Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Well folks, Abigail had her eyes opened! For weeks now, organizations and individuals were preparing for the thousands of persons who would be traveling through Emmitsburg on Sunday, September 14.

As far back as June 25th, according to an article in the Wall Street Journal, Mrs. Valli Ryan was quoted as saying she "expects perhaps as many as 50,000 pilgrims to visit Emmitsburg." As time drew nearer, the estimates continued to grow and Emmitsburg town officials were asked by Mrs. Ryan and the Daughters of Charity what the town would do to help with the accommodations regarding parking and food concessions. In early August several organizations made a commitment saying they would be glad to have food concessions and parking facilities (complete with portable restrooms). On August 18 a committee was formulated to work harmoniously with the Provincial House. Representatives from the town council, the town planning commission, each organization planning food stands and parking areas, as well as privately owned establishments, met with Mrs. Ryan and the Daughters of Charity at St. Joseph's High School to coordinate the town's efforts to match the already advanced plans of the Provincial House in dealing with the expected problems of parking, transportation, food service, rest room facilities and security in the area for the movement of vehicles, including fire, police and ambulances.

At this August meeting Mrs. Ryan said she was reluctant to play up the 50,000 figure for fear of keeping people away. "It could be much less," she said, but added that the Provincial House had parking facilities for 2,200 cars and 190 buses. This she said would mean about 10,000 people.

As time progressed the town quietly prepared for the onslaught, even preparing a map that included the areas where parking, food and restroom facilities would be available — all to the satisfaction of the Provincial House. The townspeople prepared in hopes there would be over 10,000 as they would be able to accommodate almost as many. In other words "THE TOWN OF EMMITSBURG WAS READY!"

The Great Day Arrived! Thousands came to the Provincial House as predicted. NO ONE came to Emmitsburg. Tourists parked at the Provincial House, and along the highway. Additional fields were opened for parking at the college grounds. Families brought picnic baskets because they knew of no place to get food in the area and still NO ONE came to Emmitsburg. The sleepy little town as quoted earlier so often by the news media might just as well not have existed as traffic through the main streets was virtually "nil". The food concessions had to rely on the people of Emmitsburg to support them — which they did. Local businesses open on Sundays reported fewer sales than on any other Sunday.

When the out of town concession sold out, why weren't the visitors made aware of the fact that food and other facilities were available in the town. At this point the townspeople were equipped and ready to help the Daughters of Charity but were left completely out of the picture. What happened? Was it a lack of coordination on the town's people or the Provincial House?

Teen Center Begins Fall Session

The Emmitsburg Teen Center, which is located in the old Emmitsburg School, began its fall-winter session on Monday, September 15, 1975, at 6:30 p.m. The Center is available to all Emmitsburg-Thurmont area youth between the ages of 12 and 20 and is open on Mondays and Thursdays from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. and on Saturdays from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m.

This session saw the return of many staff members as well as the addition of many new ones. Continuing as director/co-ordinator of the Center is Mr. Edward O. Adelsberger. Ms. Cass Gore and Ms. Grace Wormley are continuing as aides at the Center. Returning again this year are six members from Mt. St. Mary's College Group Action Program (GAP) and 20 other Mount students and seminarians who will serve as coaches and referees for sport activities, particularly basketball league games.

New members of the staff include Ms. Jo Ann Duvall and Mr. Dan Braucher, both of whom are Frederick County extension agents for 4-H and youth (Frederick County Extension Services, Frederick, Md.). They will be assisted by Ms. Carleen Bowers, Mr. Jim Harbaugh, Ms. Ellen Mayne, and members of the 4-H Club. Two additional staff members are Mr. Don Tyler, instructor in Chinese self-defense (Kung-Fu) and Ms. Patty Riffe, who holds a B.A. degree in physical education, is the director of the girl's sports and recreation programs at the Center.

The addition of these new staff members will enable the Center to offer a wide variety of programs involving team and individual sports, cultural activities, educational programs, special events, recreational and table games, and special workshops.

The Center will sponsor two boys' basketball leagues this year — one in the fall-winter session and another in the spring-summer session. Again there will be three divisions in the league: division I - 5th, 6th, 7th grades; division II - 8th, 9th, 10th grades; division III - 11th, 12th grades and out-of-school. To participate in this league boys must "sign-up" at the Center from September 15 through September 27. Final "drafting" of teams will be on September 29 and October 2. Boys must be signed up and present at these drafting sessions to be eligible to play. League games begin October 6 and will be played on Mondays and Thursdays during the following time periods: 6:30-7:30 — division I; 7:30-8:30 — division II; 8:30-9:30 — division III. Individual and placing team trophies will be awarded.

A pool tournament (8 ball singles competition) will take place on Sept. 22, 25, 27, 29. A tournament sign-up sheet is posted at the Center for those interested in participating with following divisions: division D - girls (open age group); division C - boys ages 12, 13, 14; division B - boys ages 15 and 16; division A - boys ages 17 and above. First and second place trophies will be awarded in each division.

Later in the fall-winter session a table soccer and a table tennis tournament (singles and doubles) are scheduled. Beginning October 2 and continuing each Thursday until Dec. 11 (10 sessions) Chinese self-defense (Kung-fu) will be taught at the Center by Mr. (Continued on page 4)

Senior Citizens Met Sept. 16th

The regular meeting of the Senior Citizens was held Tuesday evening, Sept. 16, with a round 50 members and friends enjoying garden bingo. The meeting was brought to order by the President Mrs. LaRue Harman. The short business meeting included the report from the nominating committee for the coming election in October.

Their selection was to retain present officers — President, LaRue Harman; vice president, Ethel Fuss; secretary and assistant, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Baker; treasurer, Allen Bowey. Mrs. Alma Jones gave a good insight why we are hoping in the very near future to occupy the old Emmitsburg Middle School. All were asked to cooperate in the upcoming bazaar on Nov. 8th. Ethel Fuss is chair person of the bazaar.

The group was reminded of the Fall Foliage Trip on Oct. 14 in the Lancaster Dutch Country. Members sign up and pay up by Oct 1st.

After bingo the refreshments were served.

Open Letter To Local Residents

As chairman, I would like to take a few lines and say thank you to all of those people and organizations of the town of Emmitsburg that worked so hard in such a short time to accomplish what was done in making arrangements for the expected large number of people which were to be in and around Emmitsburg on Sunday, September 14.

The committee was made up of George Danner chairman, Eugene R. Rosensteel, James Kittinger, Terry Myers, Pat Ott, Dan Martinez, and Robert Rosensteel, with the assistance of Mayor Sprankle, Commissioner Ernest Rosensteel and Norman Flax. To these I say "thanks".

The following organizations and business people I would like to thank for their suggestions and great interest: The Vigilant Hose Company, the American Legion, the V. F. W. Auxiliary, Ladies of Bruts, Knights of Columbus 1860, The Dynamics, the Senior Baseball League, Crouses on the Square, The Palms, The Ott House, The Emmitt House, the Columbian Squires and the Methodist Church.

Also Lt. Robert Snyder and Lt. William Davis of the Frederick Barricks of the Maryland State Police and all their troopers, the Fire Police of Carroll County, our own local police force; Mr. Frank Riffe of Thurmont, who worked very hard in lining up the shuttle buses in a very short time; Sister Ethelreda, Principal of St. Joseph's High School who served as traffic coordinator for the Provincial House and Thomas Mohler of the State Roads Commission.

To Radio Station WFMD, Frederick, the only news media that contacted me as chairman and coordinator, and Bill Grafman of the Frederick News Post who had the map printed in the newspaper, and to Moore Business Forms, Inc., for printing of maps, a thank you.

To Saga Food Service and B. H. Boyle and Sons we owe a big thanks for buying back foodstuffs and also supplying much needed storage space for food to be used later. Thank you.

The spirit and cooperation shown by all those named above should show and prove that a lot can be accomplished when everyone works together as a team.

As I was quoted by a larger newspaper following the cancellation, "We were ready but we were not needed."

Thank You, Sincerely yours, George L. Danner, Jr. Mother Seton Day Coordinator and Town Commissioner

P. S. The Town Fathers were approached on August 4, 1975 by the Sisters of Charity to see what the town of Emmitsburg could do to help with the expected overflow of people on September 14. A special meeting was held on Monday, August 18, at St. Joseph's High School at which time I was asked by Mayor Sprankle to serve as chairman.

PPK Contest Saturday, Oct. 4

Local youngsters will be "dusting off" their footballs and loosening up their throwing arm soon for the 1975 Punt, Pass and Kick competition to be held on Saturday, October 4, at the Emmitsburg Community Field.

This year the local level of Punt, Pass and Kick will be co-sponsored by Brute Council, No. 1860 in conjunction with participating Sperry Ford Sales, of South Seton Avenue. This year's registration will continue through October 3.

Nationally PPA&K is celebrating its 15th anniversary. It is sponsored by the Ford Dealers of America in cooperation with the National Football League. Since it started in 1961, the program has attracted more than 11.5 million youngsters — and participation this year is expected to top the 1,200,000 mark.

Participants in the Punt, Pass & Kick program compete only against others their own age. Any youngster 8 through 13 years of age, accompanied by a parent or guardian, may register to compete in PPA&K at their participating Ford Dealers. There is no entrance fee and no body contact during competition. No special equipment is needed and participating does not impair a youngster's amateur standing.

Scoring is based on accuracy and range with one point added for every foot of punting, passing and kicking distance, and a point subtracted for every foot off a center line.

Twelve national finalists will compete for the National Championships in their age group during the half-time of the Super Bowl Game in Miami, Florida, on January 18, 1976. Winners will have their names permanently inscribed in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Their trophies will be presented by Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Q: I don't belong to a group. Is there a way for me to get diagnostic coverage?

Blue Cross and Blue Shield answer three questions about extra coverage.

A: You can. Through the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Non-Group Comprehensive Program. In addition to diagnostic benefits, the Comprehensive package includes 70 day Blue Cross in-hospital protection, the new Blue Shield Plan "I", sudden and serious coverage, and a $25,000 Major Medical program. Once a year, the program is opened to all people regardless of the condition of their health. During the rest of the year, application can be made through our regular underwriting system.

Q: According to my contract, coverage for my dependents stops at age 19. However, my neighbor says his program at work covers dependents until age 23. Who's right?

A: Both of you, probably. Under most of our contracts, coverage for dependent children stops at the end of the calendar year in which they reach age 19. But, there are some groups which have purchased an endorsement to extend coverage past that age. The best rule of thumb is to check your contract or with your employer. When coverage does cease, dependents should check with their employer about group coverage ... or enroll in one of our non-group programs. If they're in college, they can convert to our special low-cost student program.

Q: Medicare is nice, but can you do anything about the things it doesn't pay for?

A: We're already doing something about it, with the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Medicare Supplemental Program. At a very low cost, it covers most of Medicare's deductible and co-insurance requirements. If you're over 65, or under 65 and disabled, you're eligible for Medicare Supplemental. No physical exams or health statements are required. You just have to be eligible for Medicare.

Membership in the program is open to all Medicare beneficiaries during a special enrollment period normally held the first of each year. Membership also is open whenever a beneficiary becomes eligible for Medicare.

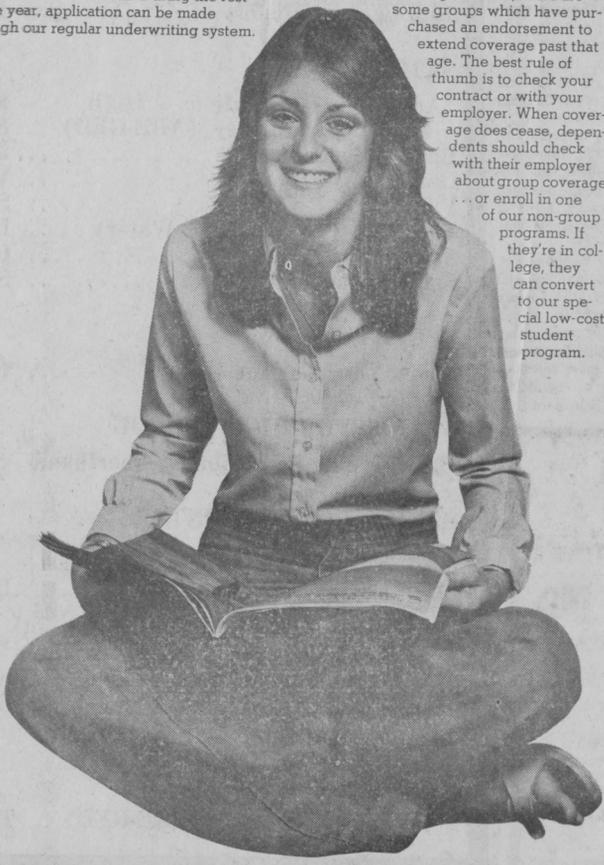

Your health is what we're all about.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks —

When is Congress going to adopt a spending ceiling?

Under new budget control procedures established by Congress, an overall spending ceiling must be adopted by November 20 to cover fiscal 1976 appropriations for all federal departments and agencies.

I did not receive a mail order item I sent for two months ago. A letter of complaint was sent the company but I have received no reply. Can you help me?

You can seek aid under the Postal Service consumer protection program. Just ask your local post office for a Consumer Service Card. By filling in this card and returning it to the post office, the consumer turns the matter over to the Postal Service, which will then deal directly with the company involved.

What is going to happen to the Highway Trust Fund?

Hearings on proposals to extend, modify or abolish the Highway Trust Fund resumed this week before the House Public Works Committee, but final action is not expected until later this session.

Can you please tell me — What is the function of the Maryland Agricultural Commission?

According to the Maryland Department of Agriculture, the commission is a 17-member body representing all sectors of agriculture in our state. It serves as an advisory board to the Secretary of Agriculture and formulates plans for the advancement of agri-business in Maryland.

I have been reading a lot lately about the effects of excessive radiation from x-rays. Do you have any information on this subject?

The Food & Drug Administration has printed a booklet entitled "Radiation: Benefit vs. Risk", which may be obtained by writing Consumer Information, Department 15, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

You mentioned in a recent OPEN LINE column, that the Maryland Department of Natural Resources provides senior citizens free admittance to day-use facilities in the State Park System. You may be interested in knowing the correct qualifying age for the "Golden Age Pass", which allows this free park entry, has been reduced from 65 to 62.

My thanks to Mr. William Jabine at the Department of Natural Resources for updating this information.

Business And Stock Market

Spray-Pump Industry

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., September 11, 1975. Manufacturers of products in aerosol spray cans are becoming increasingly aware of the fact that consumers are swinging toward the less complicated, finger-operated pump containers long used for window-cleaning fluid. For no clearly defined reason, the trend back toward nonaerosol dispensers began a few years ago, but the move was sharply accelerated in 1974 when a conservation magazine alarmed the public by asserting that there could be serious health danger resulting from the use of pressure containers.

It was claimed that the fluorocarbon propellants in approximately half of all aerosol dispensers were capable of entering the atmosphere and thinning out the safety layer of ozone protecting the surface of the Earth from damaging rays. This, it was said, could result in skin cancer on humans, and also could seriously reduce farm crops. The buying public, already tending toward non-aerosol containers, reacted powerfully to the conservationist claims and began to look for practically all spray products in finger-push bottles.

Government Follow-Up

Such a potential threat to the national health was not, of course, ignored by the government. In early 1975 a federal interagency task force report was issued on this sensitive subject. It stated that there was at least legitimate cause for concern as to the effects of certain aerosol propellants on Earth's protective atmospheric shell. In fact, it was proposed that regulations limiting fluorocarbon usage be implemented by national regulatory agencies.

if a contemporary study being made by the National Academy of Sciences should confirm the earlier findings of the inter-agency task force.

Impact On Industry

The aerosol industry itself pointed out at once that there was no conclusive proof of the charges against it. Further, it warned that even if the charges were proven, the job of finding replacement propellants would run into money for the consumer. But the companies manufacturing the spray products that must be sold in practical dispensers have recognized the way the wind is blowing, and many are already trying out spray pumps. One firm making window cleaner reports that there is a marked turnback to finger-push pump sprayers from the recently popular aerosol cans.

A number of manufacturers of hair sprays have already begun to distribute their products in pump bottles, and they are enjoying considerable success. One trouble, however, is that there are few makers of spray pump containers, and therefore there is a marked scarcity as the demand soars. But there is every reason to expect that existing manufacturers in the field will expand their plant and increase production as rapidly as possible. Then, too, there will undoubtedly be many newcomers in the spray-pump business, moving in with the hope of capitalizing on a profitable-looking situation.

Advantage For Consumers

While finger pumps are said to cost some four times more than aerosol pressure valves, spokesmen for the spray-pump makers declare that consumers get substantially more for their money with such containers. The reasoning is that more than half the contents of an aerosol container is actually propellant; one leading spray-pump executive says 60%-70% may be propellant. Whatever the statistical specifics, it would appear that the consumer would bet a somewhat better break price-wise per ounce of product with a finger-punch bottle.

This is, naturally, an additional come-on for the retail purchaser, and added to the ozone scare it should mean a continuing upsurge in the manufacture and distribution of pump-spray containers over the years just ahead. Two leaders in the field are Diamond International's Calmar Division and Realex Corporation.

Elias Mens Outing

The annual Mens' Outing for all men and boys of Elias Lutheran Church was held last Thursday afternoon and evening at Kump's Dam. Prepared and served by the men, the evening menu consisted of bacon, eggs, hamburger, corn on the cob and an assortment of fresh garden vegetables.

Silver Fancy Club Holds Meeting

Silver Fancy Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. George Harner on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 18. Mrs. Theodore Fair assisted by pouring at the tea table. A large tureen of pink petunias, pink geraniums, blue ageratum and white anemone brightened the center of the table.

After refreshments Mrs. Harner rendered an interlude of organ music. Group singing of songs with flowers in the lyrics was enjoyed.

Mrs. Charles Smith presided at the business meeting, in the absence of the president.

The program entitled, "House Plants — Share and Spare", was presented by Mrs. Simon Klosky.

Store Pesticide Safely — Partially used pesticide containers are often left on open shelves, or on the garage floor. Improper storage is one of the major causes of accidental contamination and ingestion of pesticides by children, warns the Cooperative Extension Service Farm and Home Safety Committee of The Pennsylvania State University.
