Most Anything At A Glance

By Abigail

Things are looking up in town! Early in the week the streets looked pretty crummy, but about mid-week the town crew went to work and shined up Main Street like nobody's business. At first glance one might think he was on Fifth Avenue right before the East-er Parade. I think it's great. If we do this every week we will all have something of which to be proud.

One or two stores on the square had sidewalks in the same crummy boat, but they sure are able to take a hint. Apparently the Town's example got them going and they swept all the trash from their sidewalks and even began to clean up spilled drinks. Most of the merchants on the square sweep their sidewalks every morning. It is too bad we have one or two who let it go for weeks at a time. Maybe this week's cleanliness will catch on and we can look forward to a neat, tidy square every morning.

Most folks will agree that Emmitsburg has narrow alleys. Now we have some helpful souls making them even more narrow. I wonder if the workmen who placed the new poles on South Alley ever had to attempt to pass another car while driving along the alley? You would think that common sense would lead them to place the new poles further away from the pavement than the old poles.

The Little League All-Stars took their lumps down in Thurmont Monday night. On well, who was it that said: "Wait 'till next year!"

One fellow in town was heard to say that he was glad that George McGovern didn't call up and ask for his support. He was afraid he would end up in the hospital just like Lyndon Johnson. McGovern won't put me away asking for my support, but I hate to think what will happen to all of us if he should happen to pull an upset in November.

It's too bad Scoop Jackson was not assigned the task of making the new rules for the Democratic Party convention. We might not only have had rules that make a little more sense, but also a candidate that even John Connally could support.

I must be getting old. I thought I was aware of most things going on or not going on in town but it just dawned on me that my uncle the contractor has not had a chance to bid on the new elementary school. I thought the plans were supposed to be out for bid in July and here it is almost the first of August. I wonder if that special school committee has gone to sleep again?

New Stamp On Sale At Post Office

A 15c commemorative stamp will be placed on sale at our office on Saturday, July 29, 1972.

The 15c Mt. McKinley Commemorative Stamp completes the series commemorating the 100th anniversary of the first national park—Yellowstone.

A Yellowstone stamp began the series and was followed by stamps for Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, City of Refuge, Hawaii, and the Wolf Trap Farm Park for the Performing Arts, in Virginia. All are administered by the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior.

Mt. McKinley, in south central Alaska, previously appeared on a stamp in the 1937 territorial series. At 20,320 feet, it is the highest spot in North America.

Airmail: the preferred service! When you consider that the world's biggest communications system—740,000 employees, 44,000 postal locations and multibillion-dollar plant—gives first preference every day in every way to moving airmail, the airmail letter is one of the world's biggest bargains.

A few minutes difference in making a transportation schedule, or in arriving at a carrier's station can make a whole day's difference in the delivery of a letter. Airmail service can—and very often does—make that difference.

Priests Honored By St. Joseph's Parish

Father Francis Stauble

In a double celebration on Friday, July 28, St. Joseph's Parish, Emmitsburg, will hold a reception in honor of two priests formerly attached to the parish. Father Francis Stauble, C.M., who has been both Associate Pastor and Assistant Pastor of St. Joseph's, is currently celebrating his 50th anniversary as a priest. Father Stauble served as pastor of the church from 1945 until 1951 and after a decade's absence, returned as Associate Pastor in 1962. He served in that capacity until September 1967 when he was transferred to St. Vincent's Seminary in Philadelphia, where he presently resides.

Friends of Father Stauble and Father Kuhn are cordially invited to attend the reception which will begin with Mass in the church at 7:30 p.m. The reception will be held in the grove adjoining the rectory.

Guests are asked to provide something suitable for serving as dessert. Beverage and tableware will be provided. Mrs. Donald Byard, chairman of arrangements, says that a brief program of entertainment has been planned.

Byron Releases Crime Survey Tally

Results of Rep. Goodloe Byron's crime survey were released today indicating a growing concern for law enforcement and crime prevention at the local level.

The in-depth survey was sent to Central and Western Maryland residents as a follow-up to an earlier questionnaire which had shown crime as the number one problem on the minds of 6th District citizens. Byron said the majority of respondents indicated that crime was a very real problem in their community and on the increase.

Delay in court trials, violence in books and movies, drugs and lack of support for police were mentioned most frequently as the key causes for the increase in the crime rate.

Constituent suggestions on ways to reduce crime included speedier court trials, punishment to fit the crime, capital punishment, enforcement of laws already on the books, more youth centers, a crack-down on drug pushers and more police.

Byron added that there was a general consensus among the respondents that laws are not the citizen. Last week he discussed preliminary results from the survey with local and county officials attending his district-wide Law Enforcement Conference.

A thank you letter was received from Joel Warthen of St. Joseph's High School who was selected to go on the European Travel Study Tour.

The president reported on the Stanley Party the Auxiliary sponsored on June 21. She thanked everyone who helped in any way.

The Installation of Officers for the coming year was then held. The installing officer was Past President Anna Bushman. Those officers installed were:

President, Carmen Topper; 1st Vice President, Virginia Sanders; Secretary, Lois Hartdagen; Treasurer, Melva Hardman; Historian, Charlotte Sanders, and Chaplain, Jessie Knipple.

The draw prize was won by Carmen Topper. Kathleen T. Shorb's name was called for the door prize but was not present.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned at 8:50 p.m. and the ladies joined the men of the Post at Kump's Dam for refreshments.

The Thurmont Little League All-Stars shellacked the Emmitsburg Stars 6-0 in a well fought game Monday night at the Thurmont park. Thurmont jumped off to a three run lead in the first inning on no hits. Emmitsburg errors throughout the game contributed to the additional runs scored.

Guy Baker Named P And Z Alternate

Guy A. Baker, Jr.

A special meeting of the Emmitsburg Planning and Zoning Commission was held Monday night at which a full time alternate to the commission was named and final approval given to the proposed subdivision regulations which will be the subject of a public hearing September 6.

Guy A. Baker, Jr., former town mayor and registrar of Mt. St. Mary's College, was named alternate who will serve full time for a year in the absence of Dr. Emile A. Nakhleh and part time after that to replace absent members. Nakhleh has received a Fulbright grant to conduct a research project in the far east.

The new regulations are modeled after those of Middletown. The Commission proposed a change in the portion dealing with water and sewer utility lines to keep the proposed Emmitsburg regulations consistent with current town ordinances.

The proposed regulations will be printed by the county printer and made available at the town office in about two weeks so that all citizens can study them before the September 6 hearing.

County Gets $5MM Flood Assistance

Governor Marvin Mandel announced Tuesday that Frederick County will receive an estimated $5,500,000 in Federal funds to repair roads and bridges damaged by tropical storm Agnes.

In addition, Point of Rocks will receive an estimated $50,000 for the same purpose.

The money will be used on roads and bridges that are part of the Federal highway system.

The relief funds were made available by the U. S. Department of Transportation (DOT) at Governor Mandel's request.

"These funds will greatly alleviate the severe financial strain imposed upon the state and its subdivisions by the storm," the governor said.

He noted that normally, the Federal Government pays 50 per cent of the cost of repairing federally-aided highway projects damaged during emergencies, although the Federal Highway Administrator may increase that aid up to 100 per cent.

Because of Governor Mandel's insistent urging, the Federal Government has agreed to pay the full 100 per cent in emergency relief funds.

The DOT has earmarked a total of $20 million for the state, and Frederick County received the largest single share.

BAUMGARDNER REUNION

The third Baumgardner Reunion for descendants and relatives of Moses Peter Baumgardner and Annie Stambaugh Baumgardner, will be held Sunday, August 20, at the Taneytown Memorial Park, beginning at 12:30 p.m. Each family is asked to bring a covered dish.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Grimes, Four Points Rd., Emmitsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dern of Taneytown, have returned from a visit to Cleveland, Ohio. While there they attended the Billy Graham Crusade, which attracted over 35,000 persons.

Silver Fancy Tours Antrim Estate

The Silver Fancy Garden Club of Emmitsburg-Taneytown met on July 20 at the home of Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner. After punch and cookies were served by the hostess, the group participated in a guided tour of Antrim led by its owner and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Crouse.

Built in 1844 by Major John McKale, and the former Taneytown home of the Claybaugh and Lamberton families, Antrim with its spacious tree-shaded trees, 17 rooms, wide central hall and winding staircase has long been a symbol of gracious living. The garden club is most grateful that Mr. Crouse will share his historic estate with the public by lending it as the setting for an afternoon of flowers and art, scheduled for September 9. At this time, local citizens are invited to exhibit art, crafts, and flowers and join with others interested in a tour of Antrim.

Mrs. Robert Clingan and Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, Co-Chairmen of the event, announced the following committees: Horticulture, Mrs. Simon Klosky and Mrs. Charles Smith; Flower arrangements, Mrs. John White, Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, and Mrs. A. A. Koswick; Crafts, Mrs. Vernon Keilholtz, Mrs. Keith Brown, and Mrs. Andrew Eyster; Art, Mrs. Hewitt MacPherson and Mrs. James Baumgardner; Scheduling, Mrs. Robert Clingan and Mrs. Theodore Fair; Refreshments, Mrs. John Zent, Mrs. A. D. Alexander, and Mrs. John Skiles; Tea Table, Mrs. Thomas Frailey; Publicity, Mrs. Kimbrough Hackman and Mrs. John Chenoweth.

During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Theodore Fair, Mrs. Simon Klosky of Civic Beautification, announced that her committee has purchased and planted five urns and five window boxes in Emmitsburg. She also read a gracious note of appreciation from the town.

The next meeting of the garden club will be held August 17 at Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown.

This should prove to be one of the best events of the summer so, "y'all come, now. Heah?"

Large Group Tours Scenic Gettysburg

On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, 36 members and friends of the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club boarded a bus and headed for Gettysburg to tour the Battlefield and visit several museums. First stop was Little Round Top where a young lady Ranger gave the group a vivid resume of the battle and pointed out the various stages of the three-day battle. The group then proceeded to the well-known Peace Light, where again they were informed of the origin, building and purpose of the memorial was explained.

It was then time for lunch to appease the inner man (and woman) and rest from intellectual affairs. Arrangements had been made by the Chairman of the Tour Committee, Mrs. Ethel Fuss, to patronize the Lamp Post Inn. However, the first and only "fly in the ointment" of the day occurred. The Lamp Post was expecting the crowd Wednesday, July 26! After frying in the sun for a time, the crowd was allowed to enter and partake of the delay meal.

The museums visited in the afternoon were: The Prince of Peace Museum; The Wax Museum; The Hall of Presidents.

The whole trip was most enjoyable and instructive and the day proved that weather can be endured—even in hot weather.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held Aug. 15, at 6:30 p.m. out at Kump's Dam Park. Bring eating utensils, if you wish. The committee assures that all else will be provided. Please indicate to either Coordinator Helen McNair or President LaRue Harman, if you plan to attend and how many in your group so that some estimate of the number for whom to be provided. Try to bring some one eligible for membership to augment the present roll.

Senator Mathias Introduces New Law To Prevent Federal Government From Snooping Into Private Bank Accounts

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., (R-Md.) this week said he will introduce legislation that would protect personal and corporate bank accounts from indiscriminate government snooping.

In a press conference at his office in the Federal Office Building, Baltimore, Senator Mathias said his legislation was necessary because of 1970 amendments to the Federal Deposit Insurance Act requiring banks and financial institutions to keep records of every check, draft, deposit, withdrawal and other financial transactions involving the bank and its customers.

Representatives of the American Civil Liberties Union and the Maryland Bankers Association, both of which support the Mathias bill, were present at the press conference.

"Present law requires that a bank must turn over its records to the Treasury Department at the department's request and make periodic reports on certain transactions even without a request from the Treasury Department," Senator Mathias said.

He added that the Treasury Department is permitted to give the bank's records to any other agency in the government. "What this means is that every agency in the Federal Government, including the IRS and the FBI can obtain a complete history of every citizen's financial dealings, no matter how small the amount or how private the purpose. The law makes the nation's financial institutions serve the government rather than their customers," Senator Mathias said.

Senator Mathias said the law was written to "bolster the government's ability to combat international organized crime and overcome the secrecy surrounding certain Swiss bank accounts. But, the power granted by this act extends far beyond the legitimate needs of the government in this field," the senator declared.

Senator Mathias said the regulations were scheduled to go into effect on July 1 of this year but have been delayed by court order.

He said his bill would guarantee "that a person's records contained in a financial institution are as secure from government surveillance as in a safe in the person's home and, secondly, would restrict the Treasury Department's power to require banks to maintain records to activities relating directly to international financial transactions."

The Mathias bill would require that a bank could disclose customer information only with the customers' consent or upon presentation of a court order.

It further stipulates that such an order must be served upon the customer and the institution at least 21 days before the records are to be turned over to the government which Senator Mathias said would give the customer time to challenge the order in court.

He pointed out that the bill contains civil and criminal penalties for any institution or individual who, knowingly and willfully, violates, or induces another to violate, the act.

The Mathias bill is entitled "The Citizens' Privacy Protection Act of 1972."

AAA Offers New Driving Yardstick

"Two, Twelve and Adjust." That's the name of a new "time measure" formula for maintaining a safe following distance being advocated by the AAA Automobile Club of Maryland.

Club President Harry E. Uhler said this week the old method of allowing at least one car length between your car and the car ahead for each 10 miles of speed just isn't practical—or easy—for the average motorist.

The new method not only helps the driver keep a proper following distance, but helps him maintain valuable visual lead time and allows him to correct the position of his car within the traffic pattern. And it eliminates tailgating, a dangerous practice that increases the chances of an accident.

Here's how Mr. Uhler explains the "Two, Twelve and Adjust" formula:

Following Distance. At the moment the vehicle ahead of years passed a fixed road mark such as a sign or pole, count "A thousand-one, A thousand-two." When this two-second count is completed, the point should be passing by the front of your car.

If it takes less than two seconds to reach the fixed point, you are following the car ahead too closely. In fog, rain or poor road conditions, drivers should add an extra second.

Adjust. A driver must be able to correct the position of his vehicle within the traffic pattern by accelerating, braking and steering. If the two- and twelve-second time rules are applied, these maneuvers can be made much more effectively.

The driver will not only be forewarned of unexpected events, but also will have more time to react to them by making adjustments in lane position, speed and following distance.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
Some Correll Family Graves
The sun be warm and kind to you,
The darkest night, some star shine through,
The dullest morn a radiance break,
And when dusk comes—God's hand to you."
Last week the column dealt mainly with the old Tom's Creek Lutheran and Reformed churchyard and the loss thru the years, due to time, vandals, and neglect, of many of the ancient gravemarkers and the better part of the "measured acre" originally purchased by the united congregations. Much of the early history of Emmitsburg, particularly that pertaining to the Maryland German element, can be included in this loss. At this late date, however, it appears to be rather useless to "cry over spilled milk."

Mrs. Carrie Fuss Long, as stated in last week's sketch, remembers a burial in old Tom's Creek burial ground—a member of the Sluss family—a son of Alice Jane, the daughter of John Sluss, who married John Quincy Correll. At one time there were a number of Correll family graves at old Tom's Creek and twenty years ago, more or less, there were five gravestones, pertaining to this clan, located close to the Sluss—Weant plot. They are included in a list of inscriptions made in 1948. The inscriptions follow:

1. In memory of Harry Taylor Correll, son of John Q. and A. J. Correll, died February 9, 1867, aged 5 months and 18 days.

Note: According to the records of Elias Lutheran church this little boy died on the thirteenth of February. Only a family record could give the correct time of death.

2. In memory of J. S. Cor-rell, born September 28, 1864, died October 10, 1904.

Note: Again referring to the Lutheran record—John Sluss Correll, son of John Q. and Alice Jane (Sluss) Correll, was born September 28, 1864. This being the case John Sluss died in the 40th year of his age. Family ties were strong and his body was returned to the old burial ground—where his maternal ancestors were interred—for burial.

3. In memory of S. O. Correll, born May 2, 1877, died November 9, 1900.

Note: There is no record of this member of the Sluss-Correll family in the Lutheran records at Taneytown or Emmitsburg. Apparently he or she was born after the family moved from the Emmitsburg vicinity. This may well be the grave of the young man whose funeral Mrs. Long remembers—although she had no knowledge that the grave was marked.

4. Sacred to the memory of Susanna Elizabeth Correll, daughter of John Q. and Alice Jane Correll, died November 11, 1863, aged 3 months and 6 days.

Note: According to the records this little girl was the second member of the Correll family to be interred at old Tom's Creek. Her baptismal record gave her name as "Susan Elizabeth" and the date of her christening as October 24, 1863—less than a month before her death.

5. In memory of William McClellan Correll, son of John Q. and A. J. Correll, died October 22, 1863, aged 1 year, 8 months, and 25 days.

Note: There is some reason to believe that William McClellan Correll was the first born of John Quincy and Alice Jane (Sluss) Correll. According to the church records he was born January 17, 1862. Less than a month's difference intervened between the death of this little boy and that of his sister, Susanna Elizabeth Correll. Evidently one of the contagious diseases, so common at that time, "carried off" both the children.

If any additional data pertaining to the Correll family should be found it will be included in this series.

While on the subject of the Sluss family it might be well to mention another marriage which eventually led to burial at old Tom's Creek with the ancestral dust.

The wife of David Weant was a member of the Sluss family. Located a bit north of the John Sluss plot at Tom's Creek churchyard are the graves of David and Lydia Ann Weant. The inscriptions follow:

6. In memory of David Weant, died April 30, 1888, aged 72 years. A member of Company E—7th Maryland Infantry.

6. In memory of Lydia Ann Weant, wife of David Weant, died March 27, 1883, aged 74 years, 10 months, and 26 days.

Note: It would appear that Lydia Ann Weant was a daughter of Captain Michael and Lucy Ann Sluss and a sister of John Sluss. This would make her an aunt of Alice Jane (Sluss) Correll. James A. Helman, in his "History of Emmitsburg" speaks of the Tom's Creek Lutheran and Reformed as being the only burial ground in the locality for a number of years—no others to the north, east or west and only "the one on the Close farm" to the south. This was later to be known as "the graveyard on the Carrie Dern farm." This was the Whitmore family burial ground and burials took place here as early as the latter part of the eighteenth century.

The data pertaining to the Whitmore family graveyard, on the "Carrie Dern farm", in the Tom's Creek District, will be continued in this series next week.

LOOKING AHEAD

Miami Beach Democratic Convention
Miami, Florida
When the Democratic National Convention adjourned here recently some observers who have watched the development of the "new Left" and the "new Politics" movements felt that the old socialism that has been foisted on most of the rest of the world in the last 55 years has now clearly captured a powerful political mechanism in America the "new" democratic party. The new leaders and much of the news media have christened the Miami Beach creation "the new democratic party."

Many Democratic Party leaders of recent years joined in the opinion that the "new" party is a creature of Socialism. Some spoke out. Others kept their alarm "off the record." Our National Education Program staff covered the convention as an accredited news organization. We saw the political and ideological "reformation" take place in the mammoth convention hall overlooking Biscayne Bay to the West and the Atlantic Ocean eastward. The "new" party was formulated under the irresistible pressure of a combination of largely "activists" forces mobilized by political strategists with great skill and apparent unlimited funds.

Senator George McGovern, a college professor by profession and a strident apostle of the socialism espoused by Henry Wallace in his communism-infested campaign for the presidency in 1948, came on as the attractive "man on horseback" who galvanized a majority of the convention's 3018 delegates. They gave him the "new" party's nomination for the most powerful political office in the world and accepted his socialist "reform" ideology.

This may seem to be a harsh appraisal of the happenings at Miami Beach; of the McGovern candidacy and the "new" party's substance; but many of the party's stalwarts who came to Miami Beach to fight the radical take-over openly subscribed to this judgement.

One of the most illustrious McGovern delegates, Dr. John Kenneth Galbraith, Harvard economist and architect of Keynesian fiscal policies under Democratic Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, said publicly, in effect, that candidate McGovern's economic philosophy is the Marxian — "from each according to his ability; to each according to his needs." Galbraith warmly endorsed the McGovern presidential primary promise to forcefully take from the earnings of the $8,000 to $20,000 income group in America (the middle income bracket) and use it to give per capita gifts of $1,000 annually and radically increased welfare grants to the "poor." We heard McGovern tell a "SDS" confrontation in the lobby of the Doral Hotel the night of his nomination that he had not changed any stand enunciated in his primary campaign.

We were present in a downtown Miami Beach hotel when Galbraith said that McGovern's radical economic program would require the force of government to take earned wealth from the big middle income group to finance his welfare and minimum income schemes. Galbraith admitted the $8,000 to $20,000 income earners would have to pay the bill because there was not enough taxable income among the rich. Galbraith approved of McGovern's schemes but said they did not go far enough. "Too conservative," he said.

George Meany, President of the AFL-CIO, who fought the McGovern steam roller said that the South Dakota Senator was not only too radical for the country but that he suspected him of being the well paid tool of powerful financial interests who could dominate an American brand of State Socialism.

Meany said: "Ten years ago he (McGovern) was broke. Now he's got a big house, expensive works of art, a swimming pool, a vacation house a big bank account . . . I wonder where he got it all. That would be something for somebody to look into, where he got it all." William Buckley, the conservative journalist and TV personality said McGovern's income is something over $100,000 a year. The multimillion dollar financial resources of the McGovern primary and convention campaigns were dramatically exposed when, on the conventions' opening day, McGovern's money-men contacted all major opponents and offered to pay off their considerable indebtedness if they would withdraw in favor of the McGovern candidacy.

Over most of the U. S. the mallard is the number one duck. But throughout the Atlantic Flyway, the black duck is king. Though it is far from the most numerous species, more blacks are killed there than any other. In the New England States, for instance, black ducks make up about 45 per cent of the kill. —Sports Afield.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

The Outdoor Leisure Market By Babson's Reports Inc. Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 27, 1972—Outlays for leisure activities have been expanding swiftly during recent years. Estimates place such spending at $105 billion for 1972 as compared with only $58 billion in 1965. In addition to the fact that Americans are energetic in their play as well as in their work, there are a number of factors responsible for the burgeoning of the leisure market in all parts of the country.

Personal income, for example, has advanced almost 50% in the past five years. This has occurred at the same time the workweek was shrinking for an increasingly large segment of the populace. More than 40 million workers are now entitled to vacations of three weeks. Increased spending on leisure activities has also been fostered by long weekends, more holidays, and the trend toward a four-day workweek. Another development is the improvement in pension plans and social security benefits, enabling more employees to retire at an earlier age.

Favorite Leisure Activities Outdoor activities favored by the U. S. population aged nine and up are reported by the U. S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. Figures reveal that the greatest share of people enjoy picnicking (49%) and swimming (46%). On down the list in terms of general popularity are participation in outdoor sports (36%), attending sports events (35%), fishing (29%), boating (24%), bicycling (22%), and camping (21%). Also gaining favor are nature walks, hunting, horseshoe riding, wildlife photography, and bird watching.

Over recent years there has been a definite trend toward "back to nature" types of recreation. One reflection of this is the enormous increase in the number of people visiting our national parks. The National Park Service this year anticipates a record-shattering 212 million visitors. Further evidence of mounting interest in the outdoors is the boom in production and sales of camping vehicles of all sorts. At the present time it is estimated that there are four million camping vehicles in this country, ranging all the way from $800 tent trailers to motor homes ranging as high as $25,000. If projections prove to be correct, the number of camping vehicles in the United States will have risen to 7.5 million by 1978.

Commercial Value Involved There is no question but that outdoor recreation is becoming increasingly important to the nation's economy. Spending on all types of goods and services related to outdoor recreation is taking a steadily larger portion of the consumer budget, and this upward trend appears destined to continue indefinitely. As a matter of fact, responsible estimates indicate that outlays for leisure-time activities will more than double during the decade of the 1970s.

American business is keenly aware of the growing economic impact of the leisure market. Companies currently engaged in manufacturing and marketing recreational products are numerous, and more may be expected to join the parade as the potential increases.

Firms In Leisure Field

At present, the Research Department of Babson's Reports recommends two "leisure-time" issues for purchase. First is Igloo Corporation common stock, traded on the American Stock Exchange. The firm is a major producer of plastic picnic chests and metal and plastic beverage coolers. For the current year, earnings are likely to surpass $1.30 a share as compared with $1.09 in 1971 and 62c in 1970.

Second is Outdoor Sports Industries common stock, also traded on the American Exchange. This company is favored because of its growing role as a manufacturer of horse riding equipment, camping and hiking goods, and sailing and marine equipment. Aided by acquisitions, company should be able to chalk up full-year 1972 results well above the 75c a share reported for last year.

Mason Supports Nixon Disaster Plan; Plugs Sixes Dam For Flood Control

State Senator Edward J. Mason today praised the President's $1.7 billion flood relief legislation, calling it the most far-reaching and generous federal aid for disaster relief ever proposed.

At the same time, Mason renewed his appeal for flood control measures to prevent further tragedies.

The President's bill, which was sent to Congress Monday, proposed outright grants of $5,000 for damages families may have sustained in the recent floods spawned by Hurricane Agnes. In cases where damage exceeded $5,000 President Nixon's measure proposes loans bearing a mere one per cent interest rate with a 30-year repayment period.

Under the present program, flood victims are awarded interest-free grants for damages of up to only $2,500, while interest rates on loans above that amount shoot up to five and one-quarter per cent, Sen. Mason said. "Under the President's bill, those whose properties were severely affected, or even wiped out by the flooding, will be able to afford to recover nearly all, if not everything, they lost."

Mason, Republican nominee for Congress from the Sixth District, also urged inclusion of flood control capabilities in the proposed Sixes Bridge dam and reservoir on the Monocacy River to go along with the emergency aid.

"The responsibility of averting a similar disaster on the Monocacy in Carroll and Frederick Counties lies with the Senate subcommittee on flood controls, rivers and harbors," the Western Maryland Senator declared. "The Public Works bill as passed by the

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

In what way will the new black lung law aid area miners?

The new law extends benefits to orphans of miners and it eliminated the chest x-ray as the sole basis for denial of a black lung claim. It also generally eases the current and severe eligibility requirements established by the older law. The importance of this measure to our district cannot be emphasized enough. In Allegany and Garrett Counties, during the past 18 months, more than 1200 miners or their widows were turned down for black lung benefits—some because of the stringent requirements.

Will your disaster relief bill cover damages caused by Hurricane Agnes?

If the proposed measure reaches the floor of the House and is passed by Congress, it will be retroactive to June 1, 1972, thereby relieving the financial burden caused by the Agnes flood damage.

What is the difference between Medicaid and Medicare?

Your question can best be answered by reading the simple and informative HEW booklet "Medicaid and Medicare—Which is Which". Copies are available from my office in Washington.

ies are available from my office in Washington.

When is the government going to crack down on highly flammable children's pajamas?

The Commerce Department is currently developing new flammability standards for sleepwear worn by young children. Commerce officials say that the most frequent victims of fires involving sleepwear are between the ages of 1 and 12. The new standards would bar from the market any children's pajamas, nightgowns, or robes that do not pass flame-retardancy tests established by the government.

My husband passed away about 8 months ago and since that time I've tried and been unable to receive my social security widow's pension. Is there anything you can do?

Social Security officials were contacted on your matter and as you know a monthly check is now on its way to you. Also, a retroactive check for the past 6 months will arrive in the mail in the next week or two. Citizens experiencing similar difficulties in receiving Social Security benefits justly due them should contact my office in Washington for assistance.

Cigarette Revenues Top $14 Million

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein this week announced the mailing of checks totaling $4,039,507.19 to Baltimore City and the twenty-three counties of Maryland. "These checks represent the local governments' share of the cigarette tax revenues for the fourth quarter of fiscal year 1972," the Comptroller explained.

Distribution for the entire fiscal year ended June 30, amounted to $14,883,546.30 according to Mr. Goldstein. This compares with a distribution of $13,964,113.14 for fiscal year 1971.

Frederick County received $312,370.67 for the 1972 fiscal year.
