

PERSPECTIVES IN LEARNING

By Hazel Brown, President
Harry Lundeberg School
Reports And Action

A study done by the New York State Commission on the Quality, Cost, and Financing of Elementary and Secondary Education has recently been published as The Fleischman Report.

parents and students.

The Commission established four major goals for the public school systems. These four goals—equality, flexibility, excellence, and efficiency—have merit, and the method of achieving them could be the only question.

This report has many findings and recommendations which are creating interest across the U.S. The results of the report are being read with mixed feelings because many of the ideas are new and startling. Some educators are excited about the sweeping changes which are suggested.

The Commission recommends that the school systems be funded by the state under a state-wide formula for distribution of monies. Individual school districts would be prohibited from raising additional money by taxation for their school district. Education would become the business of the State and not the individual so that education funding would be on a more equitable basis.

If the statement on taxation seems liberal, their recommendation on "family choice" of school is equally conservative. The Commission suggests that parents should be given the right to select the schools their children can attend. This freedom of choice would be restricted to a cluster of three or four schools which would offer various curriculums and methods of teaching to meet the desires of the

They recommend that parents and students should have more influence over the workings of the school. The school principals should be selected by "Parent Advisory Councils" from lists prepared by the superintendents and school boards, and the community should be informed of the school's objectives and achievements through annual reports. These are just a few of the suggestions for parent and community involvement.

Reading instruction was labeled as the top priority item for each school district. More emphasis should be placed on decoding methods of reading instruction such as phonics. The teachers in the elementary school should have a minimum of six semester hours in the teaching of reading before they would be granted teaching certificates.

The Fleischman Report is the result of one state's attempt to solve its educational problems but the recommendations could have significant impact on many school systems with similar problems.

The schools across the nation are constantly being reminded that more results must be achieved for the amount of money being spent.

The public is insisting that schools establish similar education commissions and they will be publishing more "Fleischman Reports." What happens after the reports are written will be what counts. Too many reports are filed on the bookshelf and the recommendations never implemented. Let's watch to see what happens to the efforts of the New York State Commission on Education.

W. Clem Promoted By Farm Bureau

William Clem, of Frederick, has been named manager of the Maryland Farm Bureau's service company, according to Jack I. Matthews, executive secretary.

A member of the Farm Bureau staff since 1964, Clem will now supervise the service company's nearly $1-million operation which offers tires and batteries to members on a group purchase plan.

The Farm Bureau, made up of 12,000 farm families, is the largest farmers' organization in Maryland. Matthews said Clem's promotion is part of a general reorganization within the Farm Bureau to provide more and better service to members.

A native of Frederick County, the 32-year-old Clem came to the Farm Bureau with a background in broadcasting. After graduating from the National Academy of Broadcasting in Washington, D. C. in 1960, he worked as an announcer in Washington, Frederick and then Hagerstown. In this last position he also served as farm news director as well as a broadcaster.

In April 1964, Clem joined the Farm Bureau staff as radio news director with responsibility for organizing and developing farm radio shows. Through his efforts the number of stations carrying regular farm broadcasts in the State has risen since 1964 from three to 25.

Although radio has been his primary duty with the Farm Bureau, he has also worked as a field man for ten Maryland counties recruiting membership and organizing young farmer groups. When the service company was organized in 1966 he added the job of dealer supervisor to his responsibilities.

There are now 35 dealers in the State affiliated with the service company program. Clem will supervise the operation while retaining his radio responsibilities.

TOWN OF EMMITSBURG Proposed Charter Amendments

On July 2, 1973, at the regular monthly meeting of the Burgess and Board of Commissioners of the Town of Emmitsburg, certain Amendments were made to the Charter of the Town of Emmitsburg. A summary of those proposed and approved amendments appear below:

- (1) Art. II, Sec. 2 of the Charter was amended so as to delete the requirement, for the office of Commissioner, of ownership of real estate within the town.
- (2) Art. II, Sec. 9 of the Charter was amended so as to clarify the authority of the Board of Commissioners to appoint separate commissions for whatever purpose the Board might deem necessary. At all times such commissions are to act in advisory capacities only.
- (3) Art. II, Sec. 12 of the Charter was reworded and extended so as to expand and clarify their powers. Such powers as providing and regulating for sewer and water as have been legally exercised in the past have simply been specifically included within this Charter provision for the sake of clarity. The zoning power and the power to regulate public recreation and park services as well as provide for and regulate a police department have all been specifically included in the Board's powers, again, for the sake of clarity.
- (4) Art. II, Sec. 15 provides for the working structure of the Board of Commissioners. It provides for the election of the President and Treasurer of the Board of Commissioners by the Board of Commissioners.
- (5) Art. II, Sec. 14 simply provides that the District Court of Frederick County, Maryland has jurisdiction over violations of the laws or ordinances of the Town of Emmitsburg.
- (6) All of Article III of the Charter which deals with the office of the Burgess has been revamped so as to clarify the powers, qualifications and duties of this elected official. Under the amendment the Burgess need no longer be an owner of real property within the town. Generally, the Burgess is designated as Chief Executive Officer of the town, responsible both to the Board of Commissioners and the voters of the town for its sound administration. The Burgess has the power to veto legislation, which power may be overridden by the Board. The Burgess is in charge of the appointment and discharge of all town officers (other than elected officials) and employees, with the advise and consent of the Board of Commissioners.
- (7) Art. I, Sec. 3 deals with the police limits of the town, which extend for one mile from the town boundaries. All that was changed by this amendment was that the District Court for Frederick County shall have the power to try all violations within these limits, rather than the obsolete magistrate system.
- (8) Art. IV, Sec. 2, dealing with elections generally provides for the appointment by the Board of Commissioners of three persons to act as judges of elections. Voters may now register on any business day with the Town Clerk.
- (9) Art. V, Sec. 15 was amended so as to provide that the town budget shall be adopted not later than June 27 of any year.
- (10) Art. V, Sec. 23 dealing with collection of taxes sets the tax year from July 1 thru June 30. All taxes are due on July 1, and overdue and in arrears the first day of the succeeding October and at that time will begin to bear interest at the rate of 2/3 of 1% per month or fraction of a month until paid. When improvements are added to any property between July 1 and December 31, resulting in an increase of assessment in that period, then tax for the last half of the year on this increase shall be due on the first day of January and overdue and in arrears on April 1, succeeding. Interest is charged as above mentioned.
- (11) Art. VIII, Sec. 4 which provides for penalties for violation of any Charter provision having been amended to give judges of District Court of Frederick County jurisdiction over such actions.

Ignorance isn't all it's cracked up to be.

When's the best time to call long distance? "Who knows." Should you dial it yourself? "What's the difference." Person to person or station to station? "Who cares." When it comes to long distance, ignorance is expensive. For instance, Person to person can cost three times as much as the same direct-dialed call.

You should know the best times to call, too. Remember, long-distance is usually cheaper weekday evenings and on weekends until 5 p.m. Sunday. And finally, Whenever possible dial direct. Direct-dialed calls carry a lower rate than calls that require operator assistance.* Armed with these few simple facts you will become living testimony to the new age-old adage: Knowledge is bliss.

*Dial-direct rates do not apply to coin, credit-card, collect, person-to-person, hotel-guest calls, calls charged to another number or calls to Alaska.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Cereal Stocks React To Troubles

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 19, 1973—Frozen prices along with runaway costs in the processing of farm commodities, plus—what may be even worse—the threat of inadequate supplies in the months ahead, have placed prospects for the profit margins of food producers in general under a cloud of uncertainty. Included in this group are those companies in the cereal and snack-items lines, whose stocks have been under a good deal of selling pressure since the mid-June anti-inflation move by the Administration. On the other hand, an export policy which first considers domestic needs plus a more encouraging crop outlook suggests that this sector of the stock market will bear watching for investment opportunities when prices in this group begin to firm.

Target For Complaints

Not only is the cereal industry highly competitive but in late years the handful of companies in the field have been subject to government criticism concerning their advertising practices and the nutritional value of their products. Despite this, however, the sales and earnings of the leading firms have progressed in satisfactory fashion. The makers have risen to the challenge and have increased the nutritional value of their products through vitamin and mineral fortification; the thrust of advertising has also been improved. Yet to be resolved, however, are FTC charges encompassing such aspects as brand proliferation, advertising practices, shelf space allocation at retail outlets, and the limited number of major manufacturers.

ducts through vitamin and mineral fortification; the thrust of advertising has also been improved. Yet to be resolved, however, are FTC charges encompassing such aspects as brand proliferation, advertising practices, shelf space allocation at retail outlets, and the limited number of major manufacturers.

Offsetting Pluses

Only a small number of companies have any meaningful participation in the breakfast cereals market. In its "shared monopoly" charge made in early 1972, the FTC estimated that 91% of the market for cold cereals is in the hands of four companies: namely, Kellogg, General Mills, General Foods, and Quaker Oats.

Except for Kellogg, however, breakfast cereal items (both cold and hot) bulk relatively small in the sales and earnings picture of the four major producers, and they rank even smaller for Nabisco and Ralston Purina. As is true with nearly all food processors, moreover, cereal firms are diversifying more broadly within the vast sprawl of food-related businesses and even externally into other files, mostly of a consumer-oriented nature.

Uncertainties Spawn Opportunities

The diversification of companies related to the cereal business generally kept profits at satisfactory levels during the early months of this year. Results might have been still better had it not been for the profit restraint of Phase 3. Nevertheless, the stocks of all six have pulled back from their respective 1972 - 1973 highs to a considerable extent. This backtracking has reflected not only the adverse market sentiment but also the threat of further profit-margin pinches due to the partial price freeze since mid-June.

Surprisingly, retail sales of cereal products advanced an estimated 8% (both physical volume and dollar volume) last year, and a further — though smaller — growth is likely in 1973. The improvement in demand reflected increased consumer consciousness of nutritional requirements and the high cost of other breakfast foods.

In the past, in most periods of economic uncertainty, stocks of companies with some participation in the cereal market have offered a reasonably good defensive position. Thus, despite their recent loss of investment favor, these issues should bring worthwhile rewards when more normal conditions are restored to the stock market. At present, the Research Department of Babson's Reports maintains a HOLD position on General Foods, General Mills, Kellogg, Nabisco, and Quaker Oats. All are priced at rather depressed levels, and Ralston Purina's sell-off is bringing its price into a more reasonable range.

Maryland Regional Center For The Arts Again Uses St. Joseph's Campus

Dance instructor Michael Kilgore and three students of the Maryland Regional Center for the Arts practice on St. Joseph College campus.

The Maryland Regional Center for the Arts has leased the campus of St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, for 3 weeks, this summer, and offers intensive professional instruction in the arts for talented high school students. The program, which is divided into four two-week sessions, has enrolled over 500 young people representing practically every county in Maryland.

Students are recommended to the program by art and music teachers in public and private schools because they show outstanding ability in one or another of the arts. Each student selects a major area of concentration and also chooses several electives from a curriculum which includes dance, drama, sculpture, photography and the graphic arts as well as orchestral, ensemble and choral music. Now in its eighth summer, the Center for the Arts has a faculty and staff of 20 including experienced public school teachers, private music and art teachers, a professional athletic instructor and a counseling staff of eight college students with special interest and training in fine arts.

The Center is headquartered in Rosary Hall and has the use of all social, recreational and classroom facilities on campus.

Library Offers Summer Program

The Summer Reading Club is well under way in the Public Library. Twenty Emmitsburg children are registered in the program. Many have given interesting reports. Some of them include Kristin Neun, David Neun, Kathy Antolin, David and Catherine Welty, and Christina Champlain. Requirements are to read eight books, give a written, or oral report, or draw a picture of your favorite character in the book. Local Youth Plan Dystrophy Carnival

A neighborhood Carnival Against Dystrophy will be held on Saturday, July 21, at the home of Fred Martinez, 23 Federal Ave. in Emmitsburg (across from Boyles Store). Archie Graff, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Graff, Emmitsburg, will serve as Ringmaster, assisted by James Click. Chairman for the event is Sandi Bryan, who will be in complete charge of the Carnival.

The Carnival, which begins at 1 p.m. will feature such games as Bean Bag Toss, Penny Pitch, Sponge Toss, etc. There will be a Fortune Telling Booth, a Fashion Show, Food Stand and many other games and prizes galore. All proceeds will go to aid the fight against dystrophy and related diseases afflicting millions.

The children got the idea for staging their event from Ronald McDonald who is promoting MDAA Carnivals on television and at local participating McDonald's Restaurants.

Last year, in cooperation with Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, 39,543 Carnivals were held by children across the country, and over $1,172,661 was raised for WDA's research and patient service programs.

Ladies Of Brute Plan For Auction

The auction to be held on Friday, August 3, was the main business discussed at the meeting of the Ladies of Brute Auxiliary held on July 19. The meeting was in the form of a covered dish social at the home of Helen Oster in Emmitt Gardens.

President Nancy Danner presided at the meeting with 19 members present, among them one new member, Gloria Martin. The auction will start at 5:30 p.m. on the evening of August 3 with Gus Shank as auctioneer. The auction will be held at the garage of Mrs. Dolores Davis, which is close to the Freeman Shoe Factory parking lot, which will enable ample parking space for those attending the sale. Louise Adams will register buyers and give them numbers. Dolores Davis, Frances Rosensteel and Edith Haley, will be in charge of the food concession. It was noted that the Ladies will accept any salable items and will pick-up items for the sale prior to the 3rd. Persons having anything may contact Nancy Danner at 447-6293.

Mrs. Kay Britt had contacted one of the members about speaking to the ladies about visiting at Victor Cullen School and giving their time to do volunteer work at the school.

The ladies were asked to take charge of the games for the younger children at the Council's family picnic to be held in August. Cheryl Topper, Carmen Topper, and Betty Sanders will assist with the youngsters' entertainment. Pat Krietz, Susan Sanders and Holly Keppers will be in charge of the indoor games.

A Ways and Means Committee has been reactivated and will meet on July 24 at the home of Alice Boyle at 7:30 p.m. Those on the committee are Alice Boyle, Frances Rosensteel, Dolores Davis, Helen Oster and Nancy Danner. This committee will schedule events for the coming year and will include social events along with fund-raising ventures.

Becky Stover was appointed to the Membership Committee. Joan Tracey's name was called for the draw prize but was not present. The next meeting will be held on August 13 at 8:15 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Home.

Senior Citizens Plan Movie Trip

"The grandest plans of mice and men gang aft aglee", to misquote Bibby Burns. Due to rain the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens had to change plans for a picnic at Kump's Dam Park to the Senior Citizens Center, where some 40 members brought their covered dishes and supped in a drier climate.

The meeting opened with Rev. Chatlos asking the blessing before the meal. After supper, a few announcements were made by Mrs. LuRue Harman, and closed with singing one stanza of America and repetition of the Mizzah Benediction.

Mrs. Ethel Fuss announced that the popular movie 'Sound of Music', is to be shown at the Frederick Mall on Monday, July 30 at 1:30 p.m., and asked those who wished to attend to sign up for it. Twenty-three responded and hopefully enough cars will offer transportation for the group. If any other wish to avail themselves of the opportunity, call the center. The admission will be $1.00, to be paid at the theater. Meet at the center by 12:30. Anyone, please, offer cars, if available.

DREAM TAPE RECORDER NOW A REALITY

Have you been dreaming of the ideal portable tape recorder? . . . One that doesn't snarl you in a microphone cord; one that lets you record with a minimum of fuss, knob-turning and attention; one that virtually guarantees perfect recording results. Dream no longer; such recorders are now a reality.

They are typical of a "new breed" that reflects the forward thinking of companies such as General Electric, and their concern with filling the needs of convenience-minded consumers. The new cassette portables were designed to offer a log of basic capability in a small, light-weight package, at a lot-for-the-money price. They are right-up-to-the-minute, incorporating most-wanted features, plus the latest in technology.

For example, the new units feature built-in condenser microphones, among the most meaningful of recent equipment advances. These end the old bugaboo of dangling microphone cord that often brought on disaster - like equipment dashed to the floor because a hand or leg got tangled in the cord. Built-in microphones eliminate another problem, "mike-fright," that prevents people from being relaxed and spontaneous when being taped. The new condenser models also simplify recording; you no longer need worry about how and where to place a microphone for best results. Merely face the set's microphone grille in the general direction of the sound source, and push the "record" button. Because condenser microphones are more sensitive, they reach out farther, bringing in distant sounds clearly.

Since the new "super" models - such as GE's M-8455 - also feature ALC (automatic level control), you need not fiddle with a volume control when recording. ALC compensates for different sound levels. It increases the loudness of distant sounds, and decreases that of nearby sounds. Thus, if you record several people in a large room their voices will all be heard clearly in playback, at nearly the same volume level. In addition, it features the extra pluses of tone control and a carry case. If you record club meetings, business conferences, or use a recorder for classroom note-taking, the combination of built-in microphone and ALC is unbeatable; you get A-1 results every time.

But . . . if you insist on using an optional, external microphone for special purposes (such as recording bird calls and other sounds of nature) the new units permit you to do so.

Also featured in the new GE M-8455 and others in its price class ($50) is automatic end-of-tape shutoff, in recording and playback. If you're forgetful, you'll really appreciate this feature. It saves wear and tear on the machine and the cassette, and conserves battery power.

Speaking of power. . . The new "dream" models also run on house current, and with an adapter, through a car/boat cigarette lighter. Triple power prolongs battery life, gives you more operating flexibility.

To make recording on-the-go easier, the new models were designed with push-button mode controls. These are handy to your finger tips, even when the set is used in its shoulder-strap carrying case.

A suggestion: No matter what tape recorder (or other audio product) you buy, stick with a "big-name" brand, such as GE. Not only will you get a better dollar value, you'll have easier access to better service than that provided by lesser-known companies. The larger the firm, the larger its "customer care" organization. Should you need help, it's available at a handy authorized service station - perhaps just around the corner.
