I heard that a couple of our younger citizens decided that the ball field would make a fine place to ride their motorcycles. I also heard that the ball field looked beautiful after these same young men had spent some time raking, sweeping, and generally cleaning up the area and repairing the damage they had caused.

May is "Senior Citizens Month", "Egg Month", and "Mental Health Month".

Things are getting worse in Washington. Resignations, firings, denials, confessions, accusations, and more and more of our "top level" men seem to be involved in it. The FBI has received a new director, the Attorney General quit, and there are rumors that Martha Mitchell will be testifying. I think most of the country is looking on in shock and disbelief. For the good of the country, most of us hope that man holding the presidential office will somehow pull a miracle out of his hat and come out of this very messy situation with his coat tails clean. It looks as if some of the responsibility is going to have to rest on his shoulders. The men at the top were all hand-picked by the President. If he did not know what they were doing, he should have.

From the news reports I hear, it sounds as if most of the people in this area are against the proposed Sixes Dam Project. I wonder if that is really the case or is it that those against have taken the time and trouble to formulate their stands and then been very vocal about their positions? Are these folks the majority or is it another case of the "Great Silent Majority" who tend to think "What's the use?" and thus are just sitting back waiting to see what will happen.

According to a Salt Lake Area Chamber of Commerce publication "Professor K. William Kapp of Basel University, at an International Conference on the Quality of Life said, 'Had there been a computer in 1872 it would probably have predicted that by now there would be so many horse-drawn vehicles it would be impossible to clean up all the manure.'"

I understand that great many people, most of them quite young, took part in the March of Dimes Walkathon last Sunday. They wore their blisters and "I did it" pins with equal pride as they went about their usual business on Monday. Congratulations to all of you.

Did you ever notice that people who have money worry a lot about how to keep as much of it away from the government as possible, how to insure their future security and still spirit as much as possible to their offspring without jeopardizing their own old age? Then there are those others, less well endowed, who worry a lot about just how to meet the monthly payments and how they can somehow manage to help their young with an education. If given a choice, I think I'd rather worry about the first alternative, think most other people would, too.

This weekend will be Parents Weekend out at the Mount. We would like to welcome all the visitors to the school and hope they have an enjoyable time in our town. Although the main purpose is to visit the school and share some of the students' activities, I would hope the parents will look around and enjoy the sights and activities of our area.

Bishop To Deliver Baccalaureate

Bishop Michael J. Begley

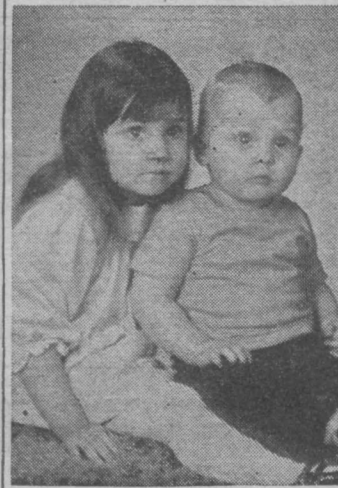

The Bishop of Charlotte, North Carolina, the Most Reverend Michael J. Begley, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the 165th graduating class of Mount Saint Mary's College when the school conducts its 1973 commencement exercises later this month. He will also receive an Honorary doctorate from Mount Saint Mary's.

The 63-year-old Bishop, who graduated from Mount Saint Mary's in 1930, and was ordained from the Mount Seminary in 1934, was installed as the first Bishop of the newly-formed Charlotte Diocese in January, 1972, after 38 years of service to the North Carolina Diocese of Raleigh.

Bishop Begley was born in Milton, Massachusetts, in 1909, and received his primary and secondary education at public and parochial schools in West Springfield, Mass. In 1934, following his ordination, he was assigned as assistant pastor of Saint Mary's Church in Wilmington, N. C.

His first pastorate was with Saint Theresa's in Wilmington later that same year. Through the years he has held many posts for the Raleigh Diocese including Superintendent of Schools, Director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, and Director of Catholic Social Services. He was also the founder and first pastor of Saint Ann's Church in Charlotte, which later became the largest parish in the entire Raleigh Diocese.

Drug Overdose Causes Death

Whitley Howard Barnes, 21, a junior at Mt. St. Mary's College, died at the Hershey Medical Center at 8 o'clock Sunday evening as a result of an apparent overdose of drugs earlier in the day.

Maryland State Police Sgt. Carl Harbaugh said the student was found unconscious in his room in Sheridan Hall at 1:30 Sunday afternoon by fellow students. He was rushed to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance, which later transferred him to Hershey.

A suicide note, Sgt. Harbaugh said, was found in Barnes' room. The evidence, Sgt. Harbaugh said, indicated Barnes, who was under medical care, took an overdose of prescription drugs in pill form, including Valium and Tofinal. An autopsy was performed at the Hershey Medical Center Monday.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Barnes, 22 Vassar Dr., Newark, Del.

An elephant, penguin, horse and chicken are the main attractions as they sit happily but firmly cemented at the expanding community park waiting for someone to hop on to enjoy a ride. The elephant and penguin, seldom seen in these parts,

Large Crowd Attends Sixes Bridge Dam Project Hearing At Catoctin High

More than 400 citizens from Carroll and Frederick Counties packed the Catoctin High School auditorium last Friday night to hear and comment on the Army Corps of Engineers revised plans for the 10-year-old Sixes Dam Project.

Farmers, environmentalists, and scientists questioned the Corps statistics, the need for water, the recreation value of the 5,000 acre reservoir and the need to displace more than 70 Monocacy Valley families.

Only one citizen, of about 20 who spoke, Mayor Richard Winn of Walkersville, supported building the $35 million dam. The dam would provide needed water and provide a controlled flow in the river, Winn said.

Walter Foster, a founder of the Monocacy Canoe Club, asked whether Washington even needs the dam.

The Potomac River at Washington contains 100 billion gallons of fresh water, he said. Use of that water source as is has not been investigated, Foster said, because Washington sewage effluent is released upstream of a water intake point.

"Because Washington pollutes their own water they want ours." The Corps should investigate treating the effluent, a cheaper and less destructive solution, he said.

Foster also questioned the

Glee Club Presents Spring Concert

Mrs. Lynn Booth

Mrs. Lynn Booth of Wilmington, Delaware, will be the guest soloist when the Mount Saint Mary's College Glee Club presents its Spring Concert during the Mount's 1973 Parents Weekend, on Sunday afternoon, May 6. The annual program is sponsored by the Glee Club and the Belles of Saint Mary's, under the direction of the Rev. Dr. David W. Shaum, Professor of Music at Mount Saint Mary's.

Mrs. Booth, an accomplished soprano, is well-known in the Wilmington area for her numerous appearances with both the Wilmington Opera Society and the Pennsylvania Opera Company, and as soloist for Wilmington's Trinity Episcopal Church and First Church of Christ Scientist. In a richly varied career, she has sung many of the musical theater's most popular roles, including Mother Abbess from "The Sound of Music", Nellie Forbush from "South Pacific", and Kate Pinkerton from "Madame Butterfly".

The program for Sunday's concert will include a number of selections spotlighting Mrs. Booth; such as "Summertime" from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess", "Climb Every Mountain" from "Sound of Music", and songs from "Fiddler on the Roof".

Appearing with the Mount Glee Club and the Belles of Saint Mary's will be the Glee Club of the Academy of the Holy Name of Silver Spring, Md., giving the combined choruses a total of over 50 voices. Highlights of the program should include "Almighty Father", the Chorus from Leonard Bernstein's recently acclaimed MASS, excerpts from the popular "Man of La Mancha", and a Civil War medley which will include with full-audience participation in the chorus of "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Performing with the combined groups will be the Mount's accompanist, Jo McKee Travers, and instrumentalists Nicholas J. Granofsky on string bass, and Robert B. Green on tympany.

The concert will begin at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday in the Mount's College Chapel. The public is cordially invited.

Corps own projections of population growth in the Potomac area that will require the water its plans will provide.

If Corps figures are used population in the entire Potomac area would require more water by 2040 than the entire drainage area would create. "Suppose the projections are wrong!" Foster hypothesized.

The Frederick County Commissioners endorsed the Sixes Dam on grounds that the county will be short of water by 1980, even before the dam could be built. Only two weeks earlier, Edgar Virts said, the commissioners scoffed at the idea of a water shortage south of Frederick.

A Gettysburg College student, Thomas Schweizer, pointed out that according to Corps estimates the county will not need the dam's water until the year 2000. Countians, however, would pay operating and construction costs for the 20 year interim.

"What guarantee do we have that we'll get the water in Jefferson or Middletown when we need it?" Virts asked.

Schweizer also said that the Corps admits it has made little or no study of ground water resources which limestone deposits throughout Frederick County make available in large quantities.

Paul Frye called the displacement of families by the reservoir a "catastrophe."

The displacement would wreck havoc in the lives of those moved, whose condemnation sale prices would hardly replace their farms, property and community life. It would also destroy the communities, churches, and social groups they were a part of, other citizens said.

Other citizens claimed the reservoir with its availability of water, and its potential recreation attraction would bring a wave of development to Frederick County.

"This dam will precipitate the destruction of one of the most productive agricultural valleys in the United States," said Barry Lucey of the Farm Bureau. Both the Frederick County and State Farm Bureaus opposed the Sixes Bridge Dam, Lucey said.

"It's a perversion of logic to destroy productive and good planning to destroy rich and productive land so that areas that could not naturally support a human population can be developed," said Richard Curtis of the Frederick County Civic Federation.

More than one speaker attacked the Corps Plan for the destruction of valuable farmland which more and more is needed for food production. Others questioned the need for a still water recreation for which Sixes Bridge would require 2,380 acres and more than $8,000, largely from county contributions.

Dr. John Howes, a rural sociologist and Emmitsburg resident, pointed out that although the Corps claims the dam will drop only one foot in an average year, one foot on the flat Monocacy Valley will leave hundreds of acres in mud flats.

More than one speaker questioned whether the area would be either attractive or available for recreation.

Swimmers and boaters are banned from a similar Corps project, Liberty Dam, in Baltimore County, because the water is used for drinking in Baltimore City, Charles Fishers said.

Several landowners in the 10,000 acres to be inundated said they opposed the dam because they had not been notified of the dam's effect or of the hearing.

This citizens' comments will be considered according to a Corps report, in a report by the Congress that will be submitted this June.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Farm Equipment In High Gear

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., May 3, 1973—Last year was one of the best in some time for sales and earnings in the agricultural equipment field. A continuation of the fine improvement in financial results is anticipated for 1973, barring massive or protracted labor difficulties. There are several factors which brighten the outlook, notably the growing demand for food both on the domestic and on the worldwide scene. Because of this, farm machinery is being used at a steadily increasing rate.

Other developments which foretell strong sales include the current low levels of inventory, the sharply higher volume of farm income, the intentions of increasing total plantings in 1973, and the strong demand for grain, particularly on international markets. Even though labor negotiations in this industry and in certain related lines are scheduled for the not-too-distant future, the stage appears set for another year of high production, sales, and profits—if no strikes erupt.

Farmers Better Situated

The sales performance in this business is determined in large measure by the level of farm profits. During 1972 and into 1973 agricultural prices rose markedly. In deed, on average, in January of this year they were up 21% from twelve months before. Strong demand for food and feed at stepped-up prices carried cash receipts, gross and net farm income to all-time record levels in 1972.

The excellent return achieved by farmers will likely be translated into new-equipment purchases. In addition to the improved cash position of farmers, other factors also enhance the industry's sales prospects. Outstanding here is the declining number of farm workers and the increasing acreage per farm, forcing the farmer to greater use of machinery in order to obtain healthy gains in productivity.

Mixed Industry
The farm equipment makers are interlaced with several other industrial sectors. For example, Ford is the nation's second largest auto maker and at the same time a world leader in tractor production.

White Motor is basically a truck manufacturer but it is also a major factor in the farm equipment industry. Even companies like Avco with its New Idea Division and Sperry Rand with its New Holland Division are represented in this industry. While farm equipment sales are usually a small percentage of the total turnover for these larger firms they constitute an important segment of the farm equipment industry itself.

Foreign Sales Impetus

Much of the furor over 1972's massive U. S. grain deals had to do with the upping of wheat prices, which was reflected in the increased costs of domestic food products, etc. But from the standpoint of the agricultural equipment industry, the volume of demand for grain has become so large that it means potential for fresh gains in machinery sales. Naturally, the price of grain in the marketplace as much to do with farmers' planting and/or the sale of their surplus, which in turn determines how much they will spend on new equipment. Farmers hoping to boost profits have taken to using larger, improved machinery as a hedge against further increases in costs.

On balance, the intention to hike plantings in 1973 and the strong demand for the farmers' end products paint an encouraging picture for the farm equipment industry. The Department of Agriculture estimates that feed grain acreage will rise from last year's 11 million acres to 121 million acres this year, bolstering the argument that farm equipment sales will strengthen further. The Research Department of Babson's Reports maintains a "hold" position on most farm equipment stocks under its supervision. For investors interested in acquiring representation in this field at the present time, Babson's recommends purchase of the common stock of White Motor Corporation, the near-term outlook for which appears favorable.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

He Kneled And Kissed The Soil
One of the greatest moments in American history (and, in fact, world history) was the reading of the first verses of Genesis by Astronauts Borman, Lovell and Anders as their Apollo 8 circled the Moon 278,000 miles in space on Christmas Eve 1968. Most Americans and people all over the world witnessed the awesome event on television: "In the Beginning God created the heaven and earth. . . ." Now we Americans have witnessed another moving and priceless moment in history.

Staff Sgt. Gail M. Kerns was badly injured in a battle in Vietnam that made it possible for the North Vietnam Communists to take him prisoner four years ago. In the prison camp his shattered bones did not mend well. As he walked he had to drag his right leg. It was an awkward and painful moment for him as he drug himself down the steps of the big Army transport plane that had brought him and 20 other POW's back to America. He all but fell into the arms of members of his family. Two of the teenage boys took him by the arms and began to escort him to a waiting automobile for the trip to the hospital.

Love Of Country
Then it happened. As the three walked off the concrete ramp and onto the turred soil, Sergeant Kerns gently pulled free of his young escorts. He knelt on one knee, then awkwardly flattened out his tortured body so that he could touch the soil with his chin. He kissed the soil—the soil of his beloved America. It obviously was not a gesture for dramatics. It was a genuine overflowing of love of country. Soldier Kerns' act climaxed weeks of events almost as dramatic, as plane-load after plane - load of American POW's from Vietnam came down the steps to the ramps and in front of TV cameras told Americans what a great heritage they had been bequeathed, what a great country they had the privilege of living in. All of the POW's who came to the TV microphones spoke of the debt they owed to Almighty God, to country, and to their Commander-in-chief.

Are We Worthy
I wondered as I watched this moving, inspiring parade of men who had risked their lives and suffered through yet untold agonies at the hands of their atheistic captors in Communist North Vietnam prison stockades, whether indeed the American people were worthy of them, their undaunted faith, their courage and undying principles. At across the nation people have begun to lose faith — yes, even faith in God—and love of country. The Communist propagandists who set about years ago to win the Vietnam war by undermining our moral strength found a response among millions of our citizens, not for Communism per se but for the "new morality," the "new religion."

In a single decade important and influential people in America backed away from military victory and brought on a political war for which mounting millions of citizens had no heart. In that decade our moral foundations as a nation weakened. Law and order was made a shambles because our citizenry permitted political cowardice to rule. Grossly obscene motion pictures drug from the depths of depravity reached the Main Street theaters. Our literature degraded mankind and glorified animalism. Drug use became epidemic among our youth. Alcohol consumption mounted. Attacks on the American system and all its traditional institutions became the daily fare on the TV menu. A single atheist got the Supreme Court to, in effect, throw the Bible out of our public educational institutions. In all facets of our social life, vices and animal instinct were permitted to supersede the basic human values on which our civilization was built.

Making Us Whole
And then we heard out of the heavens Frank Borman's voice: "And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called He Seas; and God saw that it was good." And to airports all over America now has come a parade of Americas finest manhood, home from the horrors of war and prison camps some crippled, some emotionally overcome, but all able to express publicly their gratitude for God-given blessings. Many came to the TV mikes and told the lenged to the depth of their souls. So out of a terrible war has come a benediction—if we will use it to renew our faith, to restore our morality, to unify our support of the basic principles of our free society; to rekindle love of country.

For the first time in our history, the money Americans are now spending on their leisure pursuits is exceeding national defense expenditures. It is more than the outlay for new home construction. It surpasses the total of our country's entire corporate profits and will exceed the over-all value of this nation's total exports.—Sports Afield.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a

from the Defendant, Michael E. Schaden.
The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address is 3B6 122 Prospect Street, Auburn, New York; that the parties to this cause were married on the 17th day of August, 1969, at Frederick, Maryland, by Rev. Mount To Offer 15 Courses For Credit During Summer

Mount Saint Mary's College has announced plans to offer 15 different courses on campus during the coming summer. Most of the courses will carry either 1 or 3 academic credits, and together they represent every department at the college except Theology.

Eight of the courses will be for 1-credit and will cover one week of class time during July. Six will carry three credits and one, a review course for those preparing to take the Certified Public Accounting exam, will cover 22 weeks but will involve no academic credit. Most classes will be held in the evening and meet for three hours, five days a week.

Courses to be taught include a 1-credit course on Antiques, to be taught by Prof. Richard Etchison of the Fine Arts Department, and a 1-credit course in Photography, under Dr. Stephen H. Good, Chairman of the Mount English Department. Both are Fine Arts courses.

Three 1-credit courses will be taught by Dr. William G. Meredith, Chairman of the Department of Science and Mathematics, covering the ecology of the forest, stream, and pond. Professor James J. Thomas will teach a 1-credit chemistry course on the Chemistry of Photography and Professor James G. Deegan will teach a 1-credit course in Men's Physical Education. For the Philosophy Department, Rev. Paul V. Redmond will offer a 1-credit course on Man in Revolt.

Among the 3-credit courses, Professor John K. Williams of the English Department will teach a class in Contemporary American Literature, and Dr. Thomas J. Seess of the History and Political Science Department will teach a course in World Geography. In the Department of Psychology and Sociology, Professor Richard R. Muller will offer a course in Historical Cultural Anthropology and Dr. Nicholas C. Kierniesky will conduct a course on Behavioral Disorders. Professor Paul O'Connell will offer one course in Creative Dramatics.

In the Business and Finance Department, Professor George M. Springer will lead a course in Advanced Accounting, and Professor Donald R. Currier will teach a course in Business Organization and Operation. Both these courses will be eight weeks in length, through June and July.

The CPA Review course, which begins May 22 and extends through October 29, will be taught jointly by the staff of the Mount's Business and Finance Department.

Registration for the CPA Review Course will be conducted from now until May 22 in the Registrar's Office at Mount Saint Mary's. Registration for the Advanced Accounting course will be held June 4, and for all other courses on July 2.

During the summer session, Mount Saint Mary's will accept applications from any high school graduate or equivalent, as well as students from other colleges or universities who have written approval for transfer of credits.

Fees for the session will amount to $40 per credit hour for tuition, a $10 registration and library fee, and varying laboratory fees. Room and board will also be available at a charge of $50 per week, for up to three weeks.

Further information may be obtained by writing the Registrar, Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md. 21727, or by calling the college at (301) 447-6122.

Mrs. Cantwell Addresses CMTA

The monthly membership meeting of the Catocin Mountains Tourist Council was held on April 26 at Royers' Restaurant.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Mary Rae Cantwell, member of the Board of Directors of the Catocin Furnace Historical Society, who informed the members of the proposed plans for developing the Catocin Furnace complex into an interpretive demonstration area.

The Council will publish a booklet to be sold at souvenir stands. This booklet will be the only publication put out by the Tourist Council for the coming year and will be off the press on August 31, 1973.

All of our special events programs: COLORfest, Winter Festival, etc., will be inserted into this booklet at the appropriate time of year. The selling price will be $1.00.

The Tourist Council has also developed a vinyl decal for use on campers and automobiles and will be available on souvenir stands, restaurants, campgrounds and gas stations.

Plans for the Catocin Spring Festival have been completed and the activities which are planned should make it a big success.

Zip Column

Harry S. Truman is to be commemorated, through the issuance of a stamp, on May 8, 1973, at Independence, Mo. Harry S. Truman, a World War I captain in artillery, a businessman, a judge, a senator, a Vice President, and, later, as 33rd President, was called upon to make one of history's most awesome decisions—to drop or not to drop the Bomb. Hiroshima entered history books.

Truman, whose desk plaque was "The Buck Stops Here," made other decisions. His support of the Marshall Plan and aid to Greece and Turkey helped to restore war-ravaged Europe.

He was born May 8, 1884 in Lamar, Missouri and died last December 26th.

Tom's Creek 4-H Club Meets

The April meeting of the Tom's Creek 4-H Dairy Club was held at the Lawrence Bassler residence near Rocky Ridge. Stanley R. Gregg led the Club in the American Pledge and Phil Wivell led the 4-H pledge. A "Brand of Corn or Fertilizer" was the roll call answered by 12 members. Also present were the two leaders, one guest, and two parents.

The minutes and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. David Hill and Phil Wivell reported on the Junior Workshop session, while Mike Weimer, Charlie Kass and Stanley Gregg reported on the Senior Workshop.

Cathy Wivell and Stanley Gregg attended the Co. Demonstration Day, which was held at the Frederick Fair Grounds.

The club voted to sell Easter Baskets for the Frederick County Mental Retarded Children as a community project.

Half of the members planned to show at the Holstein Field Day. The State Citizenship tour will be May 5, and several of the members are planning to attend.

The club voted to participate in the County 4-H Softball sport this season.

Phil Wivell gave an interesting talk and demonstration on Weed Control.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Jay Fitzpatrick, DeKalb Corn Representative for this area. He gave an informative talk on corn production and weed control. Mr. Fitzpatrick showed slides and a film on the selection of hybrid corn, the processing of the corn, and on how to read corn seed bags.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 14 at the Hill residence at 8:00 p.m., with Mrs. Jo Ann Duvall, County 4-H Extension Agent, as the speaker. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

Open Door For Day Care Week To Be Observed Here May 13-18

Look for the door with the daisy.

It is a sign of welcome. It is an invitation to you to learn about day care in your area during the week of May 13-18 which has been designated as Open Door for Day Care Week.

In most communities there are widely divergent attitudes about day care. Some people view it as simply a gigantic baby-sitting scheme, a way of "warehousing" children. Others see day care as providing both shelter and enrichment for pre-school children and as a source of stabilization for the entire family.

The Maryland Committee for Day Care of Children urges you to make a visit, meet the children and the teachers and see for yourself during the week of May 13-18. Walk through the door with the daisy and find out what day care and Head Start children really do all day. You'll see them on the playground, at lunch or at their easels creating colorful works of art.

Sister Grace Calvisi, Program Director at Seton Center, Emmitsburg, is serving as Frederick County Chairman for Open Door for Day Care Week. Visiting hours have been arranged for the following centers: Seton Center, Emmitsburg, Sun., May 13, 2-4 p.m. and Mon., May 14, 9-10 a.m., and at the Head Start Center (Seton Center), Mon., May 14, 9-11 a.m.

Seton Center recently made an evaluation survey to determine how parents felt day care had influenced their children and their family life.

In answer to the question "How do you think Seton Center has helped your child?" parents overwhelmingly cited the child's improved ability to play and get along with other children. Preparation for school through "enjoyable learning situations" and increased feelings of independence and security were frequently noted.

Parents also commented on the variety of new experiences which the center offers. Field trips, creative art, increased vocabulary and environmental education were mentioned approvingly.

"How has sending your child to Seton Center helped the entire family?" was another open-ended question. More than 75 per cent of the respondents replied that the center solved financial problems by enabling mothers to go out to work.

One-third of the replies spoke of improved family relationships and almost as many cited the peace of mind which came from knowing that children were well cared for.

Other advantages, from the parents' point of view, ranged from help in times of family stress to overall improvement in the mothers' mental health to ability to buy a home.

Good day care produces many benefits for children and families but it is sometimes hard to know specifically what good day care consists of.

The Maryland Committee for the Day Care of Children invites the public to learn about day care first hand during the week of May 13-18. Look for the door with the

Start Plans For October Colorfest

The COLORfest Committee of the Catocin Mountains Tourist Council met on April 30 at Crow's Nest Lodge Campground.

COLORfest will be held on October 12, 13, and 14.

Mr. George Gernand, Chairman of the 1973 COLORfest Committee, announced that letters will be mailed in the next few weeks to organizations who might be interested in participating. Anyone who is interested and does not receive a Participation Form, should contact Mrs. Marian McIntyre (271-7638), who will mail one to you. The deadline for returning the applications is June 15.

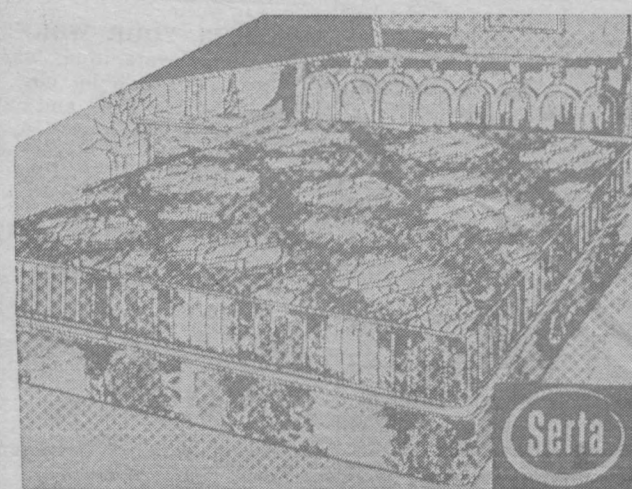

daisy. Make a visit to your nearby day care center, Head Start program or nursery school and see for yourself what day care is all about.

Most anglers are aware that anadromous fish are those that return to freshwater from the sea to spawn. Relatively few, however, know that some fish, such as the common eel, are catadromous, meaning they return from freshwater to the sea to spawn.—Sports Afield.
