Most Anything At A Glance - By Abigail -

Another Christmas has come and gone and a few of us are still looking for snow. Snow lovers are probably in the minority however, as no one but the skiers seem to really need it. It seems to have been a pretty quiet and peaceful Christmas around town and that was a welcome relief for many people.

The New Year is just ahead—our yearly chance to start over once again. It is the time of year when many of us look backward and wish we'd done this or that differently; others look back and are rightfully pleased with what they have accomplished during the last 12 months. It's a time for folks all over to make resolutions that they certainly intend to keep during the coming year, and maybe some of them will do just that. It is a time for every one from the President on down, including many self-proclaimed experts, to promise other folks bigger and better things in the next months. It is a season full of new hopes and prospects and we need that about this time of year.

The Town can look back on a year of advancement. The Federal Grant for the park was finally received and work began; three parcels of land were annexed; land was bought to enlarge the water capacity of the Town; one apartment building is up, one is under construction and a development should be under way soon. The Town took on a new holiday look with the new Christmas decorations and it looks as if we will finally be getting our new school. All in all, I would say it has been a very progressive year for us.

1972 has also produced more rain in this area than we have seen in many years, leading to a lot of grumbling about the weather on the part of area residents. We had many beautiful days to enjoy though, and with our usual year-end enthusiasm we all hope the weather will be better in 1973.

As the year moves closer to its end, much of the country will today pause in its activities in honor of former President Harry S. Truman who died earlier this week. Whether one agrees with the way he filled his office or not, I think we all have some realization of the awesome power and responsibility that goes with the office, and that it takes a person of some stature to serve as President.

Again this year the clubs of Emmitsburg did an outstanding job in the way they treated the town children to Christmas surprises. This shows what individuals can accomplish by working together. If more communities would take the initiative to do more for themselves we would find that we need less of the huge, impersonal, time and money consuming welfare programs that exist in this country today. I am sure that our local clubs did more to brighten the holidays for area children than any number of large programs, controlled by outsiders, could have done. Congratulations to all of you folks who put forth the effort and thought to make our community a little better place to live in; I am sure the community joins me in extending their thanks to you.

Enjoy the New Year's Holiday, folks, and please except my wishes for a most HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Scott, Villa Rest, during the Christmas holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Gene S. Foster, Lutherville, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Scott, Jr., and daughter, Rockville.

Seton Center Children Host Christmas Social For Parents

Children attending Seton Center in Emmitsburg entertained their parents, last Thursday, at a Christmas Social.

It was an informal gathering with some parents coming early in the afternoon and others staying for a visit when they came to pick their youngsters up. Cookies and punch, made by the children, were served and the many decorations which had been lovingly constructed as part of the

Young Men Invited To Join Squires

Would an opportunity to join an international organization known as Columbian Squires interest you?

Naturally you will ask: "What is the Columbian Squires?"

Are you interested in organized social affairs, parties, dances or banquets? Does the prospect of playing on well-coached athletic teams appeal to you? Would you like to belong to a young Catholic men's organization that operates in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico and the Philippine Islands and is recognized as having one of the best programs ever developed for young men over thirteen years of age?

Does the prospect of serving on committees that organize important projects appeal to you? Do you like to debate, act in plays or receive coaching in public speaking? Have you ever visited the chambers of your local government, art galleries, or local industrial plants? You will do these things and more as a member of the Columbia Squires.

Do you enjoy outdoor activities like camping, fishing, hunting, skiing or golf?

Would you like to learn more about your Catholic religion? Spiritual activities sponsored by the Circle in which you can belong include projects in which you will learn more about your church and will provide you with the opportunity to live your faith. Still interested in becoming a member?

Then you should belong to your local Circle, an organization of other Catholic young men with whom you will be proud to associate.

The Circle has its own meeting rooms, its own investiture ceremony, its own monthly publication, and a program of activities planned and carried out by the members.

Still interested in becoming a member? Well, the Columbian Squires are having an Open House for boys that want to join. We need boys that like to play sports and other things. It will be held January 10, 1973 at the Knights of Columbus Home on East Main St., Emmitsburg, at 7:30 p.m.

LEGION TO MEET

The Francis X. Elder Post 121, American Legion, will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening, January 2 at 8 o'clock in the Post Home.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

The VFW Ladies Auxiliary will meet Thursday, January 4, at 8 p.m. in the Post Home.

Couple Celebrates 51st Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McDonnell, E. Main St., were guests of honor at a dinner Sunday, December 24, at the home of their daughter, in observance of their 51st wedding anniversary on December 22.

All children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren attended. They were: Mr. and Mrs. George McDonnell and children, Bruce, George Brian, and Brenda, Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eyer, Patti, Carol and Julie, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Betty Ridge, Emmitsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Downin, Kathy and Jason, of Gettysburg.

Beall Donates To Trooper Fund

A charitable contribution will be made again this year by Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-Md.) in lieu of sending Christmas cards.

Senator Beall has sent a donation to the Trooper Scholarship Fund at University Hospital in Baltimore.

The fund will be used to provide educational assistance to the children of State Police Troopers Philip L. Russ and Thomas A. Noyle who were killed in a helicopter crash last October. They were flying to Cambridge at the time to pick up a patient to be transferred to the Trauma Center at University Hospital.

"Mrs. Beall and I would like to acknowledge the holiday greetings from our many friends and we hope they will feel they have shared with us in our contribution to the scholarship fund," Senator Beall said.

This is the second year that Senator Beall has made a Christmas contribution rather than sending cards. Last year's recipient was the Children's Hospital of Washington, D. C.

Social Security Rule Change

Starting in 1973, people who are working while getting social security benefits can earn more but never lose more than $1 in benefits for each $2 earned, according to Carroll A. Jones, social security manager in Frederick.

"The more you earn, the higher your total income will be," Mr. Jones said. "Under the new social security law, social security payments will be reduced by $1 for every $2 earned over $2,100 in a year."

Previously, monthly payments were reduced by $1 in benefits for every $2 earned between $1,680 and $2,880 in a year—and by $1 for every $1 earned over $2,880.

"People 72 and over will continue to get their full social security benefits regardless of earnings," Mr. Jones said. Under the new law, people under 72 can earn as much as $2,100 in a year and get their full social security benefits. Different rules apply to people getting social security disability benefits if they work.

In addition, starting in 1973, full benefits can be paid for any month in which an employee's wages are not more than $175—or he didn't perform substantial services in self employment. Previously the monthly limit was $140.

"Also, starting in 1973, only your earnings in the months before you reach 72 will be used to figure what benefits are due for those months," Mr. Jones said. "Before, earnings in the entire year you reached 72 were counted in figuring benefits due for months before you were 72."

Another feature of the new law assures that the earnings exemption for people getting social security payments will go up automatically in future years as earnings levels increase, Mr. Jones said. The first year there can be an automatic increase is 1975.

VFW TO MEET

The regular meeting of Emmitsburg Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held Wednesday, January 3, in the Post Home, beginning at 8 p.m.

Decorating Contest Winners Listed

Judging in the annual Christmas House Decorating Contest, sponsored by the Francis X. Elder Post 121, American Legion, was held Christmas night. First prize for Best Lights was awarded to Mrs. Guy Wetzel, with Dick Oster receiving second.

In the Most Original category, Earl Hilbert received first prize and James Houck received second. Shorty Hart-dagen took first prize in the Nativity Category with Gerald F. Ryder receiving second.

Receiving Honorable Mention were Allen Bouey, Sterling Goulden, Bern-Shields and Whitey Welch.

The contest is a yearly event in which all Emmitsburg area residents are encouraged to participate. This year first place winners received $30.00 awards and second place participants were awarded $20.00.

State Income Tax Forms In Mail

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein Tuesday announced the mailing of 4,200 packages of mail containing 1,500,000 State Income Tax packets addressed to Maryland State Income taxpayers. The packets are all zip coded and fully prepared for delivery. The process, which began in October, was completed recently in the State Income Tax Division headquarters in Annapolis.

Mr. Goldstein noted that this bulk mailing of zip coded packets saves the State more than $18,000 a year.

"State income taxpayers should begin receiving their forms shortly," Mr. Goldstein said. He reminded the State's taxpayers that there would be an automatic extended filing deadline for income tax returns, during the 1973 filing season. The deadline will be Monday, April 16, 1973.

Happy New Year Alice!

James Hill Named Franchised Herd Consultant For GEM

James Hill

James R. Hill, Emmitsburg, has been named a Franchised Herd Consultant for the Genetic Evaluation and Management Service—GEM—of Holstein-Friesian Services, Inc., the Subsidiary of Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

As a GEM Consultant, Hill will work with dairymen in the state of Delaware, Berkeley and Jefferson counties of West Virginia and all counties in the state of Maryland except Allegany and Garrett. Hill will work closely with the dairymen identifying groups of cows within the herd that possess common physical strengths and weaknesses. Together they will then determine which highly screened sire can contribute the correct physical traits to a given group. In this way, a breeding program will be established for the herd using a minimum number of sires.

Critical areas of herd management will also be evaluated. These include calf raising, growth rate of heifers, average age of heifers at first calving, body weight following calving, herd removals and average days open. The herd's production data, genetics of the herd's service sires and pounds of milk produced per man per year are also evaluated.

Hill is fully qualified to be a GEM Consultant, having worked with dairy cattle all his life. He worked on the family farm until he was 21 and purchased his first three purebred Holsteins in 1959. Today the herd numbers 140. Hill was a member of the Maryland State 4-H Dairy Judging team that won the Waterloo contest in 1958 and the International Contest in Bristol, England in 1959. A high school graduate in agriculture, Hill and his wife, Anita, have three children, Dana, Michael and Susan.

"Bargaining Chips"

Last month delegates from the Soviet Union and the United States met in Geneva for the second round of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT). These talks are critical for the future of mankind. I fear that delay in reaching agreement at SALT II could result in costly and dangerous "bargaining chip" deployment of new nuclear weapons systems.

Our intelligence sources report that the Soviet Union is working on larger ICBM missiles, more advanced SLBMs, new bombers and may soon have MIRV war heads for its missiles. Meanwhile, the Nixon Administration has proposed and Congress has authorized funds for development of the Trident submarine, which will cost $1.2 billion each. In addition, the Administration has called for deployment of the new B-1 bomber and a new nuclear carrier as hedges against failure of the SALT agreements reached in round one of the negotiations. If these three new systems are deployed as replacements, for existing systems, the total cost to American taxpayers could well be over $150 billion.

It is critical that SALT II move quickly on to agreements so that we are not forced into deploying costly, unnecessary weapons systems justified as hedges or bargaining chips and I have submitted a four-point proposal to the Arms Control Association which I hope can be of some use in getting the talks off to a successful conclusion. An outline of the proposal follows:

1. Both the United States and the U.S.S.R. should work quickly to achieve a formula for an aggregate mutual parity on the basis of both quantitative and qualitative factors.
2. A qualitative freeze on

Even while playing hooky from modern civilization, the outdoorsman may avail himself of a considerable measure of cold-weather comfort. To beat testing nuclear weapons, such as MIRV, should be established by limiting the number and types of tests.

3. Prohibit the deployment of mobile land-based ICBMs.

4. Achieve overall numerical reductions in nuclear armaments. It is important that SALT progress rapidly because the rest of the world will not stand still while the United States and the Soviet Union negotiate in leisure. The Chinese will soon have an ICBM. The French are about to detonate a hydrogen bomb. There are at least a dozen nations on the verge of possessing nuclear weapons and the uncontrolled advance of nuclear technology is making an enlarged and widespread nuclear danger a greater possibility.

In the diplomacy of parity, there is no bargaining and no real advantages are given up because both sides accept the view that the economic, military and technological strength of both sides is so great that neither power can gain any advantage over the other. Both sides have the unchallenged capacity to completely destroy the other as well as the rest of the world many times over, and both sides recognize there is nothing to give up.

What is really at issue in parity diplomacy is the acceptance of an arbitrary number for the assured deterrent of both country's arsenals which satisfies their politics. The numbers in the arsenal and the quality of the weapons of both sides are known with accuracy to each other and there is confidence in the ability of each to assure that each side will abide by the terms of the limitation agreements. Therefore it is possible, within the context of parity, to move very quickly to conclusive negotiations of the politically acceptable numbers.

LOOKING AHEAD

Enemies Identified

The critics of our private enterprise system—those who are not linked to the Communist-Socialist conspiracy to overthrow the system—can't tell us where Big Government, which is invariably their formula for society's progress, has provided for its people a better living standard and a climate for the growth of freedom such as Americans have enjoyed for nearly two centuries. The reason they cannot is that nowhere on earth at any time in history has a Government provided for its people as much as one-half the good things of life—including food, shelter, clothing, recreations, freedom, happiness—that private enterprise has provided for the American people.

These people who are willing to stand by while the American system is wrecked don't know the facts, or they would challenge the detractors, the wreckers. Of course our system hasn't worked perfectly; but the basic reason is that we do not have perfect people operating the system. The 100 million Americans who are involved, through stock ownership or actual participation in running the economic system, are not perfect people. There are some bad apples, there is some incompetency, some greed, and many mistakes made. But this doesn't mean that the principles of the system are not sound. They are. History has proved that over and over again. In fact there is far less exploitation under private enterprise than under a dictatorship.

A Challenge Yet there are millions of people in America who are, through their actions or their failure to act, aiding the cause of America's enemies—which is to ruin and overthrow the private enterprise system. So it becomes the responsibility of all the other citizens, an overwhelming number if they can be once moved to action, to protect private enterprise, under constitutional government, which is the source of our unmatched national wealth, our freedom and our future prosperity. They must become missionaries to the uninformed. They must help reach all the people of America with the facts about the American economic system. This crusade requires the cooperation of the family, the church, the schools, and the government. Of course, the Communists and Socialists are the major enemies. Both are worldwide conspiracies. Both plan to bring everything under Government ownership—for this gives a small group of the "elite" absolute power over the lives of all the people. And they are working together, the Socialists and the Communists. False Teachings Many young people in America who do not know the difference between Socialism and Capitalism have been alienated from our system by Socialists or Communists in our educational system, Socialists or Communists in the press, Socialists or Communists in

SAVE ON PLUMBING COSTS

If you've tried to ignore a constantly running, leaky toilet because of today's high plumbing costs, here's a simple and inexpensive solution. A new plumbing device, which can be installed by anyone in minutes, will solve the problem once and for all.

The unit, called Fluidmaster, is a new type of toilet ballcock, which replaces the old fashioned ballcock used for generations inside most flush tanks to control water level. It not only offers positive water shut-off, but audibly "signals" water waste whenever the toilet tank ball, located at the bottom of the tank is leaking water—water which can easily add dollars to a monthly bill.

With this totally redesigned ballcock, made out of corrosion resistant stainless steel and plastic, the troublesome float ball and arm are eliminated altogether. The rising water level in the tank lifts an integral plastic float. This in turn activates an internal valve designed to keep water flowing in at full strength from start to finish. Unlike the conventional ballcock which uses leverage from the float ball to hold back the water pressure, the Fluidmaster redirects this fluid energy to hold its valve shut. With the Fluidmaster, you no longer have to worry about bending the float arm to give the float more leverage, or endure a running toilet when the float ball begins to leak.

The new ballcock not only fills the tank faster, but eliminates the leaks, squeaks and whistles caused by a gradual slowdown when the tank is nearly full. Slow tankball leaks become easy to detect as well, because the sound of the Fluidmaster's "full-on" refill signals the homeowner that the tank is leaking, regardless of how quiet or small the leak.

Fluidmaster can be a real money-saver for one whose water system is tied to a pump either on a farm or at a camp. With the conventional ballcock or tank ball slowly leaking, toilet tank water can flood a septic tank or cesspool. If there's a constant demand for water on a farm, caused by toilet tank leakage, the pump will run continually on and off, thus not only wasting water but electricity needed to maintain the pump.

It's a relatively simple matter to replace the conventional ballcock with this new device. The water to the tank is shut off and the tank is drained by flushing once. The inlet pipe at the bottom is unscrewed and the old unit is lifted out including the float ball and arm. Then the new unit is attached into place and set for the required height of water.

Local hardware stores sell Fluidmaster for less than $5. The Model 200 fits all tanks. If you can't find one in your favorite store, write to Fluidmaster, Inc., 1800 Via Burton, Anaheim, California 92805, for the name of a local retail outlet.

the motion picture industry, in publishing, and in many other areas of communications. In some cases, textbooks have not painted a true picture of our history and economic system, and thus many young people have turned against the American system on the basis of false or incomplete information.

The No. 1 Enemy is World Communism. Its agents have been busy in all facets of our society. The Communists began trying to tear down America back in the early 1920's. They infiltrated their people into every phase of our way of life, particularly into all the agencies and institutions of information. Until the end of World War II, the success of the infiltrators was limited. But in the latter part of the 1940's they began to make astounding progress influencing the opinions and actions of millions of people.

Attack Business System The Communist propagandists among us continue to hammer away at our economic system, our industrial system, and what they call "Big Business." Actually they mean to destroy the entire business system; but they cunningly use "Big Business" as their propaganda "whipping boy."

They hammer away at traditional morality. On Many campuses, they get their young converts or dupes elected to top student offices, such as presidents of the student body, chairman of the student councils. They begin to form revolutionary cadres among the students. They may introduce their young recruits to Marijuana and then the "hard" drugs. They foment "demonstrations" and whenever possible "violence" against "The Establishment," "The System," "Private Enterprise." They send their ruffians to destroy banks because they have made banks symbols of private enterprise capitalism. Over and over again in America the Communists have shown ability to mobilize hundreds of thousands of "dissidents." And the basic reason they are successful in this is because the dissidents do not know the facts about our American system.

False Teachings Many young people in America who do not know the difference between Socialism and Capitalism have been alienated from our system by Socialists or Communists in our educational system, Socialists or Communists in the press, Socialists or Communists in

SPAGHETTI CLOCKED FOR SPEED

Is there a clock-watcher in the house? Time has a way of running ahead of itself when you're on the run too. Suddenly it's dinnertime . . . and you need some really good emergency fare.

A bit of fast thinking—along with the clever use of convenience foods—saves the day. Simply take a can of Spaghetti with Meatballs in Tomato Sauce and give it the special zip of canned sliced mushrooms, garlic salt, and dried chives. Appetizing it is! Time-consuming it isn't!

Spaghetti with Meatballs makes a fine main dish straight from the can, too. Keep your pantry shelf well-stocked and you'll always have a speedy solution to the "mealtime already?" dilemma.

SPEEDY SPAGHETTI

- 2 cans (15 ounces each) Spaghetti with Meatballs in Tomato Sauce
- 1 can (2 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
- Chopped dried chives

In saucepan, combine spaghetti, mushrooms, and garlic salt. Heat; stir now and then. Garnish with chives. Makes about 3 1/2 cups.

Why Americans own $54,000,000,000 worth of U.S. Savings Bonds.

One good reason is the Payroll Savings Plan. About three-fourths of all Bonds are purchased through the Plan. It's helping Americans save more money than they ever dreamed they could.

That's because the Payroll Savings Plan is such an easy way to save. All you do is sign up where you work and the amount you specify is set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's the easy way to build a nest egg.

You've got your reasons to save money. There's one great way to do it painlessly. Join the millions who are buying Bonds the Payroll Savings Way.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

 the Dielman name, in the Emmitsburg District, died out with the death of the old professor's second son in 1923.
 Some light is thrown on the Cretin family, of Frederick County, by the Court records. On November 6, 1881, Mary (Cretin) Dielman, the wife of Lawrence L. Dielman, petitions the Orphans' Court of Frederick County for the division of the real estate of her parents. The document states that James Cretin, at the time of his death, left his entire estate, both real and personal, to his widow, Mary Ann Cretin. "Said widow has since deceased"—dying intestate—and the property should be divided among the "heirs

at law." The heirs are listed as follows:
 1. Daughter—Mary Cretin
 the wife of Lawrence L. Diel-
 man.
 2. Daughter—Ann E. Cre-
 tin, the wife of Francis P.
 Bucy (This daughter was deceased when the petition was presented).
 3. Son—James P. Cretin.
 4. Son—Joseph A. Cretin (bought his parents' property
 when it was sold).
 5. Daughter—Agnes C. Cre-
 tin—died unmarried in 1860.
 6. Son—Samon A. Cretin.
 In the Mountain churchyard
 (St. Anthony's) are to be found the graves of quite a few members of the Cretin family — including those of James and Mary Ann Cretin,
 and two of their daughters.
 The inscriptions follow:
 1. In memory of James Cretin, died February 17, 1857,
 aged 69 years.

2. In memory of Agnes Cretin, the daughter of James and Mary A. Cretin, died March 12, 1860, aged 19 years,
 3 months and 5 days.
 3. In memory of Mary Ann Cretin (wife of James Cretin),
 born September 8, 1802, died
 February 21, 1879.
 4. In memory of Mary C.
 Cretin, born December 21,
 1835, died March 5, 1892.
 Note: In an old record book,
 at one time the property of the Shuff family, but now in possession of the author, recording deaths and burials in the Emmitsburg District, the death of Mary (Cretin) Diel-
 man, is recorded as follows:
 2. Mrs. Lawrence Dielman, died March 5, 1892, aged 51
 years. Burial at the College.
 According to a local tradition Mary (Cretin) Dielman died at Hagerstown, Maryland.
 If so, her body was returned to Emmitsburg and interred with other members of her family in the "Mountain churchyard." It is known that

Mrs. Dielman and her husband were separated before the death of the wife. It would appear that "Larry" Dielman was not addicted to work and could not or would not support his wife. He ("Larry") kept a little store near Saint Anthony's Roman Catholic church but this enterprise would not have yielded a livelihood for two people even "in the good old days." The Cretins were "hard workers" and "got on in the world." Lawrence Diel-man preferred to play the banjo or flute and refused to have a worry or care. Apparently this led to a "parting of the ways" and the couple separated.
 In an undated clipping from
 the "Emmitsburg Chronicle", made available by a reader of this column, records the following:
 "Larry" Dielman has played his last tune beside the grave of his father. The man, who for more than thirty years, had trodden from his lonely home, near Emmitsburg,
 to the spot where is buried
 the body of his beloved father,
 has fallen the victim of fate,
 aparetic in the seventieth year of his age. It was "Larry's" custom to march off every Christmas Eve to that lonely grave and play the 'Adeste Fidelis' as a tribute to his devoted father. This year he was forced to abandon the sacred custom because of illness.
 "More than a year since the veteran musician, on the advice of his physician, gave up his little home and store in the woods near Emmitsburg.
 In March he was paralyzed
 and taken of Mount Hope,
 where he partially recovered
 and was moved to a home near Thurmont, where he now lives with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roddy. Though able to walk a little he is paralyzed along the whole side of his body.
 "Just a few days before Christmas 'Larry' discovered that he would not be able to play his flute this year. He made many attempts but all ended in failure."
 The historical and genealogical data pertaining to the Dielman family will be continued in this series next week.

Free Heart Check-Ups Offered To Area Residents

Free heart check-ups will be offered to Frederick County residents on Saturday, January 13, 1973, according to
 Dr. Nicholas Foris, Chairman, Professional Education Committee and Mrs. Lorraine Covahey, R.N., Chairman, Community Service Committee,
 Frederick-Carroll Heart Association.

Dr. Foris added that the Frederick-Carroll Heart Association will sponsor a free screen test to evaluate patients blood pressures and to provide a gross stethoscope examination of any Frederick County person regardless of their age.

The screen test will be given at two locations, Independent Hose Co. and West Church Street and the YMCA on N.
 Market Street, from 9 a.m.
 to 5 p.m. It will be administered by qualified licensed physicians.

Doctors administering the screen tests are donating their time and efforts and will be primarily checking blood pressure, weight, patient histories and will be conducting stethoscope examinations of the heart to determine whether any given patient might have abnormalities such as heart murmurs or an enlarged heart.

"If everything is okay, the doctors will tell the patient not to worry. If there are problems the patient will be informed of it through the mail and referred to his family physician or some other doctor for more extensive examination and treatment," Dr.
 Foris said.

Mrs. Diane Hipkins, Program Director, commented,
 "We are very fortunate to have two excellent committees working with this screening program. We are hoping to meet the needs of our community, to serve in the prevention of heart disease. We are urging persons who come for the check-up to also take a look at our literature table.

 The physicians and nurses will not have time to answer personal questions, however, we hope the literature table might be of assistance for information about heart disease. It is hoped by our President, Robert G. Hooper, that this might become an annual program and might expand to more people." For questions

BABSON'S BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL FORECAST FOR 1973

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., Dec. 28, 1972—Our Forecast a year ago was heavily laced with economic and financial reasons for optimism regarding prospects for 1972. In retrospect, our two key predictions proved to be correct. On the economic front we envisioned the emergence of a more hopeful attitude on the part of businessmen and consumers that would speed up the economic recovery. On the financial front we projected a good year for the stock market in 1972, and indicated that the Dow Jones Industrial Average would pierce the 1,000 mark in either late summer or early fall.

Home Free In '73.. 1972 turned out to be a year of almost unbroken economic and business progress. The public might well have been more keenly aware of this healthy environment had it not been for the politically motivated rhetoric of the less-than-Utopian aspects of the business picture. The most facile means of forecasting is, of course, simply to take prevailing conditions and project them into the future, even though this is not necessarily the most logical or accurate way. Such an approach is commonly used among laymen, and often even by those more knowledgeable in business affairs. Little wonder, then, that just as optimists were conspicuous by their absence a year ago, most forecasters of 1973 business up to this point reflect today's enthusiasm and happy anticipation. Pockets Of Potential Trouble The staff of Babson's Reports once again stands somewhat apart from the herd and takes a more moderate view of developments over the next twelve months. Our opinion is far from pessimistic, but it does incorporate a healthy respect for some of the vital problems which the nation's economy may have to face in the new year. Hence, readers of this Babson Forecast are advised to be psychologically prepared to cope with possible disruptions of varying intensity along the labor front, on the monetary scene, in the fight against inflation, and in areas of high sociological sensitivity.

Strike Threat A year from now, we may look back and credit labor relations with having molded the profile of 1973's business pattern. Whether the nation is to suffer an inordinate degree of economic dislocation during the coming twelve months could depend to a considerable extent on just how aggressively and persistently labor leaders press their demands, and also on how the Administration handles the labor issues in its effort to stave off serious, long-term injury to the economy from further ravages of inflation. While the Babson staff is hopeful that the overall damage will not be excessive, there are bound to be a number of conflicts which will jar business and public confidence for a while.

Industrial Production 1974 (portions of both fall in the calendar year 1973), the Nixon Administration will aim for a moderate budget deficit by impounding funds allocated for certain purposes. World Peace And Trade By the time this Annual Forecast is published, there could already be a cease-fire agreement for the Vietnam war. In any case, such a truce should not be far off. How long such a cooling-off arrangement will last, however, is indeterminate. We are hopeful that this forward step can be followed by negotiations leading to a permanent peace treaty. Even if a cease-fire is achieved but fails to hold, any resumption of fighting will presumably take place without American forces. Hopefully, settlement in Vietnam may be only part of a favorable peace package which will incorporate agreements to maintain the integrity of all other Southeast Asian nations.

Gross National Product It is the opinion of the Babson staff that through the combination of anticipated higher prices and increased output, the nation's 1973 Gross National Product in current dollars should post an advance approximating 9% over 1972, a gain of about the same magnitude as that seen in the year just ended. In constant dollars (deflated basis), with 1958 as the base period, we expect a year-to-year increase of about 4% compared with 5.5% for 1972. This smaller rate of progress points up the fact that general business in 1973 will tack on further gains but not with the same degree of vigor.

Good Year For Farmers The step-up in grain exports this past year has stiffened agricultural commodity prices materially, and 1972 is winding up as one of the best years in history for the nation's farmers. Realized net income could reach $18.8 billion, a total which would outstrip the previous peak of $17 billion reached back in 1967. Farm income next year should hold near this all-time-record level. Domestic demand for agricultural products will remain strong, while exports are expected to rule in the upside. Farmers are already "champing at the bit" to start tilling and planting 1973's spring crops. The farm-equipment market is booming, and demand for fertilizer and seed will be brisk. Farm real estate prices have also strengthened.

Bright Consumer Psychology All told, the nation's consumers can look forward to a good year in 1973. There will be some dissatisfaction over prices as well as occasional tremors among workers unsettled by labor-management confrontations, but the overall atmosphere will be heart-

What Will The Administration Do? The Babson staff foresees some sharp jawboning by the Administration to convince labor and management that they must co-operate in keeping wage and price increases within tolerable range. Should such moral suasion fail, however, there is always the last resort: Price and wage controls far more restrictive and of greater scope than the partial curbs and guidelines we have been operating under for about a year and a half. With such stringent anti-inflation curbs, neither labor nor management nor the consumer really benefits or is happy.

Hence, we are hopeful that the pending labor negotiations in pattern-setting fields will be resolved with only moderate price inflation and without business stoppages. If price inflation should be held to a walk in the early months of the new year, there is a good chance that controls will be modified and eased. Although it would be unrealistic to expect total cessation of anti-inflation controls in 1973, even some relaxation would have a positive impact on public confidence. Overall, we are hopeful that price and wage hikes can be kept to around 6% in the coming year, leaving the normal productivity gain of 3% to 3.5% per annum as a partially counterbalancing influence. The Administration itself will be in the forefront of the inflation battle. While it would be overly ambitious to look for a balanced federal budget in either fiscal 1973 or fiscal 1974 (portions of both fall in the calendar year 1973), the Nixon Administration will aim for a moderate budget deficit by impounding funds allocated for certain purposes.

Bright Consumer Psychology All told, the nation's consumers can look forward to a good year in 1973. There will be some dissatisfaction over prices as well as occasional tremors among workers unsettled by labor-management confrontations, but the overall atmosphere will be heartening. Employment should move above the record rate already achieved during 1972. Already the "Help Wanted" newspaper sections are reflecting an increase in numbers of job openings. On the other hand, unemployment will shrink only a trifle from the current 6% of the civilian labor force, possibly reaching the Administration's target of 5.5%. This is scarcely satisfactory to labor leaders, but it must be recognized that it is difficult to reduce jobless totals—even when employment is on the rise—if there is a massive influx into the labor force of young people and mothers seeking part-time or full-time work. And this will be the case during 1973.

As we said earlier, wage rates will climb further in the year ahead. The pattern for raises and fringe benefits for the ensuing three years may well be determined by contracts inked in the key trucking, auto, and construction industries in the new year. With multiyear agreements usually calling for the lion's share of the overall increase in the first year, average wage rates in America industry will show a significant rise in 1973, tempered somewhat by whatever controls are in effect. All of this will mean an upward push in both gross and disposable personal incomes.

Spending Will Rise The combination of full employment, soaring wage rates, and new highs in personal income will, of course, put consumers in a spending mood. For that reason the staff of Babson's Reports looks for a substantial rise in consumer spending for 1973. The continuing advance in consumer expenditures will be spurred to the commercial transactions achieved between this country and Russia and Red China barely scratch the surface of the trade potential which exists on an international scale. We forecast an increase in foreign commerce for the United States in the new year, involving more industry groups. Stupendous though the potential may be, we can ome degree by a decline in the rate of savings. The trend toward putting away a smaller percentage of disposable income has been in evidence since the third quarter of 1971, after hitting a peak in the preceding quarter when consumers channeled 8.6% of toward putting away a smaller savings. For the full year 1971 the savings rate was 8.2%, but we estimate the 1972 figure will prove to have been reduced to 6.6%.

With little chance for much reduction in food prices and consumption per capita still climbing, a fair portion of the increase in personal incomes will go for food and beverages. Consumers will also spend more for eating away from home. With new housing starts in 1972 holding up longer than was earlier expected, furniture and home furnishings are likely to remain strong areas of buyer interest. Purchases of new autos were extremely heavy during the bulk of the past year, and that this tendency will continue, and three is no indication, however, that we look for considerably less of an upward fillip in home furnishings and auto sales in 1973 than was seen in 1972.

In both instances, it is getting late in the upward phase of the selling cycle. We do expect, however, quite positive gains in consumer spending for leisure-time activities and products, and for apparel and accessories.

Capital Expenditures

Business capital expenditures will help to stimulate the economy during 1973, but not with the same potency as in previous business booms. It is probable, in fact, that a good chunk of capital spending will be not for increased productive capacity but for items of high social priority. Most firms will be laying out more money to comply with anti-pollution regulations, and companies in the oil and gas industry will expend huge sums in the search for new reserves. Major gas distributors are so hard-pressed for fresh supplies of natural gas that they are advancing millions of dollars to help pay for exploration and development costs in exchange for the right to purchase a major part or the entire output of a given area. All in all, business capital expenditures in 1973 could show a gain just about matching the 10% marked up during the past year.

Interest Rates—Bond Market

Since the consumer will be spending more and business will be building up inventories and pouring out more funds for capital - equipment programs, there will inevitably be some upward pressure on interest rates. But we stress once more that we do not anticipate another traumatic credit crunch such as occurred during the closing years of the 1960s. The brunt of any interest-rate rise is likely to come at the short end of the money-rate scale, with only a moderate firming of long-term rates. Keep in mind that the total of new housing starts will probably ease a bit in 1973. Moreover, corporations are generally in good financial condition after building up their resources over the past two years with the aid of the investment tax credit. The Babson staff looks for corporate profits after taxes to go up about 12% in the new year compared with 16% in 1972. Even this smaller gain, however—coupled with the freeze on corporate dividend disbursements—will enhance business liquidity.

One area of danger in the money-rate picture may be traced to the government's doorstep. The U. S. Treasury is slated for fairly active refinancing in 1973, and the unusual and unexpected tax receipts that have come in during 1972 through overwithholding will not be seen in the new year. Whether the Treasury's debt-management efforts will pose a problem depends on inflation prospects. If, as now seems to be increasingly accepted, the general public feels that inflation is being restrained, the federal refinancing projects are likely to occur without undue pressure on interest rates.

Hence, bond prices will probably show sporadic signs of softness in the short to intermediate sections of the maturity scale. But on the long-term end prices should be generally well maintained. In general, 1973 should offer ample opportunity to make selected purchases of bonds and preferred stocks of good quality for investors who need to nail down a fair amount of fixed income from their investments. Wherever possible, however, some inflation hedge should be sought, even to the point of sacrificing a little income on a portion of investment capital. This part of investment funds can be placed in some attractively priced convertible debentures and convertible preferred stocks.

Bigger Tax Bite?

The outcry for tax reform, the staggering projected federal budget deficit, and the need for help at state and local levels indicate that somewhere along the line in 1973 there must be a heavy tax wallop. The staff of Babson's Reports does feel, however, that by closing tax loop-holes of the more glaring sort and putting some restraints on public spending, the federal government can avoid an outright increase in both corporate and personal income taxes in the coming year, over and above the social security tax hike that is already scheduled to take effect January 1, 1973.

Stock Market Outlook

The stock market during 1973 will have three powerful factors in its corner: (1) The element of peace; (2) the generally hearty economic climate; and (3) the decisive nursing of the 1,000 mark by the Dow Jones Industrial Average which is whetting the investment appetite. These are considerations that tend to stiffen investment confidence substantially. On the assumptions that corporate profits can post another gain during the coming year and that inflation can be prevented from running away, the Dow Jones Industrial Average can be expected to work into still higher territory over the next 12 months. The possibility of a move past the 1,100 mark, to even a challenge of the 1,200 level, should not be ruled out. However, there may not be a smooth jet might for the stock market, if only because of the overhanging danger of labor troubles which will threaten for virtually the entire year ahead. Nevertheless, barring an unpredictable major adverse development, many of the stocks which have been in the doldrums will have an opportunity to catch up with the parade. Among the groups that can give a good account of themselves in 1973 are those related to the energy crisis; the reawakening laggards such as steels, chemicals, and insurance issues; and those which stand to benefit most from the increase in business capital spending and stepped-up foreign trade. The intense atmosphere along the labor front in the new year could also attract investors to the stocks of concerns dealing in equipment that would cut back excessive labor costs. Promising though the stock market outlook may be at this transition period—1972 into 1973—the staff of Babson's Reports is of the opinion that investors should employ a healthy measure of conservatism in their investment moves. Resolve, for instance, not to chase stocks which have already gone whizzing upward; try to operate on a sensible investment game plan. Give due consideration to the fundamental quality of investment selections and to securing at least a reasonable degree of diversification for your portfolio. In addition, keep on hand some investment reserves at all times.

NEW YEAR'S FIRE SAFETY RESOLUTIONS

If you give a New Year's party, be sure exits are unblocked and have fire extinguishers ready and handy at all times.

Locate the fire alarm boxes near your home.

At a church or school celebration, and most importantly, in your own home, be sure there is no debris left afterward to catch fire.

For your New Year's party use only fireproof party decorations.

Make sure there are plenty of ashtrays wherever your house guests sit or stand.

Never use fireworks or guns to welcome in the New Year.

Threefold wishes go your way — health, wealth, happiness in the New Year — with our thanks by the thousandfold.

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

How does the Social Security Administration determine if a deceased miner has died due to Black Lung?

According to the Social Security Administration death will be found due to Black Lung (pneumoconiosis) if the miner suffered from the disease which was shown medically to have reached an advanced and complicated stage. Or if the miner was employed for ten years or more in the Nation's underground coal mines and died from a respirable disease associated with a chronic dust disease or to another chronic disease of the lung. If the disease reported does not suggest a reasonable possibility of Black Lung (e.g. cancer of the lung, disease due to injury, etc.) then benefits will not be awarded. Finally, under circumstances other than those outlined, an individual may submit evidence necessary to establish the miner's death due to Black Lung.

Our civics class is currently studying the Constitution of the United States and I wonder if you might be able to send me a copy of it?

During the past year I have received numerous requests for copies of the text of the Constitution together with the amendments. To help satisfy that need and to promote familiarity and understanding with American basic law I maintain a supply of pamphlets in which the Constitution is reprinted. Copies may be ordered through my office by writing to me in Washington.

What is Congress doing to stop drug abuse in our country?

A short time ago the Drug Abuse Treatment Act of 1972 was passed by Congress and signed into law by the President. The Act establishes a Special Action Office for drug abuse and developing Federal strategy to combat drug abuse. The new law also incorporates provisions of a House bill I co-sponsored which specifically encourages research and development of a long-lasting nonaddictive drug for heroin and establishes clinical research facilities for this purpose. I am hopeful that this new law will help cure the heroin addict of his disease and serve as a significant step in the fight against crime and drug abuse in the United States.

What kind of aid does the VA provide for a veteran who is blind in both eyes?

The VA informs me that qualified veterans with such a service-connected disability receive approved electronic and mechanical aids, including their necessary repair and replacement. Guide dogs, including the expense of training the veterans to use the dog, and the cost of the dog's medical attention, are also covered. Your local VA office can provide you with all the details.

YOUR TWO CHOICES
Can the human race carve out a creative future utilizing all the technological sources available? The question, posed in a recent publication, embraces survival, mankind, the quality of life, and other hot topics of today.

"To Love or to Perish: the Technological Crisis and the Churches" is the beginnings of an answer. The writers and editors of this valuable volume say that the reader may agree or not, but there's no other choice.

This important new book from Friendship Press is the result of two years of research and debate among a group of the most articulate minds in the United States. They joined together for the specific purposes of investigating the question of survival, charges that today's churches are not relevant to today's issues of poverty, war, environmental threats and the mounting crimes for the Third World, and finally, to propose answers.

The crisp, nontechnical, highly readable discussion is more like a vivid newscast than a report. And in many ways, the findings support the allegations that in many ways the churches do not relate well to the basic issues of today.
"To Love or to Perish," while it carries the names of four people as its editors—Margaret Mead, J. Edward Carothers, Daniel D. McCracken and Roger L. Shinn—actually represents the individual thinking and opinions of some 38 of the more competent thought-leaders alive today.
The volume, now available at local bookstores, is primarily being published in paperback form because it is thought to be an important, though message to be put into the hands of as many concerned Americans as quickly as possible. Purchase price is $1.95.

WASHINGTON REPORT

FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR.

Airline Hijacking

The increasing frequency of airline hijackings is a matter of great concern both in our own country and abroad. Since Cuba is almost always the destination of these air pirates, it is encouraging to note that our two countries are putting aside other differences for the moment and seeking a way to negotiate an agreement in this area. The outlook for the negotiations appears to be promising in light of a recent broadcast from Havana stating that it would be "in the mutual interest or both countries to reach a bilateral agreement on hijacking."

Another deterrent that should be made known is that the Castro government is very harsh on criminals who hope to escape prosecution in the United States by fleeing to Cuba. It has been reported that the three men who hijacked a Southern Airlines plane last week will be tried in Cuba for extortion. Other criminals have been imprisoned for life or put to work for slave wages in the sugar cane fields.

One of the disappointing things, however, is that Congress had the chance to act on hijacking legislation in the past session but failed when the House and Senate were unable to reach an agreement on certain provisions of the bill.

The bill acted on by the Senate included a provision allowing the President to suspend air service and impose boycotts against nations which harbor hijackers and terrorist organizations. This would make it clear that the United States is not going to do business with people who

Perspectives In Learning By Hazel Brown

Wasting Money On Compensatory Programs
Millions of dollars have been spent during the past few years for compensatory educational programs for the education of the disadvantaged children. Programs, innovations, and remediations in the ghetto schools have been expanding with the Federal tax money to the tune of billions of dollars.

Questions are now beginning to surface. Has all the money which has been spent for the remediation push really brought results in overall improvements?
Dr. Sol Gordon, a clinical psychologist with the Child and Family Studies, Syracuse University, New York, in a paper entitled, "Compensating, Remediating, Innovating and Integrating, Illusions of Educating the Poor," has stated his concern for the waste of money on existing services and practices which are bringing very questionable results.

The hiring of new teachers, counselors, and social workers seem to have brought few improvements. An analysis of test results suggests that many students who already knew how to read and study improved while those who lacked the skills, remained as they were. There was very little evidence that children learned better after the hiring of additional staff.

Many programs included numerous aides and paraprofessionals to help teachers work with the disadvantaged. It appears that these people came to the situations with little training, purpose, or opportunity for advancement. Therefore, what promised to be a great innovation, turned into a futile exercise and expenditure of millions of dollars.

There are many educators supporting Dr. Gordon's concerns. The critics of innovations and changes are speaking loudly against the spending of monies earmarked for compensatory programs. They have justification for their concerns but the possibility of an over-reaction is rather frightening. Stifling creativity, innovation and change must be avoided while accountability becomes an accepted requirement.

Educators who recognize the needs of individual students must be encouraged to progress in avenues which will lead to successful experiences. Programs in the areas of motivation, self-realization, and relevancy must be continued, but with adequate means of assessments and evaluations. The amounts of money put into programs must bring measurable results.

The "wasting" of money on the many compensatory programs has brought a rash of angry voices from advocates as well as dissenters. The results and reactions may become dangerous to the education systems in the United States.

All interested citizens should emphasize their desires for quality education and not be easily swayed by the many voices of doom. It is so easy to be against programs and for saving taxpayers money. The question is how do we get quality education for our children?

Let's keep programs which are achieving success, let's encourage research, evaluation and innovation, and let's give support to the educators who are sincerely concerned about children's needs.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Point-Of-Sale Electronic Cash Registers By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., Dec. 21, 1972—A new point-of-sale system encompasses an electronic cash register which captures all pertinent data used in a sales transaction by reading a coded tag and picking up keyboard input from the sales clerk. The input is either collected on magnetic tape and fed to a central data collection computer through telephone lines or is partially processed in a stand-alone unit. By attaching a scanning device to the terminal, tags can be read automatically through either an optical or a magnetic sensor. The retail industry is now the chief market sector for computerized sales where automated equipment performs the manifold functions of recording, inventorying, and credit authorizing in a growing number of department and discount stores throughout the country. Market Size And Areas Better than a fivefold growth in electronic cash registers is expected in the next four years. Some $74 million of these units will be sold in 1972 with a rise to $390 million anticipated by 1976. Sales of credit systems hardware now amount to about $17 million, and are expected to reach $172 million by 1976.

There are approximately 3.3 million cash registers in the country, of which 10% to 15% are used by the general merchandising industry. The research staff of Babson's Reports believes that both the replacement market and new store openings should help to predict about the rapid growth predicted for point-of-sale equipment. For 1972 and 1973 an annual growth of between 20% and 25% is indicated, with a healthy settling down to about a 10%-15% annual rate thereafter. By the mid-1970's, most retailing experts look for about 50% of that industry to be computerized at the point of sale. The largest terminal (point-of-sale) market of all—food distribution (particularly fast-food restaurants and supermarkets)—is still to be penetrated due to problems of a source-marked universal code.

Companies In The Field

The major firms in the field are National Cash Register, Singer, Pitney-Bowes, General Instrument, Addressograph-Multigraph, Litton, Motorola, and TRW Inc. While most of the systems are similar, they all have individual variations. Only time will tell whether the color bar code or the black and white bar code will become the industry's standard. Although some 25 companies are competing for the business, it is generally believed that turn out to be the dominant less than 10 producers will suppliers.

Currently, Singer—with its Friden operations—appears to be the leader, with National Cash Register a close second, but Pitney-Bowes is second in terms of actual sales of terminals. While Litton's Sweda is a factor to be reckoned with, General Instrument's Uni-Tote claims it has more systems installed. Motorola recently entered the field thru an investment in Americal Regitel, and Addressograph-Multigraph through a recent acquisition now has a toehold in the fast-food business and markets TRW's equipment. Three Interesting Possibilities

Addressograph - Multigraph, Pitney-Bowes, and General Instrument are three of the leaders which the staff of Babson's Reports looks upon with favor. The first is a materially restructured office - equipment producer with a computer-oriented management. The company has broadened its capabilities in data communication and computer equipment. Pitney-Bowes formed a joint venture with Apex, Inc., to produce transaction and recording systems for the wholesale and retail trades and has considerable marketing expertise. General Instrument is a pioneer in this field and is also a diversified maker of electronic components and systems. All three companies are selling at relatively low price/earnings multiples on the New York Stock Exchange.

Former Miss Maryland Visits Thurmont

Pictured above is Miss Gail DuBay, Miss Cynthia Carbaugh and Mr. George Wireman. Miss DuBay is being presented a Glamellia Corsage by Miss Carbaugh, an employee of the "Cozy Bud 'N' Vase Shoppe" in Thurmont.

The Glamellia looks like a Camellia, but it is actually a fabricated flower. This flower, which is difficult to make, is done by dissembling Gladiolus and reshaping and reassembling them, into a beautiful flower. Miss DuBay, formerly Miss Maryland — World, of Radio Station WPER, Baltimore, has the unique job of being a traffic spotter from a helicopter. She was visiting in Thurmont as a guest of Mr. Wireman and appearing on his radio program, "This and That," over Station WTHU.

CRAFTY IDEAS

GET THE HANG OF CHRISTMAS Ever get hung-up about new ways to decorate your Christmas tree? This Christmas, be different: make your own tree ornaments from creative clay that hardens to a ceramic quality.

Make a batch of creative clay and then roll it out to 1/4-inch thickness on waxed paper. Cut out shapes with cookie cutters. With needle or pin, make a hole for string or yarn to hang on the Christmas tree. Trim each ornament with fragrant herbs or spices for long-lasting pungence; When dry, paint with water colors, poster paints or felt-tip pens and finish with a protective coating of clear plastic spray or nail polish.

To make a batch of clay, stir one cup Argo corn starch and two cups baking soda thoroughly together in a saucepan. Mix in 1 1/2 cups water. Heat, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches a slightly moist mashed potato consistency. Then remove immediately from heat, turn out on a plate and cover with a damp cloth until cool. When it's easy to handle, knead like dough until smooth.

Creative clay tree ornaments will dry and harden at room temperature in about 36 hours depending on thickness. To help speed drying, preheat oven to 350° F., turn oven off and place the ornaments on wire rack or in cardboard box on rack. Leave in oven until oven is cool. Any leftover play clay can be stored for later use in a tightly closed plastic bag.
