method of teaching reading to adults, a method with which some of the ELLC teachers have had favorable experience, and proposed that the possibility be explored of obtaining an instructor in the Method to come to Emmitsburg to help teacher-aides and other interested adults.

Doctor Marshall, presently teaching the Woodworking Course, presented to the Board a recommendation that a "Do-It-Yourself" open shop course for men and women be made available; he expressed the need for more equipment and additional instructors.

CHS Elects New Council Officers

Catoctin High School has elected four members of the junior class to be Student Council officers for the 1972-73 academic year. They are Karen Kerns, president; Skip Newcomer, vice president; Kathy Carbaugh, secretary; and Domitio Baysic, treasurer.

Elections were held last Friday in the gymnasium. Roxie Aubol, outgoing S.C. president, addressed the assembly on the importance of voting for the most able rather than the most popular candidates.

Each candidate had a campaign manager who spoke to the students on the experience and qualifications of his candidate. The campaign managers for the winning slate were respectively: Vicki Saylor, Jim Sanders, Katie Marshall and Horace Beale.

The candidates themselves, also spoke, outlining their programs and indicating the reforms and activities they would support if elected. After the speeches, the student body, excluding the seniors who were ineligible to vote, marked ballots which had been distributed earlier by members of the S.C. elections committee. The votes were then tallied by the committee.

During the assembly, Mr. Harper Long, principal, congratulated the outgoing S.C. officers for their excellent record during the past year. The former S.C. officers are Roxie Aubol, president; Tom Williard, vice president; Sue German, secretary; Mary Ann Rice, treasurer.

RR 4-H Club Has County Champs

The May 15 meeting of the Rocky Ridge Progressive 4-H Club was held at the Rocky Ridge Firehall. Danny Fitzgerald led the club in the pledges to the 4-H and American flags, which was followed by roll call.

Under committee reports, Cecilia Wivell reported on the sewing meeting and Angela Wivell reported on the flower arranging group. A new committee was then organized to plan a bake sale. Those on the committee are: Lee Bollinger, chairman, Timmy Little, Cathy, Angela and Cecilia Wivell. Lee Bollinger also reported that there was a large turnout for Rural Life Sunday, which was held May 7, at St. Anthony's Church.

County demonstration day was entered by nine members. Those participating were: Chris Skybyk, Stanley Gregg, Angela, Cathy, Jeff, and Viki Wivell, all receiving champion; Mark Wivell, reserve champion; and Cecilia Wivell and Brenda Keilholtz, participation award.

The district Broiler Contest was entered by Angela and Viki Wivell, which was held May 13 at the Frederick Fair grounds. Mark and Viki Wivell toured the Naval Academy and Annapolis on the State Citizenship Tour, sponsored by the Anne Arundel County 4-Hers.

Concluding the meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brauer presented a slide program of Agriculture in Frederick County. The presentation portrayed agriculture as a dynamic and vital force in Frederick County.

Poor health is an alibi more often than a fact.

Byron Reports On Poll Of District

Results of Rep. Goodloe Byron's constituent questionnaire were released recently revealing growing concern for crime, the state of the economy, and foreign aid and welfare expenditures.

Approximately 6,500 constituents responded to the ten-question February survey from Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick, Carroll and Howard Counties and 6th District portions of Baltimore and Montgomery Counties.

Byron said the three national issues cited by most district-wide respondents were crime (75%), inflation (68%) and taxes and government spending (64%). Last year the economy, government spending and the Vietnam War were the top issues named in the survey. This year Vietnam ranked 8th on the list of constituent concerns and crime moved up sharply from its number 5 ranking in 1971.

Respondents indicated only three areas in which federal spending should be increased, including crime prevention (74%), pollution control (65%), and Social Security and Medicare (54%). Approximately seven out of ten citizens wanted to see a decrease in foreign aid and welfare spending.

In other questions the majority of respondents favored voluntary prayer in public schools (86%), expansion of diplomatic and trade relations with Red China (56%), direct election of the President and Vice President (69%), tax deductions for college expenses (70%), and raising Social Security income limitations (86%).

Opinions were mixed on the success of Phase II economic policies and on a question dealing with the effectiveness of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Arts & Crafts Sale Listed For Charnita

The Annual Arts and Crafts Sale, sponsored by the Southwest Adams County Civic Association will be held on Saturday, June 24, at the Charnita Outdoor Pavilion, Fairfield RI.

Mrs. Edith Underwood, president of the association and general chairman for the event, appointed the following persons to be in charge of the various committees:

Arts, Mrs. Jenny Schaller; Crafts, Mrs. Dorothy Armos and Mrs. Lois Rist; Children's Display, Mrs. Orlie Glick and Mrs. Bea Brandt; Plants, Mrs. Margaret McGarry; Foods, Mrs. Cora Martin; Advertising, Mrs. Catherine Wilson; White Elephant Table, Mrs. Ethel Sturm and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Faller.

It is the hope of the committees that anyone having articles to be sold will contact the chairlady in charge of that particular category to obtain a code number to be placed on each item along with the price. Seventy-five per cent of the selling price will go to the contributor and 25% to the Civic Association.

The sale will begin at 9 o'clock and continue until 5 p.m.

Learning Council Has Social Evening

The Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council recently hosted a social evening in compliment to all those who worked in the program during the past year. Teachers, volunteers and members of the board gathered at Seton Center to exchange ideas on an informal basis and to celebrate the ending of a successful academic year. Mr. James Hess, supervisor of adult education in Frederick County, was an honored guest.

The Council offered seven courses during the Fall semester and 12 courses during the Spring term. Approximately 189 Emmitsburg area people enrolled, some attending the same course for two semesters. Classes were given in three general categories: basic adult education, upgrading of skills and crafts and hobbies.

Arrangements for the social evening were made by Bernard Welty, president of Lifelong Learning and Sister Mary Magdalen, curriculum chairman. The curriculum committee met briefly earlier in the evening to discuss the program for the coming year.

A broadminded man is a citizen who takes your side.

Why worry about war, or disease, if you don't worry about automobile accidents.

The person who talks all the time will have a lot of time to listen to himself, undisturbed.

Byron Schedules Police Conference

Rep. Goodloe Byron announced this week that he is arranging a conference to inform 6th District law enforcement officials of the availability of state and federal funds for law enforcement programs.

The all-day conference is scheduled for July 14 at Frederick Community College and law enforcement representatives from Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick, Carroll, Howard and Baltimore Counties are expected to attend.

Byron said the morning session will include an analysis of federal and state programs and a panel discussion of local needs and requirements. Participants will include local law enforcement officers and representatives of the Department of Justice, the Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice, and the International Conference of Police Associations.

The Mt. Tabor Union Sunday School invites everyone to a Hymn Sing May 21, at 7:30 p.m. The program will be held at Mt. Tabor Park in Rocky Ridge. In case of inclement weather, the affair will be moved to the Fire Hall for the evening.

The program will include the following groups: Catoctin United Methodist Church, Catoctin Furnace; The Rice Sisters, Thurmont; The Harne Sisters, Smithsburg; Haugh's Lutheran Church, Ladiesburg; The Sunnyside Gospel Chorus, Sunnyside, Md.; The Gospelettes, Buckeystown; St. John's Lutheran Church, Thurmont,
