

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
The Gillilands Of Great Conewago

"Our faiths grow dim—His goodness never falters—Each scarlet leaf has told this truth to me! The snows will come, but after them the spring-time. It is a part of life's long mystery. The songs we sing grow reedy and old-fashioned. Dear dreams may turn to dust before our eyes—But through the autumn, burning and impassioned God tells us that real beauty never dies!"

—Margaret E. Sangster

In order that the historical and genealogical study of the Gilliland (or Gillelan) family may be as complete as possible the clan is being traced back to its place of beginning—first from Scotland to the North of Ireland—then to the Province of William Penn, the Founder. In Pennsylvania, in company with others of their nationality and faith, they sought the frontier. In short they became the "defense of the Quakers" along the Blue Mountains.

In last week's column the listing of the Gilliland graves-stones as contained in the Great Conewago Presbyterian churchyard, at Hunterstown, Adams County, Pennsylvania, was begun. Today that listing is continued—with notes pertaining to the individuals in question.

Dr. Samuel Gilliland, who is interred at Great Conewago and whose tombstone inscription was given last week, did not die unmarried—as attested by the following record from the old "Adams Centinel."

1. Married at Hanover, Pa., by the Rev. J. H. Wiestling, on December 28, 1816, Doctor Samuel Gilliland, of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, to Miss Elizabeth Tait, the daughter of Mr. Samuel Tait, of Bloody Run, Bedford County, Pennsylvania.

Note: Approximately a year after his marriage Dr. Samuel Gilliland 'departed this life'. His obituary, as published in the "Adams Centinel" contains a great deal of biographical detail and is herewith given in full.

2. "Died, Tuesday, December 16, 1817, Doctor Samuel Gilliland. He was a native of this County (Adams) and was born July 31, 1780. He commenced the practice of his profession in this place (Gettysburg), shortly afterwards obtaining an appointment as Surgeon's Assistant in the U. S. Navy, in which capacity he remained nearly three years, from June, 1809, to May, 1812. During this period he made several voyages, principally on board the President Frigate, in which he visited England, France, and some other parts of Europe. War being declared between the United States and Great Britain, he resigned from the Navy and accepted the Surgeoncy of the 16th Regiment of Infantry, which was ordered to the Canadian border. Peace being restored, Dr. Gilliland returned to private practice in this place. Some short months later, accident brought him acquainted, at the house of a patient, with an amiable young lady, who in a short time became his wife. His widow, of little more than a year, survives him."

Note: This Dr. Samuel Gilliland was an uncle of the William Gilliland, the founder of the family, in Tom's Creek Hundred, Frederick County, Maryland.

The William Gilliland, whose grave is to be found in Great Conewago Presbyterian churchyard, died in 1831, without a will, therefore his estate passed through the Orphans' Court. His heirs are listed as follows:

3. Heirs and legal representatives of William Gilliland, Esq., late of Straban Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, Deceased: Mary (Vance) Gilliland, widow (second wife); the heirs of John Gilliland, deceased, to wit—Samuel Gilliland, John Gilliland, Margaret Gilliland, Catharine Gilliland, William Gilliland (all minors); William Gilliland, George Gilliland, Flemming Gilliland, and Joseph Gilliland.

Note: The William Gilliland, mentioned above, was the first of the family to live in Maryland and it is from this William that the Frederick County Gillilands are descended. These people can boast of a proud heritage for, according to the published obituary of William Gilliland, Esq., he was a soldier in the War of the American Revolution.

4. "Died, Tuesday, July 7, 1831, at his residence near Gettysburg, William Gilliland, Esq., in the 79th year of his age. He was a native of this County and in it spent the protracted measures of life, which Divine Providence was pleased to assign him. His youthful ardor was identified with the Spirit of '76. He felt for his country's wrongs, and as a soldier of that Revolution, assisted to maintain its rights, and secure its liberty and independence. As a Justice of the Peace he rendered important services to the community in which he lived. In the State Legislature he was for many years a Representative; and as an Associate Judge, for a considerable time assisted in the administration of justice in this County."

Note: The William Gilliland, Soldier in the War of the American Revolution and Civil Servant, was the son of an earlier William Gilliland, who is probably, according to a fairly reliable tradition, interred, along with other members of his family, in the old "Pines churchyard."

4. In memory of John Gilliland, died April 7, 1831, aged 52 years, 11 months, and 3 days.

The notes pertaining to the Gilliland family will be continued next week.

BUSY BEE CAKE

Busy bees made the honey that goes into this cake and other "busy bees" will eat it—and enjoy its rich chocolate honey flavor. It is still possible to bake cakes like "grandma" used to make when you use old reliable products such as Baker's Chocolate, popular since 1780. Dependable ingredients help make memorable cakes and this one is so good it will disappear right out of the pan—fast!

- HONEY CHOCOLATE CAKE
- |                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| 2 cups sifted cake flour    | 2 eggs                                  |
| 1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda | 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt           | 1 teaspoon vanilla                      |
| 3/4 cup butter or margarine | 3/4 cup water                           |
| 1 1/4 cups honey            |   |

Sift flour, soda, and salt. Cream butter; add honey, one tablespoon at a time, beating well after each to keep batter thick. Add one-fourth of flour mixture; beat until smooth. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Blend in chocolate and vanilla. Add rest of flour, alternately with water, beginning and ending with flour; beat very well. Bake in 13 x 9-inch pan, lined on bottom with paper, at 350° for 45 minutes, or until tester comes out clean. Frost as desired.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

A Question Of Taxes
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass. — At this time of year investors are wise to review their financial holdings in order to determine if changes should be made for 1972 income tax purposes before the year end. It is also appropriate to review the tax rules in order to utilize every possible deduction. Briefly, here are some of the high spots. More complicated situations will require the assistance of a tax adviser.

Dividends
Almost everyone holding stocks probably received dividends during 1972. The rule here is direct and simple: The first $100 of total dividends received from all companies combined is exempt from federal income tax. It should be noted that some dividends are considered a return of capital, hence will be identified separately as already entirely or partially exempt from ordinary income tax. Where joint tax returns are involved, each spouse owning stock is entitled to the $100 deduction including instances of joint ownership.

Capital Gains
While not everyone necessarily incurs capital gains or losses in every tax year, this is an important category. The most direct approach is to itemize sales into (1) long-term gains and losses (securities held for longer than six months prior to sale), and (2) short-term (held for six months or less). Combining the net long-term gain or loss with the net short-term result will determine the total net capital gain or loss for 1972 as a whole.

An excess net long-term gain may be reduced by 50%, with the balance only taxed at ordinary income tax rates. An excess short-term gain is fully taxable at ordinary rates. Thus, if practicable, it is more advantageous to take long-term gains.

Capital Losses

If long-term capital losses exceed capital gains, the excess may be used to offset up to $1,000 of taxable income, with the provision that $2,000 of long-term losses is required to offset the $1,000 of taxable income. Any remaining excess of capital losses may be "carried over" into future taxable years and applied in the same manner.

If a sale of securities is made deliberately to establish a loss, the law will disallow the loss if the same or essentially identical security is purchased within 30 days prior to or after the sale. However, there would be no objection to the purchase of another security in the same industry or near the price range of the one sold. Timing of sales for losses or gains is critical. This year, December 29 is the last day to sell to establish a loss, while December 21 would be the last day to sell in order to establish a gain in 1972.

Gifts
A method of accomplishing several goals is the granting of a gift of cash or securities which might have accumulated a heavy potential capital-gains tax liability. Tax-free gifts of up to $3,000 in value may be made annually to an unlimited number of persons. This is in addition to the lifetime exemption of $30,000 of gifts to one or more persons.

Charitable donations can be not only compassionate but may also have some tax advantages. Within limits they may be used as an allowable tax deduction, and if in the form of securities with a heavy capital gain, no tax will accrue.

The Taxman Cometh
These, then, are some tax facts to be kept in mind as the year draws to a close. Intended to be general in nature, the foregoing comments may serve to remind investors of tax savings possibilities. Such savings are important, but investors should also remember to place emphasis on the broader picture of investment goals and personal considerations, with savings through tax adjustments secondary.

Perspectives In Learning By Hazel Brown

Parents Can Help With Book Selection
Parents usually have some concern about the printed materials that their children read. Certain books and magazines are often kept out of the hands of the youngster until he is able to judge the quality and value of the contents himself.

The "no-no" reading materials are usually well known and easily recognizable but what about the materials your child should be reading?

Children develop attitudes toward reading from the experiences they have with books. If they are surrounded with books that are interesting to them, they will tend to develop more positive attitudes. Therefore, they are apt to read more.

What are some things we should know when helping our children to select books? Interest — We read books about topics which interest us. Some areas of interest can be cultivated by providing background experiences. A trip to the seashore can create an interest in shells, oceanography, fish, tides, weather, etc. A television program can stimulate an interest in reading a book about a similar topic. Newscasts can create an interest in reading the newspaper or a magazine to obtain additional information.

Parents should remember that there are sex differences in reading interests. Boys usually prefer books about sports, adventure, suspense, science fiction, and humor.

Girls will often read about animals, romance, fictional characters, humor and mystery. Girls will read books of interest to boys but boys will seldom read books of special interest to girls.

Reading level — The level of the material is very important. The child's teacher should be able to tell you the reading level. A parent can make a tentative judgement by listening to the child read. If there are more than 2 or 3 unknown words per page, the book is too difficult.

Appearance — The type of printing and pictures can be a factor in "turning-off" the reader. Most young people enjoy paper back or books with colored pictures.

Several books have been written to help parents guide children to books. The following suggested books contain information about reading interests, annotated titles and suggestions regarding the role that books can play in offering young readers insights into new experiences and values, as well as the challenges of life.

1. Carlsen, G. Robert, "Books and the Teen - Age Reader" (New York: Harper and Row, 1967).
2. Johnson, Eric W., "How to Live Through Junior High School" (New York: J. B. Lippincott, 1959).

3. Karl, Jean, "From Childhood to Childhood: Children's books and Their Creators" (New York: The John Day Company, 1970).
4. Larrick, Nancy, "A Parent's Guide to Children's Reading" (Garden City: Doubleday and Company, Inc., 1958).
5. Spache, George D., "Parents and the Reading Program" (Illinois: Garrard Company, 1965).

Maryland State Police Using New Computer To Check Speeding Drivers

Colonel Thomas S. Smith, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, this week announced the beginning of a new speed enforcement program upon Maryland highways — VASCAR speed enforcement.

Troopers patrolling highways in Baltimore, Harford, Howard, Anne Arundel, Prince George and Montgomery Counties have been equipped with a new speed timing device, which is capable of determining average speed to within 0.1 mile per hour. The device operates on the principle that distance divided by time equals average speed.

Patrolling troopers, operating VASCAR, may determine the distance between any two points upon a highway through which a vehicle has passed, and may also determine the time required to travel the same distance. VASCAR, after storing the distance and time factors in a miniature computer, quickly computes average speed and provides the trooper with a digital display to the nearest tenth of a mile. Selection of counties to receive the present 25 VASCAR units was made after a careful analysis of accident statistics which revealed that 79% of the speed caused accidents occurred in those six counties scheduled to receive VASCAR enforcement. Colonel Smith added that "The program will be expanded within the near future to include all the counties of Maryland."

Troopers selected to operate VASCAR units have attended a training program which included rigid examinations, both written and practical, to ensure that only fully qualified personnel operate the new devices. According to Colonel Smith, "Troopers will issue warnings for the initial period of operation of VASCAR to give motorists the opportunity to become familiar with these new units." Continuing, Smith said, "Adoption of VASCAR is a significant step forward in preventing the needless highway deaths on our highways as a result of excessive speed. VASCAR will not prevent all speeding, but it will increase the probability of being stopped by a trooper."

P. E. Working On Lowering Pollution Emissions From Generating Stations

Potomac Edison Company, its Allegheny Power System affiliates, and 15 other North American electric utilities, are entering into the third phase of a research program aimed at reducing air pollution from power generating station boilers.

Research and development work on the program, which has the potential to reduce emissions of sulfur oxides and nitrogen oxides, is being conducted by Babcock & Wilcox, a boiler manufacturer, and Esso Research and Engineering Company.

The boiler firm has been authorized to confirm the technical feasibility of, and to prepare a design for, a demonstration unit, as part of the program's third phase. A final decision on its construction will be made early in 1973, and construction could be completed in late 1974. Cost of the full-size demonstration unit, if its feasibility is confirmed, would be about $15 million.

The B&W-Esso process utilizes an electrostatic precipitator for controlling particulate emissions and a dry sorbent for controlling sulfur dioxide emissions. The system is installed between the boiler flue gas outlet and the stack.

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

What is being done by the Federal Government to assist local communities in planning local and regional parks?

The Federal Government under the Legacy of Parks Program can assist local communities in planning municipal and county parks. This program also provides funds for the purchase of land for park development. More than a dozen communities in Central and Western Maryland have benefited from this assistance over the past two years.

I recently read about a government consumer information booklet which compares the safety aspects of all American makes of cars. How can I get a copy?

An annual consumer information booklet and two companion pamphlets, dealing with safety performance of all domestic and foreign cars and motorcycles, is published by the Department of Transportation. The booklet, entitled "Performance Data for New 1972 Passenger Cars and Motorcycles", covers three areas of vehicle safety performance: Stopping Distance, Acceleration and Passing Ability, and Tire Reserve Load. The supplementary consumer pamphlets are entitled:

"Brakes—A Comparison of Braking Performance for 1972 Cars" and "Tires—A Comparison of Tire Reserve Load for 1972 Cars". Interested citizens may order the publication directly from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

I worked for a contractor of the Postal Service for over two years and resigned last fall. Can you be of assistance as the Postal Service has yet to pay the pension benefits due me?

As you are now aware the retirement payments went into the contractor's fund and not the Civil Service Retirement Program. Subsequent contact was made with the trucking company in question and a check for the full amount of pension and health and welfare benefits has now been sent you. Citizens having similar difficulties obtaining government benefits justly due them should feel free to write my office for assistance.

How do I go about ordering the detailed government book which tells how to fill in tax returns?

The book, entitled "Your Federal Income Tax", is published by the Internal Revenue Service and is on sale for 75c at most local post offices. You may also order a copy from the Public Documents Distribution Center, 5801 Tabor Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa. 19120. Be sure to make your check or money order payable to the Superintendent of Documents.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, James E. Locke, Jr.

The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address was No. MO470, State Correctional Institution, Dallas, Pennsylvania 18612; that the parties to this cause were married on the 23rd day of February, 1967, at Middletown, Maryland, by a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage one child was born, namely, James Edward Locke, four years of age, who is in the Custody of the Complainant; that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart, without any cohabitation, for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of the Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
NO. 1213 ADOPTIONS
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT
FOR FREDERICK COUNTY,
MARYLAND

The object of this Petition is the adoption of a minor child by the Petitioners named in said proceedings.

The Petition states that a male child, Richard Douglas Sharer, Jr., born on April 1, 1967; the mother of said minor child being Georgeann Florence Sharer whose last known address was Box 11, Court 55, Route 4, Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania 17325; that said minor child has been in the constant care and custody of the Petitioners since February 3, 1968. That the natural mother of the child to be adopted is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and her last known address being Box 11, Court 55, Route R.F.D. #4, Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, 17325.

The Petition prays that the minor child be declared the adopted child of the Petitioners; and for such other and further relief as the nature of their case may require.

It is thereupon this 25th day of October, 1972, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, and by the authority thereof, ORDERED that the Petitioners give notice to the said non-resident mother, Georgeann Florence Sharer, of the object and substance of this Petition by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 2nd day of December, 1972, commanding her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 2nd day of January, 1973.

Library Offers Selection Of Books On Christmas Gifts And Cooking

With Thanksgiving upon us, and before it is over we will have to begin thinking about Christmas. Wouldn't it be nice if we could have Thanksgiving sometime in October. On second thought, Halloween should be pushed back a little to give us a breather in between Holidays. At any rate, it is really such short notice to be advertising books about Christmas Gifts to make before the big day. I should just suggest you borrow one of our many beautiful cook books and make a batch of cookies or fudge for your family or friends.

However, since I started out to tell you about our Christmas books, I think I will just go ahead.

"The Family Christmas

Book," by Barbara Rinkoff—This book is designed to help you and your children share the warmth and joy of Christmas with families around the world. In this volume she includes a brief history of the season's customs and legends, recipes for tempting international delicacies, also detailed instructions for homemade decorations, many of them for children.

"Designs for a Family Christmas," by Ernestine Coffey and Dorothy Minton. If you feel that Christmas has become too commercial and if the children have taken the joy out of Christmas by their frenzied "I want" this book for you. Full directions and step-by-step pictures show how to make traditional swags and wreaths; cheques; trims and meaningful gifts from garden and kitchen. This book will help you create a more meaningful, joyous, heartwarming celebration of this beloved holiday.

"Christmas the World Over," by Daniel J. Foley. How the Season of Joy and Goodwill is observed and enjoyed by people here and everywhere.

Children's books take up much of the collection in every library. What better way is there to take commercialism out of the holidays but to read Christmas stories to your children. Some of the popular ones I will list to refresh your memory.

"Something for Christmas," by Palmer Brown. This is the story of a little mouse's search for a very special Christmas gift.

"Mousekin's Christmas Eve," by Edna Miller. To Mousekin, it was a strange sight to come upon on a wintry night. It was Christmas Eve, though, and the tree lights shimmered on the white snow. A house ablaze with light. He hurried toward it and huddled by a window ledge. This book reflects all the warmth and peace that any traveler feels in being snug at Christmas.

Many other books for children are to be found. I will list a few of them:

Christmas in Noisy Village, Twas the Night before Christmas, How Santa had a long and Difficult Journey Delivering his Presents—Miss Flora McFlimsey's Christmas Eve, The Littlest Angel and A Visit from Saint Nicholas. Drop into the library for your holiday reading.

Chances are, you never heard of the WHIRLIGIG and the WHIMMY DIDDLE. They are, however, excellent examples of our clever Colonial forebears' spinning ways with toys. The WHIRLIGIG was a toy which spun around when manipulated in a "surprising" way. The WHIMMY DIDDLE, looking little more than a notch stick with a propeller on top, could be set a-spinning by someone who rubbed it with a special "wand." One good turn deserves another. Give it a whirl.

Wool was scarce in Colonial times. So settlers made and repaired bedspreads and covers with cloth patchwork. With lots of time and a dash of flair modern women can make the same kind of decorative quilts that represent today's triumph of mind over mattress. Happily, the secrets to making these fascinating toys, crafts, and other objects have not been lost. They are explained in simple, step-by-step fashion in a new book called HOW TO MAKE WHIRLIGIGS AND WHIMMY DIDDLES AND OTHER AMERICAN FOLK CRAFT OBJECTS. If you can't find the book at your local bookstore, write to the publisher, Thomas Y. Crowell Company, Dept. CB, 666 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10019.

Ornithological Society Schedules Annual Dinner; Christmas Bird Count

The Frederick Chapter of the Maryland Ornithological Society has scheduled its annual dinner to be held Thursday, December 7, 1972, at 6 p.m. at the Jefferson Community Hall, Jefferson, Md. Following a buffet supper, Mr. V. Edwin Unger, from Federalsburg, Md., will give a slide presentation on "Penguins of the Antarctic." Presently retired from the wholesale petroleum business, Mr. Unger has long been interested in the observation and preservation of bird species, and has traveled widely to do so. From 1965 to 1971 he was President of the Maryland Ornithological Society and currently enjoys Chairmanship of the Sanctuary Committee of MOS. Those members and interested parties who have not yet made a reservation, may do so by calling club Vice President, Mrs. Linda H. Smith, at 662-0589. Reservations will be accepted until November 26.

The one remaining field trip for this month is scheduled for Nov. 26. Meet in Frederick, 2 p.m., at Baker Park Band Shell. The Christmas bird count to be held December 26, in Lewistown, has the meeting time of 6:30 a.m.; Mr. John Richards in charge.

Non-Drivers To Get State I. D. Cards

The State Motor Vehicle Administration has begun issuing Maryland's new Special Identification cards to non-drivers.

These I. D. Cards, made possible by recent legislation, are similar in size and design to the present Maryland drivers license, but contain many built-in security features to prevent alteration or counterfeiting.

HEADLIGHTS HELPFUL ADVICE FOR THE WOMAN DRIVER. Anticipation is the key to safe, skilled driving. Every second we're behind the wheel we have to anticipate what's going to happen in the next ten seconds. Zipping along in traffic at 60 miles per hour, for example, we have to ask ourselves what we plan to do if the driver in front of us suddenly slams on his brakes. Suppose he blows a tire and veers out of control? What are we going to do? Suppose we're entering a blind curve and coming at us head-on is someone trying to pass another car? Now what? It's sad to say but most of us in such a situation slam on the brakes and hope for the best. Unfortunately, hope isn't enough. What you should do in such a situation is head for an escape route, steer your car onto another line of direction, if there is one. Even if the space on your right is narrow, it's better to head for it than risk a head-on collision. For a free booklet of helpful advice on safe driving and maintenance of your car, write to Gulf Oil Company-U.S., P.O. Box 1519-TG, Houston, Texas 77001. Ask for the booklet, "Straight Talk for the Woman Driver." Remember, you must always drive the car, not simply ride in it. No car in motion and under control will go anywhere unless you make it go there.
