A few folks were complaining about the dust rising on the sand-blasting going on around town. A trip down Main Street makes me feel the aggravation was worth the results. Noticed several houses being painted and spruced up. There's even fresh red paint on curbs and fire hydrants here and there. All this painting and cleaning is making the ole town look pretty good.

The Fireman's Fund Drive is rolling along but remains about $900 short of its goal. Looks like it may be possible to pass that $7,500 total! Now that will be a mighty fine way to show these fellows how we appreciate them and the work they are doing.

I hear that planning for the Boy Scout Camporee is moving along. Seems to me this is one of the activities we should all support. These youngsters are not only keeping out of trouble, but are pretty good about lending a willing hand anytime it's needed.

Maybe we won't sleep through the convention next week after all. Looks like there are planning a little action if only to keep the voters' attention. They might be able to top the McGovern-Eagleston affair but it'll take some doing.

Couple of stores on the square went out of business rather suddenly. Could be that there wasn't a big enough market in town for their goods.

One of the local fellows asked me if I realized that Emmitsburg was the home of the world's longest bridge? He went on to say that the new overpass must hold the record for taking the longest time to build. I'll have to check on that. Now that it's finished it is certainly safer than the intersection was—once you figure out how to get to where you're going, that is.

I can almost hear the North Vietnamese chuckling to themselves about the ease with which they have been able to get visiting dignitaries from the United States to support their propaganda positions. It is even possible to understand how an individual with Jane Fonda's worldly experience might be taken in but one wonders at the performance of Ramsey Clark. If he used no more common sense in his job as Attorney General than he has used in his escorted trips through the rice paddies it is no wonder that organized crime could call its own shots a few years ago.

At the beginning of the world chess tournament I thought Bobby Fischer was acting like a spoiled brat. However, events have indicated that he apparently had ulterior motives. Spassky's less than championship performance so far indicates the Russian may have been psyched out by the antics of the youngster from Brooklyn. Bobby's talents should not be limited to table games. When computers take over the world chess competition, I suggest we put him on the SALT negotiating team or send him along with the President to cook up the next deal with the Russians.

Summer Reading Club Ends Aug. 19

The Summer Reading Club that has been under way at the local library has been gaining momentum daily. With children's books as prizes and a watermelon party in the offing, who wouldn't want to finish his reading requirements.

The books chosen this year as prizes are: Curious George by Margaret and H. A. Rey. A delightful story of a monkey who swallows a piece of wooden puzzle and his trip to the hospital. This book will be given to the child in the Grade 1-2, who has read the most books.

The Little House in the Big Woods, by Laura Wilder, is the prize for 3 and 4 grades. The Guinness Book of World Records for 71-72, is the book prize for 5-6 grades. These books are only paperback but the library feels they give some incentive to read more books.

Fifty-three children are registered in this Summer Club and we hope more than last year will complete the requirements for a reading club certificate. If your child belongs to the club and has not yet completed the eight books, you may encourage him to try to finish by the August 19th deadline! The watermelon party will be held on Aug. 25, at 1:00 p.m. in the back of the library. We hope to have a special story hour for the children. Mark the date and plan to have your child attend.

Umbel-Clarke Vows Solemnized With Mass At Mount Saint Mary's College

Mrs. Paul A. Clarke

At a nuptial mass at Mount Saint Mary's College Chapel in Emmitsburg, Miss Carolyn Umbel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur T. Umbel of Emmitsburg, became the bride of Dr. Paul A. Clarke of Fairmont, West Virginia, on August 5. Dr. Clarke is the son of Mrs. Charles Clarke of Baltimore and the late Mr. Clarke.

Msgr. Hugh Phillips officiated at the double ring ceremony at an altar decorated with daisies, delphiniums, stephanotis and English ivy. Assisting at the service were Pat Clarke and David Clarke, nephews of the groom. Mrs. Carolyn Eyer was the organist and Mrs. Reginald Zepf sang "Treat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "Father in Heaven," by Charles Gounod.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor length gown of silk organza with an empire waist, wedding ring collar, bishop sleeves, and an attached train. The cuffs, neckline, yoke to hemline panel, and bordered hemline were trimmed in alencon lace, and her illusion veil was attached to a headpiece of matching alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried her childhood communion bible decorated with streamers of stephanotis and English ivy.

Mrs. Ruth Clarke, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. Attired in a gown of white dotted swiss over ice blue taffeta with an empire waist and high neckline, Mrs. Clarke carried a cascade of daisies, delphiniums, stephanotis, and English ivy and wore a crown of daisies in her hair. Miss Abby Umbel, niece of the bride, was her flower girl. Her gown and headpiece were similar to those of the matron of honor and she carried a colonial bouquet of the same flowers.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom at Fitzgerald's Shamrock Restaurant in Thurmont. Kevin Clarke, the groom's son, was his best man, and Mark Clarke, another son, was ringbearer. Ushers were Clarence Umbel, brother of the bride, and Bill Clarke, nephew of the groom.

Sr. Citizens Club Picnics At Dam

The picnic for the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club has come and gone and what a picnic it was! Tuesday evening, August 15, the weather was perfect, the picnic grounds at Kump's Dam Park were delightful and the eats were out of this world. Provided by the VFW for the occasion, the barbecued chicken was done to a turn with the accompaniment of baked beans, slaw, pickles, cheese and crackers, coffee or iced tea, the meal was fit for a king.

The group for the VFW who engineered the affair are to be thanked and complimented on their kind deed to the club—Tom Saylor, Jake Portner, Jack Ott, Dan Topper, Allen Bouey and Lloyd Fitez. It is devoutly hoped that the event may become an annual affair.

Article By MSM's Riordan Appears In National Publication

An article on "Financing a Higher Education", by Lawrence J. Riordan, Director of Admissions at Mount Saint Mary's College, has been reprinted in the July issue of the national periodical, "Catholic Digest." The article appeared earlier in the year in the Catholic School Guide, a reference for high school and college counselors. The article is devoted to an examination of how financial aid is generally distributed and covers such topics as scholarships, loans, grants, and work-study programs. Mr. Riordan, a recognized authority on the management of both financial aid and admissions programs, joined the administrative staff of Mount Saint Mary's last year, when the college's Board of Trustees adopted the Mount's co-educational policy. Until then, he had served in those areas for twelve years. From 1968 to 1970, he was one of 15 financial aid officers from schools all over the country chosen to sit on the prestigious National Merit Scholarship Committee, which annually selects from over 14,000 applications the 1,000 recipients of National Merit Scholarships. He has similarly served on the Massachusetts State Scholarship Selection Committee. In 1966 he served with the College Scholarship Service in behalf of the U. S. Office of Education, as a member of the select team that advised financial aid officers across the nation on the provisions of the Higher Education Act of 1965. Until last year, he had also served as a special financial aid consultant for four east coast colleges. The 34-year-old native of Worcester, Mass., lives with his wife Helen, and three sons near Gettysburg, Pa.

County Receives Project Money

The Frederick County Board of Education is getting $3,219,149 from the State Inter-Agency Committee for School Construction, County Superintendent Dr. John L. Carnochan disclosed Tuesday. This sum is a portion of a total $9,326,340 appropriated for Frederick County school projects in the 1972 fiscal year. Carnochan explained that the state advances money to the counties to start their projects, and reimburses each county board as it pays its bills, Frederick County, like the rest of the counties in Maryland, had several million left to draw from the 1972 appropriation because school construction projects "haven't moved as fast as we anticipated," he added. One delay came in getting a state ruling on prevailing wages for school construction, he said. The bulk of the new money will go toward the new Linganore High School, which is nearest to completion, Carnochan said, but other 1972 projects — the new Middletown High School and the improvements and additions to the South Frederick Elementary School — will also get funds. The state usually advances more money than the county needs, Carnochan added, enabling the board to invest the balance, which draws interest to accrue to school construction. (Continued on page 7)

The Newest
You
BY ANN D. ALLEN

The newest you can go happily through life — as slim, beautiful and well groomed as can be. And it's easier than you think!
Let's talk about you—hair and skin care, make-up, fashion and exercise. Don't you need help in at least one area? The first consideration, of course, is your figure, slim and trim but healthy. The skinny, bony, model look is as outdated as the sack dress that covered up too many pounds.
Dieting is easier than you think. Forget the fads—the water diet, the grapefruit diet and the starvation diet. Simply cut down on calories by eating the foods you need for optimum health. And push yourself away from the table before you're full!
Remember, a good diet is well balanced and low in calories. Say "no" to the sweets and the extra piece of bread. If you'd rather, eat everything you eat now but only half a portion of each.
Plan menus using the Basic 4 Food Groups as your guide. Drink two glasses of milk each day or use it in cooking. Your body cells replace themselves at a rate of three billion per minute with a process called mitosis. Milk will supply calcium, protein, riboflavin and vitamin A, needed by everyone, especially the dieter.
Don't cheat. Try eating several small meals each day rather than three large ones. You won't be hungry; you'll be eating fewer calories, and you'll watch yourself grow slim.

Perspectives In Learning By Hazel Brown

Planning A Homework Schedule

Summer for some parents and their children has been a time of relaxing from a daily schedule and forgetting the concerns of school, homework and studying. But the days are quickly flying by, and school days will be with us again in just a few weeks.

Why not plan ahead for fall by making some commitments for improving the learning environment in your home?

A concerned parent will want to help his child to develop a system for managing time so that all necessary activities can be performed without making any one activity become a drudge or source of argument and concern.

Parents must be the guide but not necessarily the dictator for scheduling the child's time. A healthy time budget should include: homework, hobbies, school activities, sports, social activities, family chores, mealtime, adequate sleep and the time to 'waste'. Everyone needs some time which is his own to do with as he pleases. A schedule which uses every minute can be very difficult to keep and remain emotionally stable.

The schedule which is established should be followed whenever possible but must be flexible. There are times when a child needs a "break" from practicing the piano. Perhaps he wants to use that time to explore, experiment, or just find himself.

When scheduling time, remember that the attention span of a child is not as long as yours. Ten or fifteen minutes is quite a long time for a young child to work on a single task. Varying the activities so that restlessness does not occur will bring better results in the end.

If your child has a favorite TV show on Wednesday evening at 7:00, he should be allowed to watch it and then go back to his studies. Using a child's pleasure as a weapon or punishment to make him study, can be very harmful and gets very little positive results.

Encourage your child to spend some time outdoors after he comes home from school. The fresh air and activity are essential for good physical health and an alert mind. The long school day, tiring bus ride, and the tension which builds up can be reduced greatly if the child rides his bicycle, plays ball or roller skates. Just a walk to the grocery store can be a diversion before sitting down to a TV or studying.

If a parent helps his child to manage time properly, the results will be longlasting. The child will learn from a growing awareness of the value of managing time but not from a rigid schedule and constant nagging. He will need support and reminders but not threats and punishments. If he sees that he can do all the things he likes and still get his homework done, what a learning experience!

All it takes is a little pre-planning and some cooperative discussions. If your child is involved in the formulation of the schedule, he will recognize it's merit and will be more willing to cooperate.

So, sit down with your child, find out what his needs are and then insert the essentials. You'll come up with a variety of activities which include what you both feel is necessary for success and happiness. Wouldn't that be bet-

Byron Opposed To Amnesty Bill Now

Congressional legislation granting general amnesty to draft deserters is premature and should not be considered until the end of the war in Southeast Asia, Rep. Goodloe Byron said Tuesday.

"Several bills have been introduced to grant amnesty for draft deserters but it seems quite premature and hasty to act on this legislation right now with American GI's daily risking their lives in Vietnam," he said.

"I am aware that after every war our nation has afforded the opportunity to consider amnesty to draft violators, but it is hardly fair and just under the circumstances."

"I believe each amnesty case should be reviewed on an individual basis but not until the war is over," Byron said.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias
U.S. Senator

Prison Reform

The recent wave of prison disturbances in Maryland serve as one more reminder of the urgent need to reform prison systems in the United States.

These disturbances indicate that we must learn to wage the war on crime not only in the streets but also in our prisons. We can rehabilitate prison inmates or choose to isolate them from society. I suggest that rehabilitation is the best and only choice for the taxpayer, the prisoner and the future of our penal system.

The need to make our nation's prisons and jails effective, productive institutions is further pointed out by Census Bureau figures which indicate that 52 per cent of prison inmates are awaiting trial and have not been convicted of a crime.

Most prisons today are schools for crime, not schools of rehabilitation. Those who enter inevitably come out more depraved. Prisons are producing homosexuals, revolutionaries and hardened criminals. We ask ourselves "why" but continue to toss juvenile offenders into cells with adult offenders. Each prisoner has individual problems and those problems must be treated if he is to benefit from his prison experience.

Despite the $1.5 billion spent per year on the American penal system we still find that in some jurisdictions, almost 80 per cent of prison inmates enter and re-enter the revolving doors of arrest, trial, prison, release and re-arrest. The very institution we have chosen to prevent crime and create a safer society has become the means to make the offender more sophisticated and dangerous. Prisoners are bitter for they are the uneducated, the unemployed, the minorities of America. In Maryland, 70 per cent of prison inmates are black and almost the same percentage come from the inner city. We must take the opportunity to improve the education of prison inmates and give them the means to make a living on the outside while they are inside prison walls. Otherwise, as figures show, we will continue to see the same faces processed through the law enforcement system again and again.

The economics and common sense of corrections demand that we spend more money on vocational rehabilitation and correctional staff. During the riots, we heard the cries from the prisons, the anger and frustration of prisoners and guards alike. The system which we have created to reduce crime is, instead, becoming the means of multiplying it.

The billions of dollars invested in the corrections system has, so far, been a bad investment. The public has a right to say "stop."

Several months ago, I introduced legislation that seeks to reform the entire administration of criminal justice in the United States. A large section of that legislation is devoted to reorganizing prisons and reformatories.

The bill creates a National Advisory Commission on correctional standards which would establish national minimum standards of policy for the treatment of all inmates during their incarceration in either state or federal prisons. If we are to get what we need out of our correction efforts—the rehabilitation of inmates—we are going to have to commit the time, energy and money now.

SECURITY CHECK

Security guard Paul Richardson couldn't keep his surprise in check when the "valuable artwork" he was protecting in Philadelphia's Warwick Hotel turned out to be a $7,000 check made payable to him by American Holiday Association. Richardson, of northeast Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, earned the six-foot long check by winning First Prize in American Holiday Association's Early Bird Contest. Every month, another AHA contestant is added to the list of surprised winners of the world's largest puzzle-solving contest.

NEWS OF ECOLOGY

NEW FORCE FOR CLEANER ENVIRONMENT

Money doesn't grow on trees, but what investors do with it now has plenty to do with protecting the environment for trees and other growing things. For the balance of nature is directly related to the ways one major bank has developed new criteria for a balanced policy in the investment of pension and other trust funds.

The First National City Bank is interested in how companies are responding to environmental issues, to the consumer movement and to pressure for social reform.

"As a trustee of other peoples' money, our consideration of these factors is principally economic," said a spokesman for the bank. "For example, a company with otherwise attractive earnings that lags behind competitors in meeting environmental obligations will eventually have to face the economic cost of those responsibilities."

As a result, "another company whose reported earnings are currently less impressive but whose environmental efforts are extensive might be a better investment."

The group's top officers added that awareness of a company's sensitivity to its corporate responsibility extends to proxy voting and decisions on voting for or against controversial proposals before shareholders.

When it comes to taking stock in a cleaner environment, FNCB is interested in "the green stuff" in more ways than one.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Drug Stocks—Are They Too High?
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass. — Many leading drug stocks are currently priced near their all-time highs and several are selling at what appears to be inflated price/earnings ratios. Investors are wondering if the drug stocks are particularly vulnerable to decline or if there is still considerable growth ahead. Naturally, the problem arises as to whether profits should be taken in this group, purchases avoided.

Not All Alike
When looking over the issues of the numerous companies making up the domestic drug industry, it may be seen that there is a wide variance in price/earnings ratios of the leading firms. For example, based on expected per-share profits this year, the stock of Schering-Plough recently sold at a generous 42 times earnings while Johnson & Johnson sold at a high 54 times. In view of their exceptional records and promising prospects these issues customarily command premium prices.

On the other hand, the stocks of such firms as Pfizer, Smith Kline & French, Morton Norwich, Rorer-Amchem, and several others are priced at much lower levels relative to anticipated earnings. Further Gains Probable

The very rapid growth of the drug industry during the late 1950s and early-to-mid-1960s has slowed somewhat. But even at the less intensive pace, sales and earnings and profit margins compare favorably with most other lines. The drug group also has a good defensive record.

Overall profits this year, aided by the stronger economy and high sales from overseas operations, are likely to improve by at least 10% over those of 1971. Additional gains are expected in subsequent years as the industry benefits from continued strong worldwide demand for established ethical and pharmaceutical drugs as well as for newer compounds currently in experimental or testing stages. Increased emphasis by the government on health-care spending represents an additional plus factor in the drug field. Hold Them All

In view of the still favorable outlook for the foremost drug companies, the Research Department of Babson's Reports is recommending that investors continue to hold such issues for further long-range increases. This advice applies to such well-known companies as Abbott Laboratories, American Home Products, Bristol-Myers, Johnson & Johnson, Eli Lilly, Merck, Morton-Norwich, Pfizer, Richardson-Merrell, Rorer-Tmchem, Schering-Plough, G. D. Searle, Smith Kline & French, Sterling Drug, Syntex, Upjohn, and Warner-Lambert.

Some For Purchase
As for attractive purchases, Babson's Research Department currently favors the common stocks of Morton-Norwich and Pfizer for long-term growth. Income-oriented investors should, of course, avoid these two as well as other drug issues because the yields on stocks in this industrial segment are almost universally low.

Pfizer has a fine progress record. A leading drug firm, it has recorded consecutive sales peaks for 22 years, and another now high seems assured for this year. Earnings gains have also been consistent except for a dip in 1967. Last year's profits were $1.38 a share, should reach $1.55 this year. Pfizer gets about one-half its sales from the U. S. and the rest from abroad. The conservative-grade stock is an attractive growth candidate, in the opinion of Babson's Reports.

Morton-Norwich's progress has been restricted in recent years by price cutting on two of its important drug products, plus difficulties with its salt operations. But this year earnings are likely to show good improvement, possibly up to the $1.85-per-share range from 1971's $1.35. Its product line includes Pepto-Bismol, Unguentine, Morton Salt, Fantastik, Simoniz, and Janitor in a Drum. The conservative-grade stock is regarded as a good "comeback" candidate.

WASHINGTON REPORT

FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR.

Ending the War

The Senate has just completed action on the military procurement bill to provide funds for the equipment that is needed to keep our armed forces modern, ready and equipped to do a job that we hope they will not have to do.

The major issue of debate was the so-called "end the war" amendment which passed by a margin of 49-47. Amendments of this type are very important, but I believe they are also very misleading because I think it is unfair to say they will end the war in Vietnam.

It is a tantalizing proposition to think that by voting in Congress we will be able to end the war in Southeast Asia. I am sure we all want to end our involvement in that conflict, but I am just as certain that no resolution passed in the Congress of the United States can end that war.

The fatal flaw which these proposals ignore is the fact that an end to the war requires a cessation of hostilities by both sides. Although we are withdrawing our forces from that part of the world, there is no assurance that this war between North and South Vietnam can or will be ended in the near future.

There is some hope that the talks that are taking place in Paris will lead to a cease-fire, cessation of hostilities and settlement of the conflict in Southeast Asia, but don't believe that legislation to end the war is helping these negotiations.

When I took my seat in Congress in 1969, we had been involved in Southeast Asia for quite a number of years. There were 540,000 American fighting men in

NEW HEALTH FOOD DIET FOR YOUR SKIN

Remember Mother Nature — the lady who knew how to nourish us right from the start? Now Charles Revson, the man who knows how to make us beautiful, is collaborating with her on a great new way to nourish the face and body, from the skin in.

Top model and actress Lauren Hutton mixes pure honey with 100% fat-free skim milk, two important ingredients in Ultima II's Skim Milk Collection.

Two years of intensive research into the skin care properties of natural organic substances led Mr. Revson to the discovery of a unique skin beautifier — skim milk. Under his direction, the famed Revlon Research Center was able to obtain totally greaseless skim milk that was 100% free of fat — an achievement not yet matched in any other cosmetic milk product.

"I believe I've tapped a remarkable new natural resource for skin care — 100% fat-free skim milk," says Mr. Revson. "My collection offers a way to provide vital protein for the skin, by direct application." Into Revson's Skim Milk Collection for Ultima II goes a host of natural organic elements — from pure honey, nature's best-known moisturizer, to peach kernel, grape-seed, safflower, coconut and sesame oils (a beauty secret of Cleopatra and reportedly one of the most coveted wrinkle removers of all time). All are greaseless substances from living nature that can penetrate the surface of the skin to deep-nourish it.

The Skim Milk pamperers come in two regimens — one for oily, one for normal to dry skin — providing cleansers, toners, moisturizers and a protein-packed refining masque to effectively retexture the skin in 10 minutes. Ultima's Skim Milk Collection of health foods for the face and body just might help your skin look as wholesome as your great-grandmother's did when the world was clean and people followed natural inclinations.

It is true that no loss of life is acceptable, but the fact also is that we are getting out. It is my opinion that the President can work best to conclude the American involvement in this struggle if he is free of the restrictions an "end the war" amendment seeks to impose.

I believe that most of the Congress recognizes that President Nixon has followed a successful policy of disengagement, and I think the Congress should be strongly supporting the President in his effort to reach an agreement at the negotiating table in Paris.

The Washington Post has frequently editorialized against the President's Vietnam policy, but on this issue even the Post agreed that such an amendment would be "bringing Congress into the act not only far too late in the day, but in a way which would threaten to undermine or even scuttle the Paris negotiating process which, whatever its promise, is now so clearly underway."

The debate in Congress can only confuse the thinking of negotiators on the other side. There is now a possibility to put an end to these long hostilities, and at such a time the President deserves the full support of the Congress.

The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A V I N C U L O M A T R I M O N I I from the Defendant, Joseph Lee Harrison.

The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of the State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address was Route 2, Waynesboro, Pennsylvania; that the parties to this cause were married on the 29th day of November, 1970, at Hagerstown, Maryland, by Rev. William Bealle, a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of said marriage no children were born; that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart without any cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, may be di-

Why Americans own $54,000,000,000 worth of U.S. Savings Bonds.

One good reason is the Payroll Savings Plan. About three-fourths of all Bonds are purchased through the Plan. It's helping Americans save more money than they ever dreamed they could.

That's because the Payroll Savings Plan is such an easy way to save. All you do is sign up where you work and the amount you specify is set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's the easy way to build a nest egg.

You've got your reasons to save money. There's one great way to do it painlessly. Join the millions who are buying Bonds the Payroll Savings Way.

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

What is being done about improving our nation's recreation facilities?

Your question can best be answered by ordering the latest "Outdoor Recreation Research" catalog which is available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. This annual reference catalog is prepared by the Smithsonian Institution and digests more than 400 research projects on outdoor recreation resources, economics and participations that were active or completed in 1970. The compilation is designed to assist scientists, administrators, planners and students by facilitating the exchange of information in outdoor recreation and related environmental quality research. It is indexed by subject, investigator, contracting agency and supporting agency.

How does your bill on the National Service Plan effect military requirements?

Under the proposed measure all young men would serve their country for one year selecting from a variety of jobs including soldier, teacher, hospital worker, conservationist and so on. During periods when the need for armed forces exceeds the volunteer supply the system would have the flexibility of a lottery to meet personnel requirements.

Under the new law, will my black lung benefits be reduced if I also receive workmen's compensation benefits?

Yes. The new law still requires a reduction of black lung benefits for a miner or widow, and for a child, parent, brother or sister getting state workmen's compensation, unemployment or disability benefits because of the miner's disability. Your Federal black lung benefits will be reduced by an amount equal to the state benefits.

Three months ago I transferred colleges and since that time I have not received my usual VA educational benefits check. Would you please look into this for me?

As a result of your phone call my office contacted the Veterans Administration in Baltimore. Your educational assistance allowance was inadvertently held up because of the transfer of your records. As you are now aware a special payment was immediately authorized and a retroactive check for $486 sent you. Subsequent checks will be at the rate of $243 monthly providing the status of your training remains unchanged. Citizens experiencing similar difficulties in receiving VA benefits justly due them should contact my office in Washington for assistance.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this Bill is that the court may take jurisdiction in the premises and enter a Decree removing the cloud upon the title of the Complainant and that the Court shall declare that the Complainant has a good and marketable fee simple title to the property described in the Bill of Complaint, and may sell or convey or otherwise deal with said property without regard to the claims of the unknown heirs, devisees, personal representatives, descendants or successors in interest of Outerbridge Horsey, Anna Carroll Horsey, Ann Caroline Horsey, Elizabeth Lee Horsey, Thomas S. Lee Horsey and Charles Carroll Lee Horsey, deceased.

That the said, Sarah Jane Gordon, widow, your Complainant, herein, is the owner of a tract or parcel of real estate situate, lying and being in Burkittsville Election District, Frederick County, Maryland, and being more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at the southwest corner of Alexander McDades land and running thence with the lands of James Weddels S. 35 1/2° W. 19.9 perches to a stone, thence running with the land of Tobias Horine S. 70 1/2° E. 21.1 perches to a division line between the lot and the land of Joshua Ahalt N. 48° E. 16 perches to a corner of the above named Alexander McDades lot and with said Lot N. 59° W. 24.6 perches to the place of beginning, containing 2 acres, 1 rod, and 35 perches of land, more or less.

Said tract or parcel of land being all of Parcel 1 described and conveyed in a Deed from George V. Arnold and M. Portia Arnold, his wife, to Columbus Gordon and Sarah Jane Gordon, his wife, (the said Columbus Gordon having predeceased your Complainant and title having vested in your Complainant), dated October 7, 1946 and recorded in Liber 457, Folio 285, one of the Land Records of Frederick County, Maryland, the original copy of which Deed being filed herewith and being marked Plaintiffs "Exhibit 1", and prayed to be taken as a part hereof.

That said tract or parcel of real estate which is the subject of these proceedings is the same as Parcel 1 of the land described and conveyed in a Deed from Guy Anders, Sheriff, to George V. Arnold and M. Portia Arnold, his wife, dated March 16, 1942 and recorded in Liber 434, Folio 56, one of the Land Records of Frederick County, Maryland, a certified copy of said deed being filed herewith and marked Plaintiffs "Exhibit 2" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof.

That said tract or parcel of real state which is the subject of these proceedings is the same tract or parcel of land involved in Land Judicial Sales Docket No. E.G.H. 6, Folio 175, in which the said Guy Anders, Sheriff of Frederick County sold the interest of James F. Gordon, Columbus Gordon and George Michael Gordon, heirs of Charity Gordon, at public sale, said proceedings being filed herewith and marked Plaintiffs "Exhibit 3" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof.

That said tract or parcel of real estate which is the subject of these proceedings is the same tract or parcel described and conveyed in a Deed from Eliza Morris to Charity Gordon, dated November 22, 1909, and recorded in Liber H.W.B. 294, Folio 300, one of the aforesaid Land Records, said deed being filed herewith and being marked Plaintiffs "Exhibit 4" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof.

That said tract or parcel of real estate which is the subject of these proceedings is the same tract or parcel of land described and conveyed in a Deed from William H. Cromwell, Sheriff, to Outerbridge Horsey, dated July 23, 1892, and recorded in Liber J.L.J. 1, Folio 739, one of the aforesaid Land Records, said deed being filed herewith and marked Plaintiffs "Exhibit 5", and prayed to be taken as a part hereof.

That as can be seen by the aforesaid Exhibit 5 the said Eliza Morris had lived on said property since 1871 and continued to live on said land and have possession of said land uninterruptedly until November 22, 1909, when she conveyed said property to Charity Gordon as set forth in Exhibit 4.

That the said Charity Gordon, maintained possession of the aforesaid described tract until the time of her death of approximately 1932. The sons of the said Charity Gordon, aforesaid, maintained possession of said property and lived on said property until approximately 1942 when the said property was purchased by the aforesaid George V. Arnold and wife, as aforesaid. The said Complainant and her husband, being one of the sons of Charity Gordon after purchasing the said property on October 7, 1946 maintained actual and visible, continuous, exclusive, hostile, notorious, and adverse possession and control of the aforesaid land and premises with full claim of ownership and under color of title since prior to 1946.

That the question has been raised as to whether the Complainant, Sarah Jane Gordon, widow, has a good and marketable fee simple title to the said real estate heretofore conveyed to her husband and herself by the aforesaid deed, which is the tract and parcel in question and the subject of these proceedings, containing 2 acres, 1 rod and 35 square perches of land, more or less.

That your Complainant and her acornes have made reasonable efforts to ascertain all of the heirs, devisees, personal representatives, descendants or successors in interest of the said Outerbridge Horsey, Anna Carroll Horsey, Ann Caroline Horsey, Elizabeth Lee Horsey, Ella Horsey Montgomery, Thomas S. Lee Horsey and Charles Carroll Lee Horsey, deceased.

That the above matter constitutes a cloud upon the title of your Complainant and although your Complainant claims to hold a valid fee simple title, the same cannot be established of record without the removal of the aforesaid cloud upon the title of your Complainant, that your Complainant has no adequate remedy at law.

It is thereupon this 2nd day of August, 1972, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, and by the authority thereof, ORDERED, that the Complainant, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Frederick County, once a week in each of four successive weeks, the last of such publication to be made not less than 30 days from the 9th day of September, 1972, give notice to the unknown heirs, devisees, personal representatives, descendants or successors in interest of Outerbridge Horsey, Anna Carroll Horsey, Ann Caroline Horsey, Elizabeth Lee Horsey, Ella Horsey Montgomery, Thomas S. Lee Horsey and Charles Carroll Lee Horsey, deceased, whether residents or nonresidents, of the object and substance of this Bill, ordering them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitors, on or before the 11th day of October, 1972, next to show cause, if any they have why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

BRIGHT IDEAS
by Sylvan Lumiere, GTE Sylvania Lighting and Design Director

Fight Crime at Home
Rising crime rates are a constant source of dismay, not only to the FBI, politicians and policemen, but to anyone who owns a home. The news analysts present the frightening statistics, but they rarely offer sound advice on combating crime. Here are some ideas to make your home safe from intruders:
Illuminate the front door and steps. If only one light can be used, mount it on the lock of the door. Make sure there's enough light to identify callers but don't use a blinding bulb. A minimum of 100 watts, preferably Sylvania Soft White coated bulb, is necessary.
Adjustable spot or flood lighting in the garage area is a deterrent to criminals who would stop you or your way to the door.
Make sure all outdoor outlets are weatherproof.
Don't walk into a darkened house. Have adequate lighting in the foyer.
When you go to sleep, leave some lights burning in the living room.
Going away? A dark house is a welcome sight to a would-be burglar. Invest in some inexpensive timers, and set a few lamps to go on automatically while you're gone.
If you live in a high crime area, have good locks installed by a locksmith. A simple chain lock drawn across your door won't stop a determined thief. Familiarize yourself with our neighbors' habits and ours. If you see strange cars circling your street with some regularity, check with police.

Attend GAR Convention
Mr. and Mrs. James Small and daughter, Debra, Fairfield, attended the GAR Convention in Waynesboro, Va. Their son, James, is a Pvt. in the 1st Md. Line Brigade, C.S.A. A re-enactment of the battle of Waynesboro was held on Sunday.
The Brigade, under the Command of Col. Leroy Barrick, won 5th place in drill competition. The Brigade will participate in the Battle at Menges Mills September 3. They will also be in Emmitsburg October 15.

Professor Stephen Good To Receive Degree From University Of Pittsburgh

Professor Stephen H. Good, Chairman of the English Department of Mount Saint Mary's College, will receive his Ph.D. degree in English this month from the University of Pittsburgh. The 30 year-old Nebraska native, whose doctoral dissertation centered on the work of Bernard Mandeville, the 18th century satirist, received his Bachelors Degree in 1964 from Nebraska Wesleyan University, and his Masters degree in 1965 from the University of Pittsburgh. Professor Good joined the Mount Saint Mary's faculty in 1968 and one year later was named Chairman of the English Department. Since coming to the Mount, he has served as co-editor of the college's "Interdisciplinary Essays" series, which publishes an assortment of lectures and papers by respected scholars in many fields of study. He has also served as editor of the "Colloquia", a publication of the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors, and as moderator of the Mount Saint Mary's chapter of Lambda Iota Tau, the national honor society for students of literature.

In the past year, Professor Good received a $350 grant from the Mount Saint Mary's Academic Council for use in his work toward the Doctorate. Over the summer he received a fellowship for a Training Institute for Humanistic Computation that was held at the University of Kansas. The Institute provided participating scholars and teachers with a basic knowledge of computer skills to allow them to program their own work for the computer. Professor Good and his wife, Judith, reside with their daughter, Jennifer, in Gettysburg, Pa.

St. John's School Accepts Students
Applications for 3-year-olds and 4-year olds are being accepted for St. John's Christian School at St. John's Lutheran Church in Thurmont. The classes for the 3-year-olds will be held on Mondays and Fridays from 9:30-11:30 a.m. The 4-year-olds will have classes on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday morning from 9:00-11:30. School commences Sept. 18, 1972 and terminates May 25, 1973. The teacher for both groups will be Mrs. Joan Shaff, who has had several years of teaching experience at St. John's Christian School. Assisting Mrs. Shaff will be Mrs. Isabel Mathias, who also has extensive teaching experience.

A MANY-SPLENDORED 'RING'

One of the towering landmarks of western culture, Richard Wagner's superb masterpiece "The Ring of the Nibelung" consists of four great operas: Das Rheingold, Die Walkure, Siegfried and Götterdämmerung. "The Ring" contains some of the greatest thrills the world of music has to offer: the sweep of the great river Rhine in the tone painting of the prelude to Das Rheingold, the majesty of the gods' entry into Valhalla at the end, the vivid stormscape at the beginning of Die Walkure, and the passionate love duet that concludes its first act. But this magnificent opus is much more than a string of beautiful scenes or set pieces. It is a single, unified work of art that, both musically and dramatically, sweeps the listener irresistibly along the whole course. This in itself is astonishing, for the four operas that comprise it take more than 15 hours to perform; the writing of them took some 25 years of Wagner's life; the staging of them is so complex and demanding that a special festival theater at Bayreuth had to be built to present them!

Committing such a work to stereo has been compared to reproducing the Sistine Chapel. Yet this "impossible" job was done with talent of a quality that had opera buffs all over the world open-mouthed with awe. The renowned Sir Georg Solti conducted the incomparable Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra. Birgit Nilsson sang Brünnhilde, Wolfgang Windgassen portrayed Siegfried and Hans Hotter sang the role of Wotan. Two legendary stars, Kirsten Flagstad and Joan Sutherland, even consented to sing relatively minor roles just to be part of this historic enterprise! The actual recording of the four "Ring" operas took seven years and has been recognized as one of the greatest accomplishments in the history of musical recording. If you would like further information or an opportunity to audition the first opera, Das Rheingold, in your own home for 10 days free of charge, write to TIME-LIFE RECORDS, 1503 Time & Life Building, New York, N. Y. 10020.

Want Beauty? Get Organized!
Nothing is more devastating to a woman than the look of tired, lifeless skin, a body to match, and a wardrobe that looks carelessly thrown together. There is no excuse for neglect. It's up to you to make time for yourself, and the way to do this best is to get organized!

To eliminate two of the major enemies of beauty—mental stress and strain—plan ahead. (Yes, mental stress and strain actually cause physical changes—from wrinkles to complexion problems.) Organize accessories and clothing beforehand if you can't get into a daily habit, then set one night a week for ironing, mending, shining shoes, cleaning handbags and planning your week's wardrobe. Remember, too, to coordinate your makeup to go with what you're wearing. A change of lipstick and eye shadow can give you just the middle-of-the-week refresher you need. Of course the basic for all beauty is good skin. Makeup is no camouflage for a woman who ignores the prerequisites of proper cleansing and freshening. A good warm bath combined with an effective facial mask gives your complexion the care it requires, and gives your spirit its much-needed pickup. Now before applying complete and appropriate makeup, smooth on your favorite moisturizer. Follow with a complete change of clothes—clean, pressed, accessorized tastefully. The result: you're well-put-together because you planned it that way—ahead of time!

Annual Fund Drive

Chairman of the Vigilant Hose Company Fund Drive, James Kittinger, reported to the members of the company that to date the drive is progressing well and is slightly ahead of last year's collection at this time.

Mr. Kittinger has urged the volunteer collectors to complete their routes and make their returns as soon as possible. Of the seventeen area routes, ten have been completed with several others near completion. While the firemen have been out soliciting donations, the company would also like to remind those who said they would mail in a donation to do so at their earliest convenience. These mail-in donations will greatly aid the firemen in obtaining the finances to protect Emmits-burg residents with necessary equipment for adequate fire protection.

Elsewhere in the paper a list of recent donors and the amount collected thus far, can be found.

The chairman as well as all other members of the com-mittee and fire company are most grateful for the continu-ed support that is given by the residents of the Emmits-burg community.

SPOTLIGHT ON Health

VITAMIN E

Perhaps the most spectacular of all the vitamins in the human diet — the one everybody talks about because it is used for so many important health reasons — is vitamin E.

Publications are filled with reports of vitamin E's use in heart attacks and stroke, diabetes, sterility, sexual impotency, miscarriage, cystic fibrosis, slowing down the aging process, speeding the healing of wounds and burns, and other conditions.

Medical science is intensively checking the value of vitamin E in all these conditions. As scientific studies continue, certain clear-cut facts about this fascinating vitamin are accepted today.

First, vitamin E is considered by the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council to be essential for good health. Some good sources of vitamin E in the average American's diet are whole-grain cereal products and some vegetable oils, particularly those made of corn or soybeans, and green leafy vegetables and fruit.

Many physicians consider supplemental vitamin E necessary for the millions of people who suffer from heart disease and who faithfully follow diets with polyunsaturated fats to keep their blood cholesterol levels down.

Cholesterol is generally considered one of the factors in the development of heart disease. Indeed, the famed Dr. Wilfrid E. Shute says the lack of vitamin E in our diet is responsible for heart attacks caused by blood clots.

What is not so well known, however, is that people who use lots of polyunsaturated fats, found in fish or certain vegetable oils, need more vitamin E.

The Apollo astronauts used vitamin E on their moon explorations to guard against fatigue, anemia and weakening of their cardiovascular systems, Dr. Shute reports.

Babies born prematurely and many full-term infants are often given Aquasol E, the first natural — rather than synthetic — vitamin E specially formulated to be more easily and rapidly absorbed by the body. This has greater urgency for babies born anemic, or those with low vitamin E blood levels who are formula-fed or are on high polyunsaturated fatty acid diets. Even large doses of the vitamin, supplementing natural foods, have been shown to be harmless.

Doctors also prescribe vitamin E for many persons who are unable to absorb fat efficiently due to various intestinal diseases like liver, pancreas and biliary disorders, or due to sprue, celiac and other diarrheal diseases.

Discovered in 1922, vitamin E is arousing much excitement today as a possible aid to better health.

4-H'ers Think...Drink Milk

Milk, cheese and other dairy products are among the most popular and basic foods in our diet. We use dairy products as beverages and appetizers, in baked foods and desserts; in entrees and salads. Yet many people don't get the three or four servings of milk or their equivalent, that nutritionists of the Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, say is the minimum amount of milk or milk products needed daily.

However, there are some people, young people, who not only eat and drink more than a minimum amount of dairy products, but who go into their communities and spread the good word about dairy foods. They are the 655,000 boys and girls enrolled in the National 4-H dairy foods program, sponsored for 25 years by the Carnation Company.

The 4-H members enrolled in the program learn how milk and milk products are produced and a lot more about their nutritional value.

They demonstrate many appetizing ways to enjoy an unlimited variety of dairy products ranging from milk, fresh, powdered, fat-free and evaporated; to cheeses, sour cream, yogurt and ice cream. The 4-H'ers also hit hard for good nutrition.

And to encourage youth participation and recognize their achievements, the Carnation Company provides awards to 4-H'ers who excel in the 4-H dairy foods program at county, state and national levels.

Four gold-plated medals of honor are awarded to county winners. The state winner receives an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30. And at special ceremonies six national winners received $700 educational scholarships. All winners are selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

For more information about the 4-H Dairy Foods program, contact the county extension office.

Beat the Heat

The quickest way to cool off? A tepid bath or shower, followed by an all-over dusting of powder. If you've decided to "go natural", use a cornstarch powder. It's more absorbent than talc—so you'll feel drier and fresher.

NEW YORK, N. Y. (ED)—Certain women spend a summer day swinging a golf club, painting the garage or cooking fettuccine Alfredo — and still look like they just came out of an air-conditioned movie. Then, there are the rest of us. As soon as the ground hog announces that warm weather is coming, we wilt.

Yes, body chemistry does have something to do with it. Some people wouldn't feel the heat if they were sunbathing at the Equator. But if you're drooping violet, follow these suggestions:

¶ When you begin to succumb to the heat, take a bath or shower in tepid water. It's a myth that stepping out of a scalding tub will make you feel cooler by comparison.

¶ Douse yourself liberally with Moxana Medicated Powder. Because it contains pure cornstarch, it absorbs perspiration 80 times faster than talc. Don't forget to powder your feet to destroy odor causing bacteria and relieve that tired, burning feeling.

¶ Keep your favorite cologne in the refrigerator. It will be more refreshing when you apply it.

¶ Take a fashion tip from the Bedouins. They don't wander across the Sahara in shorts and halter tops (modesty isn't the only reason). Rather, they cool off by wearing long, flowing robes. Why not invest in some inexpensive caftans?

¶ Remember that heat can often be a state of mind. Think cool: Surround yourself with plants, serve salads on hot nights, refresh your body with tepid baths... and you may just survive the summer.

Less is not always better when it comes to keeping cool. Desert people know that loose, flowing robes keep body temperatures down better than the tight shorts and bikinis we wear to beat summer heat.
