Maryland's two U. S. Senators, Charles McC. Mathias and J. Glenn Beall, Jr., have made what I think is a nice gesture. Our two senators would like to have a special day proclaimed for Elizabeth Ann Seton. They have introduced a joint resolution to name September 14, 1975, the day of canonization ceremonies for Mother Seton in the Vatican, as "National Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton Day."

I know many people will be pleased to know that Congress, too, may add its voice in praise of "our" Mother Seton.

That sounds selfish to say "our" Mother Seton, doesn't it? (In actuality, she belongs to the entire world, and not just to Emmitsburg.) Nonetheless, I'm tickled pink to see that Emmitsburg is nationally recognized as her hometown.

If I may wax philosophic for a moment, I've noticed a slight change in perception townsfolk have about Emmitsburg. Our self-perception seems to have altered a bit. No longer are we just that "small town north of Thurmont," but the Home of Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton. Notice the change? (I think it's pride.)

Last week I asked the question, "What's holding up the new Super Thrift store?" Well, I've been informed that the contractors have submitted their bids, and in a short time, the contract will be officially awarded to one of them. So, at this point, it looks as if nothing is holding up the new store.

If you haven't taken a walk by the new pool site lately, you'll be pleasantly surprised when you see how much work has been done. The concrete pool basin has been poured (and sprayed) and tiles have been laid around the rim. Depth markers are in place along the sides and if this pace keeps up, I wouldn't be surprised to see kids splashing around in there next week!

That's overly optimistic, of course; wishful thinking, you might say.

The town proposal for collection of garbage fees has turned out to be a real "can of worms." The more one looks into the situation, the more one finds.

There are only two choices, as I understand it. We can come up with our own, town controlled garbage collection system, or we can do nothing at all. In that case, the county will step in and take over the collection.

I'm sure that the county cannot offer us a cheaper rate for trash pickup than we already have. (Although the town council is trying to do just that.) So perhaps we'd best be patient, and let the problems be ironed out, one at a time.

For those of you who took a dim view of celebrating Memorial Day on Monday, I'm sure you look forward to tomorrow, the traditional holiday.

And what's this I hear about a motorcycle "gang" riding through town Monday night? We sound sleepers are always the last to know.

Mount Receives $2,500 NSF Grant

Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr., President of Mount Saint Mary's College, has announced that the college has received a $2,500 matching grant from the National Science Foundation.

The grant is to be utilized under the direction of Dr. Pierre B. Gauthier, associate professor of biology. The monies are to be used for the improvement of instructive scientific equipment.

Dr. Gauthier is a graduate of Providence College, St. John's University and the University of Connecticut. He resides with his wife, Eileen and family in Emmitsburg.

Area Deaths

MRS. MARIE GELWICKS
Mrs. Marie Frances Gelwicks, 97, of 114 E. Main St., Emmitsburg, died Wednesday morning at the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg.

She was a native and lifelong resident of Emmitsburg. Mrs. Gelwicks was a daughter of the late John and Mary Bentz, and the wife of the late Harry R. Gelwicks.

Survivors include three daughters and one son, Mrs. Ethel G. Jones of 114 E. Main St., Emmitsburg; Mrs. Pauline L. Sites, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Earle R. Gelwicks, 111 DePaul St., Emmitsburg; and Mrs. Marie F. Hubbert, 22 Federal Ave., Emmitsburg; 19 grandchildren and 41 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Gelwicks was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, the Sodality and the Altar Guild of the church.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, meeting at the Wilson Funeral Home at 9:30 a.m. with Mass of Christian Burial at 10 a.m. from St. Joseph's College Chapel, with the Rev. Fr. Harry T. Kuhn officiating. Interment will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery. Friends may call Friday evening at the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, with Rosary at 8:15 p.m.

Zarnowski Granted Sabbatical Leave

C. Frank Zarnowski, assistant professor of economics and cross country track coach at Mount Saint Mary's College, has been granted a sabbatical leave to pursue his doctoral studies under a Carnegie Fellowship at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa.

Zarnowski, a 1965 graduate of the Mount, received his Master's degree in Business-Economics from Lehigh in 1967. He returned to his alma mater as a member of the Business Department faculty that year. He is a member of the American Economic Association of the National Association of Business Economists.

In addition to his teaching duties at the college, he also has served as coach for the varsity cross country team. He is well known in sports circles for his announcing at national decathlon events. He recently completed a history of athletics at the college and has published two books on the decathlon—"How To Organize and Run a Decathlon" and "The Decathlon Record Book."

He is director of the Blue Ridge Running Clinic to be held August 17-22 at the Mount.

Earlier this year he spent time touring in the Soviet Union and Finland. He is a native of York, Pa., where he attended York Catholic High School.

St. James - IUCC Annual Picnic Sun.

The Annual Charge Picnic of the Incarnation-St. James Charge of the United Church of Christ, will be held this coming Sunday, June 1, at the Kump's Dam Recreation Area near Emmitsburg, on the Harney Road. The picnic will begin with an informal Worship Service at 10:30 a.m., led by the pastor. The congregational singing of familiar hymns will be accompanied by an electric piano with Mrs. Anna Margaret Martin serving as the pianist.

The picnic lunch will be served cafeteria style about noon under the pavilion. Each family is requested to bring at least one covered dish of food (more if there are several in your family) and its own place-settings. Both luncheon and homemade cake for dessert will be provided by the ladies of Incarnation Church. Pickles and potato chips will be furnished by the ladies of the St. James Congregation. A hot charcoal fire will be available for anyone who cares to roast hot dogs and hamburgers or would like to heat a casserole or pot of food.

There will be games and recreation of various kinds for both children and adults to be enjoyed in the afternoon at the recreation area maintained by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Emmitsburg.

All members and friends of both congregations of the charge are cordially invited to spend a day of fun and relaxation at the picnic area just off the Harney Road at Kump's Dam. Incarnation Church is located in Emmitsburg, Md., and St. James Church is 3 1/2 miles S.W. of Littlestown, Pa., on the Harney Road. John C. Chatlos is the pastor of the charge.

Scouts Fund Drive Falls Short Of Mark

The annual Boy Scout Festival was held last Saturday at St. Joseph's Grove in Emmitsburg. The purpose again this year was to raise enough money to pay half of each Scouters' summer camping experience in 1975. Every organization of the community was invited to operate a booth of their choice, giving one-third of their profits to the Scout Troop.

Although not all of the groups have returned their earnings from the Saturday effort, it would appear that this year's Festival will only realize one-half of the receipts of last year.

Therefore, it is necessary for the Troop Committee to make one last appeal to the residents of Emmitsburg. If you did not make it to the Festival, but would like to assist an older Scout in going to Philmont, New Mexico, or a younger scout in going to Sinoquee (Ft. Littleton, Pa.), please consider an individual contribution. The Treasurer of the Troop Committee, Mr. Charles Dillon, will receive your donation.

DJ Attempts 145 Hour Marathon

There may be a new entry in the Guinness Book of World Records if WTHU disc jockey John Bertulus' efforts are successful. Bertulus is currently attempting to set a new radio marathon record at 145 hours of continuous broadcasting.

The marathon began Sunday evening at 27 1/2 minutes after 5:00 p.m. and is expected to end Saturday at 6:27 1/2 p.m. That's six days of broadcasting.

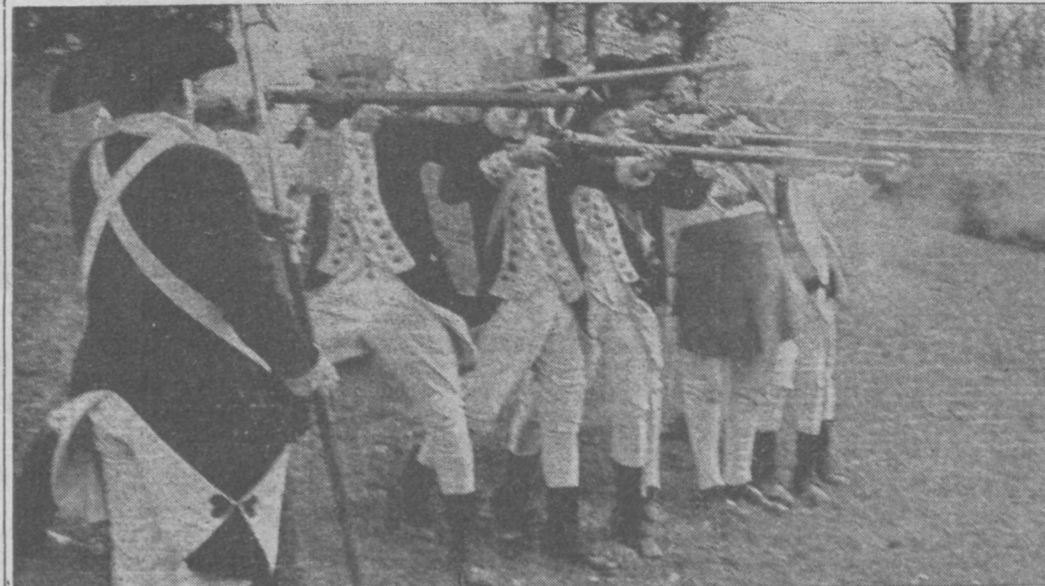

Bertulus isn't motivated by glory alone, however. He is working to raise money for the American Legion's Camp West Mar. The money raised by Bertulus will be used for materials to construct an outdoor chapel at the camp for underprivileged children.

In his 66th hour on the air, Bertulus has raised over $600 in pledges and contributions. Although he admits to feeling groggy, the disc jockey feels sure he can make it to Saturday!

LEGION MEETING

An important meeting of Francis X. Elder Post 121, American Legion, will be held Tuesday, June 3, beginning at 8 p.m. in the Post Home. All members are urged to attend.

Senior Citizens Hold May Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club was held Tuesday, May 20 in the Center, at 7:30 p.m. with 42 members present.

The meeting was called to order by President LaRue Harmon and opened with the Lord's Prayer, followed by all singing some of the old familiar tunes of yesteryear. The secretary, Edie Baker, gave a report of the annual Spring Bazaar, indicating that this, too, had been a very satisfactory enterprise.

A new member, Mrs. Mary Miller, was added to the roster. Also a reminder was given that Wednesday forenoon is still scheduled as a work time. The names of the members having May birthdays were announced and Happy Birthday sung.

Sister Paula led the 30 members of the Glee Club from Mother Seton School in a most delightful program of sacred and secular songs, which was truly enjoyed by all. The children were wonderful and showed both talent and training. Refreshments were served to the songsters and later to the club.

The Club is planning an overnight trip to Atlantic City July 22 and 23. Please sign up by June 15 if you care to go. We are allowing anyone to go—on a first come, first served basis. There will be a discount for members of the Emmitsburg Club. For more information call 447-2092.

Lung Association Honors Mark Maas

Mark D. Mass, class of '75, Saint Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, and President of the Junior Board of the Lung Association of Mid-Maryland, was honored for outstanding services to the Lung Association at the annual meeting held recently at the Holiday Inn, Chevy Chase, Md.

Mark has been president of the Junior Board for the past three years—the Junior Board is comprised of outstanding students from the high schools of Frederick County. The group holds monthly meetings at which time there are lectures by medical doctors interested in the control and prevention of respiratory diseases; films and other visual aids are used to give the members a clear understanding of the functions of the respiratory system; and an advisory committee helps prepare these young men and women to speak before the elementary school children on the "Harmful Effects of Cigarette Smoking" and on "Air Pollution."

During his three years as president of the Junior Board, Mark has not only carried on the role of his office, he has given thirty-one talks before the elementary classes and made two presentations in the middle schools. Mark was elected a member of the National Honor Society, member of the Society of Distinguished American High School Students; member of "Who's Who Among American High School Students." Mark has also been selected as an Outstanding Teen-Ager of America, and has received a Certificate of Commendation from Frederick Woman's Civic Club, Inc., for scholarship excellence.

Everett Haney, Jr., President-elect of the Lung Association of Mid-Maryland presented the plaque on behalf of the Lung Association.

La Sertoma Club Begins In Thurmont

Mrs. Faye Becard, 118 Catoctin Avenue, Thurmont, was elected president of the new Catoctin La Sertoma Club of Thurmont, at the permanent organization meeting which was held Wednesday, May 21, at the home of Mrs. Nancy Lewis.

Other officers elected at the meeting are Mrs. Tuck Willard, vice president; Mrs. Nancy Lewis, secretary; and Mrs. Debbie Bollinger, treasurer, who also will serve as the club's board of directors.

The new club also adopted its constitution and by-laws at the meeting.

Mrs. Tommy Shook was appointed sponsorship chairman of the new club. She will be responsible for developing a "Service to Mankind" program in keeping with the motto of La Sertoma International.

Other committee appointments announced by the charter president are ways and means, Mrs. Lois Spedden; social, Mrs. Maggie Doll; telephoning and membership, Mrs. Tuck Willard; program, Mrs. Joan Brantner, and publicity, Mrs. Nancy Chase.

Other members present were Mrs. Dianne Lane, Mrs. Lillian T. Martin, and Mrs. Dottie Gigeous. Two charter members unable to attend were Mrs. Alice Eyer and Mrs. Doris Lee.

Fire Co. Reports Generous Donations

Chairman Larry Little of the Vigilant Hose Company's 1975 Fund Drive, announces that donations are still being received. He wishes to thank the out-of-town people and property owners for their generous donations. In a few weeks he will publish the necessary dates on which the members will solicit the town, and also a list of members that are assigned to the country routes. If you haven't sent your donation yet, please do so in order that it will help save some time for the firemen.

Local Boy Scouts Win First Place

The Spring Camporee of the Francis Scott Key District brought 300 Boy Scouts to Johnsville, Md., for the weekend of May 16. The Emmitsburg Troop (284) was part of this gathering, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Jay Dickenson and his assistant, Robert Gauss.

The many Troops were in competition with one another for an overall camping award. The Emmitsburg boys won first place. This included camping readiness, such as equipment and how it was used, compass testing in field situations, and evidence of conservation proficiency.

200 Turn Out To Honor Rev. Bower

The Reverend Philip Bower, Pastor Emeritus of Elias Lutheran Church, was honored last Sunday on the occasion of the 50th Anniversary of his Ordination, by members and friends at Elias Church. Also present for the Trinity Sunday Service were delegations from First Lutheran Church in Chambersburg where Pastor Bower serves as Visitation Pastor, and a group from Woodbury, Pa., where he serves as a Supply Minister on Sundays.

Altar flowers for the occasion were presented by the congregation in recognition of the thirty-seven years Pastor Bower had served the local church. The LCW presented corsages to Mrs. Bower, wife of the honoree and to Mrs. W. Ronald Fearer, wife of the host pastor.

A noon luncheon attended by over 200 guests was held immediately following the service. A floral arrangement for the guest table was given by members of Incarnation United Church of Christ. Individual tables featured daisy arrangements that had been created by Mrs. Andrew Eyster and Mrs. John White.

Blind May Acquire Non-Driver I.D.

Effective July 1, 1975, the Maryland Motor Vehicle Administration will issue "non-driver" identification cards at no cost to blind and legally handicapped citizens of the State.

The 1975 General Assembly passed, and Governor Mandel signed on April 22, 1975, the legislation introduced by State Senator Lulian L. Lapidus (D) to extend the free identification to legally blind and handicapped as well as aged persons in Maryland.

The new cards are similar to the license driver permits, but are marked "non-driver." Many service and business establishments require the basic driver permit as a form of identification. Now persons who are not qualified to drive motor vehicles can apply to the Motor Vehicle Administration for the identification cards. The new law specified: "A fee is not required if the person requesting the card is legally blind or has permanently lost the use of a leg or both legs or an arm or both arms, or any combination thereof, or any person who is so severely disabled to be unable to move without the aid of crutches or a wheelchair."

Former SJHS Grad Receives Promotion

John G. Haley, son of Mrs. Joseph Paskorus, formerly of Emmitsburg, and the late Joseph (Cy) Haley, has been promoted from Production Foreman to Production Manager at Harbison-Walker Refr. Co., Baltimore.

Mr. Haley, a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, began his employment at Harbison-Walker Refr. Co. in 1956 as a Quality Control Technician. Since then, he has served as Assistant Foreman in the Maintenance and Production departments.

In 1972 he was promoted to Production Foreman. Harbison-Walker Refr. Co., a division of Dresser Ind., is the world's leading producer of refractories which supplies furnace linings for iron, steel and glass industries.

Mr. Haley, his wife, Barbara, and children, Kimberly and Julie, reside in Pasadena, Md.

In this latter category, Troop 284 undertook a road repair project without suggestion or guidance from their adult advisors. This effort earned them an additional 20 points in the judges' scoring, placing them far ahead of any other Troop.

Bathing Your Way To Beauty

The Japanese like it hot; the Greeks liked it cold. Queen Isabella did it twice in her life; a Roman senator did it several hours a day. What is it? Taking a bath! Throughout history different types of baths have been enjoyed for their relaxing, luxurious qualities. Today, in the right atmosphere, a simple bath can be a unique bathing experience:

- Your bathroom should be your very favorite secluded retreat, so make it as pleasing to the eye as possible, with a change of towels, a switch in shower curtains, or some plush carpet underfoot.
- Before or during the bath give yourself a facial, work on your cuticles, treat your hair to a good brushing.
- Instead of the normally bright bathroom lights, why not try some soft candle-light or a dimmer on your light switch.

Draw a tub-full of warm water (90-98°F.) and add bubble bath, bath oil or gelee under the tap. Clairol clouds of herbal essence bubbling body bath with moisturizers will fill the tub with loads of spring-time-fragrant foam, to keep you refreshed right up to your earlobes.

While in the water, use a loofah for scaled or dead skin. And for feet or elbows, try a pumice stone to work away callous build-up.

The bathing experience doesn't have to end the moment you emerge from the bathtub. To prolong that cool, refreshed feeling, shower your body with tingling herbal essence body splash.

Top off your bath with a dusting of delicately scented, velvety smooth powder in matching scent to your splash. By the time you're back in gear and ready to roll again, your body will still feel smooth, fragrant and refreshed. And most of all—heavenly relaxed.

Shipping Pets By Air

Plan ahead if you're shipping pets by air advises the Maryland Veterinary Medical Association. Make sure that there will be a minimum of stops and transfers en route. Each year thousands of American travelers take their pets along when they travel in the United States or overseas. And the United States welcomes visitors from abroad who arrive with their pets or ship them ahead.

The MVMA says that the pet should be shipped in a sturdy crate with a leakproof bottom. The crate should contain a comfortable pad and a few favorite toys and should be large enough for the pet to stand, lie down or turn around. The pet owner should give his animal time to become used to the crate well in advance of the trip.

The crate should have a label with the name and address of the owner clearly printed. If the animal's "call" name is included, the attendants will be able to talk to him and make him feel less lonesome. If the animal bites, that should be indicated also.

The pet, too, should be tagged with his destination and his owner's name and address. That way, if he should escape, he will be easily identifiable.

The MVMA adds some tips on preparing the pet for his travel. He should be exercised and should be fed a light meal six hours before shipment. No water should be given within two hours of shipping, except on a very hot day. A water dish should be provided, however, so that attendants can give the pet water at stopovers. The dish should be attached in such a way that the attendants can reach it without being bitten or the pet escaping. If the trip will take more than 24 hours, some food should also be provided. Dry food is best. However, if canned food is sent, a can opener and a dish should be provided also. These should be attached to the outside of the crate in a cloth or mesh bag. Feeding instructions should be attached to the top of the crate.

The pet owner is strongly advised to check the point of destination for varying regulations on pet travel. Most countries and states in the United States require a health certificate and rabies inoculation. Distemper and hepatitis inoculations are recommended. Some countries bar certain pets and others require special import permits or quarantine periods.

The MVMA recommends that travelers contact the state agriculture or health department or the country's nearest consulate or the Embassy in Washington, D.C., for detailed requirements before traveling with a pet.

At their regular meeting on May 15, the Emmitsburg Homemakers Club made plans to hold its annual picnic on June 19 at 6:30 p.m. at Kumps' Dam Park. This will be a covered dish affair and each member is asked to bring a place setting and eating utensils. Installation of officers will also take place at that time.

The following officers were elected at the meeting, to hold office for two years: President, Mrs. Jean Harris; Vice President, Mrs. Margaret Smith; Secretary, Mrs. Margaret Hahn; Press Secretary,

Interest Rates On Savings

American depositors with accounts in Mexican banks are getting from 10.19 percent to 14.10 percent interest.

Because of these rates, and in some cases for the sake of privacy, an estimated one billion dollars has been invested by Americans in savings accounts south of the border. Interest rates there vary according to the length of time the capital remains on deposit.

The dollar influx has been welcomed in Mexico where Jose Lopez Portillo, the Finance Secretary, has observed: "Our rates are attractive, and money is coming in."

Rainy Day Fish Fry—Southern Style

What do you do on a rainy day when the family's spirits match the weather, and you've already played nine games of Monopoly? Well, if you've a taste for Southern tradition, you just might have a fish fry in spite of the situation.

Almost a way of life in the South, fish fries usually mean a mess of catfish—or any finny creature fresh out of the nearest water hole—french fries, hush puppies and cole slaw.

Since visiting a local lake is out of the question on such a wet day, do your fishing in the grocery and pick up a couple dozen fat, juicy shrimp.

Cooks at the Holiday Inn in downtown Tulsa, Okla., fancy up their rainy day fish fries with a beer-batter shrimp they claim will lift the lowest spirits. Up in the Ozark town of Harrison, Ark., the Holiday Inn has a recipe for crispy homemade hush puppies that the cook says never misses. Top off the meal with some deep-fried potatoes and chilled cole slaw and you may find yourself looking forward to the next rainy day.

- Beer-Batter Shrimp
- 2 dozen extra-large or jumbo green, headless shrimp
 - 1 cup sifted flour
 - 3/4 teaspoon salt
 - 3/4 teaspoon white pepper
 - 3 eggs, beaten
 - 1 can beer
- To prepare shrimp, peel to last ring of tail. Using small paring knife, split shrimp lengthwise about halfway through. Sift salt and pepper with flour and stir into beaten eggs. Slowly add beer, stirring to prevent lumping. Batter should be consistency of thin pancake batter. If more flour is needed, add 1 tablespoon at a time.

RAINY DAY FISH FRY—Don't wait for perfect weather . . . have a fish fry right now. There's just something about a platter piled high with golden-brown shrimp and a basketful of hot hush puppies that few people are able to resist.

Holding each shrimp by tail, dip into batter and fry in deep, hot fat (365 degrees) until golden brown.

- Hush Puppies
- 2 cups white corn meal
 - 1 cup all-purpose flour
 - 1 tablespoon baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 2 teaspoons garlic salt
 - 2 eggs, beaten
 - 1 1/2 cups buttermilk
 - 3/4 cup onion, grated or finely chopped
 - 3/4 cup oil or fat, melted

Sift dry ingredients together. Combine eggs, buttermilk, onion and fat. Add to dry ingredients and stir until blended. Drop by tablespoonfuls into deep, hot fat (350 degrees) for 3 to 4 minutes or until brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Dipping the spoon into the hot fat each time will help to prevent the next hush puppy from sticking to spoon. Makes enough dough for 2 to 2 1/2 dozen, depending upon size.

Dough may also be formed into balls and frozen for future use. Before freezing, put in fat until hush puppy just begins to brown (very slightly). After freezing, thaw almost completely before dipping in fat to complete cooking and browning.

When you're turned out to pasture, will it still be green?

Maybe your life's pretty good right now. But if you want to keep it that way, you've got to plan for it. And one way you can do just that is by signing up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. An amount you specify will be set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Then, when you're ready to stop working, you'll still be able to keep on living. Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program Searcy, Arkansas

Compulsory Civil Service Unions
There are 14 1/2 million employees of government in the United States. This includes federal, state and local governments. In the almost 200 years of America's existence as a nation, it has always been recognized that government was for the purpose of maintaining order and peace, both domestic and international, so far as American citizens are concerned. Thus, the purpose of all the work done by all civil service employees at all levels is quite different from the work done in the private, profit motivated, free enterprise system.

There is now a drive in the present Congress in the form of several different bills to change all this and force all public sector employees to join a union. That union, in turn, would then assume the right to engage in compulsory arbitration and bargaining on behalf of civil service employees and have the final right to call public employees out on strike to enforce their final terms.

In essence, organized labor would become an equal sovereignty with every level of government in the United States for the simple reason that governments would have to sit down with representatives of labor and negotiate for settlement of all disputes with labor having the final right to strike. This would be a Federal law, superceding the Right to Work laws of 14 States, and the laws of 34 States which prohibit compulsory union membership as a condition of public employment.

Growth Of Civil Service
The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that public employment is growing faster than any other segment of our society. There are presently approximately three million plus employees of the Federal government and 1 million plus employees of State and Local government. Between 1951 and 1972, public employment grew by 151 per cent, payrolls by 596 per cent, union membership by 130 per cent, and strikes by public employees by 1,000 per cent.
Labor Co-Equal Sovereign
What is now proposed is a Federal law which would legalize compulsory union membership for public employees at all levels, compulsory arbitration between government and union officials, and the right to strike. These bills, if passed, would force a sovereign government to recognize the right of a labor union to call a strike against a unit of government, and to completely disable such unit of government.

This is a direct threat to the Constitutional system of government in the United States. It would form another branch of Government as powerful, if not more powerful than the Congress itself. Such unions of public employees have already openly flouted the laws against striking in numerous incidents and then negotiated "amnesty against prosecution" as part of the settlement. It has happened in New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Albuquerque, San Francisco and dozens of other cities.

The potential of political power if all public employees were forced into union membership is fearful. All government could be brought to a total standstill if union officials had the power to order the Army to strike, or to order the police force or fire department of a major city to walk off the job.

What Should Be Done?
It is unbelievable that such a law is being seriously considered in the Congress, but that is the case. It is time for all Americans to wake up and insist that Congress continue the ban on compulsory union

The Home Pro Nifty Decorating Idea - 'Marbleizing'

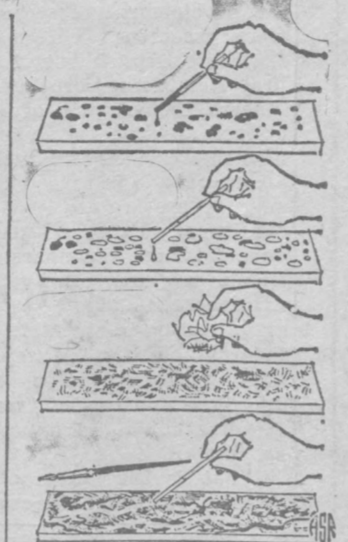

Marbleizing is the name of the method used to simulate marble on a glass or wood surface. Authentic marble is made up of many colors, with base colors such as white, cream, pink and black. They are often mixed with other colors to produce interesting shades and effects.

This project is in the 3M "Home Pro Furniture Refinishing And Antiquing Guide", one of a new series of step-by-step how-to books at hardware, department and building supply stores.

First take a color photograph of a suitable piece of marble and it as a guide when marbleizing. Usually two other colors are used with the base coat. In addition, black is often used for accenting.

Oil-based paints should be used for marbleizing as well as for the base coat. Be sure the surface is properly sanded and sealed before beginning.

- 1. Apply base coat and allow to dry until tacky.
2. Using artist's brush or small stick, apply one color in an uneven dribble pattern.
In succeeding colors, apply only about one half the amount of paint used in Step 2.
3. Repeat Step 2 with additional colors, as desired.
4. Using a crumpled paper, pat the surface lightly, following the basic pattern of the colors. (Be sure to change paper occasionally when it becomes saturated with paint.)

5. Continue patting surface and edges until desired effect is obtained.

6. Using a stick, apply small amounts of black across surface in a random pattern. Lightly pat these areas with crumpled paper.

For a more realistic effect, veins may be added in thin, uneven lines.

7. Using a stick or thin artist's brush and white paint, apply veins to surface.

8. Allow surface to dry thoroughly.

9. Apply a clear, semigloss finish.

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

WHAT ABOUT INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES TODAY?

Do you plan to look into investment opportunities with a careful eye on safety, return and potential growth? Welcome to the club! You're one of a growing group of American businessmen who are alert to today's investment opportunities but are exercising shrewd judgement and a justifiable regard for minimal risk for maximum return. Knowing the facts in advance is of utmost importance.

One area that is drawing increased attention among the American business community is Mexico, which is encouraging business investments and deposits in her financial institutions by investors from the United States.

The representative in Mexico of Manufacturers Hanover Trust, Enrique Oropeza, a prominent lawyer, recently stated that the economic and financial position of Mexico "in a world teeming with crisis, is absolutely first rate."

He suggested that Mexico is considered "a preferential risk" among international financiers, principally because she is self-sufficient in petroleum, which puts Mexico on an exclusive list of privileged countries.

He said that an analysis of the economic situation in Mexico showed rapid development, a self-sufficiency in oil, political and economic stability and a high rate of interest paid by banking institutions to investors.

In general terms, he said, Mexico continues to be fertile ground for investment, both for her political and economic stability, "one of the strongest in the consensus of the nations of the world."

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Defense Industry Outlook Brightens

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., May 29, 1975—The $30-billion defense industry is scheduled to rack up further real-dollar increases each year for the rest of the decade. Mounting export demand for military hardware is adding its pressure to the already heavy defense needs of the U. S. Improved and new weaponry now in preparation will be coming on stream over the years just ahead, as indicated by the provisions for more funds for research and development included in the last two defense budgets. Hence, most segments of the defense industry should feel considerable stimulation during the latter part of the 1970s. America's military power stands at the threshold of a fresh buildup because of the heightened military stance of the Soviet Union, the threat in the Middle East, and our diminished image in the Far East. As a result, Congress will be extremely selective in cutting military requests for several years.

Our Defense Policies Altered

Since Salt I (Strategic Arms Limitation Talks) and now in Salt II, a new U. S. strategy has been implemented called "counterforce," prompted by the tremendous advances in missile warhead technology achieved by the Russians. Under this plan, many of our land-based and sea-based Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles (ICBMs) have been reaimed at Soviet airfields, railways, production sites, and missile silos. The USSR is beginning to add its heaviest yet deployment of improved ICBMs, having larger throw-weights (lift capacity of the missile), with MIRVs (multiple independently targeted reentry vehicles) and improved accuracies. There have also been significant advances in Russian sea-based missile forces. Since the Soviets failed to show restraint in their buildup of multiple-headed missiles, the U. S. will build up to the strategic weapons levels permitted by the Salt Agreements in order to achieve nuclear parity. This will, of course, mean still greater funding in the years just ahead.

Defense Contract Safeguards

There has been a change in defense contracting of aircraft and missile called the "milestone" approach. This was designed to prevent a plane, missile, or any weapon from going into production unless all development requirements and economic feasibility were assured. The "design to cost" philosophy penalizes the defense company if it exceeds the cost goal, but does allow for the inflation factor in labor and overhead. An earlier contracting change, the "fly before buy" innovation where prototypes are developed by two finalists, has worked out remarkably well. Under this, the F-16 Lightweight Fighter and the A-10 aircraft were successfully developed.

Leaders In The Industry

At the present time, the Research Department of Babson's Reports maintains a hold position on the following major defense contractors: Beech Aircraft, Bendix, Boeing, Cessna, Curtiss-Wright, Fairchild Industries, General Dynamics, Brumman, Lockheed, Martin-Marietta, McDonnell Douglas, Northrop, Raytheon, Rohr, TRW, Thiokol, and United Technologies (formerly United Aircraft).

Currently, the Babson Staff is recommending purchase of the conservative-grade common stock of General Electric Company. This industrial giant is the fifth-largest defense contractor and is widely diversified in other lines. Its aerospace business contributes 12% to sales and 6% to profits, while it is the foremost producer of electrical equipment for industry. Other GE areas include such growth items as process computers, industrial power equipment, nuclear power, and industrial components. Once the economic revival becomes pronounced, the company's consumer and industrial segments should improve materially. Those readers who are interested in a free, more detailed report on General Electric Company may write to Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass. 02181.

Relief Act?

The legislation passed the House overwhelmingly and is currently pending in the Senate.

How do I apply for a military academy appointment?

From now until October 30 I will be accepting applications for appointments to the United States Service Academies for the class entering in July, 1976. Nominations are open to the Naval Academy, Military Academy, Air Force Academy and the Merchant Marine Academy. Interested candidates should write me, care of the U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. Applications will be sent to prospective nominees who will later be subject to written and physical examinations and an interview by my Academy Selection Board.

Plan An Insurance Checkup

Are you gambling with your family's home? Even if it was built only last year, it would cost more to replace today. Your insurance policy needs to be checked annually, to make sure there's enough coverage on your house. But first, you need to find out how much it will cost to replace your home.

Take a look at how your house is built. Private homes fall into three general categories: basic, standard or custom. The differences lie in the quality of the material, design features and workmanship. A basic dwelling for example, meets minimum housing code requirements, but has little or no decorative trim. More than 70 per cent of the nation's homes are classed as standard—the grouping above basic.

Next, what type of material was used on the exterior? A frame home is primarily wood with combustible exterior siding. A mixed dwelling combines frame and masonry construction or a masonry veneer or wood framing. To be classed as masonry, a home must have outside walls of solid masonry, not just a masonry veneer.

Units	Frame	Mixed	Masonry
9	26,400	27,500	28,600
12	35,200	36,600	38,000
15	44,000	45,800	47,600

The illustration shows a range of average home replacement costs. For example, suppose you have a 12-unit standard home with frame construction. Take the total number of units and read across the amount in the column which best describes the dwelling. The home in this example will cost about $35,200 to replace today. More details, based on locality and type of construction, may be found in an easy-to-use guide called the "Costimator." It's available free from insurance agencies representing The Hartford Insurance Group. The replacement costs it develops are a good way to help you avoid guessing about the amount of insurance needed to protect your home.

Spotlight on HEALTH

Say It With Candy, Flowers—Or Fresh Fruit?

Gifts of candy, cakes and other sugary delights may be symbols of love, affection and appreciation in our culture, but the gift-giver may be offering more than a token of sentiment—he unintentionally may be giving a toothache.

Sugary foods are more conducive than most to dental decay, and can result in cavities and accompanying pain. Another, more immediate pain may result if the recipient of the sweets is also a victim of a condition known as dental hypersensitivity.

Persons with supersensitive teeth respond with wincing pain to a variety of stimuli, such as heat and cold and, in some cases, sugar. Alleviating this condition often requires no more than substitution of a therapeutic dentifrice such as Sensodyne for the regular home toothpaste. Continued use is reported to have a cumulative effect.

Speaking about the cavity-conducive properties of sugar, a dentist writes that constant intake of sweets is almost certain to spell disaster for the teeth. Daniel A. Collins, DDS, author of Your Teeth: A Handbook of Dental Care for the Whole Family, advises that Americans need to revise their eating habits, including reducing or eliminating sweet between-meal snacks, or possibly substituting sweetless and harmless foods such as fruit, nuts or cheese.

And, in the gift-giving category, Dr. Collins writes that packages of fresh fruit are much more appropriate as tokens of gratitude.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. Please explain the Water Resources Conference you are putting together?

A Water Resources Conference is currently being arranged by my office to provide a platform for the discussion of long-term future water needs in Central and Western Maryland. Local and county officials will have the opportunity to talk directly with key state and federal representatives responsible for planning and administering the development of secondary water resources. Officials from the State Department of Natural Resources, Corps of Engineers, Department of Agriculture and the Environmental Protection Agency will be among the speakers addressing future water needs for our area. Panel discussions and informal seminars will enable mayors, county commissioners and local planning staffs to question state and federal officials on specific area problems. The exact July date and location for the conference will be announced shortly.

BANKING IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

New IRA Account—Your Own Pension Plan
By Willis W. Alexander, Executive Vice President, American Bankers Association

Some other important facts about IRAs:

- Marriage partners may each set up an IRA account if eligible. The total of their contributions would be deductible if filing a joint return for income tax purposes.
- You must begin to withdraw your IRA funds at age 70 and a half, and may not withdraw them before age 59 and a half, unless you are disabled or wish to place the funds intact into a different form of investment instrument.
- Not only is the full amount of your contribution tax deductible, the interest it will earn in your savings account or certificate of deposit is also. And, you don't have to itemize your deductions to claim it.

The American Bankers Association, incidentally, has recommended to financial institutions' regulators that a new type of deposit account be established specifically for IRA accounts. The new account would be entitled to the highest permissible rate of interest for time deposits and would be excluded from existing withdrawal penalties attached to time deposits, since the Act establishes early withdrawal penalties of its own.

In the meantime, for maximum interest earnings, consider putting your retirement funds into a certificate of deposit, and do not remove them until the certificate reaches maturity.

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

SWISS BANKERS PRAISE PRIVATE INVESTMENT

Ever wondered what those Swiss bankers do with all that money they handle? They have a well-deserved reputation for respecting the privacy of their clients, both kings and commoners alike, so it might really constitute an invasion of privacy to tell you precisely how they are investing their client's funds.

At the same time, their financial expertise is widely respected in the international business community, and from time to time, executives from the Swiss banking industry will indicate areas that they feel offer potential for investment-minded businessmen.

A good example of this occurred during the inauguration of "Mexican Weeks" held in Switzerland this month, when officials of the Swiss banking system stated that "Mexico offers the best opportunities for private investment in Latin America."

Mexican bonds are actively traded on Swiss financial markets, "a clear recognition of the stability and future potential of the Mexican economy," one of the officials said.

The economies of the two countries naturally complement each other offering promising opportunities for commercial, technological and cultural exchange, Zurich Mayor Sigmon Vignem said. He pointed out that Mexico is a great producer of basic raw materials now in great demand while Switzerland has some of the most advanced technology in the world. This offers excellent opportunities for "mutually advantageous ventures," he added.

Pierre Graber, president of the Swiss Confederation, said Switzerland will offer special facilities to Mexican businessmen who associate with Swiss industrialists.

Results of this policy were quick in materializing as 30 agreements were signed extending technical assistance to the Mexican manufacturing industry.

In Basle, Julio Faesler, director of the Mexican Institute of Foreign Trade, said Mexican sales to Switzerland had doubled in the past two years and he predicted greater trade in the future.

BON APPETIT!

Cooking classes in countless cuisines are increasingly popular with gourmet cooks and enterprising housewives. One cooking class is taught in a castle (Le Chateau du Domaine St. Martin) on the French Riviera. There, when the students aren't cooking they're looking—at extraordinary art galleries, at vineyards, at artistic Saint-Paul-de-Vence with its charming fortified market town. All this takes place on eight-day tours presented by the famous Four Seasons Restaurant in New York City. For information on "La Cuisine de Provence Tour" write Patricia Chambers, Air France, 1350, Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Every one who has been in love knows that the passion is strongest, and the appetite weakest, in the absence of the beloved object, and that the reverse is the case in her presence.

Ideas For Today's Traveler

HOW TO OWN YOUR OWN VILLAS

By Jerome E. Klein

It doesn't have to cost you a fortune to vacation in exotic places around the world.

Now, a new program offers you an opportunity to actually own, in partnership, your own vacation villas in Mexico, the Bahamas, Spain and Portugal. For membership in this program, called Club Panorama International of 810 18th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., there is a one-time cost of $6,500.

Annual dues are $50 and there is a supplemental charge of no more than 15 percent of the rental value to cover maids, linen, service, etc., while you occupy your villa at the location of your choice.

The concept is to create these Clubs in the form of small villages in the style and architecture of the region and country. There will be one and two bedroom villas or apartments, 800 and 1,200 square ft. respectively (excluding city clubs); all will be completely furnished and equipped with modern, U.S. style kitchens.

All resort Clubs will be adjacent to or near major resorts such as Las Hadas in Manzanillo, Mexico; Cape Eleuthera in the Bahamas; Vale do Lobo and Quinta do Lago on the Algarve; and Bahia de Casares in Spain. The idea is to use the resort facilities, such as golf courses, tennis courts, marinas, dining rooms, bars, and discotheques.

All will be an easy drive from an International Airport.

You have the use of vacation villas or apartments up to four weeks off season or three weeks during peak season; a week less in each case for larger units.

To insure a truly international flavor, half of the memberships will be sold outside of the United States. Until Club facilities are completed, members may stay at drastically reduced rates for two weeks at more than 80 Hyatt International and Intercontinental hotels.

To defray expenses, approximately 35 percent of the space will be rented to nonmembers.

In addition to the four properties offered, two others will be selected; one in the United States, and the other probably in London. For future offerings, locations being considered include Corfu, Greece; Hawaii; Tunisia; Cancun, Mexico; the Italian Alps; the Rocky Mountains; Southern California; Rome; New York; and San Francisco.

The refreshing opportunity of having an international choice of a vacation home, plus the security of owning a piece of unmortgaged real estate as a hedge against inflation, should appeal to many.

I have seen the Club Panorama site in Spain at Bahia de Casares (Bay of Caesar) close by the ancient and picturesque town of Casares with its red tiled roofs and glistening white buildings. It is so unspoiled and delightful, and yet near everything on the Costa del Sol.

This seems to be one way you can enjoy resort living, before becoming a millionaire.

Mr. Klein is author of more than 20 travel books and guides, as well as hundreds of magazine articles on travel.

WESTERN TRADITION NOW NATIONWIDE FASHION CRAZE

'Go West' is the fashion cry for the 1975 spring and summer seasons!

City-slickers who have long looked to Paris and New York for fashions to fit their fancy, are now following the lead of cowboys for the latest in stylish footwear, a veteran western bootmaker believes.

"Boots have never been in greater demand," says the 81-year-old Miss Enid Justin, founder and president of The Nocona Boot Company, one of the nation's largest manufacturers of quality western footwear. "Today, more and more people—national leaders, entertainers, businessmen and professional people—are discovering that you don't have to own a horse or live in Texas to enjoy western boots."

And you can bet your boots Miss Enid knows what she's talking about! Now celebrating her 50th anniversary as the world's only lady bootmaker, she's no greenhorn. She knows her boots from the sole up and has developed a keen sensitivity to consumer demands.

Miss Enid cites young people and women as the two newest groups to "go western."

"With the current interest in nostalgia and the jean craze that prevails today, western boots are a natural among students and other young people," she believes.

And what prompted boot interest among the ladies? Miss Enid credits "women's lib," in part.

"Women are finally coming to their senses and are dressing comfortably and practically. They've finally realized that durable clothing is essential for outdoor sports and other activities. And nothing can take rougher treatment than western boots," she feels.

In addition to changes in consumer attitudes and life styles, Miss Enid attributes the increasing appeal of western boots to industry changes. She points to the advent of the round-toe boot as a milestone in western boot fashion.

"For years nothing but the sharp-pointed toe could be found, but then the round-toe boot was introduced. It's the perfect partner for the most tailored business suit as well as for a lady's pant suit."

The silver-haired boss lady also notes that boot manufacturers offer a wider variety of boot styles today.

"When Nocona first opened shop, we only made a few styles in brown, black and tan. Now we offer 52 styles, including 12 for the ladies. They come in some real snappy colors like red, green and blue, and such exotic leathers as lizard, antelope and ostrich."

Admittedly, the boot industry has taken great strides during the past 50 years, as witnessed by Miss Enid. And she's pleased with the acceptance they've gained.

"It's good to know who's wearing the boots in the American families these days. 'Everybody!'"
