

Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Americans everywhere seem to have observed the new year in much the same way they always have although the celebration was a bit more quiet this year. Around here a lot of folks spent the holiday just relaxing and enjoying the company of their families. But even with the cold temperatures and the shortage of fuel there were the traditional parties, bowl games and, for most of us I would guess, the very traditional overeating at the New Year's Day dinner table.

I hope you folks are all recovering from the holidays. Most of the decorations in the homes around town are down already, I see. One possible advantage of not putting up as many decorations this year might have become evident to you as you took them down—it probably took less time and energy than it did in past years.

One other advantage of the energy crisis was the lower-than-usual traffic fatality count over the holiday. The gasoline shortage, lowered speed limits and sub-zero temperatures kept most Americans off the highways and allowed many people to see the new year than the National Safety Council had predicted would. According to one source, state policemen spent more time answering calls about the location of gas stations that were open than calls about anything else.

It is lucky in a way that we're having such cold weather right now for both drivers and pedestrians alike. If this were the "barefoot season" for the local youngsters, there would be some sore soles from the looks of the broken glass and debris on the sidewalks around the square. With the snow and ice all cleared away, now would be a good time to show a little pride in our community by keeping such hazards and eyesores as this at a minimum. Someone once said that a man is never so tall as when he stoops to pick up after someone else.

Maybe when the nice weather comes along this spring some of those deteriorating sidewalk slabs can be replaced. At a couple of spots along the sidewalks, the cement has drooped to a dangerous angle. Perhaps if something had been done about those areas last summer it would have been much easier to walk on them when they are snow-covered or icy this winter.

As I said last week, each new year brings a time of recollections of the past year and hopes for the new. It also is a time to set goals for ourselves, our community and our nation. There are things which we need to improve upon, things which we need to eliminate and things which we need to establish. The past year was a time of uncertainty in many respects. There were goals which we did not achieve because of the troubles our government leaders experienced. But with the goals we did achieve, it is evident that America has many more strengths than it has weaknesses, and there is good reason for pride with regard to our accomplishments and optimism with regard to our future.

We, as well as other nations, seem to be coming to the realization that the U. S. alone cannot be expected to police, feed, finance or heal all the rest of the world. With this new awareness of our limitations as well as our strengths there are openings for more far-reaching co-operative action between nations than we have ever known. We must learn also that the needs of the people at home should be far more important than the needs of others, and we must learn to concentrate more on satisfying those needs. The stronger we are within ourselves, the better we will be able to help other nations.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. James Wivell, Four Points Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Phyllis, to Mr. Robert L. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green, R2, Gettysburg.

Miss Wivell is a 1970 graduate of Saint Joseph's High School and is presently a senior nursing student at University of Maryland, Baltimore City campus.

Mr. Green is a 1969 graduate of Gettysburg High School and is employed as a heavy equipment operator by Crook Contractors in Glen Burnie. A summer wedding is planned.

Trojans Finish 2nd In Tournament

A day to remember — December 28, 1973. The Trojans of St. Joseph's won two games in one day. Richie Williams, Emmitsburg's selection for All-State voted Outstanding Player. Joel Neighbours, only three turnovers in three games. Quite a playmaking feat. Richard Hobbs comes into his own, 23 rebounds for the day. Everyone a hero.

St. Joseph's almost did the impossible. Win three games in one day. This was probably asking too much. Behind Richie Williams' standout performance of 31 points and 16 rebounds, the Trojans stopped St. Mary's of Annapolis 47 to 35. A favored, stunned St. Mary's club just watched St. Joe play almost flawless basketball in the first game of the Baltimore Quaker Christmas Tourney, played at Friends School of Baltimore. This game was played at 10:30 a.m.

With very little rest, St. Joe met Severn High of D.C. in the semi finals starting at 1:30 p.m. the same day. St. Joe now did play flawless basketball in beating Severn 38-25. Both teams played patterned offense with St. Joe jumping off to an 18-11 first half lead behind the spirited, perfect ball handling of guard Joel Neighbours, and the timely sharpshooting of Richie Williams and the sometimes sensational play of center Richie Hobbs. Hobbs' 11 points and Williams' 14, led the way. Observers stated this game to be about the best played in St. Joe's 30-year basketball history. Mighty Severn of D. C. was upset.

The Championship game at 4:40 p.m., saw our "Iron Mighty Mites" matched with the host team, Friends. After three minutes the score was tied 0 to 0 as St. Joe's played possession ball. Maybe it was fatigue but the players offered no excuses. The height of Friends wore them down and they trailed at the half, 31 to 20.

GUEST EDITORIAL

"Let's Hear It!" For U. S.

(In these days of unrelieved foreboding and gloomy news, all of us in this country could do with a little bucking up.)

It isn't often that we get a chance to see ourselves as a neighbor sees us—and be cheered by the image. Some time ago Gordon Sinclair, the Canadian radio and TV commentator, broadcast an editorial from Toronto. Any number of people in this country heard it or have since read it, as it has been widely reprinted in newspapers in the U. S. It was inserted in the "Congressional Record" and became the subject of many editorials.

Mr. Sinclair's commentary makes especially heartening reading right now. For the benefit of those who have missed it, excerpts are presented here.)

This Canadian thinks it is time to speak up for the Americans as the most generous and possibly the least appreciated people on all the earth. . . .

Germany, Japan and, to a lesser extent, Britain and Italy were lifted out of the debris of war by the Americans who poured in billions of dollars and forgave other billions in debts. None of these countries is today paying even the interest on its remaining debts to the United States.

When the franc was in danger of collapsing in 1956, it was the Americans who propped it up, and their reward was to be insulted and swindled on the streets of Paris.

I was there. I saw it. When distant cities are hit by earthquakes, it is the United States that hurries in to help. . . . This spring, 59 American communities (were) flattened by tornadoes. Nobody helped.

The Marshall Plan and the Truman Policy pumped billions upon billions of dollars into discouraged countries. Now newspapers in those countries are writing about the decadent, warmongering Americans.

I'd like to see just one of those countries that is gloating over the erosion of the United States dollar build its own airplanes.

Come on, let's hear it! Does any other country in the world have a plane to equal the Boeing Jet, the Lockheed Tristar or the Douglas 10?

If so, why don't they fly them? Why do all the international lines except Russia fly American planes? Why does no other land on earth even consider putting a man or woman on the moon?

You talk about Japanese technocracy, and you get radios. You talk about German technocracy, and you get automobiles.

You talk about American technocracy, and you find men on the moon—not once but several times—and safely home again.

You talk about scandals, and the Americans put theirs right in the store window for everybody to look at.

Even their draft-dodgers are not pursued and hounded. They are here on our streets, and most of them—unless they are breaking Canadian laws—are getting American dollars from Ma and Pa at home to spend here. . . .

When the railways of France, Germany and India were breaking down through age, it was the Americans who rebuilt them. When the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central went broke, nobody loaned them an old caboose. Both are still broke.

I can name you 5,000 times when the Americans raced to help of other people in trouble. Can you name me even one time when someone else raced to the Americans in trouble?

I don't think there was outside help even during the San Francisco earthquake.

Our neighbors have faced it alone, and I'm one Canadian who is damned tired of hearing them kicked around.

They will come out of this thing with their flag high. And when they do, they are entitled to thumb their nose at the lands that are gloating over their present troubles.

I hope Canada is not one of these.

Miss Mackenzie Bride Of D. Long

Miss Laurie Marie Mackenzie became the bride of Douglas Eugene Long on Saturday, December 22. Miss Mackenzie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Mackenzie, R2, Emmitsburg. Mr. Long is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long, also of R2, Emmitsburg. Rev. W. Ronald Fearer performed the afternoon double ring ceremony at Elias Lutheran Church. Mrs. Carolyn Eyer presided at the organ with Mr. George Bruchey, Jr., soloist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown which featured an empire waist, lace bodice and sleeves. The same lace hemmed the skirt and train. She chose a shoulder length veil attached to a seed-pearl wide headband. Her bouquet was of white rosebuds, carnations with cascades of white streamers.

Miss Joyce Mackenzie was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Peggy Long, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid.

Cpl. Paul Mackenzie, brother of the bride, El Toro Marine Station, Calif., served as Mr. Long's best man. Ushering at the wedding were Mr. Glenn Glass and Mr. Eric Glass of Emmitsburg, and Mr. Robert Novac and Mr. Gary Reed of Thurmont.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church hall.

Mrs. Long is presently a senior at Catoctin High School.

Mr. Long is a '73 graduate of Catoctin High School and has completed Air Force Basic Training at Lackland AFB, Texas. At present he is attending Aeronautics Technical School at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Town Planners Offer Information

In an effort to explain what zoning is and what it can achieve, members of the Emmitsburg Planning Commission have started a series of articles designed to answer the most asked questions about zoning. The following information answers this week's question: How does zoning achieve good development?

Once a master plan is adopted for the future of the area, representing the desired goals of the citizens, zoning furnishes the means for guiding and channeling the future growth in a practical and orderly manner. Through a sound zoning pattern, the locality can more readily achieve:

- * A proper location for each type of land use.
- * The development of land to reasonable densities in scale with highway and utility capabilities.
- * The location of buildings so as to provide acceptable amounts of light and air.
- * The development of neighborhoods that will be protected for the quiet enjoyment of families and the safety of children and the maintenance of property values by prohibiting uses which may be dangerous or objectionable.
- * The protection of the general welfare—with due regard to the rights of the individual property owners, who have rights of appeal.

Mr. Neiderer is a 1970 graduate of Francis Scott Key High School, Union Bridge, and is employed with the Taney Lumber and Supply Co., of Taneytown.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Phone for further information or call Seton Center (447-6102). The courses are sponsored by the Frederick County Board of Education and the Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council.

Janet Miller Given Naval Assignment

Seaman Recruit Janet E. Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Miller, St. Anthony's, Emmitsburg, has been assigned to Hospital Corpsman School, Great Lakes, Ill., after completing eight weeks of training at the Naval Recruit Training Center, Orlando, Fla.

Janet, who was recently home for Christmas leave, describes life in the Navy as "great" and adds that she thinks "everyone should join the service for a few years at least."

"Joining the service" was a goal which grew in Janet's mind after she had dropped out of high school and was working in a local factory. She started attending adult night classes twice a week at Seton Center and after several semesters of study in the GED program (General Educational Development) she successfully passed the high school equivalency examination.

With her diploma firmly in hand, Janet was ready to talk to Chief Richard B. Zeller of the Navy recruiting office in Frederick. She completed aptitude tests, passed her physical exam and was given a choice among several training options. Janet chose Hospital Corpsman School and was guaranteed that she would receive that assignment upon completion of basic training.

The stiff 14-week course will prepare Janet to administer medicine, perform first aid and minor surgery, assist in the operating room, fill prescriptions, take and process x-rays and perform numerous other medical duties.

Interviewed during Christmas leave, Janet, looking trim and attractive in her Navy uniform with the red and gold National Defense ribbon over her left pocket, said she had been homesick almost as soon as she left Emmitsburg. She got herself together in time to make the most of a busy training schedule which included "classes, marching and scrubbing." It also included seeing new places, meeting new people, making a new life. Janet only dreamed that new life a year ago. She says she is proud that, through her own determination and initiative, she made her dreams come true in 1973 and can look forward to an even better 1974.

Homemakers Hold Christmas Party

On December 13, the Emmitsburg Homemakers held their annual Christmas Party in the Alpine Room of the Emmitt House, with 13 members and 1 guest present. After a delicious meal, during which they were entertained by the music of Luigi, the host at the Emmitt House, the members exchanged gifts.

Following this, the members went to Mother Seton School where they heard a concert of Christmas Carols beautifully performed by the Mother Seton Glee Club under the direction of Sister Paula. It was a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon for all who attended.

The next meeting will be held on January 10 at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harry Hahn. The lesson will be on Low Cost-Low Calorie Foods and following the demonstration, Mrs. Hahn, Lesson Leader and Hostess, will serve refreshments based on this theme.

FIREMEN TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. will be held in the Fire Hall on Tuesday, Jan. 8, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Lifelong Learning Council Reports Activities Of 1973

"The most viable and successful adult education program in Frederick County is that of the Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council." This was the rewarding comment of Dr. Robert Smith, recently appointed Director of Adult Education for the County, when he met with the ELLC Governing Board recently. It is therefore in a spirit of gratitude to the sponsors of the Council, its members, and to the people of Emmitsburg for their enthusiastic participation that the following report of activities for 1973 is submitted.

As of January 25, 1973, the membership of the Council comprised 24 groups in the greater Emmitsburg area. Efforts are being made to enlarge the membership to include industries and organizations which have recently moved into the Fifth Election District.

During the year, meetings of the Governing Board were held on January 25, (following the meeting of the full Council membership), March 26, July 26 and October 25, with a new precedent established of opening these meetings to the full Council. Participation in the sessions has been quite vocal and active with excellent input from all in attendance. Written minutes of the meetings were circulated to the organizations' delegates and published in the Emmitsburg Chronicle.

It is to be regretted that the Council suffered the loss of the following delegates who resigned within the past year: Sister Margaret Hughes and Sister Mary Virginia Klisiewicz, by reason of the closing of Saint Joseph College; Mrs. Adrian Brown, by removal to another locale; and Mrs. John Chatlos, because of ill health.

As former Board members and co-workers, the Council wishes to express to each the deep appreciation of their ELLC associates for dynamic leadership, untiring devotedness and invaluable assistance.

To replace those whose terms on the Governing Board expired as of December 31, 1972, the Council elected on January 25, 1973, the following to serve as Directors on its Governing Board for a three-year term: Gay Brown, Mariah Baker, Sister Mary John Conway, Jane Orndorff and Margaret Smith.

In addition to the above, the following made up the full complement of the Governing Board serving for 1973: Two-year term: Bernard Welty, Sr. M. Magdalen Simms, Sr. Margaret Hughes, Clara Harner, Mary Scott; one-year term: Joseph Zanella, Ann Marshall, Roger Zurgable, Sr. Celestine McCarthy and Dolores Henke.

The Governing Board elected officers for 1973 as follows: President, Bernard Welty; 1st vice president, Roger Zurgable; 2nd vice president, Gay Brown; secretary, Mary Scott; asst. secretary, Clara Harner; treasurer, Joseph Zanella, and historian, Ann Marshall.

It is to be noted that during this year, despite a critical and disabling illness, President Welty has been an inspiration through sustained interest in and a very real contribution to adult education by attending all possible meetings and guiding the overall performance of the Council.

Committees appointed by the President, were Curriculum, chaired by Sr. Mary Magdalen, and Publicity, headed by Ann Marshall. Both have been extremely active and very productive.

Instead of the courses in Comparative Religions, previously planned, the ELLC co-sponsored with the Council of Churches an ecumenical series of lectures on Books of the Old and New Testament during the Lenten season. These were given by our clergymen of the Emmitsburg Churches and were well attended.

It was possible during this same period to cooperate with local industries and accede to their request for a Red Cross First Aid Course for their employees.

Daytime classes in High School Equivalency are now operating and these are proving very popular with students who have other commitments for their evening hours. Because registration for the proposed Furniture Refinishing Course did not total the required number of students, it was not offered. Total enrollment in all courses numbered 174 students.

Frederick County certificates are available to all students qualifying in the various course-offerings, and it is particularly gratifying to the Council that in 1973, 12 students received diplomas for completion of high school.

Presently there is being planned for the first semester of 1974, in addition to the above, four-week sessions in Cake Decorating and in Flower Arranging. Efforts are being made to effect an affiliation with Mount St. Mary's College which will provide college courses for credit or audit; Dr. Smith is actively assisting in this project.

On May 3, 1973, Reverend and Mrs. Adrian Brown, with the help of Christopher, presented at Seton Center an excellent and most entertaining travelogue on Australia. With lively comments, detailed graphs, official films and home-made movies, the presentation was enthusiastically received by a large audience from a wide geographical range — probably because of well-planned advance publicity. Later, the Browns were asked to repeat their travelogue for a Frederick City organization.

The Board continued the custom, established last year, of having a Recognition Social for ELLC Faculty-members and their spouses. Held at the Center on May 15, it proved to be a happy occasion for all. Again, the expense of this activity was personally borne by Board-members.

Mr. Frank Hess, who has served as Director of Adult Education for the County, was reassigned in the Fall of 1973. The Board wishes to record in this official report its deep appreciation of Mr. Hess' fine cooperation with and assistance to the Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council. His replacement, Dr. Robert Smith, in his earlier association with Adult Education in the County, had urged the formation of the Council. To mark his return, an informal reception was held at Seton Center on November 15, and Dr. Smith's enthusiasm for what is being accomplished locally was most heartening. He encouraged the Council to go ahead with its planning for more advanced courses, promising any assistance his office can give.

Students, other than those in Basic Adult Education, pay tuition. The fees received, except for the art course, are sent directly to the Frederick County Board of Education which continues to support the program by covering teachers' salaries, excluding the art teacher, and providing textbooks and supplies. A token rental from federal funding is paid to Seton Center for facilities used by the students in Basic Adult Education. From the fees paid by art students, necessary supplies and texts are provided directly by the teacher.

The Council is grateful for the support of the sponsoring agencies given this past year. Because of greatly increased costs for heat, light and the upkeep of facilities necessary for the classes, it is hoped that the participating organizations will continue to adequately finance the program. Grateful notice is taken of the fact that postage costs are reduced to a minimum through the cooperation of the Farmers and Mechanics National Bank has undertaken to distribute mailings to ELLC members.

During 1974, the Council plans to provide each organization, at one of its regular meetings, with a speaker who can outline the work of the Council and answer questions.

Tips On Home Repairs

Time To Save Energy

NEW YORK (ED)—We may not know we're in an energy crisis, until we need energy and it's not there. Time is running out. A home heating fuel shortage is a real threat unless we all pitch in. There are many ways each of us can help, according to the Aluminum Association:

- Begin by checking your house for places where you may be losing heat and money. Windows and doors are often the culprits.
  - Install storm doors if you don't already have them. And equip them with automatic closures to be sure they stay shut. Aluminum storm windows will pay for themselves within a decade by cutting heating bills.
  - Weatherstrip and caulk around windows and doors to help keep unwanted cold air outside.
  - If your home is not insulated, placing foil-backed insulation in walls and ceilings will usually pay for itself in a year in fuel savings.
  - Buying a new home? Consider a new kind of aluminum thermal window that helps eliminate troublesome condensation.
  - Turn down your thermostat five degrees at night — even more if you're away for the weekend.
  - Closing draperies at night is another way to keep drafts outside.
- We may not know we're in an energy crisis until we need energy and it's not there. Fortunately, there are definite ways we can all help save fuel this winter. If we don't pitch in now we may not have a second chance.

CONSERVATION LESSON

WHEN IS LESS MORE? IN TERMS OF WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT, LESS IS BETTER WHEN MORE ANIMALS LEAD TO OVERPOPULATION. WHEN A HERD GROWS TOO LARGE FOR THE AVAILABLE FOOD SUPPLY, STARVATION AND DISEASE RESULT. SO CONTROLLING THE NUMBER OF ANIMALS MEANS MORE FOOD, MORE COVER AND HEALTHIER SURVIVORS.

IN ARIZONA'S KAIBAB PLATEAU, FOR EXAMPLE, DEER WERE TOTALLY PROTECTED IN THE EARLY 1900'S. WITH NATURAL PREDATORS ELIMINATED AND HUNTING BANNED, THEY MULTIPLIED FAR BEYOND THE FOOD CAPACITY OF THEIR RANGE. AS A RESULT, STARVATION AND DISEASE HAD NEARLY WIPE OUT THE HERD BY THE 1920'S.

RESEARCHERS FROM REMINGTON ARMS REMIND US THAT WILDLIFE POPULATIONS CAN ONLY REMAIN HEALTHY WHEN KEPT IN BALANCE WITH THEIR ENVIRONMENT THROUGH REGULATED HUNTING. TODAY'S SPORTSMEN HELP CONSERVATIONISTS MAINTAIN THAT BALANCE.

Personality Quiz

HOW DISCREET ARE YOU?

There may be a fine line between fact and tact. And the person with an obsession for discretion seldom crosses that line. The test that follows will give you a good idea of the success of your discretionary tactics with people.

1. If you're a young lady who doesn't want to see a particular young man socially and he asks you for a date, you should (A) Tell him that you have other plans for the occasion, (B) Tell him that you don't think the two of you would make a good couple, or (C) Tell him that you don't wish to see him socially?

2. When interviewing a prospective employee for a job and he doesn't have the qualifications, tell him that (A) He isn't qualified, (B) You're grateful for his interest, or (C) You'll be in touch with him at a later date?

3. If a friend of yours suddenly dies, it is best to (A) Call his family and tell them of your shock, (B) Make sure to attend the funeral, or (C) Send flowers to the home of the deceased or the chapel where services are to be held?

4. If a potential author asks you to read his manuscript for a book, which you think isn't very good, it's best that you (A) Tell him you don't think it's very good, (B) Praise his effort but say that he could do better, or (C) Tell him you like the book and express your hope for his success with it.

5. When someone you know makes a trip to Las Vegas and loses a lot of money, you should (A) Express your sympathy, (B) Say you hope he still had a good time, or (C) Tell him he was unwise to gamble?

For correct answers, see below.

ANSWERS: 1. (A) Tell him that you have other plans for the occasion. The other answers are likely to hurt him unnecessarily. 2. (B) Tell him you're grateful for his interest. Chances are, if you have described the job he would have to do, he understands that he isn't qualified. 3. (C) You should call the family and attend the funeral, if possible, but whether you can or not, sending flowers is an appropriate gesture that helps to comfort the bereaved. 4. (C) Tell him that you like the book and express your hope for his success with it. 5. (B) Say you hope that he still had a good time.

Capitol Comment

All Around Maryland

Anne Arundel County and the City of Annapolis have been formally designated as "Bicentennial Communities" by the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission.

They are the first communities in Maryland to be so named. Nationally, 204 communities have received the "Bicentennial Community" designation, which recognizes that they have formally begun planning for the 1976 bicentennial observance.

It is my hope that other Maryland communities will follow Anne Arundel and Annapolis and apply through the Maryland Bicentennial Commission for this recognition.

A number of federal grants have been awarded to Maryland communities for interesting and worthwhile programs. Among the grants that have come through my office recently are:

- $107,021 to Prince George's County for the operation of a foster grandparent program that will use the services of 75 volunteers.

- $75,000 to the Maryland Community Development Administration to help plan for economic growth in the Baltimore area in the wake of scheduled cutbacks in activities at the Naval Training Center there.

- $315,398 and an additional loan of $4.7 million to the Anne Arundel County Housing Authority to develop 170 family public housing units south of Glen Burnie.

I am pleased that the Frederick Historic District has been added to the National Register of Historic Places. This action recognizes that the Frederick area has been associated with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad patterns of American history.

As an entry in the National Register, the Frederick Historic District will be protected from destruction, alteration and the introduction of elements that are considered out of character with the area.

As a Marylander, and a member of the Transportation Subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee, which has jurisdiction over the Coast Guard budget, I was able to doubly appreciate the capabilities of the Coast Guard Yard at Curtis Bay.

The Yard will begin construction next year of two new buoy tenders. This will result in a modest increase in the Yard's current 1175-man work force and will add $4.6 million to the Yard's annual budget.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

What About Bonds?

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., January 3, 1974 — The increased likelihood of a business recession next year, which is one of the factors responsible for the stock market's sharp decline in recent weeks, is the major reason some investors anticipate a better bond market in 1974. They feel that as the economy slows down demand for credit will lessen while consumers are likely to increase their savings rate, thus adding to the supply of funds. At the same time, prospects of a slowdown in business are apt to influence the Federal Reserve into adopting an easier monetary stance. The result of such developments would be a decline in interest rates and higher bond prices. Thus, in view of the almost steady pounding which stock prices have taken over recent weeks, it is not surprising that some investors are considering the bond market as a safe haven for funds.

Whither Long-Term Rates?

In our opinion, long-term bond yields may very well move somewhat lower over the coming months, as business loses momentum. But the drop in yields (and corresponding rise in bond prices) may prove to be more limited than some investors expect, despite the fact that the business slowdown already anticipated for next year will now be aggravated by the energy crisis and made considerably more severe.

Any lessened demand for funds from business will be partially offset by a continuation of strong inflationary tendencies. In fact, the energy shortage which will have a dampening impact on business will exert an opposite influence on prices. Even without the energy hassle, inflation was not expected to ease much in 1974, since price increases in many basic industrial commodities appeared almost inescapable. Since investors are hesitant to tie up their capital in long-term fixed investments during inflationary periods, any decline in long-term yields is apt to be moderate in both scope and duration.

Short-Term Rate More Volatile

While long-term yields may shade only modestly lower during a business readjustment, short-term rates could register more dramatic moves. This would be especially likely if the economic braking were accompanied by a change in Federal Reserve policy. This was what happened in the 1970 recession when short-term yields fell sharply all year.

Of course, even if another recession should develop next year, there is no guarantee that short-term rates would respond as sharply as they did in 1970. One reason is that the Federal Reserve may not move as rapidly or go as far in easing up on the monetary reins if inflation continues unabated, particularly since the monetary authorities came under attack from some quarters for pursuing a monetary course the last time around that was overly expansive.

Nevertheless, a lag in general business is almost certain to reduce the demand for funds. While there is no sure way of knowing what the Fed will do in the future, there is strong historical precedent — despite continued inflationary pressures — for some easing in monetary policy as business becomes less active. Thus, Babson's Reports is of the opinion that short-term rates are very likely to move off as 1974 unfolds.

Advice For Investors

Under the existing uneasy market conditions, we feel that investors should consider having at least a portion of their funds invested in bonds, and, therefore, they should review the balance between equities and fixed investments within their portfolios. In addition, investors with ample cash reserves should take into consideration purchase of short-term bonds as a temporary investment, at least until the market atmosphere becomes more stable. Some high-quality bonds currently being recommended for purchase by Babson's Research Staff include General Foods 8 3/4s of 1975, Tennessee Valley Authority Power Bonds 7 1/2s of 1976 Series A, General Foods S. F. Debs 8 7/8s of 1990, and Scott Paper Company S. F. Debs 8 7/8s of 2000.

LIMITED EDITIONS BECOME COLLECTOR'S ITEMS FAST

If you had bought a porcelain American eagle by Boehm in 1957 for $150, you could sell it today, only 16 years later, for $18,000.

Such phenomenal profit on this lovely sculpture is realized because the bird was brought out in an edition of only 64 pieces and then the mold was broken. So much is mass produced today that rare objects are prized, and a collector's fancy is snatched up quickly when a small number is offered at a reasonable price.

Another example would be a series of crystal plates issued yearly by Lalique. Begun in 1965 with 2,000 at $25 a piece, resale value of this edition is now around $2,000. The 1970 edition has already resold for $75 per plate.

Limited editions may be "limited" by several factors: the relatively small amount produced, signed, dated and often numbered so you know which in line yours is. Or it can be seasonal, the dated object sold only during a certain season, Christmas, for instance. Or it can run in a series.

Besides sculptures and plates other items now produced for collectors and investors are mugs, paperweights, medals, coins, commemorative objects, and novel bottles.

One example is the colorful ceramic American wild turkey bottle produced only at holiday seasons by Wild Turkey Kentucky Bourbon. Each carrying a fifth of the fine, 101-proof bourbon, the 14-inch birds are sculpted in different poses each year (this is one good way of collecting your object and drinking it too). The 1971 turkey in the straw is already getting collectors' item prices. The 1972 turkey on the log is already scarce and this year's turkey in flight should be very popular at about $20.00 for a Christmas gift that brings a double benefit.

At the other price extreme is Royal Worcester's series of bone china equestrians. This year Princess Anne on Doublet joins the previous editions of Napoleon and the Duke of Wellington. The model is produced in an edition of only 750, and costs $4,250.00.

Limoges is making a beautiful porcelain reproduction of the famed Unicorn Tapestries to sell at $35.00. The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York produces a dated silver snowflake in a different shape each year, lovely to hang on the tree or around the neck. They also offer this year a limited reproduction of an early yellow flip vase: Royal Worcester has dated porcelain holiday mugs in two sizes, and Hammacher Schlemmer will offer a limited, signed, dated and hand-painted line of enameled cookware whose initial prices will keep most people from ever cooking in them. Some of these items can be found in specialty or fine department stores around the country, others must be ordered by mail. The chance to collect an object that not everyone can have and hope it may become immortal is what the limited edition fad, delighted in by young and old alike, seems to be all about.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
The Gift of Abraham Sheets
Prayer for the New Year—
"Let us pray to God, the Unconquerable Spirit in Man."
"Help us to rebuild the world for more splendid lives than ours; add wisdom to the ardor of the young, and loving kindness to the musings of the old; make our eyes aware of things that are too gentle to proclaim themselves; give us emotion far beyond the fret of nerves; free us from fear of our own brothers, and from the triple curse of greed, intolerance, and vain glory."
"Lift the dark cloud of war from our future, and grant comfort to all quiet kindly folk who carry peace in their hearts amidst the stress of conflict; strengthen them also to endure what may befall."
"Bring down the tyrant; befriend the victims of injustice and equate the remarks of labor nearer to the needs of men; and accustom us to work, not for the snatched profit, but for the common good and for the planned destiny of mankind—"
"Give patience to those who wait restlessly for this, and hope to those who have ceased to believe that it will come; and fill our hearts with faith in a kingdom of Heaven which our children's children may someday find on earth."
The data pertaining to the Sheets (Sheads) family of Pennsylvania and Maryland is continued at this time—
The obituary of Daniel Sheets appeared in the "Emmitsburg Chronicle" on Wednesday, July 4, 1900—as follows:

"Died, Tuesday a week, at his home in Emmitsburg, Maryland, Mr. Daniel Sheets, in the 86th year of his age. Mr. Sheets arrived in Emmitsburg in 1874. Prior to that time he lived in Freedom Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania. His father and grandfather were residents of Frederick County, Maryland."
"Mr. Sheets is survived by the following children: Mrs. John T. Hospelhorn, Mr. Sentnam Sheets, Mrs. Abraham Krise, Mr. David Sheets, and Mr. Harry Sheets."
"Daniel Sheets was a life-long member of Elias Lutheran church and served that congregation in many official capacities. He was secretary of the cemetery board for many years. Funeral services were held in the Lutheran church with interment in the adjoining burial ground."
In the Gettysburg, Pennsylvania "Star and Sentinel" for Thursday, August 19, 1880, the following item pertaining to Abraham Sheets (who was probably a brother of Daniel)—was published:
"Monument—Mr. Abraham Sheets, of Emmitsburg, Maryland, is about to erect a monument in the Taneytown Lutheran churchyard to the memory of the Rev. John Grob, one of the early Lutheran ministers in that region."
Note: It is interesting to note that the Rev. Grob, who had served both the Taneytown and Emmitsburg Lutheran congregations, had lain for many years in an unmarked grave. Apparently Abraham Sheets thought this omission should be remedied. The grave marker he erected is still in place, beside that of the pioneer minister's wife.
1. In memory of Rev. John G. Grob, who departed this life May 27th, 1829, aged 76 years.
2. In memory of Elizabeth Grob, wife of John G. Grob, died April 15, 1835, aged 69 years.
As stated before in this series on the Sheets family, the material, both genealogical and historical, is far from complete. The Sheets family interred in the Taneytown Lutheran churchyard was related to the Emmitsburg branch—but—just how is not known at this time.
In order to make this study as complete as possible the inscriptions from the Sheets family markers in the Taneytown Lutheran burial ground, are included—as follows:
12. In memory of Isaac Sheets, born May 24, 1795, died December 19, 1888, aged 93 years, 6 months and 23 days.
13. In memory of Abraham Sheets, born November 17, 1797, died September 9, 1887, aged 89 years, 9 months, and 22 days.
Note: Apparently Isaac and Abraham Sheets were brothers—the dates of birth would suggest this and they are buried side by side.
14. In memory of Elizabeth

Koons, wife of William Koons, died June 5, 1867, aged 74 years, 3 months and 188 days. Also in memory of Jacob Sheets, died November 11, 1866, aged 76 years, 4 months, and 2 days. Erected by Abraham Sheets.
15. In memory of Father Jacob Sheets, died January 27, 1826, aged 65 years, 5 months, and 26 days. Also Hannah Sheets, Mother, wife of Jacob Sheets, died May 5, 1852, aged 85 years, 4 months and 11 days. Erected by Abraham Sheets.
Note: It would appear that Abraham Sheets erected quite a good few monuments—the majority to members of his own family.
16. In memory of Catherine Sheets, wife of Jacob Sheets, died March 13, 1803, aged 73 years, 4 months and 11 days.
17. In memory of Jacob Sheets, died October 27, 1806, aged 81 years.
On the grave marker of Jacob Sheets, who died in 1829, it is stated: "A Soldier of 1776. Enlisted under Washington as he passed through Taneytown."
This concludes, for the present, at least, the notes regarding the Sheets (Sheads-Sheetz) family. If any additional material should come to light it will be included in a future column.
Next week, a study of the Eyster (Oyster) family—of the Monocacy settlement—but later of the Tom's Creek and Emmitsburg vicinities, will be included in this series.

WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL, JR.

As Congress Adjourns

The final week of the 1973 congressional session has wrought several important measures to the point of final passage.
The Senate and House of Representatives, acting nearly six months after the start of the fiscal year, have at last finished with the annual appropriations bills for the different government agencies.
These budget bills are almost always late, and I look forward to the opportunity we will have next year to bring about some important and long-overdue reforms in controlling and federal budget.
On the positive side, however, is the success this year in passing a Health, Education and Welfare appropriations bill.
The HEW budget is one of the most complex and controversial areas of federal spending, and for the past three years, we have been getting by on a continuing resolution because of disagreements between Congress and the Administration over some of these programs.
This procedure was counterproductive in several respects, and I think that the ability to come to terms on a new HEW budget was one of the most important, but largely unnoticed, accomplishments of 1973.
Another domestic issue being much more publicized is our energy crisis. More than a year has gone by since I first began reporting on our impending energy problems, and a lot of unexpected things have happened during the past 12 months.
These unforeseen events have commanded immediate attention in Congress, and they have prompted actions that sound like a throwback to a generation ago.
The Emergency Energy Act, reported out of conference and passed as the 1973 session drew to a close, will give the President broad powers to deal with our fuel shortages and energy allocation problems.
The President already has the authority to allocate fuels, but this bill goes a very important step further. It enables the President also to implement various fuel conservation measures, including gasoline rationing, if he feels they are necessary.
However, this legislation also includes an equally important safety feature: a veto power that will be retained by the Congress.
The veto will enable Congress to act as a guardian of the public interest, to make sure that well-intentioned policies do not cause unforeseen consequences.
Bringing local situations and local needs to the attention of energy planners will be of the utmost importance in the weeks ahead.
In view of this, I have joined with Senator Mathias in scheduling a special fact-finding hearing in Baltimore on Dec. 27. We will be hearing from persons from all walks of life in Maryland, and I guarantee that what is heard will be repeated to the policymakers in Washington.

One less disease to worry about—auto-intoxication is a generalized condition caused by the absorption of harmful products from the intestinal tract. Fortunately, there is no evidence that such a disease exists.

JOHN WILLIAM FRANK Kanawha and Tuck Avenues Point of Rocks, Maryland 21777
MARGARET A. FRANK 4258 North Reese Street Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19140

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this proceeding is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, John William Frank, from the Defendant, Margaret A. Frank, custody of the infant child of the parties, Robert Thomas Frank, age 15, and such other and further relief as the nature of his case may require.
The Bill states in substance that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland where he has resided for more than one year last past; that the last known address of the Defendant is 4528 North Reese Street, Philadelphia Pennsylvania 19140; that the Complainant was married to the Respondent on the 3rd day of November 1953, in Washington, D. C. in a religious ceremony by a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that three (3) children were born as the result of the marriage, two (2) of whom are emancipated, and the youngest, Robert Thomas Frank, age 15, is in the care and custody of the Complainant; and the Bill further states that the Complainant and Respondent voluntarily and mutually agreed to live separate and apart for twelve consecutive months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint; and that the separation has continued uninterruptedly since that time, and such separation appears to be deliberate, final and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.
It is thereupon this 6th day of December, 1973, by the Circuit Court of Frederick County, in EQUITY, ORDERED that the Complainant by causing a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least four consecutive weeks prior to the 12th day of January, 1974, in some newspaper in Frederick County, Maryland, give notice to the Defendant, Margaret A. Frank, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint; and warn her to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 12th day of February, 1974, to show cause, if any she has, why the relief sought ought not to be granted.

OPEN LINE By Congressman Goodloe Byron Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. I recently read about some legislation that would allow Park Rangers to make on-the-spot arrests of individuals in our National Parks. What is it all about? You are probably referring to legislation introduced in Congress which would allow members of the U. S. Park Police and National Park Service Rangers to make arrests without a warrant for any felony or misdemeanor committed in their presence in a National Park. The measure is pending before the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, but no hearings have been scheduled at this time. When will people under 65, who are now getting social security disability payments, be eligible for Medicare coverage? Disabled persons who have been getting social security disability benefits for at least two years have been eligible for Medicare since July. Where can our school get information and publicity materials on the Presidential Physical Fitness Awards? Logbooks, qualifying standards and publicity materials may be obtained by writing: Presidential Sports Awards, P.O. Box 129, Radio City Station, New York, N. Y. 10019 or President's Council on Physical Fitness & Sports, Washington, D.C. 20202. What is the Environmental Quality Corps? A bill was introduced in the House last year to establish an Environmental Quality Corps as an independent agency within the executive branch. Under the proposal, Corps volunteers (consisting of 18 to 26-year-olds) would "provide manpower for projects designed to better the environmental quality for all Americans." The bill, H.R. 11537, is currently pending before the Education & Labor Committee. Last August my doctor said I could not work anymore and would have to sell my business. I applied for disability benefits but was turned down. Can you help? Upon receipt of your letter my office contacted the Bureau of Disability Insurance. As you are now aware, based on additional evidence, your claim for social security disability benefits has been approved. Citizens experiencing similar difficulty in receiving government benefits justly due them may feel free to contact my office for assistance.

Seton Center Seeks More Volunteers

Sister Grace, Program Director at Seton Center in Emmitsburg, was asked what she looks forward to in 1974. "It's what we are looking for that is uppermost in my mind, right now," Sister replied. "We are looking for more volunteers from the community." Volunteers to do what? To work and play with individual pre-school children or with small groups of children. To assist the staff with learning projects and during mealtimes. To make simple educational toys and games. To substitute for teachers during staff meetings. To sing songs, tell stories, admire art work and find lost mittens. At present the Seton Center staff is augmented by several volunteers from the Group Action Program at Mount Saint Mary's College and by six seminarians from the Field Education Program at the Mount Seminary. These young men and women contribute time and enthusiasm to the Seton Center operation and are sorely missed during their long vacation periods. Many of these students have said they feel they get more than they give when they work with the Seton Center children.

The Thrift Shop also benefits from hours of contributed services. Several area residents unpack, sort, price and will even drive out and pick up donated clothing and other items. Sister Esther, in charge of the shop, says their services are invaluable. Sister Grace seeks additional volunteers from all brackets. She points out that by adopting a grandparent role in the lives of young children, senior citizens can provide a special kind of love and attention. Young people from the community, acting as individuals or through a club, are also encouraged to reach out a friendly hand to the youngsters at the Center. Seton Center was opened "for the people of Emmitsburg" — pre-schoolers, school children, adult students, families, those employed there. A large and lively corps of volunteer workers would enable the Center to serve more people and serve them better. Sister Grace hopes that 1974 will be the Year of the Volunteers. For further information, stop in at Seton Center or call 447-6102.

Byron Announces Re-election Plans

Rep. Goodloe E. Byron (D-Md.) issued the following statement Monday: "Today, I want to formally announce my intention to seek re-election to the United States House of Representatives from Maryland's Sixth Congressional District. "During my three years in Congress I have tried to provide responsive and vigorous representation to the people of Central and West Maryland and I have been proud to achieve an active role in facing the problems which confront our nation. "I have always felt that responsive representation could best be achieved by involving the citizen at the local level; listening to his or her views, by weighing his or her opinions and then applying his or her thoughts to legislative matters before Committee and Congress. "Thomas Jefferson once said, 'That government is the strongest of which every man feels himself apart'. I strongly believe this and if re-elected I will continue to operate my office in this spirit. "I am grateful to the citizens of the Sixth District for giving me the opportunity to serve in the 92nd and 93rd Congress, and I look forward to a hard-working and fruitful legislative session in 1974."

WOMEN on Wheels HELPFUL SAFETY HINTS By Elizabeth Stimley Plymouth Safety Writer BRAKE SAFETY CARE Give your brakes a break—by constantly being aware of their condition. Be sure you can stop before you drive the car out of the driveway. Test your brakes. Think of your driveway as a personal miniature test-track. Before you enter traffic, let the car roll a few feet and test the brakes for stopping power. This is one of the smartest driving habits you can develop and it may warn you of trouble before it becomes dangerous. Danger Signals Here are some ways to check your brakes for safety. Pedal goes down further than normal. Even when the pedal is depressed completely it should still be at least one inch from the floor. The brakes hydraulic fluid may be low. Take the car in immediately for service. When brake pedal is applied the car pulls to one side. Either a leaking wheel cylinder, or anything from grease on a lining to a damaged drum could cause this. Get it serviced. Brake pedal feels spongy when depressed. Usually a very serious condition, requiring immediate attention. It could mean leaking fluid or air in the hydraulic system. See a qualified serviceman.

The Boston Tea Party

The Bicentennial has started! Many activities leading up to July 4, 1776 have already seen their 200th anniversaries come and go. One of the most famous events prior to the drafting of the Declaration of Independence, the Boston Tea Party, occurred in December of 1773, and Boston 200, the city's Bicentennial organization, is conducting a series of Tea Party related activities throughout this Fall, which will culminate during Tea Party Weekend, December 14-16. This will be the first major event of America's Bicentennial celebration, and a full schedule of commemorative festivities and activities is planned. Speaking of the Tea Party and its relevance in this modern era, Boston Mayor Kevin H. White said, "A prime purpose in commemorating the event is to remind people of the significance of government. It is important to Bostonians of the 18th century. Although times have changed, these same issues of the role of government and the rights of man still continue on to today." Boston 200, the Office of the Boston Bicentennial, has sought to stimulate an active reconsideration of these issues through a series of forums, lectures and literary and artistic competitions — just as meetings and forums in 1773 kindled the spirit for the original Tea Party. In mid-Fall, the Brig Beaver II, a 73' x 22', two-masted wooden brig, will sail into Boston Harbor from England and be located close to the original mooring area of the Tea Party ships. The Brig is a replica of the smallest of the three ships involved in the original Tea Party. Privately developed and financed as an educational and historical exhibit, Beaver II is the first Bicentennial exhibit to be recognized by Boston 200. The total exhibit will include a museum (privately sponsored) and a gift shop, which will be located in a former bridgekeeper's house adjacent to the mooring site. Tea Party Weekend in mid-December will be filled with celebrations and activities which will bring together the functions which took place throughout the preceding months. The Tea Party posters, prize-winners from two contests, one citywide and one nation-

Wild White Rhinos Will Roam Ranch

"Somebody's been eating my hay" — It sure wasn't Goldilocks and these hungry-looking beasts aren't bears — they're white rhinos. The imposing trio is among 20 of the rare African species flown directly from South Africa to take up residence in Kings Dominion's Lion Country Safari north of Richmond, Va. After spending several weeks under close observation by staff zoologists, the rhinos will be released to roam freely in the 120-acre wildlife preserve. Lion Country Safari will open in April as the first stage of the Kings Dominion theme park and family entertainment center.

School Hours Will Remain Unchanged

School opening and closing times and bus pick up times for children will remain the same with the advent of daylight saving time on January 6, according to Alfred Thackston, Jr., Acting Superintendent of Frederick County schools. The decision to make no change in the time schedules was reached after considerable consultation and deliberation, the local school official said.

It is true that some school children will be meeting their bus before daylight, at least through the month of January, but they will be mostly high school students as elementary children are bussed on later runs, according to Thackston. Among the many disadvantages involved in a shift of starting times would be the major disruption this would cause in many households where parents work or children are on a work-study program.

Some of the other factors considered included the fact that many bus drivers hold other jobs and would have severe conflicts in meeting normal bus runs and that any schedule change involves considerable expense to the school system. Further, most school systems in the state are not making schedule changes. "It also defeats the general purpose of going on daylight saving time if we alter our schedules", Thackston concluded.

As one parent wrote who opposes the idea of a schedule change, "I, like other parents, want what is best for our children. We have had to make many adjustments during this time of energy crisis, and I feel we can adjust to the changing of Daylight Saving Time."

This policy may work a temporary hardship in some cases, Thackston said, but an effort will be made to work these difficulties out individually. Parents who have major problems should first contact the principal of the school.

Mathias Lists 1974 Senate Priorities

Maryland Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., has spelled out a five-point legislative program that he will pursue in 1974 "to restore the confidence of the people in the constitution processes of our government."

In a statement issued as the Senate ended its 1973 session, Mathias listed these 1974 priorities:

- * Legislation to give statutory character to the Federal of Investigation "so that it is more insulated from political pressure from whatever source, but responsive to over-arching and direction from both the Executive Branch and the Congress."
- * Legislation to insure that federal agencies make information that they gather "available to the Congress as a matter of legal right so that the Congress can better carry out its responsibilities of making the law and sharing in the setting of national goals."

- * Legislation to reform electoral and campaign procedures. "At a minimum," Mathias said, "laws must be enacted which will assure full disclosure of the source of all contributions; there must be a limitation on the amount that can be received from any person or organization; and we must have an equitable system of public financing of all elections."

- * A 'Bill of Rights Procedures Act' that Mathias said he will introduce early in the 1974 session of Congress. "This act would strengthen the guarantees of the First, Fourth, Fifth and Ninth Amendments and limit exceptions to Court orders issued upon probable cause of crime in accordance with strict procedures and reporting requirements," Mathias said.

* A plan that Mathias also will introduce early in 1974 for a pilot program to create "a new basic unit of government" that Thomas Jefferson once proposed and called "Little Republics."

"There is a growing desire throughout the country among the people to be involved in government," Mathias said. "And yet it is distressingly true that the ability of the people to participate in their own government has lessened."

"Correspondingly, the ability of those elected to office, to respond to local desires and needs, has lessened, too."

"What is at issue here," Mathias said, "is how to give citizens in local constituencies the ability to involve themselves directly in and have a meaningful voice in the matters that most affect their everyday lives."

It is clear that the outcome of the coming year will depend, to a good extent, upon the confidence, the sense of pride, the hard work, and above all the common sense of the American people. Let us all hope and pray that 1974 will be a peaceful and prosperous new year for our country and for the world.

The Now Washbasket By Bobbie Hill

The necessity of a perfect diaper wash for baby's health and comfort prompts many queries from conscientious mothers. Here are some of them:

What causes the tiny greaseballs that I sometimes find in pre-folded diapers after I've washed them a number of times?

They are the result of oil rubbed on your baby. Their presence means you are not washing the diapers in hot enough water. Possibly, too, you are not using enough soap or detergent.

What causes diaper pail odor? Ammonia is the major cause. It is created when the baby's urine comes in contact with certain types of bacteria which can exist in diapers.

How can I combat this odor? One of your best weapons is Borateem Plus, a borax-based product that sweetens and conditions.

What pre-wash steps should I take before washing diapers?

Rinse off soiled diapers with cool water. Soak them in a diaper pail using one-half cup of the borax product per gallon of warm water. Before starting the wash cycle, spin dry the diapers. Always wash diapers separately in the hottest water available.

Richie Williams

The second half saw the Mighty Mites battling back, closing the gap to 38 to 34. But here disaster struck. Richie Williams, with 23 points fell heavily to the floor with a muscle pull, and had to be assisted from the floor. Richie had scored 68 points for the day, but his day was over with nine minutes left to play in the game. But the Mighty Mites did not quit. With three minutes left in the game, they trailed by only five. Here a tired Joel Neighbours was lifted with Friends freezing the ball. Successful foul shots provided the final margin of victory. St. Joe's ended their most glorious athletic day ever in a almost doing the impossible of winning three games in less than seven hours.

Trophies were presented and All-State Richie Williams was voted the tournament's Outstanding player to the surprise of no one. A tired bunch of Emmitsburg heroes left Baltimore a unified, tough ball club.

Home Safety Program

NEW YORK (ED)—Each year nearly 16,000 boys and girls under 15 die as a result of accidents. About 16 million—nearly one out of every three children—are injured. In light of these alarming statistics, each parent should follow a rigid home safety program—a room by room check-out approach. Our children's safety may not be always in our hands, but removing dangerous conditions in the home is always our responsibility.

picks and other sharp or pointed utensils in their places, out of children's reach. 3) Turn pot handles away from the front of the stove, so that your child can't pull them over. These check points are

In the bathroom—1) Always place a fire-screen in front of a fireplace when it's in use. 2) If you have venetian blinds, cut open the loop at the end of the cords with which you raise and lower the blinds. That will eliminate any chance of a child getting his head caught by the cord. 3) Keep sewing baskets, scissors, and other constantly used but hazardous articles on a shelf or in a drawer that can't be reached by children.

In the kitchen—1) Keep bleaches, detergents, cleansers and polishes away from youngsters. Use a locked cabinet for 'lyes, sanitizing agents and other household cleansers. 2) Keep knives, ice

Protecting Our Wild Animals

NEW YORK (ED)—There are many citizens today who oppose hunting on the grounds that killing fish and game of any kind is inhumane. Unfortunately, the anti-hunter who takes this absolute protectionist stand does not realize the necessary function the hunter does perform in the wildlife kingdom... a function vital to the perpetuity of many of our bird and animal species.

What determines the life span of most wildlife is the carrying capacity of the land. How many animals a specific area can support is influenced by the kind of natural cover and food available. When the number of animals goes beyond the supportability of the land, harsh natural controls—disease, starvation and predation—work to reduce the population. According to Remington Arms the hunter's role is to harvest surplus animals that would otherwise die by these cruel means. It seems by far a more humane method of control.

The hunter can be called a wildlife conservationist. For generations he has devoted time, effort and money to fighting pollution, preventing or slowing down the destruction of open spaces and developing programs for sound wildlife management. He is directly responsible for the great populations of deer, antelope, turkey, elk and other birds and animals we have today. And it is through his financial support (The Pittman-Roberston Act of 1937—a sportsmen-supported excise tax on the sale of sporting firearms and ammunition—has contributed nearly $400,000,000 for the preservation and protection of hunted and non-hunted species) that wildlife conservation projects have continued. The wildlife kingdom needs the hunter. Anti-hunters are you listening?
