- By Abigail -

April promises to be a busy month for a lot of folks around here. In addition to the observance of Easter, there are many other events planned for this month. Unless we are chilled by an April snow, it is now that everyone really gets that Spring feeling.

Whatever other plans you may make for this month, make sure you circle April 30 on your calendars. The election for the offices of Burgess and Commissioners will be held on that day from noon until 7 p.m. The election of town officials is an important responsibility for every voting member of our community. If you don't vote, you don't count.

Those wishing to file for office in this election must do so before 3 p.m. on Friday, April 19, and I think it would be nice to see some women's names listed on the ballot this year. In fact, I would run myself if I did not have so many candles on my birthday cake. I believe a woman's point of view on the town council would be welcomed by the citizens.

I see that the traffic lights at the square have finally been put into operation. It now remains to be seen how much safer and more effective they will be. I imagine they will take some getting used to for those drivers who are accustomed to looking for the single, readily-seen light in the center.

I wonder how many people will stand obediently at the curb while the "Don't Walk" light flashes its warning, particularly if there are no cars in sight. It would seem like we taxpayers might be given a break, if the state would only make certain that such projects clearly fit the needs of an area before they spend the money.

In their infinite wisdom some legislators, both state and federal, apparently find it necessary to turn a deaf ear toward those they represent as they busily decide how they can spend our money doing "what is best for us."

A knowledgeable observer of national trends notes that: "1973 was the year of Water-gate, multiple disclosures of government corruption, inflation, shortages, controls that didn't work, mass invasion of privacy, high costs and still-deteriorating service of the post office, bungling of the power problem. As a result, the American people may now be the least receptive since 1929 to the idea of turning to government for the solution to problems or getting things done."

With so many people neglecting to vote in recent state and national elections, it may be seen why there is mistrust of big government officials. Bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote.

Locally, we are fortunate enough to have elected officials whom we can turn to for the solution of our problems, and who do get things done. In order to continue to have the best possible town council, however, we must vote like our future depends on it... because it does!

CANDIDATE AT MALL

Robert Gary, candidate for Frederick County Commissioner, will be at the Frederick Towne Mall Saturday, April 6, at the information booth.

NOTICE!

The Town Office will be open Friday, April 5, from 5:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., for those wishing to file for office or register to vote. The office will not be open Friday, April 12, in the evening.

Letter To The Editor

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

I recently attended a meeting in Thurmont called by the Save the Monocacy Association and was enlightened on several points. One was the importance of the fight by this organization against the Army Corp of Engineers' proposal to construct the Sixes Bridge Dam on the Monocacy to insure a water supply for Washington, D. C. I say 'important' because with the unnecessary construction of this dam, a beautiful vast farming valley would be forever destroyed, not only farm land, but historical sights as well. Because of the flooding of the area involved, Carroll and Frederick Counties combined loss in property tax base would be $1,925,000 annually and an additional $840,000 annual loss in agricultural income. May I suggest that you get a copy of "A Summary Analysis of Washington's Supplemental Water Supply: Dams vs. Estuary Pumping," published by The National Parks and Conservation Assoc., October, 1973. This report goes into much detail as to why the Sixes Bridge Dam project is not necessary.

Another point that I was enlightened on was the ability of a small group of concerned citizens in Frederick County who were able to make the Federal Bureau stop, listen, and do an about-face, at least for the time being. The fight is not completely over, which brings me to the reason for writing this letter. I feel that it is extremely important for many more Carroll and Frederick County citizens to become knowledgeable regarding the impact and indeed consequences if this project is eventually carried out.

I take the liberty of suggesting that if your readers want any further information on this subject, you may contact me at 848-4893 or Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Fisher, 756-6825. I feel very strongly that there has not been enough discussion or dissemination of information on this subject.

Sincerely yours,
Louis B. Scharon

Chorus To Present 'The Crucifixion'

The Emmitsburg Community Chorus will present John Stainer's Easter Cantata, "The Crucifixion", this Sunday night, April 7, at 8 o'clock in Elias Lutheran Church. The music of this cantata, including the beautiful "God So Loved the World," is based on the events of Good Friday. The congregation will also be asked to participate in the program. The public is invited.

Sister Jane Marie Perrot, D.C., is the director, and Mr. Alfred Gilbert, organist.

Almost anyone can plan but it takes work and intelligence to execute a program.

PTA Successful In Fund-Raising

"What playground equipment shall we buy?" is now the happy problem for chairman Sandra Shriver and her Emmitsburg School PTA committee members.

The Community Birthday Calendar fund raising project was concluded March 1 and although all expenses are not yet recorded, it appears the playground equipment committee will have the profit of over one thousand dollars to spend on our children's playground.

Co-chairman of the project, Eric Glass, reporting on the results at the March 26 PTA meeting, congratulated the entire PTA on their efforts and recognized the high salesmen and the team totals. The team headed by John Watkins, covered the Southwest rural community and sold a total of $223 worth of listings. The town area team, led by Rosie Bollinger, was second high team, selling $193 in listings.

High individual salesmen recognized were John Watkins, Jay Heisch, Sandra Shriver, Marie Champlain, Walter Bowers, and Marlene Springer. Income from ads featured on the calendar totaled $835. These ads were sold to area businessmen by Charlie Champlain, John Watkins and Eric Glass.

The PTA credits the whole community with recognizing a worthy cause and backing it to a successful conclusion that will benefit the local children. A special thanks is extended to the Emmitsburg Chronicle and WTHU Radio Station for their help.

Couple Honored

A "first" was marked last Sunday in Elias Lutheran Church when a couple from the local congregation observed their 60th wedding anniversary. Honored were Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Francis Fenner, both active members of the local congregation. Never before in the memory of members of the congregation had any couple reached this milestone in their marriage. Mrs. Fenner, the former Nellie Bruce Wantz, and Mr. Fenner were united in marriage March 21, 1914 by the late Pastor Charles Reinewald, who served the local Lutheran congregation from 1894 until his death here in 1920. Present to help the Fenners mark their 60th anniversary were members of their family who attended the Worship Service.

Also recognized at the same time by members of Elias Church were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stambaugh who will mark their 50th wedding anniversary Friday, April 5. Mrs. Stambaugh is the former Opal Leng. The Stambaughs are Thurmont residents. Both couples were recipients of a letter of congratulations from their minister, Pastor Ronald Fearer, and members of the congregation during the Worship Service.

Most anyone can plan but it takes work and intelligence to execute a program.

Prayer Vigil Set

The annual Good Friday Prayer Vigil, sponsored by the Emmitsburg Council of Churches, will be in St. Joseph's Catholic Church on April 12. Beginning at 9 a.m., the Vigil will last the six hours that Christ was on the Cross.

Begun in 1967, this manner of marking the Crucifixion has been hosted by every Church in the community. Everyone is invited to participate. You may come at any time during the six hours and leave at any time. There is no music or speaking — just your own prayers and thoughts on this great mystery of the Church.

To assure that there will be at least one person in the Sanctuary at all times, each of the five local congregations has responsibility for a portion of the six hours. Each congregation then divides its portion of the Vigil into 15 minute segments and asks its members to sign up for a specific time. The community, however, is invited to participate in the Vigil at any time between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Sr. Citizens List Week's Activities

The Senior Citizens Center will be closed all day Friday, April 12.

On Tuesday, April 16, the regular monthly meeting of the Club will be held in the Center at 7:30 p.m. Entertainment will be by the Mother Seton Glee Club under the direction of Sister Paula.

The Wednesday morning workshop has about ten ladies present to tie quilts made by the Club for the coming Bazaar which will be held Saturday, April 27.

A beautiful ceramic lamp, donated by Pauline Michaels, will be raffled for the bazaar. Hurry to purchase your chances!

Free Soup Offered

Calvin S. Burrier, Thurmont, has announced that free bean soup and refreshments will be available to the public this weekend in the Thurmont Shopping Plaza parking lot.

Burrier said that he and Joe Geesaman, of Outdoor Outfitters, are providing the soup and refreshments as part of the first anniversary celebration for Plaza Home and Garden Center, which Burrier owns. The store was first opened in the shopping plaza on March 15, 1973.

The free soup idea was appreciated by so many people during the sled dog races, according to Geesaman, that they decided to offer it again. Burrier worked for 17 years in the service and parts departments of the Sears in Frederick prior to last year.

We know a man who believes in the complete economic emancipation of women; he thinks that his wife has as much right to support the family as he has.

St. Joe's Alumnae Plan Reunion

The 7th annual reunion of the alumnae of St. Joseph College will be held April 19-21 at the Sheraton Inn, Gettysburg.

The occasion marks the first formal reunion of the National Alumnae Association since the college closed last year. The number of alumnae who have pre-registered compares to an average year when the college was open, according to Sister Mary Bernard McEntee, head of the Alumnae Office.

Friday's program calls for registration starting at noon in the Sheraton lobby. A social is scheduled at 6 p.m. with Mass at 7:30 p.m. celebrated by the Rt. Rev. Robert R. Kline, Ph.D., in the Fox and Hounds Room. Installation of officers and a board meeting follow Mass.

A combined breakfast and Council meeting is slated for 11 a.m. Saturday in the Carriage Room. Returning to campus at 4 p.m., a Jubilee Mass will be offered by Monsignor Kline at St. Joseph's College Chapel. The evening's program continues at the Sheraton with a cocktail party and Gold & Silver dinner followed by class parties.

Sister Margaret Dougherty, president of the college at the time of its closing, will give the welcome address at the dinner. During the weekend's activities, 15 golden jubiliarians and 39 silver jubiliarians will be honored. The Hassell Cup will be presented to the fifth-year reuniting classes registering the largest percentage of alumnae in attendance.

A Holy Year Mass of Renewal will be offered in the college chapel Sunday morning at 10 a.m.

Barbara A. Duffy '49, Philadelphia, outgoing president, will install the newly elected officers of the college's National Alumnae Association. They are: president, Eileen Rodgers Seaker '45, Harrisburg, Pa.; 2nd vice president, Regina Bienlein Stein '49, of Baltimore; secretary, Elizabeth Fitzgerald Garner '47, Kensington; treasurer, Lotretta Tontz Walker '71, Shiremanstown, Pa.; and 3 directors, Mary Kat Scully LeMense '55, Washington; Honor Mary Keane '29, Avondale, Md., and Dorothy Carew '38, Baltimore.

Co-chairmen of the reunion are Mary Frances Smith '63, McSherrystown, Pa., and Frances Hewes Sedney '48, Belair. Committee chairmen include Catherine Poffel Hammel '39, Baltimore, room reservations; Mary Anne Farmer Shackelford '45, Timonium, dining arrangements; Margaret Troxell '31, Arlington, Va., hostess; Anne Marie Reed '71, Hanover, flowers; and the Alumnae Office Staff, reservations and registration.

Council Discusses Analysis Steps

Questions concerning the requirements needed to obtain federal funding for the town's wild water infiltration and inflow analysis were raised at the town council meeting Monday night.

According to Thomas Wallace, consulting engineer for the study, approval of Phase One has been delayed by Ray Anderson, Jr., state health department engineer, on grounds that the required testing was not completed.

Wallace said that his firm, Buchart and Horn Engineering, is attempting to straighten the problem, which may be Anderson's failure to differentiate between the requirements needed to fulfill Phase One and those needed to fulfill Phase Two of the analysis.

Phase Two cannot be started until state approval of Phase One is received, Wallace said.

Council members also: —Made arrangements to meet with an engineer to discuss the design and specifications for the proposed swimming pool.

—Heard from Dennis Drum, dispatcher for the Maryland State Police, and Mary Diehl, town parking meter officer, information concerning an incident involving the issuance of a parking ticket; and discussed the ticketing of state police vehicles.

—Discussed the needs of area young people with Chris Thompson, a VISTA recruit who will be working with Emmitsburg teenagers through the county community services agency.

—Heard an appeal to rescind an earlier ruling against subdivision of property owned by Earl Click, who claimed the decision will cause him a financial loss; and refused his request on grounds that the sub-division would be in violation of Ordinance 22-10, which does not permit sub-division of property accessible only from an alley.

—Approved placement of 30-minute parking limit signs on the west side of South Seton Avenue.

—Learned that repair and subsequent replacement of the "Spirit of the American Doughboy" statue should be completed in 10-15 days.

—Agreed to contribute $50 to the Dynamics Majorette and Drum Corps.

—Acknowledged receipt of an invitation to send a town representative to an OSHA orientation meeting.

—Adopted a resolution which calls on the State Highway Administration to complete the dualization of U. S. 15 as soon as possible in the most economical and feasible way.

—Agreed to hire park maintenance personnel for the summer; and established an acceptable pay scale.

Town council also approved the following: (1) a bid of $1,150 from Ralph McDonnell, electrical contractor, for work on the house located adjacent to the town office and owned by the town; (2) the appointment of Philip Topper to the parks board; (3) construction of a new softball field; (4) rental of outdoor toilet facilities for the Little League field; (5) replacement of the voting booth curtains; (6) appointment of Miss Josephine Steinberger, Mrs. Betty Goulden and John White as election judges.

Mrs. Regina Rybikowsky, town clerk, announced that the following have filed for town offices: Richard Sprankle for Burgess, and George Danner and Ernest Rosensteel for commissioner.

It was also announced that the town office will be closed on the evening of Friday, April 12. The office will be open, however, from 5:30-8 p.m. on Friday, April 5, it was announced.

Keller Announces His Candidacy

Deputy Clerk of Circuit Court Charles C. Keller, 37, has announced his candidacy for Clerk of the Circuit Court, a post now held by Ellis C. Wachter, who has announced his retirement after 38 years.

"I feel that with my experience and know-how I am qualified to do the job. But with the complexities of the office, particularly when you consider the growth of the county, following in Mr. Wachter's footsteps won't be easy," said Keller.

Keller, who has served under Wachter for 16 years, says he is seeking election to the post that will be left vacant by Wachter's retirement December 1.

The Braddock Heights resident said that he foresees considerable technological changes forthcoming in the manner in which records of court are kept. He said that many clerks, because of increasing volumes of records and dwindling space available, have resorted to the use of microfilms, new photocopying machines, validating machines, and other technological innovations.

Keller, who first became a deputy clerk on Feb. 1, 1956, said that the pending technological changes will likely find the court house offices ill-suited to accommodate the electronic machines because the circuitry of the century-old court house was not designed for modern current loads.

He said that the changes that are likely to come will require experience, know-how, and dedication of the person who will serve as Clerk of the Circuit Court in the 1970's and suggested that his 16 years as deputy clerk will serve him well in this regard.

Keller is a 1954 graduate of Frederick High School. He served two years in the Army as an administrative assistant to the Provost Marshal at the U. S. Army Chemical Center at Edgewood, and with the exception of his military service, he has been employed as a deputy clerk since.

The candidate for the post Wachter has held for 38 years is an active member of the Buckeystown Methodist Church where he is currently treasurer and has served as a trustee and as superintendent of the church school.

He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Braddock Heights swimming pool, has been a member of the Braddock Heights Fire Company for 12 years, is a member of the Braddock Heights Community Association, past president and active member of the Frederick Breakfast Optimist Club, and is treasurer of the Frederick High School Alumni Association.

Keller and his wife, the former Jane Derry of Buckeystown, have a 10-year-old son, Neil. He is the son of Halga M. Keller of Buckeystown and the late Havery N. Keller.

Forgotten Martyr Or Man Of Destiny

Alexander Solzhenitsyn's monumental book exposing the continuing inhuman nature and constantly advancing actions of Communism to take over the world could be: (1) the beginning of the downfall of history's cruelist tyranny; or (2) a flash-in-the-pan sensation short-lived and soon to be forgotten. The 260,000-word book, "Gulag Archipelago" (to be published in American in April), is expected by the author to serve as his death warrant. He thus could become a martyr recognized only by those people who understand, fead and abhor Communism, or a man of destiny whose initial efforts changed the world. Karl Marx changed the world by seducing millions into evil and untold millions into miserable slavery. Alexander Solzhenitsyn could change the world with his "Gulag Archipelago" by shocking millions, as they have never been shocked before, with the truth about Communism. Communications Can Make Or Break The die well may be cast in the manner in which the communications facilities of the world, and particularly those of the United States, handle the Solzhenitsyn expose. In a documentary "News Special" or Sunday night, Jan. 27, the National Broadcasting Company presented a shattering indictment of Communism based on Solzhenitsyn's massive accumulation of documented facts. The indictment carried the charge that Communism is evil, that its goal of world control has not changed, that its horrible atrocities against humanity have not diminished, but enlarged, since the death of Stalin. It was a broadcast and a development in journalism to bring momentary joy to all those in America who have been warning the nation for years of the facts published by Solzhenitsyn — while constantly facing a barrage of smothering criticism and ridicule at the hands of major media, the university-based intelligencia, and much of the so-called leadership in Washington during the last 30 years. In the NBC Special, Professor Peter Redaway, visiting professor at Columbia University (from London), was presented by NBC as an internationally recognized expert on Soviet affairs. He said there is a very strong tendency in the Western world, especially in the U. S., to admit that awful things have been happening in Communist Russia; and that the prevalent Western opinion, especially in the U.S., is that they can do business with Soviet Communism. When one looks closely at the people who run the Communist system and at the true nature of the system itself, the Soviets do not show any evidence of changing, Professor Redaway said. Biased Reportage But the joy was short lived. In a comprehensive news report from Saigon, South Vietnam, immediately following the Solzhenitsyn telecast NBC carried on its habit of many years — of serving the Communist cause. Its Saigon reporter spent 5 minutes castigating President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam. He condemned the anti-Communist South Vietnam leader (as the networks have done regularly for years) for various alleged shortcomings, "militarism," failure to permit a free election, and refusal to really settle with the North Vietnam Communists (he called them the "Viet Cong") and end the war. (These were opinions, not facts.) He said Thieu had not been elected legally. The whole presentation gave aid and comfort to the Communists. One program a week (or every six months) telling a part of the truth about Communism while saturating the public mind day after day with half-truths favorable to Communism and biased news reports that aid the Communist hierarchy in Moscow serves not the best interests of the United States but of the Soviet Union and Red China, and their various satellites. In an article in the February Readers Digest, Professor Edward Jay Epstein, a journalist who had taught at Harvard and M.I.T., has written, "The Strange Tilted World of TV

Network News." In it he says: "... Loaded With Bias" "Early every weekday evening, 50 million Americans settle down before a television screen to get their main dose of events of the day. It's network news time, time for Walter Cronkite, John Chancellor or Howard K. Smith and Harry Reasoner to tell us what's going on in the world. But is it the straight word we get? Unfortunately, no. The report is loaded with bias." The bias Epstein says, "is not a product of the newsmen's personal dishonesty or connivance. Rather it is the product of a reporting system..." Many prominent newsmen in and outside TV "journalism" have made statements not entirely in agreement with Dr. Epstein on this latter judgement. Personal prejudices are involved, they say. Howard K. Smith, of ABC, for instance says that TV

PERSPECTIVES IN LEARNING

By Hazel Brown, President Harry Lundeberg School The Key To Learning Books, teachers, and lovely school buildings have very little effect upon the learner who is discouraged or disinterested in meeting educational success. Something must be present within each learner to make him want to achieve this key to learning motivation. A student must be physically and emotionally ready to learn. He must be healthy, relaxed, well-rested and free from excessive worry and concern. The existence of health both physically and emotionally makes being able to learn easier. If any of these elements are absent the student will suffer hardships and additional difficulties with the learning process. Successful experiences are great motivational encouragements. A student who achieves success is more willing to meet challenges because he has a positive attitude about himself and his abilities. Motivation is built through a series of successes. In other words, success breeds success! Individuals who feel self-satisfaction and worthwhile-ness are usually eager learners. They recognize their abilities and strive to achieve more. The students who understand themselves can more readily accept challenges and are eager to look forward. They want to improve themselves and are not willing to accept the present as the ultimate of achievement. Motivation within the individual stimulates action. What causes some students to be motivated while others are not? There are many factors which can encourage motivation. The enthusiastic teaching, accepting and loving parents, interesting books and stimulating learning experiences are just a few of the ingredients which promote motivation. Each student is motivated by his own combination of factors. It is this combination which educators must discover if the maximum learning experiences are to be achieved. The key to any learning situation is the discovery of the motivational forces which are appropriate for the experience. If the proper degree of motivation is achieved, learning will take place.

Minimum Wage
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., March 28, 1974—Congress is presenting President Nixon with a minimum wage bill not too different from the one he vetoed last year. The new version calls for a two-step increase in the $1.60-an-hour pay floor to $2.20 (by next year). It also extends coverage to an additional 7 million workers.

However, the bill makes no provision for the special sub-minimum for teenagers (other than students) which the White House has espoused. Administration stalwarts argue that without such a sub-minimum young people now employed will lose their jobs and those seeking employment will find the going rough because prospective employers will refuse to pay the higher wage floors to the immature and inexperienced.

Provisions Detailed
Under the terms of this new Democratic challenge to the President, the minimum wage would rise to $2 soon after enactment, then be upped to $2.20 next year—for most of the nearly 50 million workers already covered under previous federal pay-floor legislation. Those in this group not covered until 1966 would have their wage floors increased only to $1.80 this year, $2 in 1975, and $2.20 in 1976.

Newly added to workers covered would be federal, state and local government employes as well as domestic workers in private households. This will put new upward pressure on state and local taxes and could, at least temporarily, lead to some cutback in employment for domestic help depending on work in private homes.

Inflationary Aspects
Supporters of the White House view that too fast an escalation of the minimum wage would add fuel to inflationary fires also claim that—in addition to teenagers—women, minority workers, and the elderly would lose jobs. Without doubt, increasing the minimum wage will cost employers—and consumers—far more than the added payments to the workers involved. It is bound to spark new wage demands by those whose earnings are comfortably above the minimum but who will feel threatened by any narrowing of traditional wage differentials.

But the White House seems to be losing public support on this issue. The present $1.60 minimum wage was passed in 1966, and became effective in 1968. Since then living costs have risen about 35%. So the buying power $1.60 an hour commanded in 1968 could not be fully retrieved today with anything less than a minimum of $2.16.

White House Reaction
Many in Congress feel that the President will sign the minimum wage bill this time around. They point to the inroads inflation has made since last year, victimizing especially present minimum-wage earners and those who are paid less than the current minimums. There's no real assurance, however, that the President has changed his mind.

But Nixon is master of the quick decide. If he has already decided that present minimums do not reasonably reflect changing price levels, he is not yet saying so. Indeed, if he decides not to veto this bill, the overriding reason could be his inability to kill it.

The Boost Is Coming
The Senate passed the measure by a lopsided vote that assures the overcoming of veto. Latest nose-count suggests that the division in the House is closer. If the President does prevail and the bill dies, Congress will have a new try at fashioning a substitute that will be acceptable to the White House, or at least not so objectionable that the President will feel obliged to veto it.

Our Babson's Reports forecast is that the minimum wage will be upped to $2 before the end of this year, and to $2.20 in 1975. This will have a greater inflationary impact than union leaders are ready to concede. It will make the going rougher for all business for a while, deal quite a blow to small companies, especially marginal and seasonal operations. But business will take this setback in stride.

Rocky Ridge 4-H
Holds Meeting
The monthly meeting of the Rocky Ridge Progressive 4-H Club was held recently at the Rocky Ridge Fire Hall. President Cathy Wivell called the meeting to order with 3 parents and 1 leader present. Roll call was answered by a person you admire.

Shirley Bollinger gave the American pledge and Vicki Bollinger gave the 4-H pledge. The secretary's report was read and approved. Patty Keilholt reported the club had a balance of $157.44 in the bank account.

Under old business the following reports were given: Mary Lou Little reported on the sewing meeting held recently; Jeff Wivell reported on small motors; Phil Wivell reported on the vet classes held at the 4-H office; and Vicki Bollinger reported on the county council meeting.

Under new business, Demonstration Day was discussed and the members were urged to attend.

Patty Keilholt made a motion to set up a booklet of by-laws. It was then passed. Cecilia Wivell gave a very interesting talk on how to make a "Terrarium." A period of questions were asked and the meeting was then adjourned.

Blame Pranksters For Mount Fire

No injuries were reported in a fire which resulted in several hundred dollars worth of damage to Sheridan Hall at Mt. St. Mary's College at 3:20 a.m. Tuesday morning.

Seven fire units from Emmitsburg and Thurmont arrived at the scene to find that students had extinguished the blaze. Firemen spent an hour, however, clearing smoke and conducting mop-up operations in the basement and first floor of the co-ed dormitory.

Fire Chief Eugene Myers of the Vigilant Hose Co., said that it was fortunate that none of the students suffocated from the thick smoke which filled the three-story building.

The students were evacuated from the dorm until smoke could be cleared out.

According to reports by some students, Myers said, pranksters had piled a student's room full of paper earlier. Finding his room filled with the paper, the student had dumped the paper into a dorm stairway. Later, someone set the paper on fire as a prank.

The blaze, which charred two wooden fire doors and the ceiling of the stairway, was discovered by another student who turned in the alarm.

G-Burg Choir To Present Concert

The Gettysburg College Choir under the direction of Dr. Parker B. Wagnild, will present its annual spring concert on Palm Sunday, April 7, at 8 p.m. in Christ Chapel on the college campus.

The organization, numbering 70 voices, will have returned from its 12-day southern tour where it sang in major cities as far south as Charleston, South Carolina.

Dr. Wagnild, who has been the director since the choir's inception in the fall of 1935, has made annual tours with his singers from Canada to Florida and from New York to Minneapolis.

Two European and one around-the-world tour have won the choir international acclaim from critics and from discerning listeners throughout the Orient, the Near East and Southern Europe. The last tour, taken in 1972 when five countries were visited, was highlighted by appearances on both sides of the Iron Curtain. The choir sang in West Berlin at the Kaiser Wilhelm State Church, at St. Thomas Church in Leipzig, and at St. Mark's Basilica in Venice. An invitation to sing at the Spring Arts Festival sponsored by Lebanon Valley College in Annville, Pa., this month, will conclude this year's choir performances.

The concert at Christ Chapel on Sunday evening is free and open to the public.

Notice!

The Maryland Motor Vehicle Administration remind State motorists that studded snow tires must be removed by April 30th to comply with State requirements which permit the use of such tires during winter months only.

Officers Elected At PTA Meeting

At its regular meeting on March 26, the Emmitsburg Public School PTA elected the officers they wish to serve for the next school year. They chose Eric Glass, president; John Watkins, vice president; Betty Wilhelm, secretary; Velma Stambaugh, corresponding secretary, and Rebecca Ferguson, treasurer.

The meeting included committee reports by the executive committee, and the committees for the Book Fair, Teacher Conferences, the Community Calendar, and Playground Equipment. The PTA members voted not to support a raise in National PTA dues.

The Principal, Mr. Richard Van Tries, responded to questions concerning the funding of equipment for the new schools, the progress of construction at this time, and questions concerning the lunch break and cafeteria policy.

Mr. Tom May, a new teacher, was introduced, as well as the two Mount students who
