Most Anything At A Glance

—By Abigail—

Dear Abigail:

At this time, I would like to take issue with you on several counts.

Firstly, in respect to references to Senator McGovern's policies in your September 28 column, I would like to inform you of the Senator's main feelings on welfare reform. In the column, you imply that people on welfare should find jobs rather than ask for more welfare benefits. Have you really listened to George McGovern? He says that every able-bodied, would-wage earner should have a job; however, those who are disabled should be allowed a decent income. Of course, McGovern can only attempt this but, ideally, this means that those who can work will find jobs and those who can not work will survive on fair, adequate incomes. Do you imply that the disabled and handicapped should be forced to find jobs? I don't think you are that hard-hearted. Rather, I think you might even agree with Senator McGovern on this issue, if you would listen and think about what he says.

This brings me to the second topic that I wish to take up with you. The brunt of this "attack" is not entirely focused on your column but also on the people in this area. I must confess that often I take issue with your views. However, your column does seem to reflect the opinions of the local citizens. To me, the reason that you and most local people oppose Senator McGovern is that you really don't take the time to listen to him seriously. A person can not just read headlines or half a story and then try to make an objective decision. If the people in this area knew what George McGovern says, how he feels toward the condition of people in areas like ours—average people, middle-income people, farm people—I can't help but feel that they would take his candidacy and his policies more seriously. I don't mind Abigail's opposition to McGovern. Let me only suggest that perhaps you, like most other people around here, might need to listen a little more closely and think a little more seriously about the issues. It is important for you and all of us to know what the candidates are saying. This is an important election—... make no mistake about it.

Your column is probably read by many people in the area and most of them probably agree with your views. Even though I many times disagree with you, by all means keep writing about these subjects. The issues should be brought out so we can all be aware of them, at least.

Peace,
John Martin

I thank Mr. Martin for his letter and even agree with him on a couple of points. That this is an important election, yes, but I think they all are. I'll be voting so I'll have a right to complain when I don't like the way Washington is running things. And I'm not hard-hearted; but I do think that there are a few more people on the welfare roles than necessary. And, please, Mr. Martin, I've been listening to Mr. McGovern—unfortunately I end up more and more confused as to where he stands.

And while I'm on the subject, seems there are a few campaign promises we heard before the last election that have not been entirely fulfilled either. I hear more and more people saying that they aren't even going to vote this year because they can't stand either of the major candidates. Now, folks, that's no way to run a country. Whoever you vote for, on election day, you get out there and pull that lever for somebody.

Columbus Day Address Slated

A special Columbus Day address will be heard over Radio Station WTHU, Thurmont, on Monday, October 9 at 5:45 p.m., according to an announcement made by George L. Danner, Jr., grand knight of Brute Council No. 1860, in Emmitsburg. Danner stated that the address would be delivered by Dr. John W. McDevitt, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus. The executive head of the 1,200,000 member Catholic fraternal organization will speak on "Conscience and Public Trust."

In commenting on the program, Danner said, "Four hundred eighty years ago, Christopher Columbus completed one of the most daring and courageous exploratory sea voyages recorded in the annals of mankind—the discovery of the North American continent. One and a quarter million men of the western hemisphere, all Knights of Columbus members, join together this week in observing this anniversary of Columbus' epic voyage."

In addition to the special radio broadcast, other Columbus Day activities are being planned. Residents are urged to display the American Flag proudly on this day. A survey of Emmitsburg will be held during this day to count how many flags flying, since this is a national holiday.

Seminary Bazaar This Saturday

Mount Saint Mary's Seminary will sponsor a Bazaar and Spaghetti Dinner this Saturday, October 7, on the Mount campus. According to Joseph D. Blascovich, a second year Theology student and chairman of the committee that organized the event, all proceeds will go to support the seminary's Field Education Program and its Missions.

The Bazaar is scheduled to run from 1:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium on campus, and will feature raffles, a "white elephant", assorted game booths, and an artist who will draw charcoal sketches on request.

The Spaghetti Dinner, which will be served in the Seminary's Dining Room in the Cogan Student Union Building, will begin at 1:30 p.m. and last until 7:00 p.m.

Mr. Blascovich said that the Field Education Program at the Seminary was set up a few years ago to provide assistance to the needy of many surrounding communities while providing participants with practical experience in their priestly vocation.

Ladies Of Brute Plan Fall Activities

A suggestion that the Auxiliary would sponsor a card party in November was made and approved by the members attending the September meeting of the Ladies of Brute. The meeting followed a covered dish social.

The meeting was called to order by President Loretta Sprankle. Chaplain Nancy Danner reported that a card and baby gift had been sent to Ann Welty, and cards sent to Betty Ann Baker and Carol Eiker. Thank you notes were received from Mrs. Mark Sanders and Mrs. Welty.

Alice Boyle gave a report on the meeting she had attended at the Emmitsburg Public Library. The meeting was to familiarize area residents, and their organizations of the Carroll-Frederick Audio-Visual Cooperative. Mrs. Mary Scott then talked to the ladies about the Life-Long Learning Council and the courses being offered to local adults. The courses are excellent and anyone that can is urged to take one or more courses offered.

The trip to Allenberry Playhouse was then discussed and it was voted to give Becky Stover the necessary money needed in advance. Any member of the organization wishing to go to the performance should know by the next meeting if she wishes to go so reservations can be held.

A tentative date for the card party was set for November 16. More plans will be made at the October meeting. A report on the plans for the buffet after the Mass at the Grotto was given by Nancy Danner.

Mary Ann Sanders' name was called for the draw prize but was not present. President Sprankle reminded the members that the October meeting will be held at the regular time, 8:30 p.m., in the Council Home on Oct. 9.

National Fire Prevention Week

The week of October 8 thru 14 has been designated as National Fire Prevention Week.

The Vigilant Hose Co. of Emmitsburg will be travelling to Abbottstown, Pa., to take part in a parade and hook-up contest there. The Vigilant Hose Co. is the defending champion in the hook-up contest. Activities are scheduled to start at 1 p.m. Sunday, October 8.

At 7 p.m. Wednesday, October 11, fire sirens all over the nation will blow as part of the observance. Firemen this year are emphasizing the importance of teaching children what to do in case of a fire in the home. Children should be taught how to quickly and safely exit the home in case fire breaks out. Each year, many children lose their lives in home fires because they did not know how to get out.

The Vigilant Hose Co. will climax the week with a Parade and Block Party, on Saturday, Oct. 14, during the Colorfest Celebration.

Graceham Church To Celebrate 214th Anniversary Sunday; Dedicate Memorial

From a photograph taken in 1905. The present Huebener Memorial was built of wood-burnt brick in 1797-98. The present church, also of wood-burnt brick, erected in 1822.

On Sunday, October 8, at 3 p.m., the Moravian Church of Graceham, Md., will be celebrating its 214th Anniversary and dedicating the Huebener Christian Education Memorial. Preceding the service a brass quartet will play traditional American and German Chorale tunes.

The congregation was organized in 1753 and through the years some structural changes have taken place, however, recently the Christian Education wing has been redecorated and certain parts restored. Among other things the restoration included the discovery of three fireplaces.

This restored Christian Education wing will be dedicated to the glory of God in memory of Reverend and Mrs. Robert Huebener. Reverend Huebener served the Graceham congregation from 1908-1916 during which time he married Mary Grimes of Thurmont. He retired from the ministry in 1936 just after he completed four additional years of service to the Graceham congregation. When Graceham was without a minister from 1942 to 1946, he again served the congregation, this time on a part-time basis. He died while living in Thurmont on May 21, 1956.

Mrs. Huebener continued to live in Thurmont until shortly before her death in 1969.

The Reverend Franklin C. Jones II, is the pastor of the congregation and the guest speaker for the Lovefeast will be Rev. Dr. Thor Harberg, President of the Eastern District of the Moravian Church. The organist is Miss Clara Green and director of music is Dr. James Fisher.

Serving the Lovefeast will be Mr. and Mrs. Allen Angeli, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fornwald, Mr. and Mrs. David Heatherly, and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Miller.

Included in the program will be two selections by the Handbell Choir: "The Heavens Are Telling," by Beethoven and "Jesus Shall Reign," by Hatton. The Handbell Choir consists of Tana Beall, Carole Bentz, Donnie Creager, Deborah Fornwald, Douglas Fisher, Jack Fisher, Joy Fisher, Linda Fisher, Gwen Keilholtz, Cindy Long, Debbie Long, Gloria Long, Ronald Long, Steve Long, Dennis Miller, Cindy Smith, and Becky Trout.

A trio featuring organ and flutes will play, "Two Symphonies For Flutes," by Purcell.

Low Calorie-Low Cost Meals Subject Of Homemakers Club

The Emmitsburg Homemakers Club met on Sept. 14. The President, Mrs. Luther Cregger, opened the meeting with a scripture reading from Proverbs 38, followed by prayer. The roll call was answered by each member, including two new members, Mrs. Arvin Jones and Mrs. Ditya Singh, telling something they had done during the summer which they enjoyed.

Dues were paid for the coming year and program books were distributed and filled out. The program, "Low Calorie-Low Cost" Meals, was presented by Mrs. John Chatlos.

She gave many interesting facts on how to lose weight and keep it off. The group took part in a "Taste and Tell" quiz on seven different salad dressings, some of which were bought, some were home made, some high calorie, some low calorie. Mrs. Dolores Ray assisted with the demonstration by mixing and serving a low calorie fruit juice drink. The group decided that watching their diets for weight control would really pay off if they made up their minds to do it. There were 10 members and four guests taking part in the demonstration. The guests being Mrs. Mark Brown, Mrs. Mathie Glass, Mrs. Emmer Glass and Mrs. Henry Gerkin.

After the meeting was adjourned, Mrs. Cregger, as hostess, served sumptuous refreshments during a fellowship hour.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the Senior Citizens Center with Mrs. J. Nester as hostess, and Mrs. Larry Hahn will be the lesson leader. The topic will be "Stain Removal from Fabric, Carpet and Upholstery."

Colorfest Weekend Activities Slated

With the arrival of fall, it's time again to make plans to attend some of the many scheduled events which will take place during the 9th annual Colorfest, October 13, 14, and 15.

Colorfest, presented by the Catoctin Mountains Tourist Council, attempts to draw many visitors to the Catoctin Mountain Area for numerous displays, to learn how crafts are made, and to taste products of the many skilled residents. Having had an estimated 30,000 people coming to the area last year, the tourist council is expecting an even larger crowd than before as the weekend is more widely known and more visitors are expected.

Activities will be under way in Emmitsburg, Thurmont, Catoctin Furnace, Craegerstown, Foxville, St. Anthony's and Graceham. One has the choice of seeing whiskey making demonstrations, apple butter making, home made ice cream demonstrations and sales, historical exhibits along with an orchard tour and dairy farm tour. Musical programs have also been scheduled. Helicopter rides will be on the list of "things to do."

The Francis Scott Key District Boy Scout Camporee will be held behind Mt. Manor Motel at Old Frederick Road and U. S. 15 during the weekend. Scouts, expected to number well over 300, will hold a campfire on Friday evening. The National Capitol Area Council will have the Order of the Arrow Dance Team perform for the public at this time. The scouts will hold demonstrations and movies on Saturday and they will have a Mass and non-denominational church service on Sunday. Most of their activities will be open to the public.

The Vigilant Hose Company will sponsor many of Saturday's events in Emmitsburg. Under the general chairmanship of Eugene Myers, plans are progressing nicely and every effort is being made to see that visitors have a memorable weekend.

Chairman of the parade, James Kittinger, is anticipating a tremendous turnout of entries for the parade with 14 majorette groups entered already. In conjunction with the Colorfest, the first Octoberfest Field Day will be held at 10:00 a.m., Saturday, on DePaul Street for Majorettes, Drum Corps and Color Guards. Qualified judges and official score sheets will be used. Competition will be held in Beginner, Intermediate and Advanced Corps categories. Awards will be first through fourth in each division and first and second in drum and color guards in all divisions.

Competition will be held for individuals at the close of the corps event. Contests will be held in Best Appearing, Basic Strut, Military March and Parade Majorette. All categories will be divided into beginners and advanced. First place trophies and second thru fifth place medals will be awarded.

Mr. Kittinger said that if an application has not been received by a group, they may contact Mrs. Dorothy L. Hutchins, 8312 Edgedale Rd., Baltimore, Md. 21234, phone 668-9243, and should do so before October 7, 1972.

In commenting on the parade, Mr. Kittinger said that "there are a good many surprises in store for the spectators beginning with the Grand Marshall who will be Maury Graham, last of the old hoboes to follow steam trains. Mr. Graham was recently selected as "King of the Hoboes" in the Eastern Division.

The Firemen's Colorfest Parade is expected to wind its way down the main streets of Emmitsburg at 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 14.

Should there be a commotion around the Square Saturday morning about 7 o'clock, don't get upset. It will be the Senior Citizens scrambling for seats on the bus for their big day at Peddler's Village and the train ride at New Hope. We hope we don't disturb the town folk's Saturday morning rest! We will be more quiet when we return around 9 o'clock. I'm sure we will be very tired after this wonderful trip.

Mount To Honor Newsman Blair

The National Alumni Association of Mount Saint Mary's College will honor nationally known newsman, Frank Blair, at the Association's annual Homecoming Weekend, October 19-22. Rev. Charles J. Kelly, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association, said that Mr. Blair will receive the 1972 Dubois Medal for distinguished public service.

Mr. Blair, the self-described "Newsreader" on NBC television's TODAY program, is the only on-camera personality to have served with the show since it began in January, 1952. Beginning as Washington correspondent, he moved in September, 1952 to New York, to assume the central news position he has occupied ever since.

Since then, he has served a variety of charitable causes, including The National Christmas Seal Campaign and The Epilepsy Foundation. For his work, he has recently received two honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degrees from Nasson College in Springvale, Maine and LeMoyné College in Syracuse, New York, as well as honor awards from Xavier University and the University of Missouri.

The Dubois Medal, named for Rev. John Dubois who founded Mount Saint Mary's in 1808, is awarded each year to recognize "service for the advancement of mankind in community, state and nation."

Steam Train Exhibit Planned

The Western Maryland Railway Company will exhibit some of their equipment on a siding near the Pepsi Cola building in Thurmont as part of the Colorfest celebration. The exhibit will include a caboose, grocery car, railway coach instruction car, steam generator car and GP-40 Locomotive of the 3795-3799 series. It will be open to the public, Saturday, Oct. 14 and Sunday, Oct. 15.

Local rail buff, George Wireman, has been instrumental in obtaining this exhibit for the Colorfest weekend. In a letter to Mr. Wireman, George M. Leilich, of Western Maryland Railway, noted that a film will be shown throughout the day on the Western Maryland story. It has also been arranged for the public to "climb aboard" the equipment, including the GP-40 locomotive for a first-hand look.

The Catoctin Mountains Tourist Council is indebted to Mr. Wireman for making the necessary arrangements for this exhibit and hopes that the local citizens as well as the many expected visitors will visit the display during the Colorfest weekend.

STEEL SETS THE STYLE

Steel is rapidly becoming a major force in the construction of today's houses. Long recognized as a quality material in high rise construction, steel has earned the approval of builders and home owners alike. It is cropping up in some new places (such as siding) and is seen more and more throughout the house in an increasingly wide variety of uses such as: structural framing, doors, windows, floor joists, kitchen cabinets and even furniture.

While the average homeowner or buyer is most often unaware that these household products are made of steel, it is beginning to play a dominant role in home construction throughout the country. Why is steel becoming an important factor in the home building market? Because of its inherent strength and durability, the same qualities that enable architects to design huge buildings and bridges. This same industrial technology is now being utilized in producing houses. The new building techniques involve not only a change in materials, but a new and better way of assembling them.

Manufacturers are making use of pre-formed and finished steel shipped directly from the steel mills. This has reduced manufacturing costs to such an extent that steel is at least competitive and in many cases less expensive than other materials. For example, when steel studs are used for framing the walls of a house (steel studs are often used in apartment house and motel construction), the studs will never dry out or shrink causing nails to "pop out" and cracks in the finished wall. When steel studs are used these problems are eliminated. Knowledgeable home buyers will ask the contractor if steel floor joists

The Senior Choir will sing, "Lord Our God," an early Moravian anthem composed by Denke. Senior Choir members include: Cecelia Damuth, Shirley Heatherly, Charlotte Heatherly, Mary Fisher, Carole Jones, LuLu Miller, Kathryn Boller, David Heatherly, Murray Miller, Norman Stitley, Thomas Fugate, and Ralph Fisher.

The Moravian Church had its origin during the pre-Reformation awakening under John Hus. Much of the early history centered in Moravia; thus the name Moravian. From Central Europe, Christian Indians brought the Moravians to Georgia in 1735. These they went to Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Ohio, and today they are a world-wide unity.

The Moravians reached Maryland in the year 1741 and held their first fellowship services in the Monocacy area during late Winter, 1741-1742. These early Moravians left the Monocacy settlement and for a while church services were conducted in the homes of Jacob Weller and John Ambrose.

In 1748, the Honorable Daniel Dulany decided to give these early Moravians ten acres of his land upon which to build a church and school house. This wooded land was named "Dulany's Gift" and in March, 1749, a building that was to serve as a combined church, parsonage, and school house was built. It was a log structure that occupied the site of the present Huebener Memorial and was 30-40 feet in length and 22-24 feet in width.

On Sunday, October 8, 1758, 214 years ago, appropriate services were held and on this site the congregation was fully and completely organized. In 1785, the name Graceham, "a hamlet in which the grace of God abides," was given to the congregation.

All are invited to attend the 214th Anniversary Lovefeast Service and dedication of the Huebener Christian Education Memorial Wing on Sunday, October 8, at 3:00 p.m. The church is located on Route 77, 1 mile east of Taurmont.

Appliances Can Be Big Help-- Even In Smaller Kitchen Areas

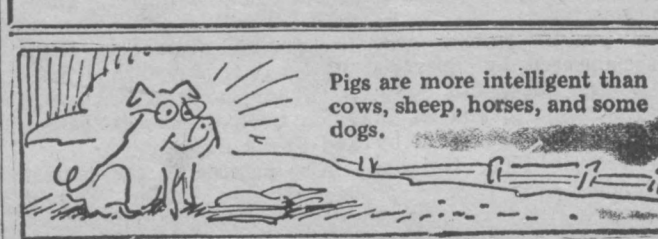

The convenience of automatic dishwashing may be enjoyed even by those who believe their kitchens are too cramped for space. According to one manufacturer, a top-loading portable dishwasher could be just the ticket to more pleasant things than washing and drying dishes by hand. A spokesman for the KitchenAid Division of The Hobart Manufacturing Company says the compactness of the new KitchenAid top-loading portable dishwashers will introduce many more people to the modern way of "doing the dishes."

For those unfamiliar with the different types of dishwashers available, a top-loading portable is one on which the door opens up, instead of out as on other models. And, it is portable instead of built in. Both features are important in kitchens where space is at a premium. Because the door opens up, it does not take any floor-traffic space. And, since it is not built in, cabinets remain intact.

Some further tips are offered to the "uninitiated." The portability of these dishwashers does not limit their work and time saving features. For example, two of the three new KitchenAid top-loading models include a patented Soak Cycle which, the manufacturers says, puts an end to soaking pots and pans in the sink. There's also a "full cycle" for washing and drying mixed loads of average soil. And, a "rinse/hold" cycle for smaller or lightly soiled loads.

There's a lot of convenience at your fingertips in an automatic dishwasher. And even most small kitchens are large enough to make enjoyment of it possible because of the compact top-loading portable dishwashers.

HOLYLAND TOURS LED BY CLERGYMEN

Most American Christians visiting the HolyLands consider the trip a religious pilgrimage; an exciting and awe-inspiring extension of their Bible studies and church activities. And, with good reason, some 98% of these travelers into living history are guided physically and spiritually by a religious leader.

Why? Because there is a unique and special relationship between a minister and his flock; because no person is better able to lead a HolyLands tour than a man of the cloth dedicated to the preservation and perpetuation of the Christian way of life. In a very real way, he breathes heart and soul into the religious journey, giving it depth and dimension that would be missed without his guidance.

Recognizing this relationship between a minister and his flock, Wholesale Tours International, Inc., evolved HolyLands tour packages which enable the clergyman to earn his expenses as a tour leader. This arrangement works out to everyone's benefit for two basic reasons: First, without such an arrangement, most clergymen would be unable to afford a HolyLands trip. Second, a tour-leading clergyman's flock has a more rewarding trip because they are accompanied by a knowledgeable minister they both know and trust. Add to this the fact that an all-inclusive WTI tour to the HolyLands costs no more than the air fare alone if one were to go by himself.

A typical WTI tour is the "HolyLand Holiday"—nine enlightening days of sightseeing and fellowship in Jordan, Israel, Syria and Lebanon. The tour is priced at a low $598 and includes air transportation, hotel accommodations, meals and sightseeing, transfers and service charges. If you'd like more information and a free color brochure about HolyLand tours led by clergymen, write to WHOLESale Tours International, Inc., Dept. HH, 235 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10003.

HAS YOUR CHILD THE READING HABIT?

Have you noticed your child skipping treats since school began? Has he asked for advances on his allowance or cashed in all his penny rolls? All these are symptoms of the reading habit.

If your child has them, he is probably a new member of a Scholastic Paperback Book Club at school. His excitement about buying books may surprise you, but it is no surprise to his teacher and thousands of other teachers who have been developing the reading habit through Scholastic's five book clubs: See-Saw, Lucky, Arrow, Teen-Age and Campus, for the past 26 years. These paperback book clubs offer the best in children's literature at modest prices — most Scholastic paperbacks are no more than 35¢, 40¢ or 45¢. Many Scholastic titles for younger children are full-color paperback editions of hard-cover books that would probably cost 10 times as much.

By selecting his own books from his own copy of the Scholastic Book Club News, your child has the opportunity to read what he wants to read. And with every book he selects — and owns — he's on the way to developing a lifetime enjoyment of reading.

If your child hasn't exhibited any of these symptoms and you're interested in knowing more about Scholastic Book Clubs write to William Backer, Scholastic Book Services, 900 Sylvan Avenue, Englewood Cliffs, N. J. 07632.

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
 "This—Our Heritage"
 "They know not beauty well who do not love
 The color-blending of an autumn day;
 Horizon clouds that mass in violet-gray,
 Blue of a child's eye dreaming deep above
 In mists of pearl as soft as ever dove
 Was breasted with, and browns that dim away
 From lighter tones of withered grass and clay
 To the rich umber of a purpling grove."

The notes pertaining to the Zacharias family, of the Palatinate (Germany) and province of Maryland, are continued at this time — and this column has to do with the fourth and fifth American generations.

Christian Thomas (4) Zacharias, son of Christian (3) and Sarah (Picking) Zacharias, married Helen Margaret Stokes, of Emmitsburg, Maryland, and they were the parents of the following children:

1. William Jackson (5) Zacharias — born March 13, 1852—married March 20, 1883 to Mary Jane Boyd, who was born February 23, 1859 and died December 5, 1906. William J. (5) Zacharias studied law—was admitted to the Bar and practiced his profession for over fifty years at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. He died December 8, 1933 and with other members of his family is interred at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania.

2. Helen (5) Zacharias—no additional data at this time.

3. John L. (5) Zacharias—no additional data at this time.

4. Ralph L. (5) Zacharias—no further data at this time.

5. Richard M. (5) Zacharias—no further data at this time.

Christian Thomas (4) Zacharias and his wife are interred in Emmitsburg's Mountain View Cemetery and with them rest three of their sons—who died in infancy. The inscriptions follow:

12. In memory of Christian T. Zacharias, born May 29, 1849, died December 23, 1919.

13. In memory of Helen Margaret Zacharias, wife of Christian T. Zacharias, born December 14, 1851, died April 16, 1900.

14. In memory of Henry M. Zacharias, son of Christian T. and Helca M. Zacharias, born 1874—died 1846.

6. Anna Z. Zacharias—born 1796—died 1850.

7. John Zacharias — born 1788—died 1832.

8. Mathias Zacharias—born 1790—died 1849.

9. Anna Zacharias born 1970—died 1840.

10. Mathias S. Zacharias—born 1759—died 1825.

11. Mathias P. Zacharias—born 1838—died 1882.

12. Christian Zacharias — born 1802—died 1885.

13. Sarah (Picking) Zacharias — born 1812—died 1885.

The last eleven of the above listed were removed to Mountain View Cemetery about 1900. Undoubtedly there were others interred in this plot—but their identity has been lost with the years.

This concludes, for a time at least, the notes pertaining to the Zacharias family of Tom's Creek Hundred.

Before continuing the historical and genealogical history of the Tom's Creek Lutheran and Reformed congregation, it might be well to write concerning the "rights of the dead." A burial ground is protected by law and for this reason it should be safe from desecration and vandalism. A stiff fine and other penalties awaits those caught in the act of destruction. Gravemarkers should remain at graves — they were not meant to be used as foundation stones, doorsteps, or walks. To steal from the dead is rather despicable—help to abolish the practice in Emmitsburg and

Secretary of Transportation, Harry R. Hughes, Senator Mathias pointed out that the bill authorizes $800 million for the Federal Urban Highway System and, for the first time, permits states to use the funds for bus and rail transportation.

The bill, which was sent to the House, authorizes $3 billion for the Urban Mass Transit Administration's grant program and increases the federal share for equipping local transit systems from 60 to 90 per cent, Senator Mathias said.

UMTA would receive an additional $800 million authorization to launch a program of federal grants to cover up to two-thirds of the cost of operating approved bus and rail systems, the senator said.

The Potomac Edison Company's employees in Maryland have received a Safety Achievement Award from the Edison Electric Institute for the accumulation of over one million consecutive work-hours without a lost time accident.

The award was presented recently to PE Safety Manager Ray Beard at the power company's general offices in Hagerstown.

This safety record represents over six months of work by more than 950 men and women employed by PE in Frederick, Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties and parts of Howard, Carroll and Montgomery. The record is still unbroken, and amounts to 1,237,000 safe work-hours as of Sept. 30.

According to Beard, "The significance of this performance is that it covers safe work not only in office jobs, but in generating stations, power line work, substations construction, and many other occupations that could be hazardous—if our employees were not safety conscious." Beard pointed out that a similar award was received in July for one million hours of safety by the entire PE System, which includes an additional 650 employees in Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

Edison Electric Institute, the chief utility industry trade association, announced the PE awards after verifying the safety and work statistics compiled by the company. Through its Accident Prevention Committee, EEI keeps records on all safety performances by investor-owned electric utilities.

Senator Charles McC. Mathias said this week that the Senate passed Federal Aid Highway Bill "holds bright promise" for state plans to ease traffic congestion, upgrade highways and eliminate traffic hazards throughout Maryland.

In a letter to Maryland's Secretary of Transportation, Harry R. Hughes, Senator Mathias pointed out that the bill authorizes $800 million for the Federal Urban Highway System and, for the first time, permits states to use the funds for bus and rail transportation.

The bill, which was sent to the House, authorizes $3 billion for the Urban Mass Transit Administration's grant program and increases the federal share for equipping local transit systems from 60 to 90 per cent, Senator Mathias said.

Byron Wants End To FHA Freeze

Rep. Goodloe Byron said last week the Office of Management & Budget (OMB) should end its procedure of freezing FHA water and sewerage facility monies already appropriated by Congress.

In an effort to expedite such loans Byron joined with several House members earlier this year in urging OMB to release $58 million in FHA funds already appropriated by Congress to aid communities in developing water and waste facility systems.

"The money has now been released but I would hope this is not an annual delay procedure by OMB because there is a critical and immediate need for these types of loans," he said.

"Rural redevelopment funds are needed to remove health hazards caused by unclean water and sanitation systems but requests cannot be processed when the money is withheld.

"During the OMB freeze on already appropriated funds, 27 States, including Maryland, had nearly exhausted grant funds for water and waste facilities and 15 States were totally without farm operating loans", Byron noted.

In fiscal year 1971, $272 thousand in farm operating loans and $2.8 million in water and waste system grants were allocated for the 6th Congressional District.

Eligible veterans bought $130 million worth of GI life insurance during the first three weeks of a new program which allows annual insurance dividends to be used to buy additional paid up coverage, the VA reported recently.

WASHINGTON REPORT

FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR.

Health Care and Costs

In the past week the Senate took favorable action on a bill that can have a direct effect on virtually every man, woman and child in the United States. The legislation is a program to improve the health and well-being of our citizens through the establishment of Health Maintenance Organizations, which are often referred to as HMOs.

The legislation, which I helped to draft as a member of the Senate Health Subcommittee, is an effort to correct a major shortcoming of American medicine.

We have prided ourselves for having medical facilities second to none in the world, and it is true that our medical technology is producing breakthroughs that people only dreamed about a few years ago.

But at the same time the health care industry has faltered. We are not getting many of the benefits of modern medicine to the patient, or even better, into preventive medicine programs that can reduce the chances of illness.

The HMO has been brought forward as a means of improving the delivery of health services in a community by enrolling people in comprehensive prepaid health care plans, as an alternative to the traditional fee-for-service type of medical practice.

The services would range from the primary care of a general practitioner to the specialized services of a surgeon.

President Nixon's health messages to Congress in the past two years have endorsed the concept of HMOs and stressed the important role the federal government should play in their development.

Privately-operated HMOs of the type suggested have already begun to develop in some parts of the United States, including one in Columbia, Md., which serves about 12,000 people.

The authorizing legislation voted on by the Senate provides loans and matching grants for planning, construction and initial operation of HMOs over the next three years. It also establishes a new National Institute of Health Care Delivery, which I proposed in separate legislation earlier this year.

The National Institute of Health Care Delivery can carry out the important task of getting the advances of modern medicine from the laboratory to the patient. Perhaps even more importantly, the Institute would examine all aspects of the health care system and seek ways to improve that system.

Between 1960 and 1971, the annual cost of health care in the United States skyrocketed from $26 billion to $75 billion. Much of that money has gone toward improving the health services available to Americans, but a large portion also is being eaten up by inflated prices caused by waste and inefficiency.

Just as our thinking has been changed by the advances in medical science, our thinking should also be changing in regard to the delivery of health services to the American people.

The Senate has taken action to redirect some of our traditional approaches toward personal health, and I believe this is a direction we must take if we are to get the most value for the dollar.

Look Closely At Jane

A big crowd of students and faculty members of Michigan State University gathered on the East Lansing campus two years ago to hear a woman in her 30's condemn her country. Actress Jane Fonda was the woman. At East Lansing, she called herself "a revolutionary." The kind of revolutionary seemed clear when she told her glamorous - smitten audience: "I would think that if you understood what Communism was, you would pray on your knees that we would someday become Communists."

Jane Fonda last month returned from a visit with Communist leaders in Hanoi, North Vietnam, and immediately announced she would leave her acting career (which had made her wealthy) and devote her entire time to her revolutionary activities within America. In North Vietnam she had given much aid and comfort to the Communist enemy of her country. She had broadcast to U. S. Air Force men (using Communist facilities) a message helpful to the enemy of her country. And she brought back for the TV networks out to meet her in New York, a cruel accusation and a propaganda film against the United States. She repeated the most cruel and patently false propaganda the North Vietnamese are now effectively using to create antagonism against the American government and the American armed forces.

Jane Fonda has become one of World Communism's greatest assets in America. The Communist Daily World, official newspaper of the Moscow - controlled Communist Party USA, has found her to be a more priceless asset even than Angela Davis. The Red newspaper splashed her photograph and accusations on its Page 1 on July 29 and since then has given all her activities feature treatment.

The Communist propaganda film in which she is featured shows damage to dikes (which is acknowledged by Pentagon sources who say the strikes were aimed at military installations in proximity to some minor dikes). A recurring "line" in the statements by Miss Fonda is that the election of Senator George McGovern to the Presidency would be good for Communist Vietnam as well as for the anti-war forces in America. Once "Miss Recruiter"

Ten years ago, Jane Fonda appeared to be a patriotic American. She was selected as the U. S. Army's "Miss Recruiter". Her third marriage was to a Frenchman whom she subsequently left and who has said: "Jane wants to be Joan of Arc" to the American leftwing. She became a "sex symbol" in a number of Grade "B" films. In the mid-1960's she emerged as a flaming revolutionary, leading "protest" demonstrations, agitating American soldiers to revolt against the officer corps, and lending her presence to Communist-organized and directed anti-war activities.

For a while she was under the wing of Mark Lane, the New York lawyer-author who proclaimed the innocence of Lee Harvey Oswald, President Kennedy's assassin. Much of her time was spent in activities supporting the Black Panther Party when its leaders said it was a part of the Marxist-Leninist world revolution. Her militancy around U. S. Army installations got her in trouble a number of times, and she was arrested in Cleveland on a drug charge which later was dismissed. Concerning the Black Panther aims, she said: "Any black militant who isn't armed is a fool."

Condemning America We covered the Communist-organized vulgar "confrontation" with President Nixon in Washington on May 9, 1970, and made documentary film of Miss Fonda haranguing 100,000 "peaceniks" gathered on the Ellipse a stone's throw from the White House. She ended her condemnation of President Nixon, the U. S. Military and the American system with the clenched-fist salute originated by Lenin. On the platform with her were comrades Jerry Rubin, Abbie Hoffman, Dave Dellinger (convicted of fomenting riots at the Democratic Convention in Chicago), Black Panthers, SDS firebrands and others.

Why can this woman who has dedicated herself to projects aiding our Communist enemy escape the penalty of law? Some Congressmen have directed this question to the Department of Justice. I can answer it. She can ignore the law on treason because the Warren Supreme Court destroyed the effectiveness of the law. Senator Eastland and

Reading Results Bring No Surprises

Recently, some new results were released by the National Assessment of Educational Progress. These most recent studies were in the area of reading for individuals, ages 9, 13, 17 and 26-35. As many people expected, the results presented very few surprises. Just as other studies have indicated, there were about 20 per cent of all 9-year-old children who could not read at all. Among the young adults, 17-year-olds, 15 to 20 per cent were unable to do simple functional reading tasks in a multiple-choice testing situation.

The results indicated geographic areas of competence. The Northeast and Central regions were highest with the West somewhat lower. The Southeast was consistently the lowest of all age levels. At the adult (26-36) level, the West caught up with the Northeast and Central regions.

At ages 9, 13, and 17, females scored much better than males, but as young adults, the males were equal to females. Whites scored higher than blacks at all age levels. The affluent suburban areas scored highest and the inner-city lowest at all age groups. The very rural areas scored next to lowest. The results ranged from 7 per cent for the extremely affluent suburbs to 35-45 per cent for the extreme inner-city. What a sad situation for those 40 per cent in the inner-city who are unable to read functionally.

A comparison was done as to the educational level of the parents. People whose parents had no formal high school education scored lowest, followed by those whose parents had some high school. The highest scores were those with parents who had education beyond the level of high school.

The results of the study are very discouraging, but should not be used as a reason for throwing up our hands in defeat. We should instead use the information as an incentive for everyone to become involved in the "Right to Read Program".

Surely the statistics from this national assessment can be changed upward during the next five years, but the only way improvement will take place will be through parental involvement. Everyone must make an effort to encourage reading projects at all levels of education.

Early childhood projects must be supported in order to help prevent problems with learning to read as well as programs sponsored by the school systems for instructing children to read. The adult education programs need to be expanded so that more young adults can improve their skills regardless of their age or present status of education.

Support for education can have many forms—taxes, appropriations, and budgets are the most common, but let's not forget the importance of attitude. The educational systems usually reflect the interests and attitudes of the members of the community. So don't accept the results of this study. Do something about it. Get involved!

OIL MAKES NEWS IN MARYLAND

Take a good look at the newspaper you're holding. Without oil, it might not be there.

From the film in the press camera to the rollers in the presses—today's newspapers depend on products that come from oil. Even the ink comes from oil.

To get a newspaper out takes a lot of energy too. And 75% of all our energy comes from oil and natural gas (including 40% of our electricity). But today, we're using these petroleum fuels faster than we are finding them. That's why America faces an Energy Gap.

We're your local oil companies. Working to bridge the growing Energy Gap. Because it shouldn't be news to anyone that a country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.

By Charles McC Mathias
U.S. Senator

Slow Mail Service

I received a letter on September 14 of this year from the Greater Baltimore Chamber of Commerce inviting me to attend a luncheon meeting to hear the Secretary of Commerce, the Honorable Peter G. Peterson. The letter was mailed in Baltimore, the nation's seventh largest city, on September 1. Thirty-five miles and 13 days later, the letter arrived in my office. I searched my mail and found that my experience was not unusual. Constituent complaints about the mail abound one year after the Postal Service initiated service standards to "assure service to the American people."

One constituent, a businessman in Cecil County, wrote: "I am attaching two items which indicate a postal cancellation date of September 7 and 9, yet both were received by us this morning, September 15. Both items reached the post office in Rising Sun this morning, so the delay had to be between the point of mailing and Rising Sun."

"We have been watching the mail carefully each day and it is quite clear to us that we receive entirely too many letters which run from four to nine days, whether carrying regular postage or air mail postage."

A Baltimore businessman complained that the Postal Service is costing him money in two ways, by one, charging higher rates and, two, through slow service which drives his customers away. I quote:

"It is not often that we plague our elected officials with business problems, but in this particular case I am sure our problem is reflected in thousands of instances in Maryland and elsewhere."

"This complaint has to do with abominable mail service and is particularly detrimental to tax paying businesses like ours."

"We use postage will be paid cards as a means of encouraging customers to buy, a matter of making things easy for them to send orders in."

"Customers everywhere want good service, no matter what type of business, and we get reprimanded, as well as ignored, because many customers say we do not give good service and they buy elsewhere. They have a hard time believing that it takes five to ten days for a letter or postcard to travel twenty-five to a hundred miles from Baltimore."

A Baltimore rabbi wrote to complain that it takes four to five days for mail to reach Baltimore from New York. He called attention to a special delivery letter the Postal Service took 14 days to deliver and a copy of a telegram mailed in downtown Baltimore which was not delivered to him in Northwest Baltimore until three days later.

The United States Postal Service was created to modernize and improve mail service in this nation. Clearly, it has not met its Congressional mandate.

The mail seems to be slower in arriving than at any time in my memory. I want to know why. Why has the very instrument Congress created to expedite the mail clogged it? Why does it take 13 days for a letter to travel 35 miles and 14 days for a special delivery letter to get from New York to Baltimore? Why must businessmen pay higher postal rates and receive increasingly poorer service?

These questions must be answered. I am referring these cases to the Chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee and asking the Postmaster General to meet with me so I can examine the practices and procedures employed by the U.S. Postal Service.

It seems to me that the Postal Service has had sufficient time to shake the bugs out of new programs. Perhaps the programs are so full of bugs that we need to throw them out and start over again. I am prepared to take all necessary steps to see that mail is delivered within a reasonable time.

The public expects Congress to take every possible action to correct its child which has gone astray. If it takes an investigation then we must order one; if legislation is needed we must pass it and if one step is not enough we should pledge to take both.

Public frustration with the mail is all too apparent. As one constituent asked: "If it only took six days to create the universe, why does it take 14 for a letter to get from Baltimore to Washington?" That somewhat why question deserves an answer.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Business Prospects For Fourth Quarter

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., October 5, 1972—The nation's economy has shifted into high gear, and there is little evidence that the upward momentum will slacken in the near future. The Gross National Product, in current dollars, posted a smart 2.7% gain from the first to the second quarter reaching an annual rate of $1,239.4 billion. When third-quarter figures for GNP are available, they will doubtless show a continuation of the broadly distributed uptrend. For the final three months of 1972, we look for further strength, with real gain likely in most sectors of the economy.

Less Inflation

The upswing this year has been accompanied by a slowdown in the inflation rate, making the economic showing even more impressive. The second-quarter GNP price deflator was up only 0.4%, and in August consumer prices increased slowed to 0.2%. Thus, the dollar's purchasing power is declining more slowly than in recent years.

There is, however, considerable conjecture about the course of inflation in 1973. Many feel the economy is growing too fast for inflation to continue at this low level much longer, especially with the big labor pacts up for renewal next year. But despite 1973's uncertainties, inflation should remain under control this year.

GNP And Industrial Output

The Research Department of Babson's Reports is still projecting a gain in current GNP of about 10% for all of 1972, with most of the advance — more than 6% — in real terms and somewhat less than 4% due to inflation. The final figure could be slightly higher, reflecting greater-than-anticipated growth in consumer spending and inventory accumulation. The rate of gain in the last quarter should be comparable with that of the quarter just ended. Industrial production will continue its climb during this final three months. The capacity utilization rate will also improve, but may stay below earlier peaks.

Corporate Profits

Aided by increased volume and a lesser rate of inflation, corporate profits are registering good gains. This trend should not only continue but may even be stepped up in the last quarter. Consequently, Babson's Research Department expects a brisk 16% gain in corporate profits for the full year. The better profit picture is greatly enhancing the cash flow of most corporations. And because of dividend payment restrictions, most companies have an ample supply of cash.

Income And Consumer Spending

While unemployment has changed little since June, total employment has continued to climb. Job gains, increased social security benefits, and a somewhat longer work week will boost personal income this quarter. Consumer spending will thus be helped to make a strong showing in the last three months of the year. Big-ticket items, especially related to housing, should show additional strength, while spending for nondurables may gain faster than in the quarter just ended.

Capital Spending And Housing

Businesses are still projecting a 9.7% increase in plant and equipment expenditures for all of 1972, according to the Commerce Department — only a bit below the May projection of 10.3%. Manufacturers are planning a 5.6% expansion, year to year, unchanged from the May survey, while nonmanufacturing lines are planning to spend slightly less than in the early survey (12.1% vs. a 13.15% rise).

Although housing starts in the second quarter were 16% ahead of the year-earlier level, they were unchanged from the first-quarter rate, thus ending a string of eight consecutive quarterly housing records. August starts, however, surged to the highest point since last February's record, while building permits also soared. Housing starts may slacken in coming months, but they should, nevertheless, remain at an extremely high level by historical standards.

Fed Tax Questions And Answers

Q. I borrowed $750 last summer to pay my son's college tuition. When I figure out whether or not I can claim him as a dependent, may I include the tuition loan in total support I furnished him?

A. Yes. Amounts you spend on your son's education are included in total support furnished by you, even though you borrowed the funds. If your son had borrowed the $750 and spent it for tuition, that amount is included in total support furnished by him.

A handy worksheet to help you compute total support for your child is IRS Form 4679, "Child and Disabled Dependent Care Computation." This form is not required with your return, but may be kept for your records. It's available from your local Internal Revenue office.

Q. I spent $3 at a church-sponsored bingo game. Is this a deductible charitable contribution?

A. No. Amounts you pay to play bingo or engage in other games of chance are not deductible contributions. They are wagering losses.

Q. I just sold my house. I understand that I can reduce the taxable profit from the sale by taking into account additions made to the basis of my property. To what "additions" does this rule apply?

A. The basis or cost of property should be increased by adding to it: the cost of improvements and betterments having a life of more than one year, purchase commissions, legal fees such as the cost of defending and perfecting title (including title insurance), legal fees for obtaining a reduction of an assessment levied against property to pay for local benefits, certain finance charges, interest and taxes you have elected to capitalize and all other capital expenditures. The adjusted basis is subtracted from your sales price to determine the gain on the sale.

For more information, see IRS Publication 551, "Tax Information on Cost or Other Basis of Assets," and IRS Publication 523, "Tax Information on Selling Your Home." They're available free by writing your Internal Revenue district office.

Q. Who has to file Federal estate and gift tax returns?

A. Any person who tax return, Form 709, is required for the quarter during which a taxpayer's gifts for the calendar year to date to any one person total more than $3,000.

In the case of the estate of a citizen or resident of the United States, a Form 706, "United States Estate Tax Return," must be filed by the executor or administrator if the value of the gross estate was in excess of $60,000 on the date of death.

"BE PREPARED" FOR COLLEGE WEEKENDS

As the college semester gets into full swing, it's time to start thinking about fun-filled weekends on campus. Visiting a college is exciting, whether it's for Homecoming, to see a friend, or that first big fraternity date with your favorite out-of-town beau. But to insure an enjoyable stay, don't become frazzled by the necessities you might overlook when you pack your suitcase for the upcoming festivities.

If you coordinate your wardrobe first, you'll find there will be less left out when you unpack. Make a list of the clothes you'll take, then add accessories to complete each outfit. Be sure to include robe, pajamas, and underwear, too. A separate list for beauty basics will also come in handy, so take a pre-departure inventory of your personal care necessities. Check for toothbrush, toothpaste, deodorant, cosmetics and Listerine Oral Antiseptic. It kills odor-causing bacteria to keep breath fresh for those important close-up social encounters. To protect toiletry items and keep them in easy reach, pack them separately in a plastic bag or cosmetic case.

To keep clothes looking just-ironed lovely, insert tissue paper between garments as you pack. Start with shoes and handbags on the bottom, then put in robe, pajamas, pantyhose, socks and underwear; then add crushable sweaters. Leave skirts, slacks and dresses for the top of the suitcase, where they're least likely to crease.

When getting ready for the campus social season, remember to "plan with care so you don't worry once you're there!"

SAFETY SENSE

It has been reported that if everyone wore safety belts when in a car, as many as 20,000 might be saved from death each year.

Recent hearings in the Senate Commerce Committee on the implementation of the 1966 Highway Safety Act disclosed how far we still must go to make American drivers and their cars safe on the highways.

One point of agreement did emerge during the questioning by Senators Harke and Cook. Private industry and government officials testified that seat belts are still the most reliable and effective device for passenger protection.

Douglas Toms, who heads the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration which has been promoting air bags, or passive restraints, affirmed that seat belts would be an important continuing element in vehicle safety systems. Allstate Insurance Company's testimony, centering on its experiments with air bags, made it clear that seat belts most certainly should be required in conjunction with air bags.

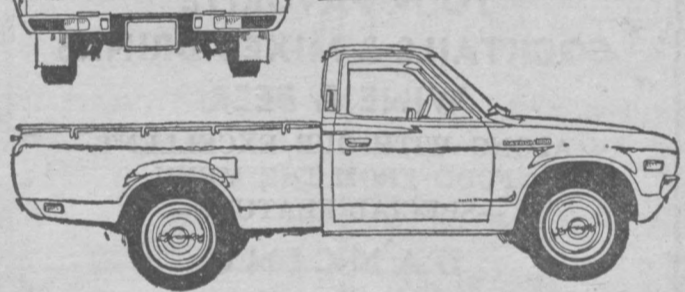

belts. Toms has said that if seat belt use increased to 75 percent or more, air bags probably wouldn't be needed at all.

Taking into account the estimated $300 air bag add-on to new car price tags on top of the cost of government-mandated emission controls, and experts believe these are necessary, you're talking about a significant consumer pocketbook issue as well as (your own) survival in an accident.

The few seconds you take to buckle up before driving are a small investment in your life and the safety of others in your car.

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

What was Maryland's share from the Federal Land & Water Conservation Fund this year?

Secretary of Interior, Rogers C. B. Morton, recently announced that Maryland has been apportioned $3.5 million from the Land & Water Conservation Fund for fiscal year 1973. The purpose of the fund is to insure open space and recreation opportunities for present and future generations through land acquisition. Also included in the fund is the Federal surplus property program which transfers to State and local agencies, at no cost, Federal surplus real property suitable for park and recreation use.

Why don't the State Police given on-the-spot "breath tests" to reckless drivers who drink too much?

Yours is a good idea, and in fact, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is currently testing a low-cost portable device that will give a law enforcement officer an accurate, instantaneous reading of alcohol concentration on a driver's breath. The importance of this project is underlined by the fact that half of last year's 55,000 traffic deaths were alcohol-related.

Does the Civil Service still give the examinations for postal jobs?

No. The U. S. Postal Service has assumed responsibility for employment examinations for Postal Service job applicants as a part of its new responsibilities under the Postal Reorganization Act.

I have worked in underground mines for 25 years but I had to stop working because I could hardly breathe. I applied for black lung benefits two years ago and was turned down. Things are pretty bad now — can you help me?

Upon receipt of your letter the Social Security Administration was contacted to reopen your case. As you are now aware, based on the new medical evidence you submitted, black lung benefits have been approved in your behalf. Citizens experiencing similar difficulty in obtaining federal benefits justly due them should contact my office in Washington for assistance.

An increase from $12,500 to $17,500 in Veterans Administration grants to eligible veterans for the purchase of "wheelchair homes," effective July 10, 1972, was the second hike in three years.

A woman's fingernail file is an excellent tool for sharpening fishhooks. The file is simple to use and will sharpen hooks faster than conventional sharpening stones, claims Raymond Shaw of Belchertown, Mass. Never sharpen a hook by filing back and forth; always move the file in one direction many times until the point of the hook feels sharp.—Sports Afield.

SAFETY PLEDGE OF JUNIOR FIRE MARSHALS
Anxious to do their share in preventing fires, members of The Hartford Insurance Group's Junior Fire Marshal program learn—and practice—this safety pledge:

I will never play with matches.
I will never start a fire.
I will tell my friends not to play with matches.

I will never go near a fire unless a grown-up is with me.
I will never use the stove unless my mother says I may, and only when she is right there with me.
I will learn what to do in case of fire.
I will learn how to turn in a fire alarm.
I will never turn in a false alarm.
I will always be a good Junior Fire Marshal. I will try to make Mom and Dad, my teacher and our firemen proud of me.

Trick Or Treat For UNICEF

It's Treat of Life time again. This fall, you do something really big to help needy kids around the world by taking part in the UNICEF Treat of Life and Trick or Treat programs.

Last Halloween, nearly 4,000,000 strong went trick or treating for UNICEF and collected almost $3,500,000. Many of them also took part in UNICEF's Treat of Life program—turning labels, packages, wrappers, etc., into pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, and dollars to help give less fortunate children better health care, improved nutrition, educational and prevention training. Treat of Life participating products are: Kool Aid packages; Welches Jams labels; Royal Jello Pudding; No Bake Cheese Cake panel; Willy Wonka candy wrappers; Swifts Premium Franks, front labels; Cap'n Crunch Cereals, coupons on the side panel; and Clark gum, Smile gum, outer pack wrappers.

HALLOWEEN PROTECT CHILDREN FROM CRACKPOTS

The most frightening horror of Halloween does not stem from the ghosts and goblins who ring doorbells with masked cries of trick or treat. Rather, it is the grotesque behavior of crackpots behind some of those doorbells who turn the children's evening of make-believe into a haunting nightmare.

Every year at this time, newspapers carry the heart-breaking stories of children who have been innocently duped by sick minds. Yet, every year the cautions go unheeded and November 1 sees the same stories all over again.

There is a solution to the problem, and it's a very simple one. Get together with your neighbors and plan an indoor trick or treat party for all the children. Buy your Halloween treats at a reliable store and buy only known brands of candy. A full line of safe Halloween candy is offered by Luden's, Inc., the Reading, Pa. candy and cough drop manufacturing company. Included are full size and miniature versions of their popular 5th Avenue and Nut Log candy bars as well as a wide variety of individually wrapped bagged items including candy corn, Spooky Treats, candy wafer rolls and many others.

Whether you buy Luden's or another nationally advertised and reputable brand, be sure that you give — and your children take — only wrapped candy with its original factory seal.

By playing safe, you won't have to worry which witch is which!

Town Proclaims Oct. 9 Columbus Day

In the photo above, Eugene Rosensteel and Grand Knight George L. Danner, Jr., of the Knights of Columbus, watch as Mayor Richard Sprankle signs Proclamation. Commissioners Eugene Myers, Sterling Goulden, J. Norman Flax and Philip Topper, are also on hand for the signing.

Monday, October 9, 1972, has officially been proclaimed Columbus Day in Emmitsburg. Area residents are urged to display their American flags in observance of this day.

PROCLAMATION Christopher Columbus' great voyage to the New World in 1492 required vision, courage and determination. His discovery changed the course of world events. His name is deservedly honored in history.

Columbus ventured into uncharted seas, disregarding the advice of supposedly learned men, because he had faith in God, faith in his own convictions, and faith in his capabilities as a navigator. His spirit was unconquerable. He persevered in the face of overwhelming difficulties.

It is fitting that America annually renders tribute to the memory of the famed Genoese explorer on the anniversary of his historic voyage.

I hereby designate, in accordance with this tradition, Monday, October 9, 1972, as COLUMBUS DAY.

I urge our citizens to observe this day in a manner that will dramatize and restate the fundamental principles of faith, wisdom and courage, which guided the footsteps of the Great Discoverer.

Signed, Richard M. Sprankle, Mayor Emmitsburg, Md.

Catoctin High School Announces Cast For Fall Play

The cast for the Catoctin High School fall production, "There's Always A Murder," was announced recently by Mr. Michael Miller, director.

"There's Always A Murder" stems from an actual murder case and is the first play to have an ice-skating background, and to use the new medium of combining "horri-fying melodrama" and "laugh provoking comedy."

The plot centers around Eric and Drucilla Taylor, a young married couple living in a fourth floor Boston apartment. Dick Love has the lead role of Eric, while sophomore Bonnie Gore plays Drucilla. They are ably supported by Paul Penwell, playing, Steve Haywood, the former tenant of their Boston apartment, and Linda Fisher, who plays Katherine Horton, a haughty pianist in search of her piano partner, Steve Haywood's step-brother.

No murder mystery is complete without a detective or two, and Jim Harbaugh, as Inspector O'Reilly, and Joe Tyler, as his bumbling sidekick Mulligan, fit the bill nicely.

Others in the cast, whose antics complicate the murder, are Denise Fahnestock as the musical Rosalind, and Jackie Humerick as the spinster Mrs. Biddle. Mrs. Oscar Merrygold, wild and unpredictable, is portrayed by Susan Moser, and Barbara Clem plays Mrs. Henrietta "Society" Jordan-Smythe.

Assisting Mr. Miller as student director is Susie Morningstar, a veteran of several plays. Gary Kolb will act as stage manager, and Julie Aulb is business manager. Andy Trossler heads the lights committee, Susie Black and Renee Germand will manage the costume committee, and Donna Perry is in charge of makeup. The prop committee is headed by Lynne Williar, Gary Kolk is in charge of the stage crew, and Debbie Sprankle is chairman of the publicity committee.

"There's Always A Murder" will be presented at Catoctin High on November 17th and 18th.
