Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Whoever would have thought the day would come in recent times when our top fellow would volunteer to put himself way behind enemy lines twice in a few months to work in our behalf? President Nixon is over in Moscow looking for ways to make the world a little better place in which to live and I am sure we are all cheering him on. A little bit of progress has been reported so far but I am sure it will be some time before we see any dramatic results.

However after all the years of the cold war, the fact that the top leaders of the free world and the communist world are talking together in friendly fashion rather than throwing verbal threats at each other is in itself progress. Some good has to come out of it. All we can do is hope there will be maximum benefit to all nations as quickly as possible, and maybe pray a little to insure that it will come to pass.

Our old town has quieted down somewhat with the students gone. Many folks are beginning to think about a summer routine. Maybe yesterday's heat will get us there faster than some of us want.

Governor Wallace has moved his legs a little and that is an encouraging sign. Let's hope the doctors are able to get him back on his feet before long. If at all possible, none of us would want his injury in Maryland to be permanent, regardless of our thinking about his political position.

Hijackers have begun to think about new objectives recently with the bomb scare on the Queen Mary. Although it turned out to be a hoax, I am sure the incident will put the authorities on their toes in the future. You would think more could be done about the hijacking of airplanes in this country, let alone ships. Some of the nations across the water apparently have found an answer to the problem. Maybe we need to get a little tougher in the U. S.

All this talk about fuel shortages and the predictions the country never will be able to keep up with the consumption of energy in the future makes one wonder how we are going to power the new push button world which is supposed to be no its way. One suggestion is hydrogen.

Hydrogen gas can be made from water, burns readily, is easily transportable, and leaves only one "ash" — water. In addition, hydrogen gas can be stored, unlike electricity which must be made as needed. For these reasons, scientists are seriously investigating hydrogen as a universal fuel, supplementing both nuclear power and fossil fuels, whether natural or synthetic.

The energy for splitting water, either electrolytically or with very high temperatures can be supplied by nuclear power. Splitting water electrolytically is basically an inefficient process, so splitting water with heat — thermal cracking — has been suggested. The temperatures needed for direct thermal cracking are beyond fission (but not fusion) reactors. The use of a four-step chemical cycle has been suggested in which water could be split to hydrogen and oxygen, and in which the highest temperatures reached are about 1300°F, well within the reach of a nuclear power plant.

Holy Communion Sunday

The Sacrament of Holy Communion for Trinity Sunday will be administered in Elias Lutheran Church at 10:30 a.m. and again at 4:00 p.m., Sunday, May 28. The Senior Choir, directed by Mr. Thomas Kittinger, and accompanied by Mrs. Donald Eyer, will present special music during the 10:30 Service.

Catoctin Commencement

The Board of Education has announced that the Catoctin High School commencement exercises will be held on Monday, June 5, 1972.

Bloodmobile Visits VFW Home June 5

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit the VFW Home in Emmitsburg for a blood collection on Monday, June 5, and donor registration will be held from 2 until 6:30 p.m. This is a second "test" visit to Emmitsburg with the hope that residents of the area will take the opportunity to participate in the Frederick County Red Cross Blood Program and assure themselves and their families of coverage for the next year.

The quota for this visit on June 5 is 125 pints, and unless it is a successful blood collection of at least 100 units, the Bloodmobile will not be scheduled for any more Emmitsburg visits. During the visit in July of 1971, only 59 pints were collected.

Anyone giving blood on June 5 will receive eligibility for Red Cross blood coverage for one year for himself and his immediate family. Also, the donor can give credit to some organization that is participating in the Red Cross Blood Assurance Group Plan and help that group reach its 20% membership quota. When that is achieved, each member of the group will be eligible for coverage through Red Cross for one year.

Anyone can give blood who is between the ages of 18 and 66, weighs at least 110 pounds, and is in good physical health. Persons with history of malaria, hepatitis, jaundice, heart disease, malignancy, are not eligible to give blood. A person can donate as often as five times in a 12 month period, and there must be an 8 week interval between donations.

The visit to Emmitsburg is being sponsored by the Emmitsburg Veterans Organization. Members of the Francis X. Elder American Legion Post 121 and Emmitsburg Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are particularly urged to participate in the program.

Warrants Issued For Parking Tickets

The Emmitsburg Police Department announced this week that warrants will be issued for all unpaid parking tickets. To date, 12 warrants have been issued and are in the process of being served.

The parking fine increases from $1.00 to $5.00 when a warrant is issued. Residents having tickets can pay them at the $1.00 rate if they are paid before the warrant is issued.

Anyone in doubt about a ticket or those who have lost tickets can confirm their status by going to the town office so that the clerk can check the register.

Parking fines increase to $10.00 when the holder is found guilty in court.

Elias Lutheran Has Father-Son Dinner

The Fathers and Sons of Elias Lutheran Church were recently guests of honor at a Father-Son dinner. Preceding the fried chicken dinner, the invocation was given by Pastor W. Ronald Fearer. Lovely floral arrangements, in spring hues, adorned each table, which had been created by Mrs. John White for the occasion.

Mr. David Hagan, well-known magician from Frederick, presented a seventy-five minute program of magic to delight both Fathers and Sons. Concluding his evening of magic, Mr. Hagan distributed giant-sized dollar bills to each child present.

The dinner feting the Fathers and Sons was a project of the LCW of the Church, who planned and prepared the dinner.

Town Seniors Plan Two June Outings

"June is bustin' out all over," and on Tuesday, June 20, the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club will take another bus tour, this one to "Roadside America." Tickets will be $2.25 for members and $4.25 for non-members, which includes admission to the museum. June 12 is the deadline for Senior Citizens to sign up and pay. June 15 is the deadline for refunds, unless a real emergency exists. The bus will leave at 8 a.m. and return at 8 p.m. A stop will be made for dinner on the way home. Sounds like a good time on the horizon. Sign up and have a big day.

On June 11, the club will enjoy a picnic at the Beale cabin near Lake Heritage. Bring your own lunch. Meat, rolls and drink will be provided. Meet at the center at 12:30 p.m. and, hopefully, the transportation will be available.

Advisory Group Has Three School Plans

Far reaching changes in the public high schools of Maryland could result from the recommendations of a 28-member advisory committee to state school superintendent James A. Sensesenbaugh.

In a 36-page report the committee suggests three new plans outlining graduation requirements which local school systems might adopt.

If the recommendations are ultimately adopted, local school systems might select any one of the plans or combinations of them. All 24 local systems are now reviewing the report.

Plan I calls for ten required high school credits in English, social studies, science, and mathematics, plus ten elective subjects. Credits might be earned in day classes, in evening or summer school, in correspondence courses, by tutoring, by passing a test without attending classes, or through approved work or experience outside the school.

Under Plan I it would be possible for a student, with approval of the local superintendent of schools, to complete his or her high school studies in less than four years. Also students might attend part time and take more than four years.

Programs are also provided for students entering college early admissions programs, approved post secondary vocational programs, or job entry or apprenticeship programs.

Plan II suggests a new approach to curriculum by emphasizing the interrelatedness of academic disciplines. Accompanying the report is a curriculum model which divides the entire curriculum into seven basic human concepts.

Mount Graduates 164th Class Sunday

Mount Saint Mary's College will confer bachelor degrees on 247 members of its 164th graduating class on Sunday, May 28. In addition, eight Master of Arts degrees will be awarded.

The opening events of Commencement Weekend will be an honors convocation and baccalaureate mass, scheduled for 4:00 and 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 27. The sermon at the mass, to be celebrated in the College Chapel, will be delivered by the Most Reverend Philip M. Hannan, Archbishop of New Orleans.

The official commencement ceremony will begin at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, May 28, and will feature an address by Senator Harold E. Hughes of Iowa. Senator Hughes was elected to the United States Senate in 1968 after serving three terms as Governor of the state. His service on both the state and federal levels has been characterized by emphasis on humanitarian issues and the problems of people. Senator Hughes will also receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree during that ceremony.

Archbishop Hannan was installed as head of the New Orleans Diocese in 1965, after serving as Chancellor of the Washington, D. C. Archdiocese, Titular Bishop of Hierapolis, and Auxiliary Bishop of Washington, D. C. In that position, Archbishop Hannan has devoted himself to helping the less fortunate, and he has been active in Housing Development in the Archdiocese. In recognition of his years of service to the underprivileged, Archbishop Hannan will be awarded at Sunday's Commencement the College's highest honor, an Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree.

Joining Archbishop Hannan and Senator Hughes in receiving honorary Doctor of Laws degrees will be a man well known in the Emmitsburg and Mount Saint Mary's College communities, Dr. W. R. Cadle. Dr. Cadle is a physician who has served both communities for the past 40 years.

The Saturday honors convocation is scheduled to be held outside in front of Flynn Hall, but in case of bad weather, will be held in the chapel. The Sunday commencement ceremony, also scheduled for in front of Flynn Hall, will be moved to the Memorial Gymnasium in case of rain.

Arrest Rocky Ridge Man For Shooting

State police jailed a 25-year-old man for allegedly shooting his younger brother in the shoulder with a German Lugger pistol Monday at 1:45 p.m. at their Rocky Ridge home.

Robert Henry Springer, Jr., apparently shot his brother, Scott, in the left shoulder with a 9 mm pistol during an argument in their home on Md. 77 east of the Old Frederick Road, police said.

Robert Springer fled the scene after firing the one shot and drove away in a sedan. Their mother witnessed the shooting, according to police. Scott Springer was transported to Gettysburg's Annie Warner Hospital where he was treated for the bullet wound and admitted in satisfactory condition, hospital officials reported.

State police apprehended Springer at the Frederick County Mental Health Services, 500 W. Patrick St., Frederick, where he was to have his first appointment Tuesday, police reported.

D-Sgt. T. S. Bosley took the loaded pistol from Springer who carried it in his belt. Tfc. V. E. Wolfe and Tfc. J. W. Reburn assisted in the apprehension and investigation. Springer was incarcerated in Frederick County Jail pending a formal bond hearing. He was denied release on personal recognizance, and tentative bond was set at $5,000. Hearing will be set.

CAR WASH

A Car Wash will be held Saturday, May 27, from 7 a.m. until 2 p.m. at Wilson's Funeral Home, W. Main St. Free pick-up and delivery. Call 447-2023. Donation $1.25 per car. Benefit of the General Motors softball team of the Frederick-Carroll League.

Fields Given PTA Life Membership

Kenneth H. Fields

On May 24, Kenneth H. Fields, outgoing President of the Emmitsburg PTA, was the surprise recipient of a Life Membership in the Maryland PTA, the highest honor bestowed by this organization. In a letter from Jack Lancaster, State President, he says "You have been awarded this honor because others have recognized the contribution you have made to improve the opportunities for youth in the home, school, church and community."

During the two years that Mr. Fields has served as President, the Emmitsburg school has seen the upgrading of its library, increased recreational opportunities, the institution of a volunteer mothers program and the funding of a new school.

Mr. Fields recently began a second term as President of the Frederick County Council of PTA's. He's a member of the Secondary Report Card Committee for Frederick County, Co-Chairman of the Emmitsburg Republican Central Committee, a member of the Emmitsburg Community Chorus, and active in church work.

The contribution made for the Life Membership award goes to a scholarship fund for persons entering the teaching profession.

Pastor Brown Wins Divinity Degree

The Rev. Adrian S. Brown, Pastor of the Trinity and Tom's Creek United Methodist Churches of Emmitsburg, was among those who graduated at Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington, D. C., this week. Mr. Brown graduated cum laude with the degree of Master of Divinity.

Mr. Brown is an ordained minister of the Australian Methodist Church currently on a leave of absence for the purpose of pursuing graduate studies in the United States. He is married, has one son, and lives in Emmitt Gardens, Emmitsburg.

● School Advisors Suggest 3 Plans To State Superintendent

Plan II would require minimum standards of literacy, writing skills, and practical mathematics with remedial programs in the ninth grade for students with deficiencies in those subjects. This plan also suggests that there be no marks, no grades, no promotion, no passing, no failing. Under this proposal a student receives credit for a course when in the judgment of the school he has successfully met course requirements.

Plan II would require that each student attend school the equivalent of four hours of approved study a day for four years. It envisages a highly flexible program, with course offerings of six, nine, eighteen, thirty-six, and seventy-two weeks. It presupposes a wide variety of courses to meet students' needs and interests. Like Plan I it provides for course work in day, evening, or summer classes. It would also make possible credit for individual study, work experience, and other off-campus study.

Plan III would aim at a completely personalized educational program for each student, based on a plan worked out by the student, his parents, and appropriate school personnel. The role of the student in such planning would be to tell who he thinks he is, what he likes, and where he wants to go. The parents would indicate their aspirations for their child and would assess from their viewpoint the students' interests, weaknesses, and strengths. The students' role would increase as he or she matures. The role of the school would be to assess objectively the students' strengths and weaknesses and to indicate appropriate educational experiences available in and out of school.

The report makes a massive assault on the time-honored "Carnegie Unit" for measuring credits toward high school graduation. Generally, a Carnegie Unit is the credit a student earns for successful completion of a year's study, or equivalent, of one subject, attending five 50-minute classes a week. Under present standards a student needs 18 such units to graduate. Twelve units, in English, social studies, science, mathematics, and physical education are required. The remaining six units are elective.

Educators and private citizens have for years attacked the traditional high school curriculums a "lock-step" system more suited to ease of scheduling and teaching than to the individual student's needs. The committee report states that "Each student possesses unique but ever-changing capabilities, needs, and interests. The student learns best when what he is learning is appropriate and relevant to each of these factors..."

In a letter to local school superintendents state school superintendent James A. Sensenbaugh emphasized that the report is a proposal only. He urged local school systems to study the proposals and submit their views on them. He assured the local school heads that their suggestions would be "carefully considered as additional attention and study is given..." to the new recommendations.

"For years," Sensenbaugh said in an interview, "the State Board of Education has been concerned about the rigidity of our educational program. These proposals will be tentative suggestions that we hope the Board will want to examine."

The advisory committee, composed of students, parents, educators, and representatives of higher education institutions, was headed by R. Kenneth Twentey, of the Md. State Department of Education. Licensed To Wed

Annual Christian Unity Service Held In Chapel For Emmitsburg Communion

The chapel at Mount Saint Mary's College was almost filled with worshippers from all Christian Communities of Emmitsburg and vicinity for the 5 p.m. Community Ecumenical Celebration on Pentecost this past Sunday. The sixth annual observance of the Service for Christian Unity began as Father Joseph Sannino, Assistant Pastor of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, led the congregation in a processional march as they sang a folk-song entitled "Enter, Rejoice, and Come in", from the college campus into the chapel sanctuary for an unusual worship experience which was a combination contemporary service with the singing of many folk-tunes and rounds, and also some traditional liturgy of the Christian Church.

Pastor Ronald Fearer, the President of the Emmitsburg Council of Churches, and pastor of Elias Lutheran Church, presided at the first part of the service. More than 300 people attended the celebration. He read Psalm 105:1-4 from Today's English Version of the New Testament, and also offered a Prayer of Thanksgiving. Father John F. King, Pastor of St. Joseph's Church, led the congregation in a responsive litany of confession, and pronounced the Assurance of Pardon.

One of the highlights of the ecumenical celebration was the two acappella selections of the Emmitsburg Community Chorus: "The Lord's Prayer," by Leroy Robertson, and "God So Loved the World," by John Stainer. This group of some 30 or more mixed voices was directed by Mrs. Anna Motter of Taneytown.

The special speaker for the occasion was introduced by Father Sannino. An outstanding and unusual sermon was

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
"Ye, Too, Are Pioneers"

"Let us believe—With an abiding faith."

That to them—Union will seem as dear—

And liberty as sweet—And progress as glorious—

As they were to our fathers—And are to you and me.

And that the institutions—Which have made us happy—

Preserved by the virtue of our children—Shall bless the remotest generations—

Of the time to come."

In a prayer, attributed to the late Sir Winston Churchill, the opening sentence appeals to all men in these words—

"Let us pray to Almighty God—the Unconquerable Spirit in Man." This is the secret of the ages—that distinguishing trait that gave courage and zeal to the pioneer. In short—this is the spirit that built a great nation.

"Lest we forget—Lest we forget."

Our forefathers brought with them to the raw frontier of a new land not only the will to sacrifice and build—but—far more important—the church and the school. Their beginnings were crude in the extreme—but the foundations were strong and well-constructed—to last through the centuries. Today's generation "enjoy the fruits thereof."

Stop—think—you, too, are a pioneer—in your day and age.

History, unfortunately, has not recorded the names of the pioneers, living in Tom's Creek Hundred, who banded together and bought an acre of land on Tom's Creek, not far from the present town of Emmitsburg. They were led by the Rev. John George Bagger (Baughner). On their acre of land they built a log church and established a burial ground. The Historian Helman (1906) writes, as follows, regarding this hallowed piece of ground

"Tom's Creek Lutheran Churchyard—This is the oldest burying ground in this locality. Prior to 1746, when the first patent was recorded, squatters had taken possession of lands, centering upon Tom's Creek location as a central point. Hundreds of 'people were buried here. The entire acre with little exception is taken up with unmarked graves. This was the only burial ground in the locality—none of the farms north, east, or west have them, whilst the nearest south is on the Close farm."

It is quite apparent that the fence enclosing that old churchyard today does not include an acre of ground. Many graves must be in ground outside the present boundaries and these are forever lost to history. It would be almost impossible to determine who the unknown tenants of these lost graves are.

man was doing his research, he recorded the following people as interred in old Tom's Creek and their graves as marked:

"George Smith, born 1720, died 1793; Christian Smith, born 1720, died 1790; Jacob Danner, 1768; Margaret Danner, 1782; Peter Troxell, born 1719, died 1799; Mrs. Peter

Troxell, born 1737, died 1806; Maria Troxell, born 1771, died 1794; Michael Row, born 1762, died 1831; Mrs. Michael Row, born 1763, died 1807; Captain Michael Sluss, born 1785, died 1859; John Sluss, born 1809, died 1890; Isaac Row, born 1797, died 1841; Frederick Ohler, born 1787, died 1869; Joseph Crabbs, born 1786, died 1850; Barthol Waddle, born 1787, died 1847; John Hockensmith, born 1775, died 1855; Barbara, wife of John Hockensmith, born 1778, died 1842; William Hockensmith, born 1813, died 1864; S. Oyster (German inscription), born 1792, died 1974; John Smith, born 1782, died 1783; James Ohler, born 1801, died 1873; Daniel Row, born 1806, died 1851; George Row, born 1755, died 1845; Anna May, wife of George Row, born 1758, died 1838; John Row, born 1800, died 1873; Agness Row, the wife of John Row, born 1802, died 1880; George Ohler, born 1788, died 1826; John Hoover, born 1771, died 1832; Jesse Hoover, (no dates of birth or death); Sally Hockensmith, born 1814, died 1894; and Betsy Hockensmith, born 1802, died 1874."

It is to be regretted that Historian Helman did not make a more extensive study of this old churchyard at that time. So much has been lost in the years that followed. Burials were made here, quite a few, after 1906. Some of these later graves were left unmarked while others are rather conspicuous due to the modern gravestones which mark the spot.

The fence enclosing part of Tom's Creek churchyard was erected by a descendant of the Sluss family—in order that at least the remains of this ancient burial plot might be preserved. Of course she was concerned about her own ancestors but felt a much deeper obligation to the past—of which this plot was a visible part.

The Sluss family can be numbered among the "founding fathers" of the Tom's Creek (now Elias) Lutheran congregation. At the present time only five marked graves—pertaining to this clan—remain at old Tom's Creek. They are as follows:

1. In memory of Captain Michael Sluss, died July 1, 1859, aged 74 years, 7 months and 4 days.

2. In memory of Lucy Ann Sluss, wife of Captain Michael Sluss, born April 30, 1787, died April 22, 1875.

3. In memory of Susan Sluss, wife of John Sluss, died January 25, 1896, aged 80 years, 9 months and 18 days.

These notes will be continued in this series next week.

Changes Must Take Place Within The Classroom

There are so many writers attacking the school systems today, that one tends to get tired of reading about the "educational crisis". These attacks have been going on for years and years. The problem may be worded differently today but they generally remain the same.

It is very obvious that many aspects of education are not bringing the desired results. Educators, parents and students are aware of many of the problems. They make observations and draw conclusions. They all agree—something must be done.

When so many people agree that a change must take place, then why doesn't it happen? There seems to be a direct breakdown when the change process is initiated. The main objectives seem to be lost and the ability to measure the amount of change seems almost non-existent.

The strategies for making the desired changes have lacked the necessary relationship to the desired outcomes.

The fence enclosing part of Tom's Creek churchyard was erected by a descendant of the Sluss family—in order that at least the remains of this ancient burial plot might be preserved. Of course she was concerned about her own ancestors but felt a much deeper obligation to the past—of which this plot was a visible part.

Perspectives In Learning By Hazel Brown

In other words, the ways the problems were approached had little to do with the final results, therefore — no real change!

Most of the considered problems in education have been superficial. The problems that have been of major concern are busing, decentralization, teacher salaries, and teacher tenure. Sure, these are important and must be considered, but making changes in these areas does not necessarily bring about better quality education.

One might argue that a teacher who receives a high salary will be a better teacher, but the amount of money earned is not always correlated with the quality of the job done. The relationship could exist but doesn't always.

If there are to be any real changes in the quality of education, it must take place within the classroom. A study done by Dr. Edwin Susskind showed that very little change had taken place within the classroom since 1912.

He made a broad survey of teaching techniques and found that in 50 minutes of Social Studies instruction the students asked an average of 2 questions, but within the same 50 minutes, the teacher asked about 4 to 100 questions. This survey showed that all the talk about changing teaching techniques really is still just talk.

The "inquiry" method is not really operating in most classrooms. Students are still being passive listeners and the teachers are doing all the talking. Just this one study is evidence of what is wrong with education and what is happening to the education "change". It never seems to get to the students!

The schools must be willing to experiment at the classroom level and evaluate the experiments if any major changes are to take place. The American Institute of Research found that the compensatory programs such as Title I, Headstart, etc., made some successful gains, but only 3% of all the "so-called" successful programs could prove that there had been successful cognitive strides made.

No one had bothered to evaluate or measure what was taking place within the classrooms. Millions of dollars were being spent for new books, special teachers, new curriculum and new programs, but no one successfully evaluated the results of the expenditures. Is it any wonder educational change takes place slowly?

If we continue to allow education with evaluations and measurement, we are certain to develop a more profound education crisis.

Educational research must be done on a scientific basis with evaluations and measurement included as essential elements. The studies must be related to the situations within the classrooms. Teaching techniques, attitudes, environment and materials need to be evaluated. The student involvement in the learning process has to be assessed.

As parents and educators, we must get involved in educational change, but we must not let someone convince us that busing is the big problem. It is within the classroom where the real changes must take place.

Seasonal Dessert Greets Spring

Suddenly it's spring! And here's a delightful dessert to greet the season. Strawberries and rhubarb are a familiar, popular dessert combination, but the duo of rhubarb and raspberries is less common—and uncommonly good!

The fruits are combined in this luscious dessert. The fruit sauce is spooned over cake batter and sinks as it bakes for a cobbler-like effect. The cake topping couldn't be simpler—it's made from a versatile cup cake mix!

Served warm with vanilla ice cream, Rhubarb-Raspberry Cobbler wins the spring dessert derby.

RHUBARB-RASPBERRY COBBLER

Makes 9 servings

One 1-lb. pkg. frozen rhubarb, thawed OR 1/2 lb. fresh rhubarb, cut in 1-inch pieces

1/2 cup sugar

One 10-oz. pkg. frozen raspberries, thawed and drained

Heat oven to moderate (350° F.). Combine rhubarb and sugar in saucepan. If fresh rhubarb is used add 1/4 cup water. Bring to boil over high heat. Reduce heat and cook until tender, 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in raspberries.

Empty contents of cup cake mix package into bowl. Add egg and 1/4 cup milk; beat 1 minute. (If using mixer, beat at low speed.) Add remaining 1/4 cup milk and beat 1 minute.

Pour batter into a greased 9-inch square baking pan. Spoon hot rhubarb-raspberry mixture over batter. Bake in preheated oven (350° F.) about 40 minutes. Serve warm with scoops of vanilla ice cream.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

Will America Survive?

Hardly any American would subscribe to the propaganda admonition: "Better Red than dead!" And not many Americans could accept the proposition that unless we bolster our nation's moral (as well as military) strength, we may indeed become Red (Communists) or die as a nation. Not many recognize that our moral strength, as well as our military strength, is dissipating. For reasons that few clearly understand, our American society is decaying. The will to survive, at any cost, is dying.

This was the warning endeavored to present to our 35th annual Freedom Forum in the American Heritage Center at Searcy (Arkansas). We had more than 400 conferees in attendance, representing about 25 states. Among them were adult thought-leaders, college students and high school students. I talked about the first responsibility of government, the first consideration of any society of people: survival. I went back into history to show that 19 of the 21 civilizations of mankind had died because of internal decay and the lack of the will to survive. The two others were conquered because they, too, had decayed within.

Record Of History
The great governments (and societies) of ancient days were the Egyptian, Assyrian, Babylonian, Persian, Grecian, and Roman. Each was for a time at the pinnacle of world leadership. And yet, the average period of superiority for each was about 350 years. Greece and Rome perhaps were the more outstanding. But after a brilliant history, each moved down the western slope to oblivion; not much has been built back on the ruins of either.

America was by far the world's strongest nation at the end of World War II, the recognized leader of western world civilization. Militarily we were supreme. America was the greatest friend and benefactor to the smaller powers of the world. We were giving more aid to needy nations than was all the rest of the nations of the world combined. We even helped to rebuild the nation's we had fought—Germany and Japan.

The Breakdown
But in 25 years America has changed. We have entered two wars—Korea and Vietnam—without the will to win. Atheism has surged into competition with Faith in God. Obscenity and pornography have pushed aside decency and are eating away at character. The nation has been torn with disunity. Patriotism has become the object of a Big Smear. Loyalty to nation has slipped. Unilateral disarmament policies have decimated our relative strength until we are today second to the Soviet Union.

I am not one who sees a Communist under every bed. But I must say that some of the breakdown in our American society (now in its early stages) has been brought on by a dedicated force of Communist agents and millions of fell-travelers and dupes. Their influence has brought such results because Americans, in the mass, failed to recognize their true nature and goal. The present reported Communist Party membership in America is only the leadership corps. Hundreds of thousands of dedicated Communists and fellow-travelers are at work. They have been able to affect national policy and influence public opinion. They have lowered the moral standards of our society. But we let them do it!

Falter—And Die
The moral rehabilitation, to be genuine, will require a return to humility and faith in God. This is the most crying need. But there is another need—the need to survive. To develop the will to survive we must do three things: 1. We must convince the public that we are in danger. 2. We must convince the public of the undesirable alternative (Communism or totalitarianism). 3. We must convince the public that we can survive.

Will we do these things? I do not know. The people who tried to save Greece couldn't. The people who tried to arouse Rome to her dangers failed. The socialists succeeded in taking over England. This is the pattern in history. Do we deserve to have freedom and the measure of prosperity that our American system has produced? This is a question every citizen must answer for himself. Those who answer, No, are the force that can lead the way to survival. Our blessings are God-given, and if we falter as a people ungrateful, unfaithful, the blessings of liberty and life will disappear.

WASHINGTON REPORT FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR. Auto Safety

Just before the turn of the century, a man died in New York City in what is believed to have been our nation's first traffic fatality.

Since that time, more than 1.9 million persons have been killed in motor vehicle accidents in the United States, and the death rate has soared to 55,000 per year. In our own state of Maryland, nearly 800 persons died in accidents last year, and already more than 200 have been killed this year.

While it may be difficult to dispute that the automobile is a necessity of life in our country, it is even harder to dispute the fact that something must be done about traffic injuries and deaths.

Some of the problems have been overcome simply by taking a second look at old habits and realizing that changes were long overdue. Other advances in automobile safety will be slower in coming.

Most experts agree that safety begins with the driver, and one of the first things that needed updating was the procedure for driver examination and licensing.

Over the years, traffic laws and driving patterns have changed as a result of traffic becoming heavier and cars moving faster on high-speed expressways. So one of the first and most important federal highway safety standards was to require periodic driver re-examination. It is a way of making sure that people keep up to date on the rules of the road, that they are physically capable of handling their cars and that they are able to see well enough to read and understand traffic signs.

Another important step has been the move towards uniformity in motor vehicle laws and traffic signs from state to state. These actions will help to prevent the confusion that faces many drivers who become bewildered when driving in an unfamiliar area.

Life is like a school of gladiators, where men live and fight with one another. —Seneca.

Support Prices For Stored Maryland Wheat Announced By ASC Chairman

Prices for the 1972 crop of Maryland wheat stored in terminal warehouses in Baltimore and Philadelphia will be supported at $1.46 a bushel, Raymond F. Jaeger, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced.

County support rates on farm stored wheat range from $1.30 a bushel to $1.42 a bushel, which reflect the terminal rate less the freight and handling charges needed to get the wheat to terminal markets.

The basic county loan and purchase rates are for wheat grading No. 1 and have been established on the basis of the national average loan and purchase rate of $1.25 a bushel for all wheat.

The basic rate is for wheat grading No. 1, clear, and it is adjusted by discounts for grade and quality to determine support prices for individual producers. Some principal discounts are: grade 2—1 cent, grade 3—3 cents, garlic—10 cents, and smutty—6 cents.

To be eligible for price support loans or Commodity Credit Corporation purchases, wheat growers need to be enrolled in the 1972 wheat set-aside program and otherwise meet program provisions. By participating, they not only qualify for price support loans and purchases, but also for program payments.

Being Well Tressed

by Thelma Bonneau

OF HERBS & ESSENCE

It's said history repeats itself. So often the "newest" things in beauty and hair care come from "way back when." And today, you can recreate some new good old days of your own by borrowing from history's great beauties the secret of their way with fragrance—fragrance from herbs and wildflowers.

Thousands of years ago, the fabulous Cleopatra reaped the benefits of bathing in and grooming with floral and herbal essences. She not only looked alluring, but her fragrance complemented her appearance... and strong men became willing slaves.

Now, like the Queen of the Nile, you can attract your own Mark Antony with a delightful duet of well tressed wiles—hair that is both sweetly scented... and shimmery shiny with natural beauty.

You'll find all the ingredients for this winning fling with fragrance in Clairol's new Herbal Essence Shampoo, available wherever hair care products are sold.

Designed for gals who want to do what comes naturally for that great natural look, this back-to-nature product is blended with the essences of 19 natural herbs and wild flowers, as well as garden fresh, health-giving protein

(not to mention special conditioners that add shine and body to straight and curly locks).

Juniper... Camomile... Melissa... Mountain Gentian—are just a few of the beautiful herbs and flowers that make Herbal Essence a scintillating scent-sation for your hair—with a fragrance that lasts up to four times longer than other scented shampoos.

Which would indicate that when it comes to being well tressed—it's hard to beat good old mother nature.

To receive your free sample packet of Clairol's Herbal Essence Shampoo, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Clairol, Inc., P.O. Box 981—A, Yonkers, N.Y. 10701. Offer limited to first two thousand.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Better Outlook For Paper

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., May 25, 1972—The paper industry has not done particularly well over the past couple of years because of sharply increased costs during a time of general economic sluggishness. After reaching a record 987 million in 1969, corporate earnings of paper and allied products firms slumped 27% to $719 million in 1970; this was followed by an additional drop-off of 20% last year. But the end of 1971 saw earnings pointing upward.

Under the influence of a strengthening economy and recent approval of price increases, earnings of paper concerns this year could show at least a modest advance over the 1971 level. For the long-range, the net of paper manufacturers should benefit supply-demand ratio expected to prevail within the industry in years to come, although the cost factors of pollution control and recycling equipment will restrict earnings to a degree.

Fewer New Mills Planned

In appraising future prospects for paper companies, the supply-demand relationship is a key consideration. In the past, new plant space has been added quite freely, bringing on periodic overcapacity which has resulted in a weak pricing structure in times of lessened demand. For the 1972-1974 span, paper companies plan to increase their production capacity only 1.6% annually for paper, 2.5% for paperboard. The limitation is traceable to the poor return on existing investment, heavy debt loads, a lack of attractive sites for new mills, and multiplying problems involving ecology.

This rate of growth will be the lowest for any three-year period since World War II. It compares with an average annual growth over the past sixteen years of 4.8% in capacity for paper and 3.8% for paperboard. Most of the upcoming expansion in capacity will be from additions to existing mills rather than from major new plants.

Higher Operating Ratio Expected

For more efficient operations and higher profits, a greater utilization level is essential. In 1969, a record year for profits, 94.3% of the industry's capacity was being used. But this ratio dropped to 90.7% in 1970 and 90.9% in 1971. As mentioned, a stronger economy means a greater demand for 1972, and fewer capacity additions should boost future profitability. Even then, in view of the heavy capacity added in recent years, oversupply may be a problem for some time to come.

New Uses For Paper

To counter the oversupply situation, the industry is seeking new uses for paper products. A big area here is disposable products, which could build a $1 billion market by 1980. Currently, the best hope for disposables is in textile-like, limited-life goods such as hospital bedding, gowns, masks, throw-away diapers, and wiping cloths. Producers are looking farther ahead toward a sizable recreation market to develop swimwear, outdoor clothing, sleeping bags, etc. Already in commercial production is low-cost, semi-permanent "paper" furniture, including end tables, chairs, music racks, and storage cubes.

Plastic-coated paper houses appear to be on the way. A sturdy, fire-resistant paperboard house capable of withstanding winds up to one hundred miles an hour and able to meet stiff building codes has already been developed. If the public accepts the concept of paper houses, a huge new market for paperboard could be opened up. If it really got rolling, chances are that this promising field could consume as much as 25% of all double-wall corrugated paper products.

The prices of most paper company equities probably already reflect at least partly the earnings improvement that is expected this year. But commitments can be retained on the basis of probable longer-term earnings progress. For purchase at this time, the Babson Staff recommends the speculative-grade common stock of St. Regis Paper Company, for appreciation and a well-supported dividend.

Folk Culture Center Opens For Season

Catocin Mountain Park's Folk Culture Center, a series of living history exhibits portraying Western Maryland mountain life of the pre-1850 era, will re-open May 27 for the 1972 visitor season, it was announced this week by Park Superintendent Frank Mentzer. Begun two years ago as an effort of the National Park Service of the Department of Interior to make America's National Parks more meaningful for our citizens, the Center has attracted the greatest visitation in the 36-year history of the Park.

Crafts demonstrated at the Catocin Mountain Folk Culture Center include blacksmithing, pottery throwing, carpentry, weaving and spinning, broom making, and the household crafts of candle and soap making, baking, quilting and the "vegetable patch". Craftsmen work in recreated interiors typical of their trades. This year the Center will be open every Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the Mondays of the Memorial Day, July 4 and Labor Day weekends. From Labor Day through October, the Center will be open Sundays only from noon to 5 p.m. Admission is free.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

What decision has been made by the Environmental Protection Agency in relation to the use of DDT? What about mercury pesticides?

A final EPA ruling on DDT is expected sometime in mid-June. Seven months of hearings were held on this insecticide and the Agency is now considering various evidence that has been submitted by the Department of Agriculture, industry, the Environmental Defense Fund and an environmental group that intervened in the case.

In relation to your other question, the EPA has stopped the interstate shipment of nearly all remaining pesticide products containing mercury. This suspension is the most drastic regulatory measure available to the Environmental Protection Agency and immediately halts all interstate commerce in these products on the grounds that their continued sale would constitute an imminent hazard to the public.

How do I go about getting on the regular U. S. Mint mailing list so that I can be notified of various government coin sales?

Send a post card to the Officer in Charge, U. S. Assay

Office, Numismatic Service, 50 Fell Street, San Francisco, California 94102, stating that you want to be included on the U. S. Mint mailing list.

How many non-resident fishing licenses are issued in Maryland each year?

Approximately 12,000 non-resident fishing licenses, tags, permits and stamps were issued in the State last year. This number represents 8% of the total fishing licenses issued in 1971. Department of Interior officials also inform me that 9,700 non-resident hunting licenses were granted in 1971, representing less than 4% of the total hunting licenses issued in Maryland.

My father worked in the mines for 45 years before he died of a "heart condition." Our family feels that this was an incorrect diagnosis and that my mother rightfully deserves black lung widow's benefits. Can you help me?

Based on your letter, and additional evidence, your mother's case was reconsidered by the Social Security Administration. As you are now aware the mistake has been corrected and she will be receiving $161 a month in widow's black lung benefits. Citizens experiencing similar difficulties receiving benefits justly due them should contact my office in Washington.

Two Saint Joseph College Graduates Go To Hospitals As Dietetic Interns

Sister Madeline Wheeler, chairman of the home economics department at St. Joseph College, has announced that two student dietitians graduating this month have been assigned hospital dietetic internships to start in October.

Miss Rosemarie Anne Hughes of Gloucester, N. J., will begin her internship at the New York Hospital, New York City.

Miss Patricia Ellen Kimble of Chestertown, Md., has been appointed to an internship at Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati. Appointments to dietetic internships are made after keen competition with dietetic students across the nation. For several years students seeking appointments have far exceeded the number of available positions. The successful completion of 9 to 12 months of specialized training is required before an intern is eligible for membership in the American Dietetics Association. Interns must also take an examination to qualify as professionally registered dietitians.

NO. 23,818 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND

MARVIN LEWIS EVANS
24 South Market Street
Frederick, Maryland
Vs.
LILLIAN M. EVANS
3124 Lyons Avenue
Norfolk, Virginia

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant Lillian M. Evans.

The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where he has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address was 3124 Lyons Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia; that the parties to this cause were married on the 7th day of April, 1960, at Pass Christian, Mississippi, by a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as result of said marriage one child was adopted, namely Skip Leroy Evans, seven years of age, who is presently in the care and custody of the Defendant, and your Complainant is contributing One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per month towards the support of said infant child; that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart without any cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, may be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Lillian M. Evans; and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

COURT ORDER
It is thereupon this 15th day of May, 1972, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of the Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks before the 17th day of June, 1972, commanding her to be and appear in this Court, in person, or by Solicitor, on or before the 18th day of July, 1972, and show cause, if any she has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

1973 Fiscal Year Md. Real Estate Tax Set At 21 Cents

The Board of Public Works has set the State Real Estate Tax Rate for the Fiscal Year 1973 at twenty-one cents (21c) per $100 of assessed valuation. The Board of Public Works is required by law to set the tax rate that will produce sufficient monies to pay the principal and annual interest rate on outstanding General Obligation Bonds which pledge the full faith and credit of the State of Maryland as they mature.

Maryland enjoys one of the best bond credit ratings in the Nation, namely, "AAA", and should do everything possible to maintain this excellent rating, and every consideration should be given by the General Assembly of Maryland before they authorize the issuance of additional bonds for capital improvements.

As of June 30, 1972, the outstanding bonds will be $876,176,000. The 1972 Session of the General Assembly authorized new issues of $474,583,400. These amounts added to the current authorized and unissued bonds of $556,730,906.86, brings the total authorized debt of the State of Maryland as of June 30, 1972 to $1,907,490,306.86.

Due to the increasing pressures to raise necessary funds through the sale of bonds for capital improvements, the annual rate of the Real and Personal Property Tax has been in an upward trend in recent years.

Mrs. Linda Rocco and Mrs. Rebecca Shorb from the Art Department of Catoctin High School, judged entries from grade 5 thru 8. The show was sponsored by preached by the Rev. H. Gerard Knoch, Jr., Assistant to the Chaplain of Gettysburg College. The title of his message was "My Name Is Timon", which was an autobiographical presentation. Chaplain Knoch dramatized the feelings and emotions of an imaginary young man of the first century who had left his Jewish home and family in his search for a meaningful faith. After coming to know Jesus Christ, his whole life and perspective was remarkably changed. He became a "new person" in Christ with new interests and with new goals.

A unique feature of the community worship was the "Lay-Witness" of two members of the Trinity - Tom's Creek Charge of the United Methodist Church of Emmitsburg. Both Mrs. Joyce Grindler of Trinity Church, and Donald Wantz of Tom's Creek Church, gave stirring personal testimonies of how their faith in Christ had transformed their lives. The Rev. Adrian S. Brown, Pastor of the United Methodist Charge of Emmitsburg, welcomed the crowd of worshippers, introduced the lay-witnesses, and received the offering of the evening which is to be placed in the treasury of the Council of Churches for its continued ministry of education, service, action, and worship for the residents of the greater Emmitsburg area. The "Sunrise Singers", a group of young people from the Emmitsburg Public Library, which is presently displaying some of the prize entries in their window.

The newly formed General Motors team of the Frederick-Carroll Fastpitch Softball League, added another win on Sunday by defeating the Thurmont Bombers 3-2. GM had 9 hits, Thurmont 3. Batteries included Jim Bentz and Bill Smith, GM; J. Bunte, R. Claubaugh, I. Dewees and D. Little for Thurmont. Support of local fans was appreciated by both teams. Next GM game will be May 28 in Frederick.

St. Joseph's Church, led the huge congregation in the singing of all of the moving folk-songs that were used during the service. Responsive Prayers of Intercession were led by the Rev. John C. Chatlos, Pastor of Incarnation United Church of Christ, imploring God's blessing in the community's effort to achieve Christian Unity. The worship experience was concluded with the benediction by Pastor Knoche, and the singing of the familiar congregational hymn "Crown Him with Many Crowns". The Sunrise Singers and Father Sannino led the congregation in the singing of two folk-tunes, "We Are One in the Spirit," and "Come Along", which served as the recession as the crowd of worshippers left the beautiful college chapel.

Most of the worshippers shared in the fellowship of a picnic supper which was served in the large gymnasium on the college campus a short distance from the chapel. Mrs. George J. Martin was in charge of the picnic meal. This unique service of Christian Unity and experience of true community fellowship at the picnic was planned and executed by the Worship Committee of the Emmitsburg Council of Churches. Mr. Charles E. Brauer is chairman and Mr. John Hollinger, Jr., is secretary of the committee. The programs for the service were printed by Mr. Robert Kosty, a student at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, at the Seminary print shop. Ushers were provided by each of the five congregations of the community, namely: St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Elias Lutheran Church, Trinity-Tom's Creek Charge of the United Methodist Church, the United Presbyterian Church, and Incarnation United Church of Christ.
